CHEMAWA DEFEATED BY O. A. C. ELEVEN

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., Nov. 8.—The Chemawa Indians, without the services of their fullback and coach, "Amy" Hansen, were overwhelmed by the Oregon Agricultural College freshmen eleven yesterday afternoon by a score of 25 to 0.

The game was hard fought, though ragged, the Indians holding the leads to see touchdowns in the first half. A forward pass, Watson to Miller, resulted in this score.

Early in the second half Halbur of the Rocks, gathered in a fumble and raced 40 yards for a touchdown. Grove kicking goal.

In the third quarter a series of off-tackle backs carried the ball over the goal, Watson getting the touchdown. With two minutes to play in the last quarter a forward pass to Miller put the ball on the two-yard line, and Phillips carried it across.

Miller started for the Freshman, Watson, Selph and Green also sharing honors. Jim and Downey shone for the Redskins.

O. A. C. WINS RACE

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 8.—The first conference country race yesterday, rained off its sensational features by the non-appearance of Payne, Huggins, Williams and Demont, stars, who were doped to compete for first place, was won here this afternoon by the Oregon Agricultural College trio, consisting of Hobgood, Latke and Kaddler, with a score of eight points.

Washington State College took second place with 21 points. Whitman and Idaho tied for third, with 28 points each, and Oregon University was last with a score of 35.

JIMMY CLABBY IS WORLD'S CHAMPION

Defeat of Chip Gives Him Title—May Be Matched with Gibbons

New York, Nov. 9.—Jimmy Clabby, of Hammond, Ind., became the middleweight champion of the world by reason of his defeat of George Chip, of Newcastle, Pa., at Daly City, Cal., last Friday night. True, Clabby failed to register a knockout, but his victory was so decisive and clean-cut that his superiority over Chip was definitely settled. Chip, one of the squarest and fairest fighters the ring has ever known, admitted that he had met his master, and took his defeat without a whimper.

"Clabby," he said, "is the most wonderful boxer in the world. He whipped me fairly and squarely and I have no excuses to offer."

Two He Must Meet.

Clabby's claim will be disputed by at least two middleweights in the runner-up class. They are Jeff Smith, of New Jersey, and Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul. Smith won a questionable decision over Clabby in Australia, but Australian sport writers claimed Clabby was robbed of the decision. Clabby has tried repeatedly to get Smith to agree to a return, but all his efforts so far have been unsuccessful. Clabby, however, will have to defeat Gibbons before his claim to the title is perfect. He has defeated all the other title claimants except the St. Paul ghost, and a bout between the pair would be worth going miles to see. They shape up as the two cleverest middleweights in the world and it is a toss-up between them as to punching ability.

No More in California.

Now that California has voted down the boxing game for at least two years it remains for New Orleans promoters to get busy and stage a Clabby-Gibbons bout. Louisiana is the only state in the country now where 20-round fights are permitted, and the two scrappers must settle the question of superiority there. A Clabby-Gibbons match undoubtedly is the most attractive middleweight card that any promoter could serve and it would draw like a porous plaster.

Because of the experience he has had in the 20-round game, while Gibbons' efforts have been confined mostly to 10-round bouts, Clabby most likely would enter the ring at least a 10-to-5 favorite over the St. Paul wizard.

Welsh a Braggart.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—Charlie White, of Chicago, will attempt to lift Freddie Welsh's lightweight crown in a 10-round bout here tonight. To do so he must either knock out Welsh or win on a foul, as prize fight decisions are not allowed in Wisconsin.

Both lightweights are in great shape for the battle. They meet at catch weights. Welsh probably will enter the ring at 130 pounds and White at 123, his usual fighting weight.

"I am going to do my best to win the title with one punch," said White today. "We always felt that I could whip Welsh, and now that the opportunity has arrived I will make the most of it. There will be plenty of action from start to finish."

Welsh professed to believe that tonight's bout would be nothing more than a workout for him.

"While I don't hold White cheaply," he said, "I know that I can beat him at every angle of the game, and intend to give him a boxing lesson. The man does not live who can take my title away in ten rounds."

Princeton Crushed by Harvard Team

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 9.—Harvard crushed Princeton 23 to 0 yesterday in their annual football game. Aside from the surprising weakness of the Princeton team, the contest was almost featureless. The Crimson outclassed the Tigers in every department of the game. The New Jersey collegians had little offensive or defensive strength, which made Harvard's task of rolling up the biggest score that a Cambridge team has ever registered against Princeton an easy one.

The loss's nearest approach to the Crimson goal line was made in the first period, when the Orange and Black obtained the ball on a fumble on Harvard's 35-yard line. Even with the ball well in their opponent's territory at a period of the game when all the attacking players were fresh, Princeton was unable to retain this advantage, relinquishing the ball on the first play by a disastrous fumble.

With danger passed, Harvard immediately took command of the situation and never thereafter was seriously threatened.

Phoenix, on a Harley Davidson, was third.

Both in Shape.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Both Billy Murray and Sailer Petrosky were rounding into form today for their 20-round battle here next Friday night. Murray says he has recovered the form which carried him to the top of his class within a few months, and is confident that he will knock out Petrosky. The sailor is in fine trim himself. Even money is expected to prevail for the match.

EUGENE AND SALEM, OLD RIVALS, MEET SATURDAY

Next Saturday the Eugene High School will invade Salem at least 250 strong, to defend its present lead of one game of football over the Salem, the score as it now stands between the two schools for number of games played, giving Eugene High five out of nine.

A low fare for an excursion has been secured to Salem for the game and already 250 have signed up. As Oregon stands to O. A. C. Eugene stands to Salem. It is considered the one game of the year, when fight is the only word from the first whistle to the last.

Up until two years ago neither team had been able to take a game from the other on its home grounds. The visiting team always lost. In the fall of 1912 Eugene broke the spell and annexed the first game in seven years on Salem's campus. The next year Salem turned the trick, came to Eugene and in a hard battle did the same thing.

Next Saturday Eugene goes to Salem, and with the machine that Coach Johnston has developed, a high class exhibition of high school football is assured. Although unable to score on Corvallis a week ago yesterday, the local boys put up some football in the fourth period that would have done credit to a college team, especially in the matter of forward passes. Sheer exhaustion in that game prevented the team from marching down the field to a touchdown.

Followers of high school sports may rest assured that Coach Johnston and his assistants are putting the boys through a course of sprouts this week that will put them in the best of trim. For the first time, Eugene high has had a tackling dummy and a pushing machine to strengthen the line. Johnston is working his men on tackling especially as they did not show up well in this department a week ago.

Salem is reported to have a strong aggregation this year also and when these two teams meet there will be some football in sight.

Willamette Outplays Pacific Boys at All Points, Score 19 to 7

The Willamette university football team defeated the Pacific college eleven on the varsity field Saturday afternoon by the score of 19 to 7. The game was closely contested at times, three brilliant spurts on the part of the Willamette men netting as many touchdowns and winning the game.

In the first quarter nothing but the old style of tackle bucks and delayed line-anishes were employed, the defenders of the cardinal and gold wearing their way down the field for a touchdown without apparent trouble.

The fact that they had been scored on seemed to put new life in the Newberg team and they came back in the next period with a rush and vim that caused the talk about a big score to vanish, while the Willamette men did the hardest playing of the game trying to stop the advance of the Quaker backs. Eric Holt, who had been on the side lines when the game started, was introduced at this period to help muster forces.

The Play Pooled Them.

After a close, hard battle of some eight minutes, Quarterback Booth uncoiled Thompson's famous shift play and ordered a series of forward passes. The Pacific lads were unable to solve either the formation or the system of passing, and within three minutes Captain Doane had shot the ball some 30 yards across the goal line to Quarterback Booth, while the Pacific backs were savagely guarding the Willamette halves and ends. The touchdown followed a series of passes that totaled some 60 yards.

In the third period Willamette again

Newberg Beaten in Hard Fought Game

During the fourth quarter with Captain Doane, who had been so successful at the passing game on the side lines, the team once more resorted to the old style attack, presenting still another novelty in the way of backfield formation. This so-called diamond formation was successful and then the same old spirit seemed to stir the Quakers and forced Willamette to open a punting contest.

Newberg's Fine Play.

Just as the quarter seemed to be dragging to a close with the Willamette team slowly pounding the ball up to Pacific's 15-yard line, only to lose it on downs and have Pacific kick to center, the Newberg boys braced and held the Methodists' advance in mid-field. Victory was ordered back to punt and reeled off one of his 35-yard spirals, the ball settling well to the side line. Colcord, the Quaker safety, caught the ball on the dead run and tore down the side line some 50 yards for a touchdown, the Willamette backs making no efforts to stop him, every one stating his belief that the runner was out of bounds, although he was a good three yards within the boundary. Play had just started again when the game ended, the final score being 19 to 7 in favor of the local varsity.

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 8.—With four regulars out of the lineup, the Washington State College football team yesterday defeated Idaho in their annual football game by a score of 3 to 0.

The lone tally came as the result of a 20-yard dropkick by Durham, who was substituted for Bernard in the second quarter. As the score indicates, the game was hard fought from beginning to end by both teams. This duplicates the score by which Idaho won last year. Every man on both teams played remarkable football.

Jardine got away several times for good gains on passes. Bernard again proved his worth as field general and broken-field runner, throwing off Idaho tacklers again and again. It often required half the team to stop the blonde-headed quarter.

Dietz, at full, played a hard plugging game. He punted consistently around 40 yards and got off a kick of 55 yards. In the first quarter neither team opened up, each trying to solve the attack of the other. Only two first downs were made in this quarter, both being by W. S. C. The Pullman team had the better of the argument in the second quarter, getting the ball close to Idaho's goal twice, the first time the ball being lost on a fumble on the 20-yard line, the second time Durham making a dropkick which won the game. Idaho immediately took on new life, and open plays, passes and shifts became the new order of things.
