SALARY SCHEDULE IS STILL IN THE MAKING

School Directors Run Up Against Many Obstacles In Arranging Scale

Whether to arrange the schedule to fit the individual case or to adopt a fixed and arbitrary schedule, supplemented by a new set of requirements or qualifications for each class and fit the individual into the schedule was the most weighty problem with which the school board had to deal in furthering their consideration of the salary schedule at last night's adjourned meeting. The board finally cast aside the list of teachers with their corresponding present salary and how they would be effected under the re-adjustment of salaries, forgot that there were any teachers in the employ of the district at all, as it were, and worked out a temporary blanket schedule to govern every department of the city schools and this will be subject to revision and adoption at an adjourned meeting Thursday night.
