

SOCIETY

ARE you going to the exposition?—meaning of course the Panama-Pacific, at San Francisco. If there is anyone who has not been confronted with this query, they may as well consider themselves dreadfully obsolete. But if one has been thus interrogated and if the reply happens to be in the negative the next question will probably be, "Are you going anywhere this summer? If so, where and where?" Now the latter, although it seems a trifle frivolous, is annually reviewed, and always at about the same time, inspired perhaps by the first tiny buds that begin to burst through; by the first glad song of migratory birds, or by the quietus which Lent puts upon activities of a social inclination.

The subtle change which each season takes place in nature, is somehow, always faithfully reproduced in our ultra-civilized life, for no sooner has the former begun to display new life and animation than the inhabitants of the larger cities, unable to resist the alluring call of the great out-of-doors, begin to plan their summer's wardrobe of outing regalia; peruse railway and steamship folders in a fevered eagerness to go somewhere—anywhere—so long as it is away from the restraining and restricting conventions which characterize our modern city life.

Correctly speaking, the winter season is over, consequently activities of this nature have slackened most perceptibly, the past week, being characterized by a peculiar lethargy. Affairs which have marked this period have been inspired either by the one-of-a-kind guests or the generally recognized twenty-second day of the month which fell on Monday this year. This date was responsible for a number of enjoyable dinners and luncheons and was further suggested at several other affairs which occurred on or near that time.

Mrs. Fred M. Shelley and her attractive daughter, Miss Marion, Mrs. William C. Knighton's house guests from Rome, New York, have added much interest to the week, considerable entertaining marking their all-too-short stay.

Mrs. W. A. Jones, has also inspired several things this week, her hosts of friends here learning with regret that her departure with her husband, Representative Jones, and their children, is to occur some time next week.

Mrs. Shelley and her lovely young daughter, Miss Marion, of New York, have been the inspiration for numerous affairs during their week's stay, former friends joining in literally showering them with attentions, which practically filled every day of their stay, other affairs being cancelled by their hurried call to San Francisco.

Most conspicuous of these was Mrs. William C. Knighton's tea, which also complimented Mrs. Cusick, of Albany, followed by Mrs. E. E. Waters' dinner of ten covers Monday evening, Tuesday afternoon Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner entertained for their pleasure, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, who as a girlhood friend of Mrs. Shelley attended Willamette university with her, entertained in her honor very informally, Wednesday afternoon. Wednesday evening Mrs. Henry W. Meyers, gave a six cover dinner for her, and Thursday afternoon Mrs. George E. Waters gave a delightful bridge, Mrs. Shelley and her daughter departing Thursday night.

The honors at Mrs. William Knighton's tea, Monday afternoon, for which Mrs. Shelley was the inspiration, were shared by Mrs. E. D. Cusick, of Albany, wife of Senator Cusick, who was entertained here during the legislative, and who remained over for this occasion, she being before her marriage, Miss Grace Piper of Salem, and a girlhood friend of Mrs. Shelley, who was Miss Bessie Smith, also formerly of Salem.

Lovely yellow tulips and daffodils, Oregon grape and pussy willows, beautifully suggesting the approach of spring formed a most attractive setting for this event which was the smartest and largest private function since the ushering in of the Lenten season.

Guests numbering about seventy-five filled the rooms during the reception hours, many of them being long-time friends of the honor guests, others being asked in to meet them.

Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and Mrs. Henry W. Meyers were stationed at the tea table in the dining room handsomely motified in pink. Exquisite Dresden candelabras, fluffy bows of tulle, and candles in smaller rosette holders ornamented the table, a bevy of pretty maids assisting in serving.

Miss Shelley, Miss Marjorie Kay, Miss Barbara Steiner, and Miss Carolyn Dick.

Asked to assist about the rooms were: Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Frederick S. Stewart, Mrs. Rollin K. Page, Mrs. Ada Strong, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. George E. Waters, Miss Margaret Cosper, and Miss Rita Steiner.

Amid a most effective setting of Oregon grape and daffodils, Mrs. George E. Waters entertained with a delightful afternoon of bridge Thursday, complementing Mrs. Shelley of New York, and Mrs. S. A. Hering of Portland, two charming matrons who passed part of their girlhood in Salem, the latter being Mrs. Waters' house guest during the week.

Card honors fell to Mrs. Shelley and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. John Blakeley, Miss Beta Ludlam of Portland, and Miss Shelley being asked to assist.

The invitations list included Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. P. S. Stewart, Mrs. John Blakeley, Mrs. J. E. Ludlam, Mrs. W. H. Boot, Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. S. Jessup, Mrs. W. C. Knighton, Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. Z. F. Moody, Miss Stoughton, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, Mrs. Donald McCarthy, Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Miss Barbara Steiner, Miss Shelley, Miss Ludlam, Miss Margaret Gray, Miss Althea Womers.

Werner Breymann Brown, the young set son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, celebrated his first birthday anniversary with a charming little party Tuesday afternoon, surrounded by a coterie of his very young friends.

A pretty pink color effect was in evidence in both appointments, and the dainty collation, the handsome candelabra, displaying pink candles and shades, smaller tapers being placed with favors and baskets filled with confections by each little guest's cover.

The guests were: Mildred Roberts, Charles Kay Bishop, Tommy Livesley, Asahel Bush, Fourth, and Chandler Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Durbin opened their home Monday and Tuesday evenings, entertaining with several tables of "300" on both occasions.

The first gathering was of members of their informal card club, additional guests making up seven tables for the spouses, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and Miss Meredith holding high scores.

Attractive patriotic decorations surrounded the players. Guests of the club were: Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rodgers, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goodie, members being: Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald West, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, and Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger.

Tuesday evening, decorations remaining the same, guests sufficient in number to surround six tables, passed another delightful evening. Mr. Carter F. Martin and Charles F. Elgin scoring high.

The assistants were Mrs. Curtis B. Cross, Mrs. Elmer Ludlam, and Mrs. W. Connel Dyer.

For the pleasure of Mrs. W. A. Jones and Miss Merta James, Mrs. E. Cooke Patton entertained very informally Tuesday afternoon with three tables of bridge, Miss James securing the favor, Mrs. T. R. Wilburn was asked to assist. Miss James, who has been passing part of the winter as the Wilson's guest, will leave for Newport next week to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James, who are domiciled there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eldridge were entertained by Portland friends during the week, going down Tuesday.

Mrs. James Wilson who has been passing the winter with the Stanley Morgans in Chicago, is expected home some time next month.

Entertaining jointly for the Oaks Bridge club, Mrs. H. L. Bowly and Mrs. George Christie asked in a number additionally to make up five tables, Monday evening at the Howly home on North Capital street. Johnquills and pussy willows combined effectively, suggestive of spring, the appointments and collation bearing out a patriotic idea.

Prizes were given to Mrs. E. O. Seicke and H. William Thielsen.

Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bonnell and Mr. and Mrs. John Caughell, club members being Mr. and Mrs. H. William Thielsen, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Merin Harding, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Seicke, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mrs. Alfred Lovelace, and Mrs. Frederick S. Stewart.

Spring is really here, and now that wherever the charm of beautiful weather is being felt the great outdoors is making its annual subtle insistent call, and already in response to it new interest is being revived in Salem's new country club, which is to be a very notable contributor to the entertainment of Salem folk during the long months of summer. The splendid greens just south of the city promise to furnish a most alluring objective spot to not only the men, but the feminine element as well, and although the membership campaign has not been taken up as yet, among the latter, will not be until the club house is completed, it is a foregone conclusion that their support will in every way be as satisfactory and as enthusiastic as that accorded by the men.

The following are a few whose support is relied upon, or those who have signified their intention of patronizing the new club house and participating in the first spring games: Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush, Mr. and Mrs. W. Melvin Plimpton, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Steuseloff, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Steuseloff, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Knighton, Mr. and Mrs. Zedoc J. Riggs, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Benham, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis M. Cross, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Albert, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Eyer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Deekabach, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Thielsen, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Livesley, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Clay, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Baren, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sargent, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harbison, Mr. and Mrs. Hal D. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Fota, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Schackling, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Gilbert, Misses Veda Cross, Nell Thielsen, Marjorie Marvin, Aline Thompson, Louise Thompson, Althea Moore, Hazel Kennedy, Catherine Carson, Hazel Carson, H. S. Gile, Arthur Byrd, E. M. Croisan, H. S. Ord, S. B. Elliott, Carl Gabrielson, William S. Walton, Ralph Moores, Paul B. Wallace, Dr. D. M.

Field, Allan Hutcheon, Claude S. Belle, Watt Shipp, L. F. Hofer, W. P. Butler, E. P. McCormack.

A most welcome addition to Salem is the J. E. Ludlams of Portland, Mr. Ludlam recently receiving the appointment as manager for the local commission house. They have one son and have taken up their residence at 170 South Fifteenth street. Mrs. Ludlam is a charming woman and both will be welcomed in society. They have had as their guests this week, Mr. Ludlam's sister, Miss Beth Ludlam of Portland, who will remain for the week-end.

Miss Ellen Thielsen who has been entertained by the W. T. Eakin's house guest in Astoria for the past five weeks, spent yesterday in Portland, and is expected home today.

Any information concerning the success of Salem people in other places is always of interest, many local people following with special eagerness the advancement of Miss Ada Miller, Salem's gifted young singer who is studying music in Chicago.

Demonstrating that her talent and success is not merely locally recognized and commended, and that her ultimate universal recognition is assured is the splendid and enthusiastic reception recorded here in the east since her recent arrival there.

She has appeared at several notable affairs, among the most recent being the large Valentine banquet given at the auditorium hotel, when covers were laid for about two hundred and fifty. A dramatic performance followed the course. Miss Miller, with widely known entertainers furnishing special numbers earlier in the evening, Miss Miller being the only soloist. Her numbers were: "Summertime," by Ronald; "Will o' the Wisp," by Sprout; "Sawnee River," and "Philosophy." The event was planned by President Guernsey, of the famous Hamilton Musical club.

Another appearance, musically, of Miss Miller was at a foremost social function given by the Misses Moore at the Gladstone hotel. She was also the only singer at this event. The cotestees are known both in Salem and Albany, having been entertained here during their quite recent western trip by the H. B. Thielsen, and Miss Minnetta Magers.

An announcement which bring both pleasure and regret was made yesterday stating that T. B. Wilson, who for the past dozen years has been officially connected with the Oregon state penitentiary, had received the appointment of collector of income tax under Hon. M. A. Miller, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late James E. Godfrey, and while friends are showering Mr. Wilson with congratulations upon the splendid appointment, they are also expressing the deepest regret that the honor takes Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson from the city. They expect to leave the latter part of next week. Miss Merta James, who has been their house guest for part of the winter, to leave at the same time for Newport, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James.

During their long residence here the Wilsons have been prominently identified with Salem's social, fraternal and business life, Mrs. Wilson being an especially popular member of society.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., have been entertaining Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. T. Howard Drake, of Portland, during the week. They are now at home to their friends at their beautiful new residence, 539 North Winter street. Tuesday evening they were hosts for the Merry-go-Round club, asking Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts and Dr. D. M. Fields additionally. Mrs. Roberts, with M. A. Gough assisting. Card honors fell to Mr. and Mrs. H. William Thielsen.

For those who find pleasure and inspiration in the singing of selected male voices, well balanced and carefully trained, the Apollo club concert, which is to be given at the concert, March 24 as the total offering on the musical artists' course, will afford a delightful opportunity.

Under the able leadership of William H. Beyer the Apollo club male chorus has steadily improved, both as to the class of music presented and the beautiful quality of tone production and finish, until the club now stands upon an equality with the very best jobs of this character in the United States.

The reason just closing has been an especially successful one. Both of the concerts thus far given have set a very high standard of excellence.

The Apollo club is composed of both teachers, professional and amateur singers who have been carefully selected by a competent committee and who rehearse weekly under the painstaking direction of the conductor. The club is in no sense a money-making organization, it being the intention to collect in fees from members simply enough funds to pay the cost of concerts and running expenses. In this respect the club is entitled to much commendation for the educational influence exerted.

One of the most attractive parties of the week was the double birthday anniversary celebration at the home of Mrs. A. C. Devoe, 555 North Fourteenth street, in honor of the ten-year and her niece, Miss Justina Devoe. The rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion, the hours being passed with informal diversions.

The guests were: Mrs. Martha Martin, Misses Billie Morris, Maudie Martin, Shirley Campbell, Mabel King, Esther Schmalke, and Mennis, Ralph Mercer, Victor Bradford, Ray Schmalke, Fred Meyers, Ivan and Fred Schmalke and

Field, Allan Hutcheon, Claude S. Belle, Watt Shipp, L. F. Hofer, W. P. Butler, E. P. McCormack.

A most welcome addition to Salem is the J. E. Ludlams of Portland, Mr. Ludlam recently receiving the appointment as manager for the local commission house. They have one son and have taken up their residence at 170 South Fifteenth street. Mrs. Ludlam is a charming woman and both will be welcomed in society. They have had as their guests this week, Mr. Ludlam's sister, Miss Beth Ludlam of Portland, who will remain for the week-end.

Miss Ellen Thielsen who has been entertained by the W. T. Eakin's house guest in Astoria for the past five weeks, spent yesterday in Portland, and is expected home today.

Any information concerning the success of Salem people in other places is always of interest, many local people following with special eagerness the advancement of Miss Ada Miller, Salem's gifted young singer who is studying music in Chicago.

Demonstrating that her talent and success is not merely locally recognized and commended, and that her ultimate universal recognition is assured is the splendid and enthusiastic reception recorded here in the east since her recent arrival there.

She has appeared at several notable affairs, among the most recent being the large Valentine banquet given at the auditorium hotel, when covers were laid for about two hundred and fifty. A dramatic performance followed the course. Miss Miller, with widely known entertainers furnishing special numbers earlier in the evening, Miss Miller being the only soloist. Her numbers were: "Summertime," by Ronald; "Will o' the Wisp," by Sprout; "Sawnee River," and "Philosophy." The event was planned by President Guernsey, of the famous Hamilton Musical club.

Another appearance, musically, of Miss Miller was at a foremost social function given by the Misses Moore at the Gladstone hotel. She was also the only singer at this event. The cotestees are known both in Salem and Albany, having been entertained here during their quite recent western trip by the H. B. Thielsen, and Miss Minnetta Magers.

An announcement which bring both pleasure and regret was made yesterday stating that T. B. Wilson, who for the past dozen years has been officially connected with the Oregon state penitentiary, had received the appointment of collector of income tax under Hon. M. A. Miller, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late James E. Godfrey, and while friends are showering Mr. Wilson with congratulations upon the splendid appointment, they are also expressing the deepest regret that the honor takes Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson from the city. They expect to leave the latter part of next week. Miss Merta James, who has been their house guest for part of the winter, to leave at the same time for Newport, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James.

During their long residence here the Wilsons have been prominently identified with Salem's social, fraternal and business life, Mrs. Wilson being an especially popular member of society.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., have been entertaining Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. T. Howard Drake, of Portland, during the week. They are now at home to their friends at their beautiful new residence, 539 North Winter street. Tuesday evening they were hosts for the Merry-go-Round club, asking Mr. and Mrs. John J. Roberts and Dr. D. M. Fields additionally. Mrs. Roberts, with M. A. Gough assisting. Card honors fell to Mr. and Mrs. H. William Thielsen.

For those who find pleasure and inspiration in the singing of selected male voices, well balanced and carefully trained, the Apollo club concert, which is to be given at the concert, March 24 as the total offering on the musical artists' course, will afford a delightful opportunity.

Under the able leadership of William H. Beyer the Apollo club male chorus has steadily improved, both as to the class of music presented and the beautiful quality of tone production and finish, until the club now stands upon an equality with the very best jobs of this character in the United States.

The reason just closing has been an especially successful one. Both of the concerts thus far given have set a very high standard of excellence.

The Apollo club is composed of both teachers, professional and amateur singers who have been carefully selected by a competent committee and who rehearse weekly under the painstaking direction of the conductor. The club is in no sense a money-making organization, it being the intention to collect in fees from members simply enough funds to pay the cost of concerts and running expenses. In this respect the club is entitled to much commendation for the educational influence exerted.

SPRING SHOWING

We Invite Your Early Inspection of NEW SPRING MERCHANDISE

New Suits, Coats, Dresses

The styles are very attractive and eminently practical; of course some extreme styles are on display, but we have made extra efforts to show conservative garments that will meet the requirements of the season.

NEW

Warners Corsets, Modart Corsets, Carters Underwear, Harvard Underwear, Kayzers Underwear, Phoenix Guaranteed Hosiery, Onyx Hosiery, Kaisers Silk Gloves, Novelty Neckwear, Novelty Ribbons, Novelty Jewelry, Leather Purses, and Hand Bags, Lingerie Waists, Silk Waists, Silk Petticoats, Cloth Skirts, Muslin Underwear, Children's Coats, Infants Wear.

Pure Linen Fabrics

We feature White Wash Dress Goods, Dress Linens, and all kinds of plain Cotton Goods by the yard. All who have inspected this department have expressed their hearty approval.

PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERNS.

Where Shopping Is a Pleasure

U. G. SHIPLEY CO.

Liberty St. SALEM, ORE.

Don't Wait for an Invitation

To come to church. The House of God is essentially the House of Man, and BELONGS to you. Prove it yourself.

St. PAUL'S CHURCH

Corner Church and Chemeketa Streets
Services at 7:30 and 11 a. m., 7:30 p. m.

"Not Peace, But a Sword," Morning Address.

shortly following the holidays by Professor Wallace MacMurray, of Willamette university, assisted by college students, have been postponed until the completion of his scheduled course of lectures, making a most attractive ending to these events which have proved so generally interesting during the winter.

A delightful party commemorating the anniversary of Washington's birthday was participated in by a large number of young folk Monday evening, the guests of Miss Lenore Koon, at the home of her parents, 1307 North Winter street. Decorations, attractive in program of entertainment likewise being in keeping with the patriotic idea. The hostess was assisted by Miss Mary Paroungian and Miss Ernestine Roberts.

Those who were bidden to this merry affair were: Misses Doris Churchill, Lora Mortensen, Isabelle Legge, Gertrude Whitney, Margaret Legge, Lucille Jones, Marjory Brown, Marjorie Minton, Gladys Stevens, Esther Paroungian, and Messrs. Eugene Houston, Kenneth Belle, Linn Simpson, Kenneth Legge, Ira Moore, George Waller, W. O. Hren, Eugene Barber, Glenn Gregg, Edgar Rolland, Harold Roberts.

Mrs. Lovella J. Walsh, small daughter of Josephine, and J. E. Gloude will pass the week-end with Mrs. Walsh's sister, Mrs. A. E. West, in Portland.

Over two hundred students of Willamette university participated in a delightfully arranged patriotic party in Eaton hall last night, given in their honor by the faculty.

The lower halls and class rooms were beautified with countless flags, graceful bay trees and masses of greenery, each of the six rooms representing the homes of various prominent figures of Colonial days, who were impersonated by the faculty hosts, their identity being divulged and a short history of their

Exquisite New Spring WAISTS

The Needlecraft Shop

325 State Street

ANNOUNCEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

Complying with repeated and urgent requests John Claire Monteth, Voice Builder and Coach, will be in Salem on Mondays. Only a few more pupils can be accepted. Interviews by appointment only. Phone 2645-J.

KEEN interest is manifested in the concert of the Portland symphony orchestra which is to be given at the Grand Opera House Sunday, March seventh.

Chiefly in the central idea of the well-selected program and it is expected that director Moss Christensen and the orchestra will face a house packed to capacity. A number of valley cities will be represented, and the very best encouragement which Salem people can give to these delegations to visit our city and patronize its musical and entertainment offerings is to demonstrate their own appreciation by liberally patronizing the forthcoming concert.

The program to be given is as follows:

Overture "Thedre" J. Massenet
Symphony No. 2 in D major J. Haydn
"Siegfried Idyll" Richard Wagner
(a) "Trasidium" Armas Jaranoff
(b) "Berence" " " " "
"Liedesleichen" Taubert
"Rhapsodie Noveviegiane No. 1" Edward Lalo
Haydn's Symphony in D-No. 7 of the celebrated "Salomon" set-written for performance in London, when the composer was nearly sixty years of age will be the principal offering of the First Symphony Concert. One of the most "essentially French" of modern composers was the late Jules Massenet, who will be represented by his fine Overture to Racine's tragedy "Phedre," one of the most effective of his many compositions.

Edmond Lalo, the distinguished Belgian orchestral composer will be represented for the first time at these concerts by his Rhapsody No. 1, a very beautiful and brilliant work in honor of his wife's birthday, and also in thankfulness for the birth of the infant Siegfried will also find a place on the program. The lighter numbers include a daintily scored "Trasidium" and "Berence" by a Finnish composer, Armas Jaranoff, and Taubert's "Liedesleichen" for strings.