The Markets

Wheat prices dropped half a cent in Portland yesterday from Saturday's closing. There was no occasion for it either as prices advanced in Chicago, and this on reports from Argentina that black rust had attacked the crop. Chicago reports sales of 2,000,000 bushels for export Monday, and Omaha and St. Louis reports sales of 700,000 bushels each, while Kansas City says there is a strong foreign demand there. Most of the Chicago wheat is being sent to seaboard by rail owing to the scarcity of ships on the lakes.

The Portland oat market grows daily stronger with prices steadily advancing. Buyers are freely offering $32.50. Barley is also firm and advancing in sympathy with oats.

Hops are steady and a heavy business is reported. H. L. Hart, of Aurora, sold 180 bales at 11 cents yesterday. Exports from New York for September were 483,980, as compared to 2,807,148 last year. Reports from England are that the market is slow and that growers are not eager sellers at prevailing prices. The approach of Thanksgiving has caused a lively trade in vegetables as well as poultry. Turkey receipts at Portland were large yesterday but not up to what the dealers expected. Prices range from 21 cents for first class birds down to 15 for culls. Other poultry is in good supply and prices steady.

More than 5000 hogs were received at the local yards and prices dropped a dime. The demand for cattle is strong and prices unchanged.

GOVERNMENT CAN'T DO IT.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Secretary of Labor Wilson informed President Wilson today that the government did not have the power to take over the Colorado coal mines through the appointment of a federal receiver. After investigating a resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor convention last week Secretary Wilson said the solicitor for the labor department declared said he can find no legal advice for such action.

PETERSON IS FACING CHARGE OF MURDER

Sheriff Esch, of this county, received a telegram from J. J. McDonald, sheriff of Solano county, California, last night stating that Fred Peterson, who was captured in the act of robbing the store at Suhlmy and is now held in the county jail, is wanted in Solano county on a charge of robbery and murder. When Peterson was captured he wanted to plead guilty to the charge and receive a sentence to the penitentiary in this state. Sheriff Esch, however, took a photo and the measurements of Peterson and sent them to Sheriff McDonald, suspecting Peterson of being associated with the gang which robbed a bank in Rio Vista and killed the night watchman.

The wire last night stated that Peterson was the man wanted and a member of the gang for which a reward of $1500 was offered for his capture. William Clay, alias Harvey Dillon, alias Joe Conroy, was caught in Pendleton a few days ago and taken to California for trial. Peterson served 10 years in Folsom prison for burglary, under the name of Alfred Nelson, and also a sentence in Yuma, Arizona, under the name of Albert Johnson.

Sheriff McDonald stated that he would arrive here some time this week with requisition papers for Peterson, but the local officers have a clear case against Peterson here and it is not thought that the man can be taken to California for trial until he has been tried on the charge here. The matter will be taken up by the district attorney today to make some disposition of the case.

TRYING TO DESTROY GERMAN SUBMARINES

The Hague, Nov. 24.—The British fleet off the Belgian coast bombarded Zebrugge vigorously today.

The shelling's purpose was said to be the destruction of six submarines the Germans were understood to have concentrated in the Zebrugge canal. It was upon the point where it was supposed they were being held that the warships' fire was concentrated.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good For Coughs and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

MUSTEROLE does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage MUSTEROLE in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

And there is nothing like MUSTEROLE for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Headache, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pains and Aches of Back or Joints, Sprains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chills, Frosted Feet, Chills of the Chest (it often prevents Pneumonia).

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations—got what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

ONE DAY'S DELAY LOSES $75,000 SUIT

On the ground that the appeal from the decision of the trial court to the supreme court was not made within the prescribed limit of 60 days, the time having lapsed by the small margin of one day, the supreme court dismissed the appeal of the defendant Eldridge in the case of the United States National Bank of Salem, et al. vs. F. J. Eldridge and Swastika Farms company, appellants, which was an appeal from the decree of Judge Galloway of the circuit court for Marion county and involved judgment on a personal note for $75,000, which was rendered against the defendant, Eldridge, by the trial court.

Cemetery Title Good

Holding that the action of the road supervisor, in changing the course of travel from the old road, which had been in use as a public highway for over 50 years, constituted an abandonment of said road which operates as a release of the county's claim to title to any part of the premises, but that so long as any bodies remain buried in the old graveyard, consisting of 158 acres of ground dedicated for use as a private cemetery in 1873, that part of the premises is subject to that use, the supreme court this morning, in an opinion written by Justice Burnett, modified the decree entered by Judge William Galloway of the circuit court for Marion county in the case of L. M. Hiltney and J. J. Stangel vs. Byron J. Grim, et al., a suit to establish title to 19.72 acres of land in this county which the defendants desire to sell.

Marion county had a claim to right of way over the premises for a public road, which was declared nullified by the court on the ground of abandonment, but the dedication of the tract of land for burial purposes the court decides is still in force until the state, in the exercise of its police power, causes the abandonment of the cemetery and the removal of the bodies, or that friends and relatives may voluntarily remove their dead, but 'until its depopulation as a city of the dead is complete by one or the other process, the ground dedicated for the last resting place of deceased persons must remain true to its dedication.'

SUIT AGAINST WEST ORDERED DISMISSED

Supreme Court Dismisses Injunction Proceedings Over Copperfield Affair

Holding that a suit to enjoin the commission of an act after such act has been committed is about as effective as "impounding the water for the wheel after it has run by the mill," and inferring that, in the event he suffers any damage from the closing of his place of business by the governor and the militia, the defendant is entitled to collect such damages by due process of law, the supreme court, in an opinion by Justice Burnett, this morning dismissed the injunction suit brought against Governor West, B. K. Lawson, acting colonel of the state militia, and Fern Hobbs, as an agent of the governor, by William Wiegand, to enjoin them from closing his saloon and confiscating his property and business in the raid upon his place made by the governor and the militia at Copperfield, in Baker county, January 2, 1914.

"It is a vital principle of popular government that every person within the state is subject to its constitution and laws, be he governor or groundling. It is equally true that the mere circumstance that an individual occupies at the time an official position of the state will not protect him from the consequences of his violation of its laws or infringement of the rights of another," says the opinion.

Wiegand set forth in his complaint, asking for an injunction against the governor and his agents, that he and his business would suffer damages to the amount of $3500 if the threats of the governor were carried into effect, and the supreme court, while not passing upon this point directly, since it was not raised and was not an issue in the case, holds that the governor or any other official is just as amenable to the law as any peace officer or private citizen and is personally liable for any damage that might be incurred by reason of trespass upon the property or rights of another citizen and points out that there is a good and sufficient remedy at law for such damages as may have been suffered by the plaintiff. It is understood that there is a civil suit for damages pending against Governor West, in his personal capacity, awaiting decision of this injunction suit.

Numerous other opinions were rendered by the supreme court this morning as follows:

Alex Gigoux vs. Yamhill county, appellant, appealed from Yamhill, action for damages, opinion by Justice Moore, Circuit Judge Holmes affirmed.

C. E. Reynolds, appellant vs. J. W. Vint et al; appealed from Tillamook county; action on promissory note; opinion by Justice McBride; Circuit Judge Holmes affirmed.
