

GOVERNOR VETOS BILLS CREATING JUDGESHIPS

Move Is Made In Interest of Economy and Because of No Apparent Need

Believing that judicial matters are not in such serious condition at this time to warrant a radical change in the judicial system and that, in some instances at least, a wait of two years more would not work a hardship upon the sections affected, Governor Withycombe, for the first time yesterday afternoon swung the veto axe and logged off the heads of two measures, proposing to create three new judicial districts and in so doing worked an annual saving to the taxpayers of $11,500.

The two bills which fell under the axe yesterday afternoon were house bill 308, by the Benets, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Lane and Lincoln county delegations, proposing to cut the 2nd judicial district up into three and creating two new judgeships, and senate bill 288, by Senator Kildie, providing an additional judge for the 10th judicial district.

Three circuit judgeship bills have already been approved by the governor, one creating the 14th district, embracing Lake county, another creating a new district out of Crook and Jefferson counties, and the other embracing Washington and Tillamook, and he has four new judgeship bills awaiting his disposal.

Both Judges Daly and Duffy are democrats and Governor Withycombe, in selecting men of the opposite political faith to himself is bearing out his expressed sentiment that the judiciary of the state should be non-partisan.

Dr. Andrew Smith Springs New One On Secretary Olcott

Assustomed as he is to the habits and practices of members of the legislature of the past, as a rule, Secretary of State Olcott received a distinct shock last evening when, in opening some of his official correspondence, he disclosed a quantity of two-cent postage stamps that Dr. Andrew C. Smith, representative from Multnomah, explained that he had inadvertently carried away with him and had returned to the disbursing agent of the state feeling that he had no moral right to carry them away.

That remained a bystander of a story told at the expense of former State Senator Milton A. Miller, from Lincoln county, now U. S. collector of internal revenue at Portland, at the session four years ago. Of course nobody believes it. Anyhow it was to the effect that Senator Dimick, of Clackamas, made the announcement upon the floor of the senate at the time of adjournment that he had no use for his surplus of postage stamps and intended to turn them back to the secretary of state.

Legislative Hall Being Put In Ship Shape Order by Janitor

Slowly but surely, under the management and supervision of Building Superintendent George Dunsford, the debris of the last session of the legislative assembly is being cleared away and the aspect of the hall of representatives and chamber of the senate will soon be restored to normal and, except in the mind and hearts of the taxpayer, the legislature will soon become ancient history; something to look backward upon and not forward to.

After the wild session of Saturday night and late Sunday morning the two halls of the law-making body looked like they had been visited by a Kansas cyclone. Monday morning, however, Superintendent Dunsford put two forces of men at work, one in either branch of the legislature, and as fast as the books and possessions of the members could be packed they were shipped out. All of the senators belongings had been cleared away and all of those of the representatives with the exception of about 20, and shipped to the different sections of the state and by the time another sun rises all will be in readiness for the big clean-up.

Mr. Dunsford, benefitting from the experience of the session before, had all of his plans arranged in advance of adjournment this time and made all arrangements for the members to get their stuff together and leave it upon their desks, together with their addresses, which was done and the senators and representatives went their several ways rejoicing and blissfully content in the thought that "George" would do it, and he did. It was a well-organized and executed clean-up and Mr. Dunsford, as well as his competent corps of assistants deserve much credit for the orderly manner in which the order of "break camp" was executed as well as for the superior manner in which the comforts and wants of the legislators were attended to during the session. Many compliments were handed both Secretary of State Olcott and Superintendent Dunsford of the efficiency of the janitor corps of the past session.

QUINABY QUOTATIONS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Quinaby, Or., Feb. 25.—The recently organized literary society is proving to be a very popular organization. Last Friday night the school house was crowded till even standing room was at a premium. The patriotic program was very interesting, closing with a Lincoln-Washington debate.

Next Friday evening occurs the regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, at which time the community will have the privilege of hearing a lecture on Canada by Prof. De Lou of the University of Oregon. This is free to the general public.

Quite a number of the young people of this community were in attendance at the patriotic celebration at Brooks last Monday.

The school children report an average grade for the school of 94.2 per cent in the last county spelling contest. Seven pupils were successful in gaining the grade of 100 per cent: Wendell Barnett, George Estor, Dorothy Brooks, Max Wense, Winifrey Estor, Percy Campbell and Edith Sheppard.

Rich Farce and Lively Music

A jolly combination of rich farce and lively music is promised in "High Jinks" which Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Grand on Monday, March 1.

The book and lyrics were written by Otto Hauerbach, whose name has long been conjured with the realm of farce and comedy, and the score is by Rudolf Friml, who sprang into instant fame as composer of "The Firefly". The action takes place in France, first at Paris and later at a fashionable bathing resort. Dr. Thorne, an American nerve specialist practicing in the capital of the world's gaiety has a friend, Dick Wayne, an explorer, who has happened upon a drug in the form of a perfume possessing wonderful properties. The effect of the drug is to transfer a coward into a lion. The Pessimist into an optimist and the proud into a dare-devil. The perfume is called "High Jinks."

Dr. Thorne introduces "High Jinks" in his practice, and makes such good use of it on one of his female patients that she in a transport of joy throws her arms around his neck and kisses him rapturously. The doctor is too amiable to resist, but, unfortunately, the incident does not end there. The woman's husband, the Frenchman of irate type, has witnessed the proceedings. In revenge he insists that the doctor shall introduce to him his own wife, in order that he may be repaid from her lips kiss for kiss. The doctor promises, but hits upon a scheme to outwit his enemy. He engages a young actress to pose as Mrs. Thorne, and flees with her to a watering place. The affair is purely platonic, but the

Peculiar Case in Hospital at Dallas

Dallas, Or., Feb. 25.—One of the most peculiar cases ever under the observation of local physicians is that of Joe Zeale, who came to the Dallas hospital several weeks ago to have portions of the diseased bone removed from one of his legs. The leg is practically well now, the decayed bone having been successfully removed, and the patient is able at times to walk about town, but he is now subject to sudden lapses of consciousness. During these spells he is seemingly without heart action. These periods of unconsciousness last from ten to twenty-four hours and when he recovers he appears to suffer no ill effects. The frequency of the attacks is increasing and the attending physicians are watching his case closely.

Directors of Teel Irrigation Project Becoming Active

Portland, Or., Feb. 25.—The directors of the Teel Irrigation district are planning the reclamation of 19,000 acres of land near Echo, Umatilla county, Oregon at an approximate cost of $400,000, it was learned today.

Asa B. Thompson, one of the directors of the district, has consulted Portland contracting firms regarding the work. It was believed the contract will be awarded to Twoby Bros.

The property will be bonded under the district bonding act, it was said. The project adjoins the government irrigation at Hermiston.

DIVORCED ITALIAN IS SUICIDE.

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Because his wife had obtained a divorce from him, Fred Corzalli, 26, an Italian, early today lay in wait for her as she was going to work, shot and mortally wounded her, and then ended his own life. The woman, Mrs. Eda Corzalli, aged 23, died while enroute to the Emergency hospital.

The man who flirts with trouble is apt to get it where Uncle Bill got the carbuncle.

Freuchman, who follows them there, doesn't know this. Unlooked for complications arise and the farce proceeds dizzily through a maze of mistaken identities.

The featured melody of the opera is "Something Seems Tingle-Ing-Ing". It is sung in the first act and repeated during the course of the performance. The same cast which presented "High Jinks" in New York City will be seen here. It is headed by Stella Mayhew, who is assisted by Philip Ryley, Adele Ardsley, Paul Porcasi, Dorothy Wade, Bernard Gorey, Eugene O'Rourke, Cecelia Hoffman, Emma Prinosi, Augustus Schultz, Irene Duke and a singing and dancing chorus of sixty-eight.

The man who tells others how to make a fortune in a short time is seldom able to show a bank balance of more than three figures.

The ceiling of the window is lined with a layer of six inch cork while the floor is made of cork, with a flooring of cork and tiling.

When completed, this will be one of the most modern markets in the state. Mr. Hybee states that about $1,000 will be spent on the window and interior fixtures.
