KISSES WERE SACRED EMBRACES DIVINE

Part of the Rites Which Were Practical By "Brotherhood Home of New Love"

Alliance, Ohio, March 27.—Sacred kisses and divine embraces were part of the rites which characterized the practices of the members of the "Brotherhood Home of New Love" whose high priest, P. A. George is held in jail here, charged with responsibility for the death Wednesday night of Miss Amy Tanner, a 23 year old inmate of the "home". From his prison cell, George insisted today, however, that there was nothing immoral in the ritual.

"Brother" W. B. Phipps, one of George's disciples, said that some time the inmates of the "brotherhood home" rolled on the floor, and that "their clothes might be disarranged."

"But God did that," he said.

When God's spirit called, Phipps added, the two sexes kissed.

"If the spirit of God told you to be promiscuous," he was asked, "would you?"

"I would if God told me to," Phipps answered. "If he told me to go naked in the street as did Isaiah, I would do it."

Several other brotherhood members, including five women, arrested with George, are still under close surveillance.

Last night the Price team of the business men's class of the Y. M. C. A. took the lead from the Wilson team in one of the most spirited contests of the year. The Wilsons were leading with a lead of one and one-half points when the contest started and when it ended the Prices were one-half point ahead. The score stands now at 12% for the Prices and 12% for the Wilsons. Professor Stanley, one of the stars of the contest, said today that the struggle was so fast and furious that he was unable to realize what had happened until long after it was over, and that the game left an impression on his mind that would remain for some time.

After revival services lasting three weeks, the Rev. A. L. Crim will close the meetings Sunday evening. During the three weeks he has been engaged in the work here, Rev. Crim has made a great number of friends, and has been instrumental in adding largely to the membership of the church. He has accepted the pastorate of the Central Christian church of Portland, and will occupy the pulpit a week from tomorrow. Before coming west, the Rev. Crim was engaged for many years in evangelistic work in Indiana.

Attorney General Brown has rendered an opinion in response to a request from the county clerk of Wallawa county in which he holds that an affidavit made before a notary public or justice of the peace, accompanied by the cars of the slain animal, will not be sufficient proof of the killing of coyotes under the amended snail bounty act. He holds that the whole skin of the animal must be presented to the county clerk, the only officer empowered to examine the skins, either by the person who killed the animal or his duly authorized agent, before the bounty can be collected upon it.

A Sunday school with an attendance of 800 promises to be realized tomorrow, according to those who have had the management of the campaign of the Christian church Bible class. Prizes were offered for the securing of the greatest number of pledges of attendance. Up to noon today Miss Mildred Douglas was ahead with pledges from 121 and Miss Pauline Porter second with 93 pledges. This afternoon several auto loads of enthusiastic Sunday school members formed a parade in the business section of the town. This plan of making a canvass for Sunday school members is one adopted by the Rev. Crim in several of his most successful campaigns.

Court House News

Sylvester Bingenheimer, who was arrested in Portland yesterday on a charge of aiding inmates of the girls' industrial school to escape, was brought before Judge Webster, who placed his bond at $500, which was furnished by the prisoner, who was released to appear some time next week for arraignment. James Le Grande, held on a similar charge, has been released from the Oregon City jail on $500 bonds, and will be arraigned with Bingenheimer here in Justice Webster's court.

For the first time in five days a marriage license was issued at the office of the county clerk when Edward Fox, a Salem teamster, and Miss Jennie Fabis took out their matrimonial permit.

John Zak today brought suit against H. F. Bailey and others to collect $57.80 alleged to be due on a promissory note. In addition to a judgment in this sum the plaintiff seeks attorney's fees in the sum of $25.

Judge William Galloway, after a session of department No. 2 of the circuit court, which lasted until 10:30 o'clock last night, took the case of Lulu Selig and Isador Selig against William V. Hurst and M. A. Harst under advisement. After the closing argument, Attorney Edly had but eight minutes to catch the train, and the judge took it in his auto and rushed him to the depot in time to catch the 10:38.

Judge William Galloway today granted a divorce to Eva May Russell from Hugh L. Russell on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The plaintiff was granted the custody of her two children, Kenneth, aged 12, and Vance, aged 9. The couple were married in this county in 1902 and have been residing near Turner.

A motion of the plaintiff to strike in the case of George L. Rose against the city of Salem was overruled by Judge William Galloway today, and the plaintiff given 10 days in which to file the demurrer or otherwise plead. This is the famous dog case and resolves itself into a question over the constitutionality of the new dog ordinance passed by vote of the people at the last election.

County School Superintendent W. M. Smith went to Jefferson today to attend the local teachers' institute to be held in that city. Among the prominent speakers on the program, today were Professor W. A. Barr, of G. A. W., and Miss Helen Coughlin, a domestic science expert. The principal speaker was Professor W. T. Bowden, a specialist in industrial work from Washington, D. C.

In the Thursday issue of the Capital Journal there appeared an article stating that Glenn Cantrell had entered suit against the Donald Nursery Co. for the collection of wages for labor and services performed by Mr. Cantrell. The Donald Nursery Co. desires to inform the public that they did not refuse to pay Mr. Cantrell his wages, but same was guaranteed by the Mays-Goode Mercantile Co. to satisfy a claim which the firm held against Mr. Cantrell for goods which was purchased from the Mays-Goode Co. at Donald, Ore.

Eastern Oregon District Deputy Sealer Is Named

State Treasurer Ray, as state sealer of weights and measures, this morning announced the appointment of A. A. Yager, of Pilot Rock, Umatilla county, as deputy sealer of weights and measures for the Eastern Oregon district, which is composed of Union, Umatilla, Wallawa, Baker, Grant, Harney, Malheur, Sherman, Morrow and Wheeler counties. Mr. Yager is prominent in educational matters in Union county, now serving as a county school supervisor, and received the endorsement of the majority of the eastern Oregon legislative delegation. The position carries a salary of $100 per month and traveling expenses, and the deputies will assume their duties under the new law during the latter part of May or the first of June.
