Salem folk who have visited the Panama-Pacific exposition, returning with wonderful accounts of the wonderful exhibits and general excellence of the great fair, are invariably more pleased with Oregon, and their home city in particular, for while the Golden state has many desirable attributes which this state has not, still Oregon is Oregon, and to all loyal residents necessarily the most beautiful place in the world. Mrs. Mary Howd, of East State street, is the latest to return from San Francisco, arriving home Monday night after a six weeks' sojourn in California.

"The exposition was a most delightful surprise in every respect," she said, "the Oregon exhibit in particular, people from every state and country having only words of commendation for Oregon's splendid display. The Canadian people were especially pleased with our building, and well they might be, comparing their country's with ours. The Canadian display is entirely on canvas. The building is filled with panoramic paintings of Canada's extensive grain fields, thousand-acre ranches, beautiful homes and cities, which, of course, are beautiful as works of art but fail to convince, when compared with the actual products which are shown by the other states and countries. The exposition grounds thus far have not been crowded, the grounds and buildings at times presenting practically a depopulated appearance owing to their bigness. The California weather has been found to be much like Oregon, so far, sightseers carrying with them heavy wraps and furs. Everyone is delighted with the electrical displays and with the beauty of the grounds." Tourists on the same train with Mrs. Howd found the natural beauty of Oregon more impressive than that of California, the display of spring time flowers being more luxuriant here than in the latter state. The greater part of Mrs. Howd's time was passed in San Jose with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George William Gray and small daughter have returned from a motor trip to Portland, where they have been passing several days with Mrs. Gray's sister, Mrs. A. M. Cannon.

Using a simple ceremonial, Rev. R. F. Tischer, of the Unitarian church, united in marriage this afternoon at 3 o'clock Miss Juanita Eoff, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Eoff, and Robert Paulus, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Paulus, of North Church street. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. P. J. Hilber, 225 Union street. Springtime flowers and woodland foliage made an attractive setting for the event, only relatives being in attendance. Dr. and Mrs. C. Hartley and son, Max, of Corvallis, were present, Mrs. Hartley being another sister of the bride. Mr. Paulus is assistant manager of the Salem Fruit Union. After a brief wedding trip the young couple will make their home on Union street.

Professor and Mrs. O. C. Thompson entertained the United Evangelical L. L. C. Thursday. A short business meeting was held, followed by a social hour. Games were played and a light luncheon served. Those present were: Rev. A. A. Winter, Lydia Herndon, president; Pauline Remington, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Schmalte, Mrs. G. N. Thompson, Mrs. Flesher, Misses Maggie Bartruff, Anna Hiirtte, Peral Flesher, Mildred Kaylor, Virginia and Annetta Magness, Messrs. Raymond Schmalte, Dan Bartruff, Wm. Scharf, Roy Remington, Dan and Joe Scharf.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Boyington moved over from Salem Saturday and are occupying the Andrews house on West Main street. Mr. Boyington is engaged in the law business and opened up his office the first of the week.—Silverton Appeal.

The Degree of Honor, Grand Lodge of Oregon, which opened a three-day annual session Monday morning at the Multnomah hotel, Portland, with several hundred delegates in attendance, will close today. Mrs. Frances Duell Olson, of St. Paul, Minn., superior chief of the lodge, was present. A reception was held Monday night in honor of Mrs. Olson and the visiting delegates. Mrs. Margaret E. Herren, of Portland, is grand chief, and Mrs. Ollie E. Stevens grand recorder. Mrs. Sarah E. Moore is past grand chief. These three were in charge of the convention details, aided by committee members. A number of the Salem members returned last night, the remainder to come home some time today. The drill team participated with others from all over the state, making a splendid appearance with their immaculate white uniforms and clusters of cherries in their hair, typifying the Cherry city. Mrs. Mel Hamilton, of Hubbard, is captain of the Salem team, which is composed of Mrs. Jessie Crossan, musician; Mrs. J. A. Durr, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Hurd, Mrs. Traver, Miss Lea Davy, Mrs. Dorcas, Mrs. Bertha Statesman, Miss Gladys Statesman, Mrs. Della Coffey, Mrs. Ruby Ponjado, Mrs. Nellie White, Miss Greta Bailey, Mrs. Dimecher, Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, Mrs. Mary Rodgers, Mrs. Esch, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. White, Mrs. Domogolla, Miss Domogolla, Miss Margaret Crossan, Mrs. S. Swartz and Mrs. Amanda Anderson. Other local members who accompanied the team were Mrs. Elizabeth Reed, Mrs. R. D. Holman, both grand lodge members, and Mrs. Bertha Viesco.

Miss Isola Hill left the latter part of the week for North Yakima, where she will continue her work as private secretary to Frank Meredith, newly appointed secretary of the Washington state fair board. Miss Hill has many friends here who regret her departure.

Guests, who were for the most part relatives, gathered at Mrs. G. W. Pearline's home just north of Salem recently to celebrate her son, Lester Pearline's birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Roth, Mrs. Maude Luens, Miss Mollie Pearline, Robert Lucas, Kenneth and Marvin Roth.

Miss Ethel Stinton and Miss Gertrude Badger left Saturday evening for San Francisco, where they planned to pass several days at the exposition, going from there to Los Angeles, San Diego, Salt Lake City and other places of interest. They will part in Denver, Colorado, Miss Stinton going to her home in Geneva, Nebraska, Miss Badger to her home in Indiana.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Talbot, of the theological seminary, have just returned from Portland, where they passed a week with their daughter, Mrs. L. P. Steele. Sunday, Dr. Talbot filled the pulpit at Rose City Park church, and this week will pass several days in Spokane.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Relieved by Hood's Sarsaparilla, Which Renovates the Blood.

That tired feeling that comes to you in the spring, year after year, is a sign that your blood lacks vitality. Just as pimples, boils and other eruptions are signs that it is impure; and it is also a sign that your system is in a low or run-down condition inviting disease. It is a warning, which it is wise to heed.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This old standard tried and true blood medicine relieves that tired feeling. It cleanses the blood, gives new life, new courage, strength and cheerfulness. "It makes the rich red blood that will make you feel, look, eat and sleep better."

Be sure to get Hood's, because it is the best. There is no other combination of roots, herbs and herbs like it—no real substitute for it—no "just-as-good" medicine.

Telephone Patrons Join Company in Petition For Increase in Rental Rates

Supported by the signatures of about 150 of its regular patrons, the Coos & Curry telephone company, of Coquille City, Coos county, has petitioned the railroad commission for permission to raise its service rate schedule, amounting to 50 cents per month for business phones and 25 cents for residence phones, the new rates to take effect July 15 of this year. The company represents that it contemplates putting extensive improvements to its plant and proposes to furnish first class service to its patrons. An allowance of 10, 15 and 20 cents discount is to be made upon bills paid on or before the 15th of each month.

SAGE TEA PUTS LIFE AND COLOR IN HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens Hair so Naturally that Nobody Can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth, Gray-haired unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.—Local agent, J. C. Perry.

Monday, when the latter were hostesses in their honor at the beautiful new home of the W. J. Needhams, 965 North Church street. The rooms were made doubly attractive by simple decorations of snowy lilacs and dogwood arranged in brass receptacles. Progressive "500" filled the earlier part of the evening, high scores being awarded to Mrs. E. A. Pruitt and C. Huddleson, Mrs. F. Baehle and J. Bengen receiving the consolation. Later a three-course collation was served, followed by dancing and informal diversions. Those who enjoyed the Needham's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baehle, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Doan, Mr. and Mrs. August Hucklestein, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sloper, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Payer, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. E. Huddleson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. John Bengen, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baeh.

Mrs. G. W. Putnam spent the week-end with her son, Ivan G. Putnam, at their beautiful country place in the Walds Hills, near Shaw.

The Yeomen Guards have invitations out for an informal dance to be given complimentary to the Olive-degree team No. 973, Friday evening, in Moose hall, New York is captain of the degree team, Louis Tracy, May Swindell and Clara Nengelbauer being the committee in charge.

The play, "Everywoman," which comes to the Grand opera house Saturday evening, is one of the most impressive dramas ever delivered, so said a prominent member of the Salem Women's club a few days ago. "It is a play which teaches a great truth and should be seen by every one." There are many in Salem who have seen the play on Metropolitan stages, feeling so much about what they see that the same company play here too. Every one who has seen it are delighted with a second opportunity, which is in itself an excellent advertisement. The members of the drama class of the Women's club will attend in a body and unanimously endorse the play. Mrs. W. E. Kirt is leader of this class, additional members being: Mrs. J. H. Albert, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Miss A. N. Bush, Mrs. W. H. Baraband, Mrs. Miss Mattie Beatty, Mrs. E. J. Callahan, Mrs. Anna Ford, Mrs. Ray E. Palmer, Miss Edith Hazard, Mrs. E. J. Hendricks, Mrs. S. A. Kuser, Mrs. J. H. McNavy, Mrs. H. P. Minto, Mrs. Walton Van Whitke.

Mrs. Richard Brady, of New York city, and her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Hirsch, of Portland, life-long friends of the Joseph Harrisons, came on yesterday with a group of Portland people to attend the Harris funeral. Mrs. Brady, formerly Miss Leona Hirsch, has been visiting the winter with her mother, Mrs. Edward Hirsch, in Portland, expecting to return next week. She formerly resided here, the late Edward Hirsch being for many years Salem's postmaster.

Mrs. James H. Murphy, of Portland, will arrive tomorrow morning to pass the remainder of the week the guest of Mrs. William C. Knighton.

Stock Exchange Again Shows Old Time Activity, Says Clews

New York, April 17, 1915. Old-time activity has returned to the stock exchange and million-share days are no longer a novelty. From time to time the favorable changes in underlying factors in the stock market have been pointed out in these advices. As the business world adjusted itself to new conditions, as the final outcome of the colossal struggle in Europe became more apparent, as fear disappeared and calm judgment realized that on this side of the Atlantic the worst of the storm was over, confidence began to assert itself more and more freely until at last it developed into a surprising outburst of speculation. This characteristic rebound from extreme depression to extraordinary buoyancy may seem remarkable, but is only in accordance with precedent, since one extreme invariably follows another in due course of time. Recent developments connected with the war really started the present rise. The frightful waste of life and wealth which is still going on must of course have a permanently injurious effect upon the social and economic welfare of the world at large.

Nevertheless, there is a sense of relief that the end is now foreshadowed; and the dawn of peace naturally imparts new life, new hope and fresh confidence.

So far as the stock market is concerned, it was the war group of stocks which led the advance. A number of our great industrial establishments are employed on large and profitable foreign contracts. Concerns equipped with facilities for turning out ordnance and ammunition have been particularly fortunate and these led the rise. Some automobile manufacturers have also secured enormous contracts from Europe, about 30,000 American cars and motor trucks having already been shipped abroad, with thousands more to follow. Clothing and food producers have also been enjoying very profitable contracts. All such activities are having their effect upon business and speculation. They may not be permanent factors, yet while they last they are very powerful and are the prime movers in the present upward movement. They have also brought into the speculative arena an entirely new set of operators who have been largely responsible for the recent activities and manipulations. Unavoidably the sensational advance in the war group shares affected the entire market. It certainly awakened the investing public in general to a realization of the improvement which for several weeks past has been developing, so silently as to almost escape general observation. Confidence was sleeping and a shock of some sort was necessary to shake off the lethargy produced by the onslaughts of war. Under the circumstances, therefore, it is pertinent to again call attention to the forces of silent recuperation which have been at work outside of the war group; the latter being the class which should be set apart by themselves and judged strictly by the profits secured or likely to be secured from the war. This group in reality is relatively small, and a due sense of proportion should assist in drawing attention to home conditions, which henceforth must be a more important influence for the reason that the war has already exerted its worst effects upon American values.

By far the most important underlying improvement at home is the changed political attitude toward big business. Radicalism has received a severe check in the United States. At one time it conspicuously discouraged enterprise and interfered with legitimate business, thus proving one of the most prolific sources of empty dinner pails. President Wilson wisely called a halt on these tendencies, and the result is already beneficial. Had it not been for the war, there is no doubt that this country would today have been enjoying a period of marked recuperation and prosperity. The next important source of improvement, also a comparatively silent one, is the working of the new federal reserve system. This is having a helpful effect upon business and credit operations. Our banking system is now upon a sound basis and in a position to meet all emergencies. Funds are plentiful to good borrowers, and if interest rates are high, it is not due to home conditions, but to forces abroad beyond our control. The United States is now the only free capital market in the world. Foreign nations are coming to us for financial assistance; and considering adverse conditions, the amount of new capital issues in this country is surprisingly large, and demonstrates our healthful recuperative abilities. For the satisfactory monetary conditions at home and the confidence thus inspired the new federal reserve system is very largely responsible.

Another reason for stock market recovery is the liberal dividend returns obtainable upon established investments at present low prices. There are any number of desirable bonds and high-grade stocks that not only offer unusually attractive returns. A further source of encouragement is the pronounced change of public sentiment. Confidence has taken the place of fear. Purse strings are being loosened. Hoarding is stopped. Funds accumulated through fear, are now being released. Gold imports have been resumed. The retail trade in the great department stores in this city has apparently turned the corner. The steel industry is improving; so is the textile industry. The demand for automobiles is surprisingly good. The boggy of foreign liquidation is disappearing, and the conviction that we have fairly arrived at the turning point for the better, is spreading throughout the entire country. Wall street always discounts such movements in advance. It is engaged in that operation just now; and, if we exclude the war stocks, which have risen for special reasons, we find that the balance of the market has not, thus far, made any extravagant advance. Both railroads and industrials (excluding the war group) are still selling considerably below the pre-war level. There is little doubt that the railroad situation will soon show decided improvement. As soon as the volume of traffic begins to increase, the effect of the better freight rates will be reflected in earnings; and very soon the crop situation will receive more attention. In this respect the outlook is very satisfactory, for the reason that agricultural products generally are bringing profitable prices. The south suffered considerably from the recent depression in cotton, but conditions in this respect are gradually rectifying themselves. Better prices are being realized for the staple, and the south will probably partly recoup itself through a wider diversification of product.

The outlook for the market is for continued activity. Speculation promises to turn to securities hitherto neglected. The violent advances of the last few weeks may of course induce from time to time considerable profit taking, in which event sharp fluctuations may be anticipated, all of which will tend to create a healthy and more active trading market. At this writing the market exhibits surprising strength.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from over-work, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the best of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarb, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because anybody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Mist Shrouds British Warship Near Frisco

San Francisco, April 21.—Watch was maintained today from the Heads at the Golden Gate here today for a British warship which was said to be coasting in the vicinity. The warship was first heard of when Captain Brennan of the steamer Admiral Farragut, Pacific Alaska Navigation company, reported it remained about ten miles behind him from midnight to dawn. Mist shrouded its further movements. When last seen, Captain Brennan declared, the cruiser seemed to be heading for the Golden Gate.

It is believed here the Britisher may be en route to Tarrif Bay to help suppress the stranded Japanese cruiser Arima. The Farragut sailed from Tarrif Bay.

Chautauqua Association Announces Fine Program

"The Chautauqua program to be offered to Salem this summer is better in every respect and includes a greater number of popular entertainers than ever brought to the city."

This was the statement of J. E. Ellison, who held a conference yesterday with the committee of the Salem Chautauqua association. The season will begin Monday, July 5 and close Sunday, the 11th. A greater number of musical numbers will be given than in former Chautauques. The Ciriello band has added six soloists since last season and the Grand Opera company will this year give selections from the operas in full costume. The Selmann Quintet which ranks high among the entertainers of the great eastern Chautauques is one of the best offerings for the week.

Since talking with Mr. Ellison, the committee in charge are greatly pleased with the program to be offered as it is in every respect of a higher standard and includes more popular entertainers than the course of last year.

The opening day will be given over to the children who will be taken care of by one of the best entertainers of young people, who can be secured by a Chautauqua course. It has been customary in other cities where a like program has been carried out to assess each Sunday school five cents for every child in attendance on that evening and this may be done here to assist in partially paying expenses on that night. All kinds of magic will be used to please the small folks, and they will be asked to take part in various numbers. Preceding the entertainment the children will assemble at the big tent and march through the principal streets of the city.

The local committee plans to take advantage of the chautauqua to do some advertising for the city on their own account. Knowing that hundreds of out-of-town people are to be here at that time, a special tent will be erected on the chautauqua grounds, where the Salem-made goods, and its resources will be displayed. The work of the school children will also be on exhibit, including articles from the manual training and domestic science and various other departments.

Heretofore the chautauqua has been of six days duration, this year to cover seven. Already $29 of the 600 allotted season tickets have been disposed of and it is fully expected that the event will witness the largest crowd that has ever been brought to the city for any similar gathering.

Miss Meddie Hamilton of Chautauqua, N. Y., will be here in about five weeks to meet with the committee and to make a public address on general Chautauqua work. Miss Hamilton is what might be called a Chautauqua booster. She is sent out by the New York Chautauqua to make addresses on what is being done in this work through out the country.

Chautauqua to Be Musical.

Although several lectures of national fame, including Newell Dewitt Hillis, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn; Nels Darling and Colonel Bane, will appear during the week, yet the Chautauqua as a whole is predominantly a musical one. Each of the musical organizations have been strengthened by additional soloists and the Grand Opera company will give their selections in costume.

The program for the week is as follows:

Monday, July 5.

This opening day will be given to the entertainment of the children. Prof. Head will lecture on "Pilgrims' Progress," and Mrs. A. C. Zehner of Dallas, Texas, will talk on "American Ideals."

Tuesday, July 6.

The Schumann Quintet which perhaps ranks as the finest quintet on the Chautauqua circuits in the country will give two concerts on this day. Mr. Ellison states that these musicians are of the highest priced organization of its size in the country and that in securing them for this Chautauqua, he has secured a great musical treat.

Wednesday, July 7.

The Saxony Singers is a mixed quartet that ranks high in the various Chautauqua circuits. Their selections are mostly from well known operas. Nels Darling will lecture in the evening. His talk is for business men. He was a lumber salesman for seven years and later fought the mail order business. His lecture is on "Our Town." Efforts will be made to have him give a noon lecture before the commercial club and business men's league.

Thursday, July 8.

Ciriello's famous Italian band. They will give two concerts. Six new soloists have been added to the band this
