U. OF O. QUINTET PLAYS SALEM HIGH TONIGHT

Locals Expected To Give the University Boys Hard Stiff Battle

Though the Salem high school basketball team assumed a full-sized contract when they took the University of Oregon five on for a game, they will afford the local patrons of the sport a chance to see one of the fastest games of the season when the two teams line up tonight on the high school gym floor. The high school has a light fast team that appears to be the class of the valley schools, and for the first time in a number of years a high school team will be able to give a good account of itself with the U. of O. team, as the 'varsity' this year also has a light fast team.

Sharpe and Carson Higley, who are rilling the forward positions on the Bezek squad are both small, and outsize will measure up in size with the high school guards. Brownell in the 'varsity' center, but will not overtop Keene to any great extent. The 'varsity' has a husky pair of guards in Lyle Higley and Glen Wheeler, but Reinhart and Proctor promise to play their most elusive game and will give the big fellows a run for their money. Chester Huggins, the distance runner, who represented the Y. M. C. A. of Salem in the Salem-Portland relay race last summer, will be with the team as a substitute.

Coach Clancy says that while his team does not expect to annex any conference championships at tonight's game, the boys will be able to give a good account of themselves, and the U. of O. squad will be obliged to keep to the game from start to finish.

'We will show them a warm contest,' said Clancy, 'and we will be after them every minute, and when the final whistle is sounded the college boys will know that they have been in a basketball game.' The high school will play the usual first lineup.

Some extra bleachers have been erected in the high school gym on the lower floor and it is now possible to seat about 750 spectators. The game will be called at 8 o'clock sharp.

WILLAMETTE TO MEET ALUMNI SATURDAY

Under Grads Will Do Battle Against Old Timers

The basketball season at Willamette university will start Saturday night when the 'varsity' team clashes with the alumni for the first public exhibition of the W. U. quintet. The game will be of the nature of a tryout for the 'varsity' squad, and Coach Thompson will probably use a number of second string men against the old grads. Schramm, Minton, Meantire, Tallman, Rader, Mills and Rowland, all of whom have gained renown in the dim and distant past, will outnumber their juniors against the 'varsity' team. The university will be represented by Blister, Flegel, Jewett, Gates, Brooks, Irvine, Proctor and Crawford.

The university has an extensive schedule this year, which includes among others games with the University of Oregon, O. A. C. and Washington state college of Pullman. Class teams representing each of the college classes and also the academy and Kimball college have been organized, and three games will be played each week until the end of the regular season. The following is the schedule:

January 8—Seniors vs. Juniors, Sophs vs. Fresh, Academy vs. Kimball.
January 15—Seniors vs. Sophs, Academics vs. Juniors, Fresh vs. Kimball.
January 22—Seniors vs. Academy, Fresh vs. Juniors, Sophs vs. Kimball.
January 29—Seniors vs. Fresh, Juniors vs. Kimball, Sophs vs. Academy.

Const League May Include Eight Clubs Says McCredie

Portland, Ore., Jan. 8.—That the question of expanding the Coast league to eight clubs in 1916, if this year's invasion of Salt Lake is successful, was discussed at length at the recent meeting of magnates in San Francisco, was the statement today of President McCredie, of the Portland club, who was present.

Ogden and Walls Walls, Sacramento and Seattle and Ogden and Sacramento were some of the combinations suggested, McCredie said.

ALL READY FOR POINT LOMA RACE TOMORROW

Final Tryouts Take Place On Big Race Course Today

Point Loma Race Course, San Diego, Cal., Jan. 8.—Thundering over the course at a terrific pace, final tryouts were held today for the 305,000-mile exposition road race tomorrow by the 10 speed kings who are to compete for honors.

With the weather ideal, and the course fast and firm, some new records were today predicted in the big classic. Fast time was made in today's tryouts but the pilots are holding their ears in beach and will not let them out on the dangerous course until Fred J. Wagner gives the signal for the start tomorrow.

Harry Grant, in his Sunbeam, will be the first away, leaving the starting line at 11 a. m. sharp. The cars start in pairs at 30-second intervals.

An immense crowd is expected, thousands coming from out of town. Motor parties were arriving from the north today by the score and they report both the coast and inland route to San Diego from Los Angeles in good condition.

The winner is expected to finish about 4 1/2 hrs.

The fact that the 19 cars will go around a course full of highly dangerous curves, some of them on sharp grades, caused the committee in charge today to make careful arrangements for hospital service.

There will be five field hospitals, placed at different points near the course. Surgeon P. M. Carrington, of the United States public health service, will be in charge. A dozen local surgeons will be on hand to assist, and a number of surgeons from the navy vessels now here will also be on hand.

Three ambulances and a corps of nurses have also been assigned to the work of caring for any driver or mechanic who may be injured.

The race will start promptly at 11 a. m., the cars being sent away at 30-second intervals, in this order:

- No. 1—Sunbeam; Harry Grant.
- No. 2—Duesenberg; Tom Alley.
- No. 3—Fahis; Jack Goebble.
- No. 4—Merzer; Grever Buckatell.
- No. 5—Gordon; Huntley Gordon.
- No. 6—Packard; Bob Burman.
- No. 7—Packard; Eddie Diekenhauser.
- No. 8—Stutz; Earl Cooper.
- No. 9—Packard; Fred McCarthy.
- No. 10—Duesenberg; Jack Callahan.
- No. 11—Marmor; A. A. Caldwell.
- No. 12—Merzer; Louis Nikrent.
- No. 14—Maxwell; Barney Oldfield.
- No. 15—King; Arthur Klein.
- No. 16—Carling Special; A. T. Dick.
- No. 17—Maxwell; W. H. Carlson.
- No. 18—Shields; L. B. Shields.
- No. 19—Duesenberg; Eddie O'Donnell.
- No. 20—Alco; William Taylor.

M'GRAW NEEDS PLACE TO FARM YOUNGSTERS

Would Acquire Minor League Club to Use As Base of Supplies

By Hal Sheridan.

New York, Jan. 8.—The New York National league club was reported today to be negotiating for the purchase of an International league franchise. If the deal goes through, the minor league club will, of course, be used as a "farm."

Manager John J. McGraw is said to be seeking a safe place for the harboring of his surplus talent as a result of the new major league rule which limits the club rosters to 21 players after May. He feels that with the expense of sending out scouts and the trouble of handling new players, the youngsters for a few weeks in the spring and then let them go and have some other club reap the benefit.

Negotiations are in progress for the transfer of the Jersey City club franchise to Syracuse. If the deal goes through, it is practically certain that the Giants will become interested in the proposition. If the transfer is made, McGraw will also see that Geo. Witte, who has been unconditionally released by the Giants, gets the job of managing the Syracuse club.

With an International league club to farm his players, McGraw could hold all the youngsters from season to season and prevent them from going back to the clubs from which they were drafted.

WILL ATTEND AUTO RACE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 8.—Hundreds of Los Angeles citizens will go to San Diego on special trains tomorrow to attend the Los Angeles county celebration at the Panama-California exposition. The automobile race also is drawing many sport fans from this city.

WAS IN SECRET SERVICE DURING THE CIVIL WAR

H. J. Rhodes, well-known resident of Polk and Marion counties, who is residing in Salem this winter, was in the county clerk's office today to send off some additional information to the pension bureau at Washington, D. C., relative to a pension for which Mr. Rhodes applied through County Clerk Gehlhar last August.

Mr. Rhodes served throughout the Civil war as a member of the secret service and as a spy inside the enemy's lines and there was no record kept of his performance. He enlisted in the Fourth Iowa cavalry at the outset of the war and served four months in this organization before he was transferred to the secret service. Once in the secret service he became detached from headquarters except at long intervals and reports he carried were too dangerous to be committed to writing so there is little on the records of the war department relative to his performance.

Mr. Rhodes never applied for a pension until last August, as he said he was still able to take care of himself. Though 80 years of age, he is still hale and hearty and says his eye is still undimmed and that last week he killed a jackrabbit at 75 yards with his old army revolver. He was in the secret service in Hawaii during the insurrection of 1895 and carries a recommendation from President Dole. Mr. Rhodes is the father-in-law of H. M. Axtel, of this city.
