WOULD LET FARMERS DRAIN THEIR LANDS

The tentative draft of a bill to be presented to the next legislature has been prepared by Assistant State Engineer Cupper, which authorizes the organization of drainage districts under which it will be possible for the farmers to organize into districts for the construction of drainage works, to construct the main drainage ditches and keep the streams and ditches clear of debris. The bill is drafted after the most recent drainage law which has just been adopted by the legislature of Missouri.

It carries no appropriation with it, but the farmers are authorized to issue district bonds for drainage improvements. The only interest in or control over the improvements contemplated under the bill that the state has is that of a supervisory nature in that the plans are to be submitted to and passed upon by the state engineer and that the engineer for the construction of the drainage canals and ditches that is selected by the board of trustees of the district is subject to the approval of the state engineer.

RITCHIE GETS QUICK CHANGE OF HEART

Was Hot Foot After Welsh, But When He Got His Chance Laid Down

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—San Francisco fight fans were laughing today at Willie Ritchie, ex-world's light-weight champion. Ritchie, yesterday, was bubbling over with enthusiasm for a match with Freddie Welsh, asserting that he was not looking so much to the financial end as an opportunity to regain his title.

When the chance came, however, Ritchie turned it down cold.

"I don't care what the promoter gives Welsh for his end," Ritchie said, yesterday. "I'll look out for my end of it. The thing uppermost in my mind is to get Welsh in the ring. The financial end is a secondary consideration as far as I am concerned."

Then the opportunity to meet Welsh came. Promoter Coffroth, wiring from Los Angeles, proposed that Freddie Welsh be given the first $15,000 taken in at the gate, Ritchie to receive 60 per cent of all over that amount. The proposition was put up to Ritchie by Coffroth's agent here. The former champion immediately accepted the offer.

Thirty minutes later he returned and said he was not satisfied with the terms.

"I feel that I should have $7500 for my services," said Ritchie. "That's what Joe Rivers was paid when he guaranteed me $18,000 to box him. If Coffroth wants to give Welsh $15,000 that is all right. I will assure me $7500 for my end I'll take on the match. Otherwise it is all off."

Ritchie made no explanation of his sudden change of front. Coffroth is due home today and he may be able to bring the former champion around.

CASEY JONES MADE VERY POOR SHOWING

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 12.—"Casey" Jones' aspirations to the title of heavy-weight champion of the northwest met a setback last night when Joe Bonds came within an ace of knocking him out in the first round and then had his man hanging on for the three remaining rounds. Jones was badly outclassed.

By winning this match Bonds earned the right to meet Al Palmer in a four-round bout here Thanksgiving day. The big Iowa scrapper has been preparing himself at Seattle for a campaign in Australia and is said to be in good condition.

The other four-round events last night resulted as follows:

Pat Calhoun, Portland, feather, out-boxed Arch Stoy of Chehalis and won the decision. Stoy only the night before boxed a four-round draw with Dick Phillips at Astoria.

Carl Conners, Tacoma, bantam, won a decision over Joe Farrell, speedy San Francisco boy. This was a very easy bout.

Joe Swain, of Portland, drew with Ivan Miller, of Seattle, in the middle-weight class.

George Ingle, of San Francisco, and Sammy Good, of Tacoma, boxed a draw. Ingle appeared to have slightly the better of the going and many thought he was entitled to the decision.

Out-pointed Cross.

New York, Nov. 12.—Gilbert Gallant's superiority over Leach Cross was unquestioned today following their ten-round bout here last night. Gallant won all his ways.

The Bostonian took the lead in the first round and held it throughout. He scored a knockdown in that period, sending Cross to the canvas for the count of seven with a left hook to the jaw. Cross was floored for eight seconds in the fifth round from a similar blow. The New Yorker slipped to the floor several times after missing wild swings. The lightweights weighed in at 137 1/2 pounds.

SHIPPS SAILED IN, PIED THE PRINTERS

The Watt Shipp team added another victory to their score in the city bowling league and the Printers became a little more firmly imbedded in their cellar notch as a result of the contest pulled off at the Club alleys last night. Burt of the printers was high man with an average of 182 and with the high game of 204 but the Watt Shipp took three straight. The game tonight will be bowled at the Electric alleys between the Globes and the Hanser Bros. cohorts.

WILL TRY TO PROVE LEWIS' INNOCENCE

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 12.—Plans of friends of Herbert W. Lewis to fight for his complete exoneration of charges made against him by a 15-year-old girl were abandoned on the result of the death of Lewis, who committed suicide late yesterday in Westlake park here. Officials of the Children's Home Aid society, of which Lewis was the head, have issued a signed statement expressing belief in his innocence and asserting that they have in their possession proof of the falsity of the charge.

Lewis was arrested Saturday on a statutory charge by Ida Niles, a former inmate of the home, who lives in San Francisco. Monday night he was released from jail on bail. Late yesterday, after visiting the home and drafting a will in which he left his property to his wife, he walked to Westlake park, seated himself on the grass and swallowed cyanide of potassium. The will he left contained no reference to the Niles girl's charges, of which he had repeatedly declared his innocence.

Mrs. Lewis was preparing to fight side by side with her husband for his exoneration. It was reported today that she will now make the fight alone. The couple had two children—Howard Lewis, a student at Stanford university, and Camilla Lewis, who attended the Hollywood high school.

of New Orleans, holds a decision over Milburn Saylor, of Indianapolis, today as a result of their 12-round bout here. Both boys tired hard, but Mandot was too clever for the middle westerner.

Ten Teams Tied.

New York, Nov. 12.—At 8 a. m. today ten teams in the six-day bicycle race, in progress here, were tied for first place. Each had covered 115 1/2 miles and eight laps, three miles and nine laps ahead of the former record.

Two hundred dollars, offered as sprint prizes by Dick Dalolph, a pitcher for the Boston Nationals, caused a lot of fast riding this morning.

OREGON HAS BEST OF O. A. C. CONTEST

By far the most important battle, from a local standpoint, which will be played this year is to take place next Saturday at Corvallis, between the University of Oregon and O. A. C. teams.

Without dwelling on their respective chances of winning, beyond the fact that the comparative showing of the two teams so far this year give the Aggies the edge, a comparison of the records made since the teams started play back in 1894, shows that 16 games have been played. Oregon has won 10, lost three and tied three. It has made a total of 195 points to 65 for O. A. C. On more than one occasion O. A. C. has appeared to have the better team, only to go down to defeat before teams representing the Eugene university.

Is it any wonder that the Aggies are fearful of having another defeat slipped over on them, just when their chances of victory appear brightest?

The records of the games to date are as follows:

BOERS ARE BEATEN AND IN FULL FLIGHT

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, Nov. 12.—Fifteen hundred Boer rebels under General Beyers were in full flight today before the British loyalist forces. The loyalists, commanded by Colonel Bellairs, attacked the Boers west of Belfontein and a running fight ensued, as a result of which four rebels were killed, 20 were wounded, 100 were captured and the rest were completely routed.

CAN METRIC SYSTEM BE USED IN MARKING?

Whether or not goods shipped from other states in packages with the net contents of such packages designated in the metric system of weights and measures will be admitted into this state under the provisions of the Oregon "net weight container" law is the question that has been put to State Deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures Fred O. Buchtel by a New York firm, and Mr. Buchtel has submitted the matter to Attorney General Crawford for a legal opinion.

Under an act of congress, the United States has adopted the metric system of weights and measures, in common use in foreign countries, as one of the standards of weights and measures of the United States. There is no doubt that, being classed as interstate commerce the state authorities would have to receive shipments of commodities labeled in the terms of the metric system, but Mr. Buchtel desires to know whether or not the state authorities could not also compel the shippers of such commodities to designate the net contents of all sealed packages in the equivalent terms of the English system of weights and measures, as the terms of the metric system would be "Greek" to the great majority of the consumers of western states.

SCHOONER STRUCK ON CLATSOP SPIT

Astoria, Ore., Nov. 12.—The steam schooner Daisy Freeman had a narrow escape from wrecking early today when it got out of its course while entering the Columbia river and struck on the sands of Clatsop spit. The vessel, however, managed to extricate itself and was not believed to be seriously damaged beyond losing a portion of its rudder.

The lifesavers at Fort Canby and Point Adams were attracted by long blasts of the Freeman's whistle and signal fires, and immediately rushed to the rescue, but the vessel was out of its perilous position by the time they arrived.

The Freeman was towed to Astoria by the tug Onions and will be taken to Portland this evening for dry-docking.

LIBRARY BUILDING FOR WOODBURN

Woodburn, Or., Nov. 12.—The Public Library building in the city just completed at a cost of $10,000 from funds appropriated by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, has been formally opened to the public, and the people of this locality are proud of the addition to their public buildings. The entire upper floor is for reading purposes and has a shelf room for 10,000 books, while on the lower floor are the heating plant, committee-room and a lecture-room. COLUMBUS KNIGHTS ATTEND INSTITUTION

Hundreds of Members Journey to Mt. Angel in Special Train to See New Council Come Into Existence.

Knights of Columbus and ladies, many hundreds in number, journeyed over from Portland, Salem and other points to Mount Angel last Sunday, to be present at the institution of the new council in that city. Rev. Father O'Farrell, pastor of St. Luke's church at Woodburn, delivered the address to the candidates.

In the afternoon the Portland degree team, consisting of J. Jacobberger, A. Gianelli, A. Ward, J. Beekman, E. Kenrick and P. J. Hanley, carried out the ceremonies of the first and second degrees. The major degree was put on by the Astoria degree team, consisting of W. P. O'Brien, Jim O'Connell, Patrick Kierney and J. Noonan. A class of over 70 were initiated, and this marks the institution of Council No. 1767. This, perhaps, is the second largest class that has ever been initiated in a council of this state.

A banquet was given in the city hall to all the Knights of Columbus and the women of the party. Covers were laid for 800. Rev. Father O'Farrell presided as toastmaster. Rev. Father Dominic, pastor of St. Mary's church at Mt. Angel, welcomed the guests. Rev. Father Placidus, Benedictine Abbey, spoke on the "Spirit of Catholic Laymen." W. P. O'Brien, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, responded to the toast, "Progress of Columbianism in the West." Burt C. Jones responded to the toast, "The Ladies." Rev. Father William Cronin, pastor of St. Leo's church, spoke on the "Gospel of Christ." Joseph Jacobberger, newly elected grand knight of Portland council, spoke on the "Future of Mt. Angel Council, No. 1767." J. Frank Sinnott, past grand knight of Portland council, spoke on "Catholic Citizenship." The addresses were interspersed by solos and duets by Father Donaventura, Paul Orth, Anna Koerber and Mary Stasler. Romanuski's orchestra furnished the music.

STATE FAIR BOARD'S NEEDS BUT LITTLE

The chief need of the Oregon state fair board, which the next session of the legislature will be called upon to supply, will be an appropriation of $123,638.40 with which to construct a new livestock coliseum for the state fair grounds to add to the building equipment during the coming year. This is the principal item of the board's estimates for the ensuing biennium which were filed with the secretary of state to be included in the budget for legislative enactment.

Another important improvement which the fair board contemplates for next year will be the construction of permanent roadways in the fair grounds proper and in the camp grounds, the aggregate cost of which is estimated at $9716. It is proposed to construct a system of macadam driveways throughout the grounds to connect with all of the buildings, and upon the principal streets of the camp grounds, and to treat them each year with a coating of Richmond road oil. One of the most deplorable features of the fair grounds equipment is the driveway system, which is of cheap and but temporary construction, and, during inclement weather, is not fit for travel either on foot or otherwise, and the board feels that this is a much-needed improvement.

The state fair board is provided by statute with a continuous appropriation of $30,000 annually for premium funds and $2000 annually for printing expenses, and whatever surplus exists in the receipts over expenditures in the conduct of a fair goes into a revolving fund set aside for use for needed repairs and minor improvements. Aside from the above stated items of estimated needs, the board is asking for an aggregate of $7,881.87, which includes $4,012.87 reimbursements for extras and additional expense incurred in the completion of the new pavilion; $1350 for drilling a well and equipment of a new and extended water system, and $2500 for miscellaneous repairs, such as painting of buildings, fencing, etc.
