With the passing of the Portland Eugene & Eastern railway company's publicity department, Manager T. L. Billingsley, of the Salem street car system, has determined to encourage other horn blowers. The Employees' Club has organized a band, and under the leadership of L. W. Robertson the musical section of the organization is determined to become a factor of Salem's musical world. The band has been practicing but a short time, but has already passed the stages of "Home, Sweet Home," "Turkey in the Straw," "America," and a few others of the old stand-by numbers handed out to beginners. The organization of this band is but another step forward in the plans authorized by President Robert E. Strahora to cement the interests and friendships of the men who are in charge of Salem's street railway transportation. The Employees' Club was organized soon after the arrival of Superintendent Billingsley. It is not only a social organization, but through its meetings many valuable suggestions for betterments of service have been received. Motormen and conductors are encouraged to offer ideas along these lines and in each case the suggestion is given careful consideration and adopted if found practical. Where a suggestion cannot be adopted the reason for rejecting it is openly discussed. Through this operation better street railway men are being developed than ran ordinarily be found on the platform of the average city. "I am so proud of that band that I am willing to lead it up town whenever it is ready to make its first public appearance," said Superintendent Billingsley. "After a platform man has put in all day in dodging automobiles and delivery wagons and foot travelers and baby wagons, a little music soothes his savage breast. The band is helping the men to keep their tempers in hand."

TACOMA MAN KILLED IN DOOR OF HIS HOME

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 9.—Attracted to the front door of his home on North Ainsworth avenue early today either by the design of an enemy or the efforts of a burglar to gain entrance, Sheridan Hunley, aged 26, a contractor, was shot and instantly killed. Without any tangible clue to work on, the police are seeking the unidentified murderer and also trying to solve the mystery of two exploded cartridges in Hunley's revolver, which was lying beside him, and the fact that one shot was heard and that one bullet took effect in Hunley's body. Awakened by the sound of scuffling in the hall, Mrs. Hunley rushed downstairs immediately following the shooting to find her husband lying on his back, dead, and the front door partly open. She collapsed when told her husband was dead and is now hysterical and unable to give further information regarding the tragedy. Detectives believe that Hunley may have been shot with his own weapon in the struggle heard by other members of the household.

BOTH BUSINESS AND SALARIES INCREASE

Receipts of the Salem postoffice have increased over 30 per cent and the salaries of the employees of the local office and system have increased 20.5 per cent during the past ten-year period, ending June 30, 1914, according to figures compiled today by Postmaster Hucklestein at the request of the Eleventh United States civil service district to be used for the purposes of comparison in connection with the civil service commission's exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco next year. Likewise the average annual salary per employee has increased from $867.57 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, to $1203.47 for the year ending June 30, 1914. The number of employees at the local office has increased from 22 to 36 during the ten-year period. The total receipts of the Salem office ending June 30, 1904, amounted to $25,947.18, as compared to $77,021.54 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914; the total salaries paid employees for the 1904 fiscal year period was $19,085.55, as compared to $45,325.01 for the past year. The number of employees in the local office on June 30, 1904, was 22, as compared with 36 in the employ of the government postal service in Salem at the present time. This is considered a remarkable showing for a city of the size of Salem and reflects, probably more accurately than any other statistical basis of calculation, the rapid and steady growth of the city and its contributory territory.

APPLE SHIPMENTS HAVE BEEN HEAVY

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 9.—A re-check of the Northwest's 1914 apple crop, completed by the North Pacific Fruit Distributors this week, together with a record of shipments from all of the districts, furnished by the railroads, reveals the important fact that substantially one-half of the commercial output of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana had been shipped up to November 1. This showing, although as accurate, in view of the thorough investigation which produced it. Another feature with a vital bearing on the general market situation for Northwestern apples, brought out by the Distributors' midseason canvass, is that the total tonnage of the Northwest is almost 1500 cars less than estimated on September 1, when it was announced after an itemized count covering every district that the commercial production would be a little over 13,500 cars. In this connection it will be recalled that the September 1 figure was approximately 10,000 cars less than the usual blossom period forecast. Never before so heavy shipments from the Northwest so heavy or so bunched during the fore part of the season as this year. The weather was largely responsible for this condition. An unusually protracted warm spell preceded picking time and rapidly ripened the early varieties, forcing them onto the markets in a hurry. It also prevented the fruit from being stored and compelled its immediate sale upon arrival in eastern markets. Incidentally, the quantity of shipments reported as ripe and over-ripe was unprecedented. For that reason the early varieties from the Northwest went into consumption al-

HUBBARD PLANS INSTITUTE AND FAIR

Hubbard, Or., Nov. 9.—The event of the autumn in Hubbard will be the Farmer's institute and fair Friday and Saturday, November 13 and 14. The fair will be given under the auspices of the commercial club, assisted by the citizens of Hubbard and vicinity. Exhibits in agriculture, horticulture and domestic science, as well as floral and textile displays are being arranged, and exhibitors are offered the encouragement of cash prizes. Lectures by the faculty of Oregon Agricultural college will be given on such subjects as interest and benefit the farmer. The Hubbard band will give concerts daily. A special feature will be the free dinner given to visitors each day of the fair. Free picture shows and vaudeville will be given each evening.

MOTORCYCLE RACE A RECORD-BREAKER

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 7.—A special from Yuma, Arizona, says that eleven of the thirteen motorcycle riders who started from here yesterday morning in the San Diego-to-Phoenix race, kept on today from Yuma. They will go into control at Aguas Calientes tonight. Carrier of San Diego and Thomas of Phoenix dropped out, each on account of accidents. The racers have made remarkably fast time, and the progress of the race has been watched by hundreds along the line. Derikum, of Los Angeles, arrived fourth at Yuma. The finish will be at Phoenix tomorrow. Hoids, of Phoenix, was in the lead at last accounts. He made the run to Yuma in five hours, 46 minutes. All records, either for automobiles or motorcycles, have been broken by several of the riders.

Generals of Commerce

Across the water generals have been fitting great armies in a war of destruction. Here at home the Generals of Commerce have been planning new battles of construction. We have been looking to our finances, to our shipping, to new avenues of production. We are marching on to the greatest prosperity America has ever known. If ever there was a time for aggressiveness it is now. If ever time was ripe for advertising it is now. If there ever was a time the newspaper stood out as a foremost advertising medium it is now.

CHICAGO STOCKYARDS WILL SOON BE OPENED

Chicago, Nov. 9.—A trainload of dressed beef arrived here today from Kansas City. Local packers asserted that other trainloads are en route to relieve the shortage caused by the closing of the local stockyards. Chicago packers insisted this afternoon that wholesale prices had not been raised, and the increase in retail prices was unwarranted. President Leonard of the Union Stockyards predicted the opening of the local yards Thursday. The work of fumigating the pens will end Wednesday. Government officials have not yet consented to re-opening the yards before November 17, the date originally set. Cattle cars were being disinfect-ed here today by the railroads. Most of us would be satisfied with the silver lining without the cloud.
