

SOCIAL, CLUB AND MUSICAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding, Mrs. Blanche Liston Niemeyer and Miss Mignon Oliver, who will take leading parts in "Brown of Harvard," which will be presented by local talent at the Grand Opera House next Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

WITH the week just past and the fortnightly one filled with several notable events, it is rather difficult to tell just which should be given the most conspicuous place on the fortnight's calendar.

Musically, the Gluck-Zimbalist concert is the event of leading importance, the Cherrin ball at the armory Monday night the subsequent one socially.

Following these affairs there promise to be much private entertaining, using Washington's birthday as the inspiration.

Evening beauties, colonial bells, Arabian maids, Follies and a host of other fanciful folk vied with each other for precedence Tuesday night, when the Ladies' club gave a masquerade, its fourth and concluding dancing party, held in Moore hall this season.

Among the more striking costumes noted were: Mrs. Anabel Bush—French maid; costume designed of pale gray, white collar, cuffs and apron, with pink ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Miss Alice Thompson, Mrs. George Putnam, Miss Hazel Kennedy and Miss Margaret Kennedy in Turkish costumes.

Mrs. W. C. Knighton—White and red Yama Yama costume.

Mrs. George Wm. Gray—Petite Chinese maid.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle—Typical Scotch Highland costume.

Mrs. George Wm. Gray—Petite Chinese maid.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Mrs. Sargeant—Modern society belle; black velvet gown, train, high collar, fur and finished with an egret.

Gluck-Zimbalist Concert At Armory Last Night

BEAUTY, genius and temperament personified—such is Alma Gluck, who came and sang and captivated an audience composed of hundreds of Salem music lovers and about an equally large number from out-of-town, assembled at the armory last night.

Gluck and Zimbalist are no disappointments. Indeed, it is to be wondered if a press agent equal to their genius could be found.

Among the prodigious endowment of gifts which Miss Gluck possesses, one probably owes much of her rapid advancement to her lovely personality.

The guests were, besides the honor guest: Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. Lee Steiner, Mrs. H. J. Bean, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mrs. Frank Durbin, Mrs. C. L. Dick, Mrs. Ralph Watson, Mrs. Curtis Cross, Mrs. Max Barron, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding, Mrs. Louis Lehmund, Mrs. Hal D. Patton, Mrs. E. Cooke Patton, Mrs. Edward Tillinghast, Mrs. R. B. Houston, Mrs. Douglas C. Minto, Mrs. Leata Westacott, Mrs. Thomas B. Kay, Mrs. Charles H. Robertson, Mrs. J. R. Craig, Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Mrs. Edith Eyer, Mrs. Homer Goulet, Mrs. E. B. Wilson, Miss Meria James, Miss Alta Jones and Miss Zea Stockton.

The latest dancing club to be formed is known as the "Dance-moore," its membership being composed of twenty members of the younger set.

The guests were: Mrs. David W. Eyre and her children, Geneva and David, Jr.; Mrs. E. S. Tillinghast and son, Edward; Mrs. Curtis B. Cross and son, Edward; Mrs. Hugh Williamson, of Portland, and son, Walter; Mrs. Frank Myers and little daughter, Maxine; and William McGilchrist, Jr., and son, William.

Mrs. John J. Roberts and Mrs. Clifford Howe were joint hostesses Thursday evening, presiding over a delightful little supper party following the informal bridge the day following.

Announcement Extraordinary. Complying with repeated and urgent requests, John Claire Monteth Voice Builder and Coach will be in Salem on Mondays.

Through facial play and pantomimic gestures the accompanist was signalled to continue playing, and to many in the audience the incident appeared to be an exhibition of temperament or a substitute to cover a moment's lapse of memory.

Both artists were extravagant with their responses. Mr. Zimbalist gave a number of extra selections, Miss Gluck coming back with "The Little Greek Home in the West," "My Lullaby," "Way Down Upon the Swans River," arranged to the music of the "Humoresque," "In Old Virginia," "Comin' Thru the Rye," and "Will o' the Wisp."

The playing of the regular accompaniments by Mr. Spier and Mr. Cholinoff were past criticism, being in perfect accord and sympathy throughout.

The decorations, in charge of E. W. Lytle, made a beautiful and harmonious background for the musicians, delicately tinted hydrangeas, palms and greenery being used with a soft tonal band done stage scene.

Mrs. Douglas C. Minto entertained informally Monday evening, asking in a sufficient number of guests to make up three tables of cards.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining their "500" club and a number additionally.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining their "500" club and a number additionally.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining their "500" club and a number additionally.

Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., were hosts Wednesday evening, entertaining their "500" club and a number additionally.

Just a Word From SHIPLEY'S

You will be extremely interested in the new Spring Wearables that this store is now showing. Although a trifle later than usual owing to conditions that the style centers could not avoid we are now ready with AUTHENTIC STYLES.

Suits: The New Eton and Empire jackets the Medium Circular and Kick-pleat Skirts will meet your approval on sight.

Dresses: Wool crepes, Crepe de Chines, Serges, Poplins, Wool Challies and wash linens with roomy skirts and nobby waist lines, will more than please you.

Waists: Lingerie Waists with low neck and long sleeves for "Wrap-Wear," and low-neck, short sleeves, without wraps, in a large assortment of styles and sizes are ready for your inspection.

New Novelty Neckwear: Chenille and Ombre Neck Cords, Empire Ruffs with velvet bands and Novelty Sets for early spring "ARE QUITE IT."

NEW MODELS IN MODART AND WARNER'S CORSETS

PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERNS

Where Shopping Is a Pleasure

U. G. SHIPLEY CO.

work at Columbia university. Her James McGilchrist, home is in Fort Recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cornell (Miss Matilda Eckelen) are permanently located in San Diego, Cal., where Mr. Cornell is engaged in business.

Mrs. F. J. Barker, of Roseburg, arrived Wednesday evening to pass several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Louis Jesse, Jr., of East State street.

Next Wednesday Mrs. William Brown, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Rudolph Pruel, of Portland, and their father, Werner Brownman, will leave for California, where they will remain for an extended period, leisurely taking in the two fairs.

Efforts in behalf of the "community sing," which were begun some time ago by the Salem Women's club, have been suspended, that is, actively, until after the Tabernacle meetings.

The marriage of Miss Mary Eakin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Eakin, to Geo. T. McClean, took place Wednesday in Astoria. Miss Eakin has been (Continued on Page Three.)

Beaver State Printers Society and Commercial Printing. Phone 1512. Rooms 1-3, Patton Block.

Dream Valentines

FERRY PRESOTT REIGELMAN. The years flee by with silent tread, And now lies thick upon my head; My friends are gone, my hopes are dead, But memory lives on and on.

Stamped Collar and Cuff Sets Special 10c to 50c THE NEEDLECRAFT SHOP 325 State St. Phone 925