Social and Personal Notes

By Mollie Runcorn

A genuine treat in the musical line awaits those who attend the sacred cantata, "Faith Triumphant," or "The Healing of Naaman," which will be given Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the First Christian church, under the direction of Dr. H. C. Epley. Final rehearsal was held last night, when the characters donned full dress and went through the complete cantata, with the orchestra accompaniment. Everything was given exactly as it will be presented publicly later. Colored electric lights will alternate in kaleidoscopic effect, making each setting of unusual beauty. The musical scores are exceptionally attractive, and the leading parts and choruses are handled by many of Salem's best-known vocalists. The affair is given as a choir benefit, and promises to be entirely successful, financially as well as artistically.

At the meeting of the Salem Woman's Club Saturday afternoon in the public library, a motion was made to make application to the state board for the next State Federation meeting to be held here in 1915. Although the decision will rest between a number of cities, Salem women are optimistic and it is generally considered not unlikely that Salem will be the one designated. No set time is given for the meeting of this board, the date being optional with the state president, Mrs. Sarah Ann Evans. Resolutions of the Federation delegates were read, completing the program. Classes of art and drama are meeting in regular weekly sessions, the next meeting of general importance being December 12, when William C. Flaley, state game warden, will lecture on birds. The club has named a relief committee, but no definite line of work has been taken up, the members awaiting the plans of the Social Service Center.

Mrs. L. E. Beau and sons, John and Alexander, of Eugene, were entertained as week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hoff.

The residents of the Richmond school district will meet in their school building tonight to perfect the organization of a parent-teacher's association. The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock, and all members are requested to be present. The meeting last week was merely a social gathering to learn the position of the school patrons concerning such an undertaking.

Mrs. Sylvia Schapp, 1971 Market street, entertained the women of the Royal Neighbors Thursday afternoon at her home. The time was spent informally, and a late luncheon served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Fern Schapp, following which all made up a party attending the open meeting of their order. Those present were: Mrs. M. C. Pettys, Mrs. R. A. Grant, Mrs. Ernest Anderson, Mrs. Walter Persons, Mrs. Slusser, Mrs. C. L. Parmenter, Mrs. Schott, Mrs. Bann, Miss Hazel Price.

A large number enjoyed the program given in the lodge rooms the same night on the occasion of the regular social night. Following is the program given: Recitation..... Mildred Bunn
 Vocal solo..... Inez Deunison
 Duet—violin and piano..... Ruth Peck and Goy Alvin
 Vocal duet..... The Misses Hays
 Instrumental..... Mr. Isherwood
 Vocal solo..... Alice Baker
 Reading..... Ivan Martin
 Duet—Violin and Piano..... Joy Turner and Marian Emmons
 Vocal solo..... Robert Cook

A banquet was served later, rounding out an enjoyable evening.

In her latest letter to relatives in Salem Mrs. Thomas Holman (Viola Vercler) states that she and her husband may return shortly. Both have been playing at the larger hotels in San Francisco and have been away for some time. Their home-coming would occasion much pleasure in musical circles, where they were both very popular.

The Dick Tom home was ablaze with many lights last night, the occasion being a reception in honor of Mrs. Cynthia Dunlap of Salem, who inspected the corps yesterday. A short program was rendered. Mrs. J. H. Penn sang an old fashioned song which received much applause. Mrs. Dunlap made a most pleasing and witty address. The closing song, "God Be With You," was heartily sung by the crowd. Mrs. Dunlap leaves today for Eugene, where she will inspect their corps tonight. During her stay in this city she has been the guest of Mrs. Prudence Chipman—Corvallis Republican.

Mrs. Hallie Parrish Hinges has been asked by the members of the Elks Lodge of Albany to sing at their annual memorial services, which will take place December 6. Mrs. Hinges' selections will be "Ave Marie," by Millard; "O Dry These Tears," and "Only Trusting." Miss Beatrice Shelton will be her piano accompanist, and Mrs. Hinges will also have the assistance of a violinist.

The marriage of Miss Lena Waldes to Harold Johns of Portland was quietly celebrated last night at 7 o'clock at the H. G. Carl residence. Rev. Geo. Weigle, pastor of the German Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Although formerly attending school together and being friends for many years, their marriage came as a surprise to many here. The bride has been a popular clerk at the Spa and her husband is with the Underwood Typewriter company, of Portland, where they will make their home.

At the regular meeting of the Thought and Work club last Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Mary Newton, on North Cottage street, a program of current events was inaugurated, with Mrs. W. F. Fargo as leader. A vote of thanks was taken for the street committee's prompt action in regard to furnishing street signposts for the northern part of the city.

PERSONALS

Gail S. Hill, prosecuting attorney for Lane county, is in Salem on business of a legal nature.

Governor-elect James Withycombe is a visitor at the state capitol and shaking hands with friends and political supporters. He is stopping at the Marion hotel.

Chas. A. Murphy, engineer at the eastern Oregon branch insane asylum, at Pendleton, and Mrs. Murphy are in the city for a brief visit with friends and relatives.

Mrs. T. K. Barnard and son of Salem are in the city visiting Mr. Barnard, who is engaged on the interior work of the new federal building.—Albany Herald.

FATHER FINDS SON IN ASYLUM HERE

After being in mental darkness for more than seven weeks and an inmate of the Oregon insane asylum for the greater part of that time, Henry Griesbach, Jr., son of a wealthy and prominent stockman of Montana, has regained his memory to the extent of knowing who he is and that he took a few drinks with some strangers but he does not remember of having drawn $2,500 from the Imperial bank of Calgary, Canada, about two months ago, nor what happened to him. It is presumed that he was drugged and robbed of the money shortly after drawing it and while in a bewildered state of mind. His father, Henry Griesbach, Sr., of Fort Benton, Montana, is in the city and will take his son home this afternoon.

About two months ago young Griesbach drew $2,500 from the Calgary bank of Canada and disappeared and his whereabouts were unknown until about seven weeks ago when he was found on the bank of the river at Astoria, nearly dead, and with his body being half submerged in the water. When he was resuscitated his mind was found to be a blank and he imagined that he was being pursued by devils. He was committed to the insane asylum and did not begin to recover his senses until about two weeks ago when he was able to tell Superintendent Steiner the name and address of his father but further than that he remembered nothing. He does not remember having drawn his money from the bank but his father discovered this fact upon investigation.

Neither does he remember what become of the money, his only recollection being very faint regarding the taking of a few drinks with strangers. He knows nothing of how he came to be in Astoria. Upon being notified of his whereabouts his father came directly to Salem and the son will be discharged today and go back home with his father.

The woman who tells it all seldom claims to know it all.

Negroes in Baker having raised $700 toward building a church, have secured options on several sites in the residence districts, which they say they will "sell or trade" for another site. They will probably get a site free.
