SPORT NEWS

SPORTING EDITOR PRAISES GIBBONS

Bob Edgren Classes Him As Far the Best of All the Present Middleweights

(By Hal Sheridan.)
New York, Nov. 17.—Bob Edgren, sporting editor of the New York World, says Mike Gibbons is the cleverest and greatest of all the world's middleweights.

"Tabby is fast and clever," says Edgren, "Chip can hit, McCoy is lucky, McGoorty is wonderful but overweight, but Gibbons combines all the best qualities of the rest and adds a few that are peculiarly his own. It's a long time since we have had a middleweight as clever as Mike. The only thing which I don't know about, in Mike's case, is the extent of his courage. He hasn't been in danger of a knockout in any of his fights. The only man who ever has made him hup around on the defensive is Eddie McGoorty."

"Mike met Eddie shortly after McGoorty had knocked out both Dave Smith, champion of Australia, and Jack Harrison, champion of England, in half a dozen punches each. He knew that McGoorty had the punch of a fast heavyweight—and Mike surely used caution on that occasion. It was only in the last round that he turned loose all his fighting power, and he showed what he might have been able to do had he tried in time."

Could Fight the Heavies.
"Gibbons is the only middleweight in sight now who could follow the late Stanley Ketchel's example and fight heavyweights. While not the furiously aggressive fighter that Ketchel was by any means, he might have as good a chance as Ketchel because of his remarkable skill."

"Mike is the only real middleweight we've seen lately who knew a feint from a marshall. Mike feints all the time—feints with his head, his hands, his body, his knees, his feet. He doesn't hop and skip about like Freddie Welsh, wasting twice as much energy flailing as he uses up fighting. Every movement of Mike Gibbons means something and has its purpose. He makes his men give the opening he wants, and then drives a blow through to exactly the spot he wants to hit. And he can hit hard—like a heavyweight. His punch isn't exactly like McGoorty's crusher, although he can land a clean knockout on occasion. He hits constantly, and all his blows join in producing a stinging, jarring effect. When his opponent tries to clinch he is especially effective. He twists around and pokes through blows that no other fighter ever thought of. He's a real champion."

Johnson to Meet Willard.
London, Nov. 17.—Jack Curley, manager of Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight champion of the world, announced here today that the negro had signed articles for a fight with Jess Willard. It was not stated where the bout would be staged.

Petroskey and Murray.
San Francisco, Nov. 17.—Sailor Ed Petroskey and Billy Murray were in training again today for a 20-round bout. The pair were matched originally for the fight here on November 13, but Petroskey was laid out with a fever and the bout was postponed. They have been re-matched for a daytime fight late in the month and have agreed to make 100 pounds at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

LANGFORD CAMERON BOUT WAS A FIZZLE.
San Diego, Cal., Nov. 17.—Several thousand boxing fans who paid their money last night to see Sam Langford in action are evidently satisfied today. They saw Sam for a brief time, during most of which he was "boxed" for having kept the crowd waiting for more than an hour while he haggled with the promoters over the money end.

THE EASIEST WAY TO END DANDRUFF
Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

SITES FOR NEW SCHOOL BUILDING DISCUSSED

One on Rural Avenue and Another on Judson Are Offered in Addition to Those Already Submitted—No Action Taken.

Among the most important features of last night's meeting of the Salem school board was an informal preliminary discussion of some of the principal items to be embraced in the ensuing year and the selection of a suitable site for the construction of a new school building in South Salem to relieve the congested conditions existing in the Yew Park and Lincoln schools and to provide more convenient accommodations for the pupils residing in the outskirts of the district.

Further consideration of the budget was postponed until later, and Friday evening of this week, at 7:30 o'clock, the board will hold an open meeting at the high school building for the benefit of the taxpayers of the district for an informal discussion of the needs of the district for the ensuing year and the approval of a tentative budget which will be prepared and submitted for public consideration. The question of the selection of a new school site was deferred until the next regular meeting to give the board time to inspect and consider two additional sites which have been offered the board.

Four and Two Acres.
One of the new sites offered the school board for the new school building is that of B. C. Miles, an employee of the Spaulding Logging company, who offers four acres of ground on Rural avenue, one block west of Commercial street, for $7,000, and the other is the property of Sarah A. Judson on Judson avenue, seven blocks east of Commercial street, for which she asks $5,000. The school board will investigate the feasibility of these two offers before the next meeting. In the meantime, negotiations are still pending for the purchase of one of three other sites in which the only questions involved are the opening of streets to make the sites more conveniently accessible and these arrangements may have been adjusted before another meeting of the board.

Many other matters of a routine nature were disposed of during last night's session, which lasted until after 11 o'clock.

WOMAN WOULD START NIGHT SCHOOL HERE

Unless it can be shown that there is a popular demand for a night school and that, in the event a night school is started, the efficiency of the teaching staff of the public schools will not be crippled by the use of some of the teachers as instructors in night school work, the board of directors of the Salem schools are not in favor of granting permission to use the rooms of the high school building as that purpose.

The question came up for discussion at last night's meeting of the board of directors, when Superintendent Elliott announced that he had been asked by Mrs. Boyd, of this city, who wants to start a night school, to sound the board upon the subject, and to ascertain if there would be in favor of granting the use of the high school rooms for the purpose.

The board was entirely in the dark in regard to the matter, and, as Superintendent Elliott could not enlighten them, it was decided to have Mrs. Boyd come before the board and outline her plans and give her reasons for wanting to open a night school.

It transpired during the discussion of the subject that when a domestic science school was conducted at the high school at night last season, some of the teaching staff of the public schools were employed in giving instructions at the night school, and these same teachers were the ones who had petitioned for shorter hours in their regular school work.

It was the sense of the board that it would not countenance any plan which would have a tendency to cripple the efficiency of the teaching staff of the schools and that they would not favor the proposition of donating the use of the school property for night school purposes unless it be shown that there was a popular demand for such an innovation.

PLENTY OF MEAT FOR THE SUBMARINES

London, Nov. 17.—FATS were expressed today for the British liner La Correntina, which left Buenos Ayres October 5 with a 31,000,000 cargo of meat, has not been heard from since and is now three weeks overdue in Liverpool.

DISEASE AT SPOKANE

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 17.—A herd of 101 cattle, being shipped from Lake Mills, Wis., to H. S. Royer, Roy, Wash., near Tacoma, including blooded holsteins for breeding purposes, examined at the Northern Pacific yards here last night, and found infected with the foot and mouth disease, were being held here today for valuation, after which they will be killed and burned.

ELKS WERE WINNERS IN THREE STRAIGHT

The Elks bowlers added another victory to their string last night when they took the Grocers into camp in three straight games. The Grocers never had a chance with the Elks who took the lead from the start and scattered the wood all over the alleys. Gilroy of the Grocers rolled the high average of 192 but Pratt of the Elks got the high game 257. Last night appeared to be record night at the Electric alleys. Baker who started to bowl on the Grocers team was able to upset but 112 pins in the first game and gave up his place to Jack Zinger. After the match game was over Baker started to roll one game in competition and bowled 10 straight strikes and a total of 245 for the game. This is high game for the alleys and for the city and the prize for the high game between November 5 and November 30 is one pair of bowling shoes with the compliments of the management. Needless to say Baker has already been measured both for the shoes and for the compliments as no one else seems anxious to try to break the record which will probably stand for some time.

The following is the score of last night's game:

DISPUTE COMES OVER AMOUNT OF SEEPAGE

The desert land board, in session this afternoon, has under consideration the application of the Central Oregon Irrigation company for the certification of approximately 10,000 acres of irrigable land under its project in Crook county, for which the company will ask a patent from the government and permission to place the land upon the market upon the representation that it is under irrigation and ready for settlement.

State Engineer Lewis declines to certify to the reclamation of the land involved in the proposed patent application on the ground that the ditches and canals have not sufficient capacity to furnish the required supply of water to irrigate the lands properly because there is a seepage loss of 43 per cent, while the irrigation company is basing its application upon the representation of a seepage loss of 30 per cent, which, the state engineer contends, is not correct. It is the same question that was fought out with the Pilot Butte Irrigation company several months ago.
