

SOCIAL, CLUB AND MUSICAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Three Popular Society Maids, Miss Catherine Cannon, Miss Alina Thompson and Miss Marjorie Marvin, Who Will Take Leading Parts in "Arizona," to be Presented by Local Talent at the Grand Opera House November 30 and December 1, Which Are Anticipated as Bright Spots on the Social Calendar for Those Dates.

PLANNING for autumn functions, matrons carefully avoided the coming week, selecting dates previous to or following the one in which the nation's Thanksgiving day occurred, consequently no bridges or teas are listed on the social calendar for the coming seven days. However, the week will not be a dull one, by any means, for almost every household will celebrate the day in the usual festive manner, and big sisters or brothers away at college, as well as numerous out-of-town friends, will be entertained as guests in hospitable Salem homes.

Interest begins to center around the amateur production of "Arizona." Rehearsals for the play are now under way, and the event is anticipated as one of the bright spots on the social calendar for November 30 and December first. The performance will be given in the Grand opera house, and ready society folk are planning box and lodge parties for the affair, and it is expected that the theater will again partake of something of its former atmosphere of social brilliancy, when society has been generously represented.

It has been a long time since local talent has given an event of like nature, but whenever it has done so the affairs have always been a success, and so the production of "Arizona" is to be under the professional direction of James Mott, who has specialized in presenting this play, it promises to be as great an attraction as any that has ever been offered, and that the performances will draw capacity houses is a foregone conclusion.

CELEBRATING the eighth anniversary of the formation of the Priscilla club, the members gave one of the most delightful and beautifully planned affairs of the season, Thursday evening, at the handsome W. S. Mott home on North Commercial street. This home, which is recognized as one of the most attractive in the city, of the classic Louis style, is admirably adapted for entertaining, the rooms being spacious and handsomely appointed. Mrs. Mott, although not a frequent entertainer, is a particularly gracious hostess on the occasions when her home is opened for social functions, and invitations to any affair over which she presides invariably meet an enthusiastic acceptance.

Her home was particularly attractive Thursday night with the simple decorative arrangement. Splendid marigolds and chrysanthemums in yellow, the club's colors, gracefully arranged in tall standards, lent their golden beauty to drawing and living-rooms, and brilliant red geraniums, mingled with pot-pourri of numerous varieties, beautified the dining-room.

Husbands of the club members were hidden to this affair, and each member was also asked to send an invitation to two additional. Small tables were used for "500," two awards being made. The guest favor was awarded to Mrs. Alfred Lovelace and the "Priscilla prize," a handsome copper tray with engraving, "The Priscillas, 1904-1914," was secured by Mrs. A. T. Wain's score.

Following cards the tables were cleared and several substantial courses served. Mrs. D. J. Fry, Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mrs. George Dunsford, Mrs. Frederick Stenoff and Mrs. C. M. Eppley assisting.

Those who participated in this enjoyable event were: Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wain, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunsford, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stenoff, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Eppley, and Mrs. Ida Babcock, club members and their husbands, and the following additional guests: Dr. and Mrs. B. E. Lee Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Spaulding, Judge and Mrs. Thomas R. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Colonel and Mrs. E. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deby, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. Lovelace, Mrs. Myrtle Lawrence and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burton.

Mrs. Harry Clay's lovely home was filled to capacity yesterday afternoon, in response to invitations for a bridge tea, which was one of the smartest affairs on the calendar of society for the week. Five tables were arranged for the devotees of the game, the lovely favor complimenting Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner. Mrs. M. A. Goff, Mrs. Sherman Thompson and Miss Gertrude Jones assisted about the rooms, and little Mildred Roberts, the daintiest of figures in pink frock, in, receiving the cards in a pretty basket, interlarded and Maline decked. About 30 additional guests called at the tea hour. Mrs. A. N. Bush and Mrs. W. H. Eldridge presided at the cards at the table, centered with a great basket of pink carnations, festooned with fluffy napkins. Pink-shaded tapers in graceful holders cast a rosy glow, and the smilax entwined electroliers above also displayed the pink color effect. Graceful palms, carnations and snowy Shasta daisies ornamented the living-room, adding a beautiful floral suggestion to the handsome appointments.

Assisting in serving were Miss Gertrude Myers, Miss Alina Jones, Miss Zola Olmstead, Miss Florence Hofer and Miss Barbara Steiner.

The affair was featured by elaborate toilettes. Mrs. Clay received her skirt in black satin. The sunburst skirt foundation was made with a tunic of beautiful lace, which was also noted on the bodice, used in combination with jet ornamentation and relieved with a suggestion of pink.

Mrs. Bush wore a lovely imported creation, designed of shell-pink chiffon, over a foundation of the same color and embellished with exquisite hand-embroidery.

Mrs. Eldridge was a distinguished figure in a gown of splendid real lace, which had become ivory toned by its hundred years' existence. Black panne velvet was strikingly used in combination for the bodice with the foundation of the lace and brightened with touches of burnt orange. A handsome black picture hat completed the costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenderoth are receiving messages of felicitation upon the birth of a son, John Zeiber, born Thursday, November 19.

Reproducing the decorative motif of the large tea set, a number of David Eyre used eight tables for bridge Tuesday, arranging several more later when additional guests came in for tea. Mrs. Frank Myers, Miss Nell Thielson, Miss Marie Hofer and Miss Rita Steiner were asked to assist on this afternoon, and Mrs. John H. Albert and Mrs. Max Borens' scores secured the lovely card favors.

Tables made up the complement of bridge players on Friday afternoon. When Mrs. Eyre completed her charming and delightful series. Card favors were given to Mrs. Paul Johnson and Mrs. Scott Page. Assistants for this afternoon were Mrs. R. B. Houston, Mrs. Walter Spaulding and Mrs. J. C. Pettyjohn. Matrons and maids took advantage of the faitless weather on both days to display attractive gowns, and at each affair. Guests hidden for these affairs were: Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., Mrs. Channing Bishop, Mrs. John J. Hutch, Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley, Mrs. S. G. Sargent, Mrs. Howard Kama, of Brooks; Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mrs. George Gray, Mrs. Donald Stevenson, Mrs. Romeo Gault, Mrs. Homer Gault, Mrs. Mrs. H. W. Thielson, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. Charles H. Mrs. John B. Craig was mistress for her card club, the "Cherry City," Tuesday evening, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Lovelace and Miss Bernice Craig. Additional guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. Lovelace and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. East. Prizes were secured by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Downing.

Small Dorothy Godfrey, the attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Godfrey, was assisted by a number of her little friends Tuesday afternoon in celebrating her sixth birthday. A profusion of yellow chrysanthemums made the rooms beautiful, but the faultless weather making it possible, many of the pastimes were planned for out of doors. Juvenile frolics much pleased each guest, which were carefully wrapped in tissue paper and concealed in various places. Those who enjoyed this merry affair were: Catherine Elgin, Clifford Elgin, Elmo Heinke, Lorene Porter and Richard James Campbell.

Mrs. Godfrey was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. C. W. Elgin and Mrs. James Godfrey.

An attractively appointed luncheon was Miss Jennie Boyce's contribution for the entertainment of a number of her girl friends Saturday. Pink and white stocks centered the board, which was surrounded by Miss Helen Hill of Portland; Miss Gertrude Myers, Miss Adelt Nye, Miss Jessie Heleomb, Miss Olive Beckley, Miss Lyla Miles, Miss Margaret Pohl and Miss Lurcy Birdall.

Mrs. H. J. Benz entertained with an informal dinner party Friday night of last week, the occasion celebrating Judge Benz's birthday. Covers were laid for Judge and Mrs. George H. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. John Sutherland and Judge T. A. McBride.

Miss Emma Catherine Wright, whose marriage to Raymond Keith Drake, of Vancouver, Oregon, will be celebrated next Wednesday at high noon, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Urish, was the honored guest at a pre-wedding affair, given by Miss Averil Harris,

Thursday night. Only intimate girl friends of the bride-elect were hidden, and the event was in the nature of a farewell attention. Informal entertainment was furnished, and an attractively appointed luncheon served. The guests were: Miss Mary Paroungian, Miss Myrtle Polker, Miss Blanche Drake, Miss Emma Minto, Miss Edith Franker, Miss Ernestine Roberts, Miss Alice and Miss Agnes Grogan, Miss Marguerite Flower, Miss Lantha Irvine, Mrs. Eva Stewart and Miss Winnie Baker.

An appropriate climax to the various events in Corvallis tomorrow, coincidental to the big O. A. C. U. of O. football game, will be the large dancing party given by the Gamma Upsilon fraternity, to which several local society people have received invitations. Among the members of this fraternity are Paul Hofer and J. Donald Meyers, of Salem. Mrs. Henry W. Meyers will be an honored guest for this affair, which will be a brilliant event of the college year.

Mrs. Richard Cartwright and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith have issued invitations for "The Musicals," to be given Friday afternoon, November 27, at the Hotel Marion, at 2 o'clock.

Among society people who were in attendance at the O. A. C. U. of O. game in Corvallis today were Mr. and Mrs. Channing Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. George William Gray, Miss Gertrude Meyers, Miss Jones and Miss Gertrude Jones of Labish Meadows, Fritz Slade and Carl Gabrielson.

Miss Alta Jones asked friends informally to her home Wednesday night, to make up six tables of "500." Final scores gave the awards to Miss Earl, Miss Sampson, Horman Mairing and Merrill Lamport. Later in the evening the floors were cleared and dancing participated in, assisting about the rooms and at serving time was Mrs. Edward S. Lamport.

our the rooms. The ceremony was performed under a canopy of chrysanthemums banded with greenery, and these blossoms predominated in all the decorations. The assembled guests numbered about 25 relatives and intimate friends, including Frank Veilang, of Seattle, and J. R. Breitstein, as out-of-town guests.

Previous to the service Miss Marie Campbell sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Clara Breitstein, a sister of the bride, played Lohengrin's wedding march and parts of the bridal chorus softly during the ceremony.

The bride wore a most becoming gown of ivory-toned and tulle style, the latter being fashioned of rich lace. Embellishments of lace and pearl banding were also used. Her veil was arranged in Juliet cap effect, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Marie, costumed in a white embroidered frock with pink girdle and carrying an armful of pink carnations. Another sister, Helen, all in white, carried the ring in a large white chrysanthemum. The bride's father gave her into the bridegroom's keeping.

After a wedding journey to Vancouver, B. C. and Canadian points, the young couple will be at home to their friends at 1603 Court street.

Mrs. A. N. Bush and Mrs. H. B. Thielson were among the list of assistants at the smart presentation reception given in Portland Saturday by Mrs. Thomas G. Bailey, when Miss Genevieve Bailey was formally presented to society.

Mrs. Ivan Bellinger (Lola Belle Cook) of Sweet Home is the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Cook. Mrs. Bellinger, who arrived earlier in the week, is being claimed by her hosts of friends, who have planned many informal gatherings for her pleasure. She will remain until the middle of the week.

Miss Chester C. Clark and Miss Edith

E. Benedict were guests of Miss Ola La Moine Clark at Waldo hall, O. A. C. for the week-end. Mrs. Clark and Miss Benedict attended the Waldo hall reception, Mrs. Clark, by request, giving one of her pleasing whistling solos on the evening's musical program. On Sunday afternoon, by special request of Mrs. Elfrith, the proprietress of Waldo hall, and the young ladies of Waldo, Mrs. Clark again delighted with several selections.

About 250 people enjoyed the splendid supper served at the Presbyterian church last night. Mrs. W. H. Stenoff, Mrs. J. Poober, Mrs. John Griffith and Mrs. C. Hager were the committee, and wish to extend their sincere appreciation to all who so generously assisted in making the supper a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown and son, Keith, leave for Portland tomorrow where they will sail on the steamer Beaver for San Diego. They have a splendid home there, and annually spend their winters there, this being their fifth.

The annual Thanksgiving reunion of the Philodanian Society of Willamette university will be celebrated with a banquet at the Edward Sherwood home tonight, when it is expected that about sixty-five present and former members will be present. Out-of-town alumni began arriving for the event the latter part of the week, and today there were being entertained as house guests and friends at Lausanne hall, Edith and Ione Lewis, Mabel Fraley, of Portland; Gertrude Reeves, Pearl Bradley, of Lebanon; Hazel Smith, of Hood River, and Mrs. Ivan Bellinger, of Sweet Home.

Miss Lucella Patton is entertaining twenty of her school friends this afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cook Patton, on Court street. The entertainment rooms are resplendent with brilliant crimson carnations. Miss Valeria Briggs was ased to assist.

Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Epley presided at an elaborately planned banquet in the dining-room of the First Christian church, Thursday evening, following the second performance of the sacred cantata, "Faith Triumphant." The affair was given in compliment to those who participated in the cantata, and invitations were also extended to members of their families. Prudent late roses were used in profusion about the room and were used to ornament the tables, arranged in a large square. Guests found their places by small cards, hand decorated with small red blossoms, and were served the numerous courses by members of the congregation.

Miss Ione Fisher proved a charming hostess at the miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. W. H. Fisher, 173 South Fourteenth street, last Thursday evening, in honor of Miss Mary Henningson, whose marriage to Mr. H. R. Armstrong, whose marriage to Mr. H. R. Armstrong was formally of Salem. The rooms were beautifully decorated in red carnations and red and white hearts. The evening was spent in interesting games, prizes being awarded to the winning parties, after which the bride-elect opened her many useful gifts, guessing the contents of each from the rhyme on the outside.

Fancy ices and cake were served. The cake contained a ring, dime and thimble. Miss Geneva Jones received the ring, Miss Alyce Hollister the dime.
