SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's a Simple Recipe that Anybody can Apply with a Hair Brush.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Local agent J. C. Perry.

M'ELROY TO LEAD BAND

Portland, Ore., March 19.—W. E. McElroy, one of the best known musicians and bandmasters in this city, was chosen from a long list of applicants yesterday by the council to be director of the city park concert band during the coming summer. Mr. McElroy is a solo cornetist. He was leader of the band in 1913 and gave satisfaction. The council has appropriated $10,000 for summer concerts in the parks. The band will consist of 22 to 35 musicians and 22 concertists will be held. They will be alternated among the various parks of the city. It is planned to introduce several innovations at the concerts this year.

Leader of English Suffragettes Will Support

"The suffragettes have always wanted the government to regard English women as a reserve force. The vast intelligence and capability of women may be made an asset. Two-thirds of Lord Kitchener's army are married men. British women, who have any control over men, are insisting that they join the forces at the front. It is the bachelors who are holding back. They lack a woman's influence."

"It is our women who have been the greatest sufferers economically from the war—especially the women of education. Many men who ought to be at the front are filling places that these women could fill. Nevertheless, the men generally are doing nobly. In your civil war, you know, the United States was forced to adopt conscription. But so far it has been unnecessary here."

"We suffragettes love our country as much as all the women of England do. We could have gone to America, where women are getting the vote, or to some English colony, but we remain in England because of our love for our country."

"We feel that a German victory will set back the feminine movement indefinitely and we know that the women of England can be converted into a tremendous asset for assisting the cause of the allies."

To Prevent Plomaine Poisoning.—Heat canned peas in milk and if the milk curdles beware of plomaine poisoning. Also notice cans in which your canned goods come. The cans may be dented but if the can is pushed out from the inside don't eat the contents for fear of poisoning. Never let goods stand in can open to the air for fear of poisoning.

"BOSS" DAY'S PROTEST LOST ON COMMISSION

Highway Commission Will Construct Hood River Road As Originally Planned

In spite of the vigorous protest of "Boss" Day the state highway commission will proceed to award the contract for the construction of the Mitchell's point unit of the Columbia highway in Hood River county, probably tomorrow morning, as originally planned and specified and according to the pledge of the commission to the people of Hood River county to the effect that the state would expend $50,000 of the state highway fund in permanent road construction in that county.

This decision was made by Secretary of State Olett and Treasurer Kay, the majority of the commission, and announced to a special delegation of Hood River citizens and press representatives and, although Governor Venable was out of the city it is practically certain that he will vote to uphold the old members of the commission in keeping their pledge to the people. Numerous bids were received for the Mitchell's point unit, consisting of one road and involving a big tunnel through solid rock, but the lowest bid was that of the Standifer-Clarkson company, of Portland, for approximately $40,000.

Senator Day appeared before the commission on Wednesday, when the bids were opened, and protested against the construction of the road as planned with the tunnel on the ground that an old road grade of the point with a 15 per cent grade could be utilized at a great saving in expense. This morning, however, Louis Butler, of the Butler banking company, and W. L. Clark, former president of the commercial club of Hood River, came to Salem to confer with the commission and, in the absence of the governor Secretary Olett and Treasurer Kay gave them every assurance that the commission week, and that a salaried solicitor has of Hood River and that the road would be constructed as planned.

Fewer marriages would be failures if love were blind only in one eye.

Corn-Mad? Use "GETS-IT." It's Sure

SALEM ELECTRICS NOW LEAD VALLEY LEAGUE

Local Bowlers Take Three Games From Corvallis Julians

The Salem Electrics jumped into first place in the Willamette Bowling association last night by winning three games straight from the Corvallis Julians. The Electrics now have a percentage of 622 but the Eugene Rainbows are close behind with 629 and the Julians four points in the rear with 625. A few games yet remain to be played in the league and if the Electrics maintain their present stride they will have little trouble in landing the league pennant though the feat might be accomplished by any of the three league leaders.

Last night's contest was witnessed by a good sized crowd and though no particularly high games were rolled the scores of the home team show consistent work. Noid, of the Electrics bowled 213 for high game and Kay held the high average of 179 for the Electrics. Stewart of Corvallis held the high average for the match with 181. The Electrics totaled 2597 pins while the Julians upset 2417.

The scores follow:

Electrics		Corvallis Julians
1	2	3	Tot.
Kay	167	210	161	538
Rauch	179	189	157	525
Hussey	176	176	122	474

Kilbane, White and Ahearn Win

Philadelphia, March 19.—Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, outfought Kid Williams, the bantamweight title-holder, all the way in their six-round bout here last night. Both men weighed in at 122 pounds a half-hour before the fight.

Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, who is seeking a "rep" that will satisfy Welter, stopped Sam Robinson, of Philadelphia, in the first round of a scheduled six-round bout. After Robinson had received a terrific uppercut on the point of the jaw and had been knocked down three times for the count of nine, the Philadelphia seconds, fearing he was in a helpless condition, stopped the fight.

Young Ahearn, middleweight champion of England, won the popular decision over Jimmy Clabby, of Hammond, Ind., aspirant for the title in that class, in a six-round bout. With the exception of the first round, in which Clabby opened a gash over Ahearn's eye, the English champion excelled.

GIANTS AND BRAVES IN PENNANT RACE

Hal Sheridan Says McGraw's Pitching Staff Will Be Stronger Than Ever

(By Hal Sheridan.) New York, March 19.—More and more, as the opening day draws near, does it appear as though the Giants and Braves were going to stage a merry little war all by themselves for the National league pennant. All there is to it—they are the class of toe league and from this angle there doesn't seem to be a team in the Tenor circuit that has even a chance to cheat them out.

Critics who a few weeks ago were howling that McGraw didn't have a pitching staff are strangely silent now. Critics who at the close of the last season were howling that his infield was shot to pieces crawled into their holes when the Little Napoleon went out and grabbed Honus Lobert. They burrowed still deeper when he went out and grabbed himself Pol Perritt.

Mathewson, Tesreau, Marquard, Peritt, Chalmers, Promme—how does it look?

Radolph, Tyler, James, Hess, Davis, Crutcher—how does it look?

If there are any of the other six teams in the league boasting such aggregations they have yet to baffle forth.

Getting down to hair-line distinctions on paper—the Giants even seem to have the edge on the hated Bostonians. Comparison, however, are odious, as was proven quite conclusively last October when the dopsters began comparing Schmidt to McQuinn, Deal to Baker, and Gowdy to Schang.

Schmidt, Evers, Maravulle and Smith against Merkle, Doyle, Fletcher and Lobert. Magee, Connolly and Moran against any three of the following: Robertson, Snodgrass, Thuesen, Burns or Murray, Gowdy and Whaling against McLean, Myers and Smith.

If the foregoing battle fronts don't offer pre-season prospects of the hottest little fracas in the history of the grand old game then all hope is useless, and the dopsters should be sent to Belgium.

The weakness of the Giants last year was attributed to lack of another good pitcher and a weakness at third. Both have been filled—and most ably. Weakness of the Braves—where there are any—was in their hitting. Sherwood Magee, slugger par excellence, was added.

Now, if the anvil chorus will join in "Before the Battle, Mother," we'll let our bets on the Giants and Braves against the field stick from April to October.

CONFERENCE ATHLETES MEET.

Evansville, March 19.—Wisconsin and Illinois will battle for first place and Chicago and Northwestern for third if the hope of conference experts makes good at the annual conference meet on the Big Nine at Northwestern field.

Northwestern had one of the best track teams in its history, but the Illinois and Badgers were doped the strongest.

Algerian Murderer Resigned To Fate

San Francisco, March 19.—Resigned to his fate, Isaac Eddie, an Algerian, who shot and killed his sister, "Princess" Zehia, a dancer, on the zone at the Panama-Pacific exposition, today denied that he had been sent as a messenger of death by the girl's husband.

Simultaneously the police are trying to drag from the husband, Ameen Laity, a confession that he inspired the crime because his wife had been too friendly with other men.

Eddie insists that he shot his sister because she was "joy mad" and had spent most of her recent years frequenting cafes and dancing places. The crime occurred in a crowded restaurant on the zone. Eddie called the cafe manager, Joseph Sasso, to the desk, and when Sasso refused to loan him money, drew a revolver and began firing. One bullet wounded Sasso in the arm.

"Princess" Zehia, who danced in the cafe, tried to flee, but her brother shot her dead.

Oldest Mercantile House In Albany In New Hands

Albany, Or., March 19.—Probably the largest mercantile deal in the Willamette valley in years closed yesterday when a contract was signed between S. E. Young & Son, and L. E. Hamilton, both of this city, whereby Mr. Hamilton will take over the stock and fixtures of the Young store, the largest establishment here, and lease the building for a term of years. Mr. Hamilton will take charge of the store April 1.

Mr. Young has been in business in Albany for 43 years, starting a small store in 1866 and gradually increasing it until the business sold to Mr. Hamilton yesterday had become one of the largest in the Willamette valley, with extensive interests elsewhere.

Mr. Hamilton has been engaged in business in Albany for 17 years, and was burned out a few days ago. The consideration is not given, but will approximate $75,000.

Anxious Crowd Is Waiting For Cook

ed Cook, as the expense of bringing the witnesses to this city would be considerable.

Willing to Return. "Hello, Bill! Hello, Harry!" was Cook's greeting to Sheriff Esh and Mr. Minto when these officers met him in the corridor of the Brooklyn jail. They both replied to his greeting, and Cook continued:

"Well, I'm glad I'm going back and get it off my mind. I believe I would have come back soon anyway if you had not sent for me. The officers informed me that they had been endeavoring to get in personal touch with him for some time.

Cook's wife was bitter toward the officers, and told them that she hoped the train would get wrecked before they got back. She had but $1 when the officers reached Brooklyn and Cook had no money himself. Sheriff Esh gave her enough of his own money for her immediate needs.

Without Money or Goods. Cook told the officers that all of the merchandise he took from this city was gone as well as his money. He said he was obliged to give most of the goods away for small sums to pawnbrokers. He refused to say anything about his wanderings after he left Salem except to admit that he was in Helena, Montana, where the officers traced him from here.

He gave the sheriff no trouble on his way out except that before they reached Chicago, his old home, he endeavored to play sick in the hope that he would be taken to the hospital in that city. This did not work for a minute, and before the train left the suburbs of the great city Cook was a well man. With the two officers on the watch they were able to relieve each other, and Cook was never handcuffed except on the streets or being transferred from one train to another, when he was handcuffed to his grip.

Cook took the trip as a matter of course until the train reached the outskirts of this city, when he showed signs of nervousness. As the train neared the depot he looked out of the window and saw the streets and depot platform packed and asked what was going on today. The officers were surprised to see so many people, but took a long guess and told him it was a welcome home. Their surmise proved to be correct, as the same crowds have been meeting every train for the last two days.

Sheriff Esh brought his mother, Mrs. Sophia Esh, back with him from her home in St. Paul, this making the first time in 40 years that she has been away from St. Paul except for short trips. She was much pleased with the pleasant weather of Oregon, as they left St. Paul in the ice and snow. They did not reach this city last night as they expected on account of a delay of nine hours due to the breaking of a

Dervishes Sweep Over Sudan, Traveler Says

Berlin, March 19.—(By wireless to Sayville.)—A German merchant who recently has returned from Egypt is authority for the declaration that the white of the Sudan, including Khartoum, and also parts of Nubia, are in possession of Dervishes. The assertions of this traveler are published in the Vossische Zeitung. He describes also an engagement near Fashoda last December, in which General Hawley of the British army, and a number of other officers, with almost 2,000 men, lost their lives.

The merchant in question relates a story of the alleged uprising of the Senussi tribesmen in November. He says they destroyed an Australian camp near the Pyramids on November 1, killing 200 Australians and capturing guns and provisions. Later, in large force, not fewer than 80,000, they overran the entire province of Fium and destroyed all railroads, including the Cairo-Assuan line. December 1, they destroyed the Alexandria-Cairo railroad near Damhannur.

Thousands of tribesmen responded to the appeal of the dervishes, and on December 13th, 40,000 of them marched in the direction of Fashoda, on the Nile, where General Hawley opposed them with 6,000 troops. Of the men of General Hawley all the native soldiers deserted the dervishes, leaving him with only 2,000 men. Most of this contingent was killed, and General Hawley and his officers fell. Nubia, commanding the dervishes, had all its prisoners decapitated.

As a result of this victory, all the native chiefs joined the dervishes, who on January 1 took possession of the important military post at Nasser, in the district of Senhar.

This merchant says furthermore the dervishes destroyed all the telegraph lines in Lower Egypt. No word of the conquest of the Sudan has been allowed to leak out.

Some people make a specialty of condensing the milk of human kindness, which is the only milk that is not staling.

Cook will be arraigned in the justice court within a few days on the charge under which he was indicted.
