SAM LANGFORD HAS HARD FIGHT COMING

Will Meet Wills a 220-Pounder Who Is Despite His Size Quick as a Cat

New York, Nov. 12.—Sam Langford, white hope destroyer, despite a paunch and a disposition to shirk work, still is the best man of his weight in the world. He stepped into the ring at Vernon, Cal., Tuesday night and flattened Mr. Thomas McMahon, Jimmy Dime's white hope, in six rounds, a constant stopping the contest to save Thomas from annihilation.

Sam entered the ring with rolls of fat hanging about his midsection. He trained about three hours and 15 minutes for the contest. The Boston negro allowed McMahon to make some sort of a showing in the first round while he felt him out. Then he proceeded to wear him down, turning the final trick with a short left arm jolt to the jaw.

Langford recently knocked out Gunboat Smith in three rounds in Boston. The only white hope left for him to subdue now is Jess Willard, and the belief is general that big Jess would give the black an interesting time.

Sam Still a Wonder.
Time has dealt gently with the Boston bone crusher. He is probably a trifle slower but he still retains his wallop and ring cunning. Langford handled Smith like a rag baby in the Boston disaster and McMahon never had a chance.

If Sam is wise he will get down to the real grind in training for his proposed match with Harry Wills, the giant negro heavyweight of New Orleans. The pair fought a draw in New Orleans when Wills was just breaking into the game but San Francisco sport writers say Wills is one of the very best heavyweights developed since the days of Jeffries and Fitzsimmons.

Wills is a big man, weighing about 220 pounds. He stands six feet four inches in his stockings and is as quick as a cat. He is extremely fast and hits hard with either hand. Langford will be giving away about forty pounds to Wills and unless Sam wants to get all mused up, it's up to him to get into condition for the New Orleans smoke. He is liable to find Wills a very different proposition from the Gunboat Smiths and the Tom McMahons.

TWENTY CARS STARTED AND EIGHT FINISHED

The 671 Miles of Almost Impassable Roads Covered in 22 Hours 59 Minutes

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Barney Oldfield's broad bosom was decorated today with a gold medal bearing the inscription "Master Driver of the World." The medal and $2500 in cash were the material results of his victory in the seventh annual auto derby, an automobile road race, which was concluded here yesterday after a start last Monday from Los Angeles.

Oldfield, in a Stutz car, negotiated the 671 miles of desert and mountain road in 22 hours 59 minutes, an average of 29 1/2 miles per hour. He led Louis Nikrent, who drove a Paige, by 36 minutes. Eight cars of the 20 that started from Los Angeles completed the course.

The racers left Los Angeles Monday morning in a light rain. Weather conditions grew worse as the race progressed, and the last 200 miles were driven over roads that were almost impassable. No serious accidents, however, occurred. The drivers finished as follows:

Oldfield (Stutz No. 1), 22 hours, 59 minutes.
Nikrent (Paige No. 8), 23 hours 33 minutes.
Beaudet (Paige No. 1), 25 hours 3 minutes.
Ducant (Chevrolet No. 19), 26 hours 1 minute.
Bramlett (Cadillac No. 19), 26 hours, 30 minutes.
Ellis (Buick No. 15), 27 hours 58 minutes.
Huras (Stutz No. 17), 29 hours 48 minutes.
Caminetti (Coe No. 21), 31 hours 53 minutes.

This ends this week's games in the city league, the games on Tuesday night at the Electric alleys went to the Grocers, two out of three from the Printers who are now heading the southern end of the percentage column. The scores are as follows:
