LIGHT-WEIGHT CHAMPS ARE NUMEROUS

Dollar Appeals to Many Pugilists Who Have Seen Better Days in Arena

(By Hal Sheridan)

New York, Jan. 29.—Everybody in these dollar days of sport seems to want to be a lightweight. Exchanges are running back into exchanges, and a whole crop of young blood who wrap around the hip-point mark are trying to bring their way to fortune via the small-fry cut route.

The reason, naturally, the cash. The public apparently can't find of inferior milking by lumbering "brawlers." The middleweights until recently have not excited much interest and the feather and bantams have been keeping unmercifully quiet.

The lightweights, around such boxing centers as New York, Milwaukee and New Orleans, seem to be getting all the coin. Aside from the fight fans' interest in a lightweight will become more obvious is usually shown that in an encounter between heavier boxers, it is a fact that the present crowd of lightweight entertainers is about the best in several years.

Perhaps not in many seasons has the fight ring seen such equally matched talent as Freddie Welsh, Charley White, and Young Slaughter, with Willie White, Ad Walcott, Lench Cross and Johnny Dundee hovering around the fringes of the same championship class. Below this crowd is a host of other "light" capable of giving any crowd its money's worth.

Speaking of lightweights, you can't let that Nelson of Higewich, Ill., drop completely out of your mind. But won't let you. Having landed a fresh break into vaudeville, the ex-king of lightweights offered to lick everything in sight and particularly to trim Ad Walcott "just for fun."

Also Attell also is in vaudeville. Consequently it is not peculiar that Alie breaks into print. He bites off a section of the battling Dan's weeping challenge and offers to beat him "if he weighs a ton."

Come on, Oscar Nelson—come out!

Hauser Brothers' Team Won Three Straight Games

By upsetting a total of 2840 pins the Hauser Bros. aggregation took three straight games from the Grocers last night on the Club alleys. Price of the Hauser team rolled the high average of 205 and also the high game of 236. The scores:

At the meeting of the taxpayers league in the circuit court room last night former state printer R. A. Harris was the principal speaker. Mr. Harris told the tax payers present that he believed that the state printing was being done at the lowest possible cost. He said that he further believed that the printing next year would be done even more cheaply as the system was now firmly established. He said he believed the cost could be even further reduced by the elimination of some unimportant jobs. The "open shop" question was not to Mr. Harris and he was asked if he thought the work could be done more cheaply under this system. He replied that the open shop was not possible under the present conditions of the Pacific coast.

Following Mr. Harris' talk a brief discussion on general lines was held in which all of the members joined.

Italy Appreciates California's Sympathy

Capital, Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 29.—Appreciation of the California legislature's resolution of sympathy for the Italian earthquake sufferers was announced in both houses today when a telegram was read from Marchi Di Celere, Italian ambassador at Washington.

The telegram, read in both houses, follows:

"Deeply touched by the feelings of sympathy of the people of Italy in their sufferings so beautifully manifested through the spontaneous action of the California legislature, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your kindly valued telegram of this date, kindly conveying a copy of the resolutions unanimously adopted by the senate and assembly of your state. I esteem it a high privilege to re-communicate the same to my government.

"Coming from those who have suffered in like manner are best qualified to extend sympathy and realize fully what it means to be afflicted. I feel particularly proud to be the medium through which your noble feelings will be made known to the Italian people, and that through the officials of my government I beg you to kindly convey to the officials and through them to the people of your state every expression of warmest and dearest appreciation which will find reflection in the souls of the Italian people."

Washington, Jan. 29.—The river and harbor bill has just passed the house last night, providing $50,000 for Columbia; $20,000 for Coos river; $117,500 for Willamette; $2,000 for Yaquina; $42,500 for Willamette river above Portland; $600,000 for lower Willamette and Columbia rivers; $1,250,000 for Columbia bar, and $1,900 for Clatskanie.

In all, $2,288,175 or 7 per cent of the entire amount carried by the bill is appropriated for waterways in the first congressional district. Rivers are provided for the Umpqua, Coquille, Rogue and Clatskanie rivers and for Coos Bay and Yaquina bay.

Deposed Mexican Ruler Joins General Carranza

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 29.—That General Eulalio Gutierrez, deposed provisional president of Mexico, has openly repudiated General Francisco Villa and offered his services to General Carranza was the announcement made today by the Carranzista consul here. He asserted that the 5,000 troops who left Mexico City with Gutierrez would join forces with the army of General Blanco and other Carranzistas and make an attack on the capital at once. Additional dispatches to the state department this afternoon indicated that the struggle for possession of Mexico City between the allied forces of Gutierrez and Obregon, with General Carranza as commander in chief, on the one hand, and the Villa-Zapata combined troops on the other, would begin in a few days.

Reports from the southern republic are very meager but they indicate that fair order is being maintained in the capital by Villa.

The strength of the Carranzista allies is estimated at 20,000. No figures regarding the number of troops commanded by Villa have been received.

A telegram from Manzanillo says the military authorities at Colima threatened to confiscate the stores of all foreigners, whom they charge with hoarding money.

Fine Stock Sale to Be Held at Dallas

Moynath, Ore., Jan. 29.—The breeders of fine stock adjacent to this place will hold their annual Jersey sale at Dallas this year. In the early part of May. The facilities are excellent there for such a sale and some splendid animals will be offered. C. P. Hembrey, who owns a prize-winning herd of Jerseys, is now busy engaged in selecting the best types for the exposition at San Francisco to represent this county.

Man Who Was in Legislature in 1893 Is Visiting Here

A. W. Gowen, of Burns, Ore., is in the city visiting with the family of H. A. Rawson. Mr. Gowen is interested in the workings of the legislature as he was a member of the house in 1893 and of the senate in 1897. He took an active part in the famous senatorial fights when Senator Dolph and later Senator Mitchell were elected.

Mr. Gowen states that the prospects for a railroad at Burns are very flattering this year, although they have been waiting for the road since 1884. Dry farming has been very successful in the section around Burns. The oil well that has been sunk to a depth of 2020 feet has struck salt water, which is regarded as a good indication of oil.

According to Mr. Gowen, Burns has the first high school in the state to establish a short course of agriculture and domestic science.

Rev. James M. Darnell Makes Poor Explanation

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Voluntary explanation of his various alleged matrimonial entanglements was made here today by the Rev. James M. Darnell, former pastor of the Centenary church at Rosalia, Wis., to Assistant United States District Attorney Case. Darnell flatly denied charges that he had married Ruth Spore but admitted he was the father of his baby.

"Marie Vaughn is my wife and the only woman I ever married," Darnell declared. "I came to Chicago with Ethel Spurgeon, of Avon, Ill., and got a marriage license, but the ceremony was never performed."

Salem Band Preparing For Concerts for Coming Season

The Salem military band is making preparations to begin rehearsals under the direction of H. N. Southerner. This year the band will be composed of 21 members. Last summer the concerts given in Wilson park were always well attended, and it is the intention of the director to bring the band up to a higher standard than ever. They are developing several fine solo players. As a clarinet soloist, Will Skinner is regarded as one of the best in the state. The band boys feel that if they are properly supported, both morally and financially, that with this encouragement the Salem military band will reach a standard second to none in the state.

Rev. H. E. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, went to Portland this afternoon on the Oregon Electric.

M'GRAW FINALLY GETS HANS LOBERT IN EXCHANGE FOR THREE PLAYERS

New York, Jan. 29.—Manager McGraw of the Giants expresses satisfaction with the acquisition of Hans Lobert, though a good many baseball sharps figure that Manager Moran, of the Phillies got the better of the trade that brings Lobert to this city. Fletcher Al Demaree, infielder Milton Stock and a recruit catcher named Adams were given in exchange. McGraw has had trouble with third base for some time. Last season he tried Eddie Grant, and he fielded the position well, but was a weak hitter. Then he tried Eddie Green, who could hit, but was a weak fielder and not fast on the bases. Lobert did not hit for us high an average as Grant did last year, but he is speedier and is a dangerous man on the bases. He is thirty-four years old and has been in the big league since 1901, having played with Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

GRAND JURY INDICTS IDAHO STATE OFFICIALS

Boise, Idaho, Jan. 29.—The grand jury Saturday night returned indictments against Attorney General Joseph H. Peterson, State Auditor Fred W. Huston, H. F. Allen, ex-treasurer of the state, Treasurer O. V. Allen, J. H. Wallis, former state tax inspector, and E. W. Wark, a clerk in the state auditor's office, all charging embezzlement in various items mentioned in Accountant Baunstedt's report as making up the total of ex-treasurer Allen's shortage. The attorney general and state auditor borrowed $300 and $350 respectively from Allen personally and gave their notes to it. Allen's brother drew on him personally through regular banking channels for various amounts to continue a farming enterprise. Wallis and Wark left orders for warrants with the treasurer and obtained the cash on them. Wallis drew for the month of October, in the early part of which he was forced to resign. Bond was furnished in each case in the sum of $2000.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon with a large number of members present.

Rev. A. A. Winter gave an interesting talk on the past, present and future of prohibition.

Mrs. Jennie M. Kemp, president Oregon W. C. T. U., addressed the meeting, urging upon all members the importance of attending the public hearing of bill pending in the legislature on Friday evening.

Mrs. Addison, of Portland, national organizer and lecturer of labor department, discussed the bills before the legislature, and especially explained the bill which she is introducing giving children born out of wedlock a legal right to the father's name and support.

She stated that the three great phases of reform, i. e., uplift of labor, the conservation of purity, and abolition of liquor traffic, are all one and the other. That the human problem is as broad and deep as human misery.

adopt rules for the governing of the court so created and the clerk of the supreme court is authorized to appoint clerks for the two courts of appeal. The supreme court is also authorized to print the decisions of the court of appeals whenever it shall deem them to be of sufficient importance.

The bill declares that many people are now in jail awaiting trial, that the present courts are overladen with work and that therefore an emergency exists and the bill shall take effect immediately upon its approval by the governor.

Three other bills were introduced this morning. Senate bill No. 74, by Senator Dimick, creates a state trade commission consisting of seven business men appointed by the governor. The work of the commission is to endeavor to build up Oregon industries. The bill carries an appropriation of $5000.

Senate bill No. 75, introduced by Senator Dimick, repeals the act creating the Oregon conservation commission. It is the desire of Senator Dimick to substitute for this commission the state trade commission. The appropriation carried by the conservation commission is the same amount as it is proposed to give the state trade commission.

Senator Kellsier introduced a joint resolution this morning that will be known as senate joint resolution No. 12, which provides for submitting to the people the proposition of amending the present law regarding the veto power of the governor giving the single item veto power to the executive.

Shortly after the senate opened this morning, Senator Dimick arose and called attention to the manner in which he claimed the senators were abusing the privileges of mailing bills and envelopes. He presented present mailing lists and complained at some length regarding the large number of people to which some senators were mailing bills.

The old custom of referring bills of the Multnomah delegation was again resurrected and a long list of bills introduced by Multnomah senators were referred to the Multnomah delegation. One of the senators was heard to remark that although he had introduced several measures which concerned his county only, he had never observed that any of them were referred to his county delegation.

Senate bill No. 41, introduced by the Marion county delegation, requiring that expenses of keeping inmates at the state hospital for the insane who owned estates be paid by the estate, was discussed at some length and finally re-referred to the committee on penal institutions.

The senate passed senate bill No. 50 by Senator Hagaman, reducing the salary of the Lane county commissioners from $5 to $3 per day.

Senate bill No. 29, allowing the city of Astoria to dredge the river and fill in tide flats under supervision of the United States civil engineers and with the consent and permission of the state land board was also approved by the upper house. Adjournment was taken until two this afternoon.

The senate spent the most of the afternoon considering the Dimick bill, abolishing the naval militia. The bill was finally re-referred to the committee on military affairs. The senate adjourned at 3:05.

period in a bill providing for the permanent registration of voters, which is in the main the adoption of the bill which was drawn by County Clerk Gehlbach, of Marion county, introduced by the Marion county delegation, and incorporates some of the suggestions of J. C. Kuehn bill, but the proposition of permitting aliens to register without submitting naturalization papers or submitting information as to where and when such papers were taken out, which was one of the features of the Kuehn bill, was stricken out. The bill reported favorably by the joint committee on judiciary and revision of laws will probably pass the house.

Speaker Selig announced the appointment of Pearl P. Hassler, editor of the Central Point Herald, as bill clerk of the house at 3:00 p. m.
