OVER TEN HOURS IN MAKING REPAIRS

The Supreme Court Reverses Judge Benson In Famous Ten Hour Law Case

NEEDED REPAIRS MAY BE MADE IN TIME FOR WORK

Other Important Rulings Are Made By Highest Court of State

Holding that when en employe of a factory, mill or workshop within the meaning of the ten-hour labor statute s employed in the making of needed repairs to the machinery of a plant over the ten-hour limit is not a violation of the ten-hour workday law, the capreme court this morning reversed the decision of Judge Benson, of the circuit court for Klamath county, and discharged the defendant in the case of the state vs. James Young, spinion Justice Benn. This is a case in which Young, who owns and operates a sawmill in Lake county, was convicted in the trial court of violation of the ten hour law in our than ten hours in ane day without pay-ment for overtime. It was shown that liarvey was engaged in making needed-repairs to the machinery after regular-orking hours. The whole question rested upon the interpretation of the word "faccommany," which is contained ion by Justice Bean.

T. K. Anderson et. al., plaintiffs and respondents, vs. Grant Phegley, defend ant, and Emmt G. Robinson, appellant; from Josephine county; Judge Calkins affirmed. Opinion by Justice Harris.

F. X. Duester and H. C. Rasen, et. al., respondents, vs. F. A. Alvin; from Multnomab county; Judge Kavannigh affirmed. Opinion by Chief Justice Monre.

Judge Lindsey Attacks Sage and Carnegie Foundations

Denver, Colo, an. 18.—Bitter denunciation of the men behind the Bockefelder, Sage and Carnegie foundations, under investigation in New York by the federal industrial relations commission, was voiced today by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of the juvenile court here.

'If the commission,' said Judge Lindsey, 'calls the attention of the people to the fact that it is with their money that the Rockefeller, Sage, Carnegie and oher foundations are maintained it will have fulfilled its purpose for the present.

Ital is oppression, built on an economic system which parallis a few to reap the rewards of the work of thousands and then to distribute that wealth so the system can be maintained.

"If the foundations were really designed for the work they would have as believe, their first step would be to destroy the system which makes such foundations possible.

"Thousands of dollars have been sent to Europe for the suffering Belgians by men identified with the interests the foundations represent. No one has ever heard of our own sufferers being
