Chauncy Bishop, ex-all-American football player, and present star high ball artist, is suffering from an ailment to-day that might be a cracked rib, according to a report of high ball at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Mr. Bishop does not know who broke his rib, but several of the members of the class are claiming the distinction today.

C. W. Smith, a retired capitalist from Spokane, recently bought a 10-acre tract on the Garden Road, about one mile beyond the end of the car line on Seventeenth street. Mr. Smith will build a $5000 home on this property and make other improvements. He also bought, as an investment, a 10-acre tract near the archery, part of the old Saylor farm. The deals were made by H. A. Johnson & Co.

The recent rains have caused a hit in the power work in the North Salem district, according to Cornelius G. G. Miller, who has charge of the work. The men have been laid off until the first of next week, when the work will probably be resumed in the Oak Lodge addition. The Oak Lodge section is 2350 feet long and it is estimated that the work will cost about $1000.

Adrian Whitley and L. Lee were arraigned in the justice court yesterday afternoon and bound over to the grand jury on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Their bonds were fixed at $250 each, and in default of the bonds were taken to the county jail. J. B. Thornton, convicted on his plea of guilty of selling liquor in this city contrary to the local option law, was given a sentence of 30 days in the county jail in Justice Webster's court yesterday afternoon.

A. W. Dennis, of 2038 State street, left for Portland this afternoon to arrange an operation of one of the sand traps there. His present condition is due to an accident which happened in Salem seven years ago, when his right arm and hand was knocked from a bicycle to the hard pavement. It was thought that he had recovered from his injury, but lately he has been getting worse, and an operation is considered necessary.

Why he should pay one cent revenue to the government to help build battle ships which might in time be used against his own people, was more than a few could understand today, when he was assessed the extra one cent on a telegram. He had paid the regular tariff before, and when he objected to paying the one cent revenue stamp extra, he was told it was a war tax to help build battle ships. Then he figured it out that he was really helping to build a war vessel that some time would be fighting his own country.

Four L. W. W.'s, who have been in the city jail on vagrancy charges, were released this afternoon and given one hour to get out of the city. R. A. Anderson chose to work that he might get, but the other three, P. Raglin, P. Dole and John McLaughlin refused to work and were returned on bread and water. District Attorney Ringe delivered the ultimatum this morning that they either work or leave the city, and in case of refusal to leave vagrancy charges preferred against them in the justice court.

Legislators Vote Against Pierce Bill

Compulsory Attendance on Teachers' Institutes is Defeated By Decisive Majority.

By a decisive vote the house yesterday afternoon defeated Representative Pierce's bill, H. B. 204, and thus went on record as being opposed to compelling the school unions to attend the teachers' institutes at any other time than during the regular sessions of public schools. It was the sense of some of these who opposed the bill, however, that if some provision be made for paying the teachers for attending the institutes during the vacation period when they might be engaged in some other calling, they would be in favor of making the change sought in the bill. It was to give the children the benefit of the three days' school of which they are deprived under the present teachers' institute law.

Representative Pierce (Lin county) bill provided that teachers' institutes should be held only between January 15 and June 15 and September 15 and October 25 of each year, which would take them entirely out of the period when public schools are supposed to be in session and institutes could only be held during the summer vacation period or the Christmas holiday period. Mr. Anderson, of Wasco, was the first to voice opposition to the bill as being unduly onerous to the teacher and he was variously seconded by Miss Towne, of Jackson, who as a member of the house committee on education declared that some mistake had been made in the majority of the committee was opposed to the bill and had agreed to report it back without recommendation to give it a chance for a fair hearing on the floor.

Personally she stated that she was opposed to the measure as it was manifestly unfair to the teacher, who would be compelled to attend institutes at a time when he or she would be enjoying their vacation or engaged in some other line of work, and Representative Barrow, of Oreg., took issue with the sentiments expressed by the lady member and stated that he was in favor of the bill, or one seeking a change in the present system which would not deprive the children of their rights in compelling three days absence from and after loss of school work and that a law of a similar nature has been successful operation in "some other state which I might mention" and has been for years.

PERSONALLY SHE STATED THAT SHE WAS OPPOSED TO THE MEASURE AS IT WAS MANIFESTLY UNFAIR TO THE TEACHER, WHO WOULD BE COMPELLED TO ATTEND INSTITUTES AT A TIME WHEN HE OR SHE WOULD BE ENJOYING THEIR VACATION OR ENGAGED IN SOME OTHER LINE OF WORK.

Rattlesnake Jim Pays Salem a Visit Yesterday

Long-Haired, Dirty-Skinned Man With Hoof-Like Feet Attracts Much Attention.

A long-haired individual wearing a pack upon his back, called at the penitentiary yesterday evening and aroused the officials by striking matches on the floor like by striking his feet, which he asserts have never been washed in shoes in the 32 years of his life. "Rattlesnake Jim" is the nommer under which this strange personage has been traipsing over the globe for the last 10 years. He claims to be part Swiss and part Sioux Indian. He claims to wear shoes and slings Sioux war songs. The condition of the war songs is pronounced to be very good, mainly, however, because there are few Indian war songs left afloat. But when it comes to calling the native Swiss 14th he is a cheese.

He has traveled 25,000 miles in his wanderings, and has never worn a pair of shoes. He says he started out from home to get a liberal education, and has passed into nearly every out-of-the-way place on the surface of the globe. He talked intelligently to the penitentiary officials after they were persuaded that he had not taken the wrong way by mistake and admitted him to the turnkey's room.

Irrigation Hearing Draws Large Crowd

One of the largest committee meetings to have been held during the session of the legislature was that which came before the joint committee on irrigation in the hearing room of the railroad commission last night. All of the bills having connection with irrigation matters were up for consideration and a large crowd of interested persons gathered for the hearing. The bills introduced in the house which outline a general scheme of carrying on irrigation upon a large scale in central Eastern Oregon and providing for state aid in their development.

Others and representatives of the railroad industry and other commercial interests of the metropolis were present in large numbers.
