INSTALLATION AT SUBLIMITY.

The installation of the officers of Court St. Boniface of Sublimity and Court Immaculate Conception of Station of the Catholic order of Foresters, was held at Sublimity in the C. O. F. hall on Sunday, January 10.

Chas. Hottlinger presided at the ceremonies, which were elaborate. Rev. Fr. Linnert, opened with an address, which was followed by Editor Jones of the Mt. Angel Times, and W. P. Kieckler of Station.

Over 400 people were present, of which about 150 were from Station and a large delegation from Jordan. Both the rooms of the hall were crowded all day long.

The meeting was served with a sumptuous dinner and supper, and the ceremonies and festivities lasted until 12 o'clock at night.

All who were there declare that they had had one of the best times of their lives.—Mail.

DEMAND FOR THE EFFICIENT.

Be in a condition that wards off disease. Foley Cathartic Tablets clean the system, keep the stomach sweet, liver active and the bowels regular. J. C. Perry, Druggist.

It's no easy job to begin loafing as it is hard to stop.

Worry bills more people than work, because more go up against it.

Another Woman Made Happy. It is women who have most need of Chamberlain's Tablets. Mrs. Ethel Mae Baker, Spencerport, N. Y., writes: "Chamberlain's Tablets have done more for me than I ever dared to hope for. They not only cured me of bilious attacks and sick headache, but toned up my whole system." Obtainable everywhere.

A really skillful woman can laugh at a pointless joke just as easy.

FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

Backache! Feel tired! Not so angry as you feel to be! Getting old! Many persons mistake kidney trouble for advancing age. Kidneys out of order make you feel old before your time. Foley Kidney Pills tone up and invigorate the kidneys, banish backache, rid your blood of acids and poisons. Sold by J. C. Perry, Druggist.

No man is a nonentity unless he is the husband of a too prominent woman.

How to Cure a Lagrippe Cough. Lagrippe cough demand instant treatment. They show a serious condition of the system and are weakening. Postmaster Collins, Barnegat, N. J., says: "I took Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for a violent lagrippe cough that completely exhausted me, and less than half a bottle stopped the cough." Try it. J. C. Perry, Druggist.

LIFE INSURANCE REFUSED. Ever notice how closely life insurance examiners look for symptoms of kidney disease? They do so because weakened kidneys lead to many forms of dreadfully life-shortening afflictions. If you have any symptoms like pain in the back, frequent, scanty or painful urination, tingling, aches and pains, get Foley Kidney Pills today. J. C. Perry, Druggist.

A woman simply has to love something, even if it is nothing but a man.

Try the Children's Medicine.

Many parents are inclined to believe that medicine used for children is not suitable for themselves. While it is true that larger doses are required, it is unreasonable to suppose that a disease in an adult should be treated any differently than the same ailment in a child. Mrs. Earl Jennings, Lima, Ohio, writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a splendid medicine for children. I have used it myself for colds and it has always given me the desired relief." Obtainable everywhere.

"Oregon for the Settler" Is Valuable Booklet

Whether or not the state board of immigration, recently turned down by the senate, and awaiting final legislation by the senate, did good work for the state in its line, it is certain there is a great field for the kind of work it should have done. The Southern Pacific is a wide-awake company, and realizes this fact fully. It places so much importance on it that it has issued several attractive pamphlets on the subject dealing with everything pertaining to Oregon in the way of agriculture especially, and the latest of these is "Oregon for the Settler," now just off the press, is one of the best ever published on the subject.

While the railroad is directly interested only in those sections tributary to its lines, it takes the broad view that whatever builds up any part of the state is beneficial, at least indirectly, to itself, and so deals with all sections of the state as fully as can be done in a booklet of the size.

It is in no sense of the "boasting literature" class, but is a concise statement of the climate, lands and products of each section, with tables carefully prepared, showing cost of lands, yields per acre of grain, fruits, hops, etc., with acreage prices, and gross and net returns.

It deals frankly with the question of available lands for leasing or homesteading, telling the exact truth concerning them, and also deals with the question of clearing brush and logged-off lands, with cost of same.

It contains, in fact, concise and correct information of just the kind intending settlers should have, placing the situation before them in their eastern homes just as they will find it on coming here—uncolored, not overstated either as to opportunities or drawbacks, "a plain, unvarnished tale."

It is handsomely illustrated, showing orchards and fields and their products, cattle and other livestock, and is in fact, a compendium of interesting and useful information for the intending settler. It is just the kind of literature that should be sent east, and the Southern Pacific is to be commended for its splendid efforts in this behalf.

DOCTORS' LATIN CUT OUT.

House Bill Would Demand Prescriptions to Be in English.

No longer will physicians' prescriptions be written in Latin or other languages that cannot be interpreted by the average layman, if a bill introduced by Representative Hunt, of Clackamas county, is passed.

"I believe that if prescriptions were written in English," said Representative Hunt, "a lot of persons will get along without them. The Latin words impress and they think they are getting an effective medicine, when, sometimes, in fact, the commonest remedies are prescribed."

Bread Famine Cannot Prevail in United States

Washington, Jan. 25.—"A bread famine in the United States is almost an impossibility, though increased exports of wheat seem to threaten the domestic supply."

This was the declaration here today of Dr. L. M. Estabrook, department of agriculture statistician, in an interview with a United Press correspondent. Dr. Estabrook pointed out that millers and bakers were already placing their orders and that this fact would insure an adequate supply of flour even though unprecedented exports sent the price of wheat up to $2 per bushel.

"We have figured out," said Dr. Estabrook, "that the United States generally has between 250,000,000 and 300,000,000 bushels of wheat for export. This year's crop was unusually large, however, and we are in a position to export more wheat than ever."

"American millers and bakers," said Dr. Estabrook, "have an equal chance with European buyers to purchase wheat and it is reasonable to assume that they have taken action to safeguard the domestic reserve. They have stored millions of bushels of wheat in elevators and have placed orders for immediate and future delivery."

The only way the flour supply of the United States could be curtailed would be through a theoretical and impossible situation. It would be necessary for all the men in control of the wheat supply to enter into a conspiracy to sell only to export trade. If such a situation existed, however, congress would legislate against it."

GREAT CANNING INDUSTRY PREDICTED FOR OREGON

Director H. B. Miller Praises Quality of Oregon Fruit and Points Out Need of Many Plants.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 25.—An impressive statement of the need of canneries and dryers in fruit communities of Oregon is made by H. B. Miller in an article in a recent issue of Better Fruit. Mr. Miller is director of the school of commerce of the state university, and is also organizer of the work of the industrial survey. He says in part:

"It has finally become a well-established fact that the Oregon Bartlett pear, although not quite so good for shipping in the fresh state, is fully equal, if not superior, to the pears produced anywhere in the world for canning purposes. Had this fact been made clear by the canneries of Oregon years ago, and the growers encouraged in that line of industry, Oregon would today be taking in immense quantities of money for canned pears."

"The Oregon canned pears are now pronounced in France and Great Britain to be especially fine. In fact, in our world survey of the fruit markets, we find it uniformly established wherever Pacific coast canned goods find a market that they are pronounced thoroughly superior to the canned goods from any other part of the world."

The canneries now operated and maintained by Oregon people are covering the market for the products of the fruit-growers, raspberry, blackberry and raspberry cannot be exceeded, and in all of these lines prospects are excellent for an expansion in trade. The manager of the California Fruit Canners' association, C. H. Bentley, in his address before the California fruit-growers' convention, pays high tribute to all these Oregon products and wishes that in some of these things they would produce as good quality in California as we produce here. He pays a peculiarly high tribute to the Oregon strawberry and says that the markets will take great quantities of them. He pays equally high tribute to the Oregon gooseberry.

Alvaro Arrandondo, General Carranza's local agent, said this afternoon that he intended to tell Secretary of State Bryan and British Ambassador Sir Cecil Spring-Rice that the oil companies themselves were responsible for the constitutional chiefness cancelling oil concessions. He explained that the companies had assumed that General Villa would expel Carranza from the Tampico district and had paid their taxes to the Gutierrez government instead of to Carranza.

It was regarded unlikely that either Bryan or the British ambassador would accept Arrandondo's explanation and both were expected to demand an annulment of the decree.

Dispatches received at the state department this afternoon said Mexico City was "reasonably quiet." The Zapatista faction, advised said, had agreed to Gutierrez remaining as provisional president until January, 1916.

FRUITLAND

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Fruitland, Ore., Jan. 25.—Notwithstanding the cool weather, the pussy willows are showing signs of spring. Also the fruit buds on cherry and apple trees are beginning to swell.

Mr. Shitok, whose barn was so mysteriously burned a few mornings ago, has started a new one. The roof and sides are on and inside work is being pushed.

Morris Ranson is putting a wave wire fence along the road in front of his residence.

It is probable the school board will soon revive the parent-teachers' meetings which were discontinued last year. The Choral society will have its regular meeting Wednesday evening at Mr. Fliegel's.

On Friday, January 23, the first monthly meeting of the Y. P. A. for the year will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Otterbein.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Conik have lately installed a new piano. The Coniks have been musicians, there will be a new social center developed in the community.

Next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. will be communion services at the church. The preceding day is expected.

Last Wednesday evening a cottage service was held at the former home of Mrs. M. E. McFarlane, now student at O. A. C., by Elder F. H. Porter, pastor of the Christian church at Salem. It may be mentally asked why a cottage for religious services when a nearby church was not occupied that evening. Your correspondent cannot say. A delightful way somewhat illumine the query when some time ago this same church was applied for for the use of said minister for a series of meetings and was refused though pay was offered. Secular
