By MOLLIE KUNOORN

"We may build more splendid habitations, fill our rooms with paintings and with sculptures, but we cannot buy with gold the old associations."

PROBABLY never in the history of Salem schools has there been held a more enjoyable event than the home-coming, which took place at the Grant school last Friday evening, under the supervision of the Parent-Teachers' association, when nearly 300 former pupils, teachers and patrons responded to invitations.

Mrs. E. C. Minton and Mrs. P. L. Frazier greeted the guests as they entered the lower hall and directed them to the registration booth, where Mrs. Frank L. Furrine asked each their name and year of attendance.

The guests then visited the lower rooms, in charge of the teachers, Mrs. Chapel, Miss Donaca, Miss Duncan and Miss West, where the original work of each pupil was on display, showing a great amount of ingenuity and talent, and which was the source of much admiration.

In the upper hall were the teachers, Professor E. A. Miller, Mrs. E. B. Fletcher and Mrs. Ferris. Mrs. Luella Walsh and Mrs. Barnett, two of the old-time pupils, welcomed the guests, Mrs. Pruitt and Miss Elizabeth Schultz acting as ushers.

The musical numbers were rendered by some of Salem's foremost musicians, who were formerly teachers and pupils of the North school. A few words from Miss Nellie Taylor (teacher of '73) were much enjoyed, as were the remarks by teachers of later years, Mrs. Edward Weller, Miss Gosper and Mrs. Helen Hibbard-Paget. Following the program the guests adjourned to another room, where a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. Mel Eoff and Mrs. Harley Pugh.

Among the enjoyable features of the evening were the childhood games presented by Miss Elizabeth Schultz, who has specialized in playground work in Chicago. She was assisted by pupils of Professor Miller's room, garbed in youthful costumes.

Harley White, Salem's new mayor, and a former pupil of the school, was given a most complimentary reception upon his appearance in a brief address. During the social hour which followed old friends were greeted and old acquaintances renewed.

The association wishes to express their thanks to Mrs. Purvine, Mrs. Treas and Mrs. Port for the beautiful decorations, and Mrs. Frasier, Mrs. Shank, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Barnett and the many others who contributed toward making the event such a pronounced success.

Among those who registered are the following and the years of their attendance:

- Mrs. G. E. Burrough, 1899; Ray Pemberton, 1896; Mrs. A. B. Emmett, 1895; Mrs. I. L. Adams, 1895; Ellen Currier, 1894; Mrs. N. E. Abbott, 1891; Mrs. Frank Albrecht, 1899; Mrs. M. P. Castro, 1871; Carl E. Ruet, 1888; Mrs. Geo. H. Dunaford, 1885; Ermine E. Bushnell, 1894; Ploy M. White, 1891-1896; Ethel M. Fletcher, 1890-1893; Mrs. Vida Mercman (Vida McMillan), 1904; Louisa Gooden Walas, 1892; Mabel A. Lockwood, 1881-1887; Mrs. Bertha Roth Barrett, 1893; H. O. White, 1892; Arthur D. Leleh, 1884; Henry Kaufman, 1892-1901; Theodore Roth, 1890-1894; Ella Schultz Wilson, 1898; Bonnie Barnett, 1892; Bonnie Schultz, 1899; Mrs. P. L. Frasier, 1882; Levert P. Barnett, 1885; John W. Holman, 1896; John Graber, 1890; Joe H. Conley, 1899; A. A. Graber, 1894; P. M. Prince, 1890; Mrs. Clifton Ross, 1896; Hazel Prince, 1900; Mary Ann Schultz, 1892; P. E. Graber, 1891; Mrs. Helen Hibbard Paget, 1891-1892; Mrs. P. B. Bynon; Louise M. Clynch; Margaret J. Gosper, 1886; Emilie H. Weller, 1885; Joseph M. White, 1875-1881; Joe H. Kaufman, 1890-1898; Miss Nellie Taylor, 1873; E. B. Taylor, 1892; Mel H. Eoff, 1894.

and white entwined with asparagus ferns was caught high in the center of the room and held by like-hued streamers. Pragnant pink carnations tied with pink satin bows of ribbon were bound to a lovely art basket, which held the gifts for the bride.

Those who enjoyed the afternoon besides the honor guests were: Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. James C. Matthews, Mrs. F. Von Eichen, Mrs. Martin Peck, Mrs. A. V. Swarthout, Mrs. R. B. Walsh, Mrs. Ira Martin, Miss Julia Todd, Miss Stella Chappell, Miss Mary Reynolds, Miss Alice Page, Mrs. Walter De Bra, Mrs. O. C. Thompson and Dr. and Mrs. James Lisle.

One hundred and fifty alumni, present students and friends of the Capital Business college, attended the annual reception given by this institution, which took place in the Moose hall Saturday evening. Russell Cooley, president of the student body, welcomed the guests, the social committee, composed of Mrs. F. J. Butler, chairman; Miss Sara Brewer, Miss Allie Bramberg and Charles Gueffroy having entire charge of all the arrangements.

These affairs have proved most delightful for many years, bringing together as they do young people who have associated in the intimacy of school life, many of whom have secured positions in other places but who return each year to renew acquaintances in this pleasant way.

This year's event was planned as a "Backwards Party," refreshments coming first, with the remainder of the entertainment taking place afterwards.

A most enjoyable program was given, arranged in the following order: Solo, Mr. Walker; piano solo, Miss Berake Clark; reading, W. W. Ogelby; imitations, "A Beginning Short-hand Class," "A Class in Business Letter Writing"; solo, Charles Gueffroy; quartet, Ben Ramseyer, Pierce Jenas, Elmer Barzee, David Ramseyer; reading, Miss Ethel Tammans; violin solo, Miss Marie Campbell; reading, Miss Rhea Wilson.

The marriage of Miss Hilbur Marion Stenstrom to Le Roy Bates was quietly solemnized Thursday evening at the parsonage of the Rosedale church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Hadley, a long-time friend of the young people, officiating. They will make their home at Rosedale.

H. H. Savage, one of Salem's best known and longest-time residents, celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday Friday at his home, 1255 Commercial street, surrounded by a large number of his relatives and close friends, who occasioned a most pleasant surprise by coming unannounced in a body early in the morning. All remained throughout the day to assist him in properly celebrating the occasion. An old-fashioned good time was had, and a splendid birthday dinner served by the self-invited guests, the most important detail of which was the large snowy birthday cake surrounded with garlands of smilax and lighted with candles.

Those who were present were: Mrs. Marjia Byrd, Dr. W. H. Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Savage, Dr. and Mrs. B. N. Savage, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Savage, Miss Grace Savage, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Savage, Mrs. Guy Smith, Mrs. Barney Martin, Mrs. Ernest Savage, Delford Knapp, Miles Knapp, Mrs. Virgil Ledy, Spokane; Mrs. Muria Hatch Beaman, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Warren, of Albany; Mrs. Merlin Harding, Mrs. Eugene Ketchum, of Independence; Mr. and Mrs. C. Rohr, of Carthage, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hooyer and Miss Lillian Hooyer, of East Independence; Mr. J. C. Savage and children, Ellen and Ralph, of Wauconda.

enjoyed joint celebrations. Mrs. Egin will have as her house guests the latter part of the week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Clyde J. Carlton, and small son, Clyde, Jr., of Portland, and Mrs. Carlton's sister, Mrs. Retta Butler, of Juneau Alaska. They will remain for some time and will be noticed with several affairs during their stay.

Messages of felicitations are being sent to Dr. and Mrs. B. Vinton Ellis, who are rejoicing over the birth of a small daughter, on January 25, who has been given the name of Amy Annabel. Dr. and Mrs. Ellis have been domiciled with Dr. Ellis' parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. V. Ellis, 1157 South Fifteenth street, during the winter. They are located in Kennington, Alaska, where Dr. Ellis has been practicing his profession for some time. They expect to return to Alaska early in March. Mrs. Ellis' father, Charles Beck, to accompany them. The former was Miss Flora Beck before her marriage, and is a graduate of the Salem high school and Lodi college, Lodi, California.

TWO SOCIAL Tomorrow is the annual red letter day for the scholarship loan fund, and it is expected that it will be a most auspicious one in the history of the Salem Woman's club, which is taking charge of this campaign. For nine years money has been raised on this day to augment that already on hand, all previous efforts being directed through one distinct affair. This year, however, an entirely different method is to be pursued, a large number of benefit events to be given, as it is expected that in this way interest will be wider, the individual expense less, and the results more substantial and satisfactory. Those events will be what is termed "chain affairs," that is, each one who wishes to assist in enlarging this fund is to give an entertainment of some kind, a card party, luncheon, dinner, or tea, the choice being optional, each guest to donate a small sum to their hostess, and then, in turn, give a like affair.

Many have already promised their assistance, among them Mrs. F. A. Elliott, president of the Salem Woman's club, and Mrs. A. S. Kazmarek, who will be joint hostesses at a sixteen-cover luncheon tomorrow. Various affairs will follow in rapid succession, and it is expected that the chain will have such a large beginning that it will take some time to complete it.

Any one who wishes, whether club members or not, are solicited to aid in this praiseworthy effort, by entertaining in some manner. There is no restriction on the time in which they may be given, but it is hoped that all who intend to help will do so as soon as possible, so that the final proceeds may be collected at about the same time.

This offers an opportunity to the various informal social, card, needlework and literary clubs of the city to do something for philanthropy. Hostesses could most consistently ask for donations from each of the members, the amount, whether it be a dime or a quarter, would make up a net sum, which would aid very materially.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Knigton will be hosts for their Bridge club this week, entertaining Wednesday evening.

Loganberry Growers Will Meet Here February 6th

An important meeting of the loganberry growers in the Willamette valley has been called for February 6th. The meeting will be held at the rooms of the Salem Commercial club. Reports will be made on the 1915 crop and market, besides the election of officers for the ensuing year.

This is a meeting of special importance as the loganberry growers have pooled their interests and there is naturally considerable anxiety regarding the present outlook. The association has raised over $2,000 advertising the loganberry in the Saturday Evening Post, Good Housekeeping and the Iowa Homestead besides other means of publicity. In addition to the publicity work, the association, in co-operation with the Salem Fruit Union and H. S. Gille & Co., have taken care of and moved a large part of the pool to the eastern states and to Europe. From all reports, the outlook is very encouraging to the loganberry grower.

At the meeting on February 6, there will be a general discussion on the outcome of the 1914 crop and the very best way to handle the 1915 market. Statistics show that over one-half of the plant food value of the manure utilized on American farms is wasted before it reaches the land. The greatest part of this waste is caused by leaching.

It is probable that Secretary of State Bryan will testify in an effort to clear up testimony which tended to cast reflections upon him. He will also tell of his part in the appointment of Sullivan. It is said he will declare he personally knew little about the minister and appointed him on the recommendation of Senator O'Gorman, District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, new governor of New York, and others.

Charles H. Strong, counsel for Phelan, said today: "I will testify in an effort to clear up testimony which tended to cast reflections upon him. ## HAIR IS NOT THAT OF MRS. WEHRMAN

Microscopic Examination of Clue Fails to Establish Real Murderer

As a result of the microscopic examination of the strands of hair taken from the hands of Mrs. Daisy Wehrman, the woman who was killed by an unknown murderer in Columbia county, in September, 1911, together with samples of hair taken from the hands of John Arthur Pender, who stands convicted of the crime and is serving a life sentence in the penitentiary, and John G. H. Siercks, the imbecile inmate of the insane asylum who confessed to the murder and then repudiated his statement, developed to the satisfaction of Governor Withycombe, according to a statement given out yesterday afternoon, that the hair which was clutched in the death grip of the murdered woman was not that of Pender, that it might possibly have been Siercks', and that, in order to establish a certainty whether or not it was the woman's hair, he would have the bodies of the murdered woman and her child exhumed from their resting place at Eldora, Iowa, and a sample of her hair secured for comparison.

Furthermore, he has detailed Warden Lawson, of the penitentiary, to go to Sepposue and investigate certain evidence connected with the Siercks confession in order to establish beyond a question of doubt as to whether it was possible for Siercks to have committed the crime. In the meantime Governor Clarke, of Iowa, will be asked to cooperate in the corroboration or disapproval of the theory that the hair belonged to the woman. Following the examination of the strands and locks of hair in the governor's office yesterday afternoon, Governor Withycombe gave out the following statement: "I have seen enough to feel convinced that the hair found in Mrs. Wehrman's hands was not that of Pender. There seems some reason to believe that it might have been Siercks'; at least in the general character of the hair, as examined under the microscope, is entirely different from the Pender hair, and is practically identical with Siercks'. Of course, even the prosecution never claimed that the hair found in the dead woman's hands was Pender's. Now, it is apparent that so far as its physical texture is concerned, it might be Siercks'. On the other hand, it might be the woman's herself, or someone else. The next important matter is to establish that the hair is or is not, Mrs. Wehrman's. I shall attempt to get hair from the body of Mrs. Wehrman, to continue the investigation. If the hair is the same as this we have examined, the matter is closed, at least so far as this lead is concerned. If it conclusively is not, an important point is established—we are sure that the hair is not the woman's, we are sure that it is not Pender's, and there is good reason to believe that it is Siercks'."

The bodies of Mrs. Wehrman and her child are buried at Eldora, Iowa. It is understood that probably no legal means exist for having the bodies exhumed, but in the hope of getting this done, Governor Withycombe today wrote to Governor George W. Clarke, asking if the exhibits could be procured.

"I am open to conviction in the case," said Governor Withycombe. "I have no preconceived ideas. If Pender is innocent, he shall be released. All I want to do now is to run down all the information available. I believe that Governor Clarke will do what he can to assist me, when the facts are laid before him."

Investigation Will Be Transferred to Capital

New York, Jan. 26.—The inquiry being made by the state department into the official conduct of United States Minister Sullivan, of Santo Domingo, probably will be transferred to Washington, Senator-elect James D. Phelan, of California, announced here today. Phelan is in charge of the government's inquiry. The investigation hinges about the alleged activities of American contractors in Santo Domingo.

It is probable that Secretary of State Bryan will testify in an effort to clear up testimony which tended to cast reflections upon him. He will also tell of his part in the appointment of Sullivan. It is said he will declare he personally knew little about the minister and appointed him on the recommendation of Senator O'Gorman, District Attorney Charles S. ## REVIVAL SERVICE BEGINS HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Rev. Henry Ostrom, Formerly Associated With Dr. Wilbur Chapman, Will Have Charge of the Meetings

Twenty-three churches and religious organizations of Salem have united in bringing Henry Ostrom here to conduct the evangelistic campaign beginning Sunday, January 31. The meetings will be held in a special tabernacle at High and Marion. A regular campaign has been planned with E. T. Porter as general chairman; J. C. Spencer, secretary, and J. H. Albert, treasurer.

The following special committees have been appointed, each under the charge of the chairman: Music, Chas. Roth; finance, Joseph Barber; publicity, A. A. Winter; ushers, F. Von Eichen; personal workers, R. N. Avison; tabernacle, J. F. Mollenkopf.

The Rev. Henry Ostrom, who will conduct the services, has been engaged in some of the big revival work in the East during the past few years and is regarded as one of the strongest campaign church workers in the country. He has had remarkable success in his work at Baltimore, Atlanta, Syracuse, N. Y., and was associated with Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman in the great religious revival at Pittsburg, Pa. With him, as an associate worker, will come Albert Reitz, who has been in the work for the past six years. Mr. Reitz has had years of experience in directing choruses and is the composer of many of the newer hymns now being used.

Arthur McKee will also assist with the music. He has studied voice with the best American teachers and was the tenor soloist in one of the largest Chicago churches for several years. Mrs. Arthur McKee will have charge of the piano. She studied at the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

A chorus of 200 is being organized by Chas. Roth, who has charge of the local work, in music for the meetings. On account of the army being engaged several evenings for other purposes during the revival, it was decided by the committee having the matter in charge to hold a tabernacle. This will be located on High and Marion streets, just across the street from the high school. The building will be 80 by 150 feet. Work of construction will begin tomorrow and the committee has issued a call for volunteer workers. A committee of ladies with Mrs. Steudloff as chairman will serve dinner to the workers during the building.

Everything is expected to be in readiness for the first meeting next Sunday evening. Henry Ostrom, of Greenfield, Ind., and his co-workers will arrive in the city next Saturday.

HOLLAND GETS READY FOR WAR

London, Jan. 26.—Holland's intention to be ready for any emergency was emphasized today by dispatches stating that the government had reconsidered its original plans and would not send a warship to the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco.

Survivors of Cruiser. Leith, Scotland, Jan. 26.—Fifty survivors of the crew of the German battle cruiser Blucher, which was sunk by British warships in Sunday's naval battle in the North sea, were landed here today from two British destroyers. Twenty-three of them were wounded and were taken to Edinburgh castle.

Submarines Attack Germans. London, Jan. 26.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Evening Star says hostile submarines attacked the German Baltic fleet off the south coast of Sweden.

It is reported that the German light cruiser Gazelle was torpedoed and reached Sassnitz in a sinking condition.
