Thousands of Monster Cannon Are Flung Death Along Yser

Paris, April 27.—The French have constructed their lines north of Ypres and are now progressing. This was the announcement of the official communique from the war office today, but no details of the fighting raging in Belgium were given.

In a counter attack delivered Monday evening Hartmannswerkerkopf was recaptured by the French forces and some prisoners taken, it was stated.

As the fumes swept over the front trenches, the French soldiers were rendered unconscious, though unharmed, and fell in their tracks, according to stories of the wounded. The Germans then leaped forward and without any opposition occupied the trenches, bayonetting the prostrate Frenchmen where they lay.

Berlin, via wireless to London, April 27.—Admission that the Germans have evacuated the village of Lizerne on the west bank of the Yser canal was made in an official statement from the war office today.

It was denied, however, that the French had retaken Hartmannswerkerkopf, in Alsace, as was claimed yesterday.

The statement declared that in spite of the evacuation of Lizerne the Germans are still holding the bridge head on the left bank of the Yser.

Important British assaults against the German positions, directed from Bechemd, have failed, it was stated. The losses of the British were declared to be "extraordinarily heavy." The Germans have bombarded Poperinghe.

Clark Realized Thousands of Dollars

Detroit, Mich., April 27.—That James C. Clark, alias C. P. Mack, arrested in Port Huron after having made a sensational escape last night from Detroit police and 200 pursuing citizens, realized several thousand dollars on money orders stolen in Portland, and planned to enrich himself further by the same method, is the charge made today by the police here.

Clark has been brought from Port Huron to Detroit and is probably will be arraigned late today.

His escape was dramatic. Flourishing a revolver, he fought his way past attendants at the Hotel Poncebrassin when his attempt to cash a money order resulted in a call for the house detective. Pursued by the police and citizens, he jumped into an automobile, and holding his revolver to the driver's head, commanded him to shatter all speed records getting out of town. He was next heard from when the Port Huron police wired the news of his arrest there.

VEHICLE HAS AS MUCH RIGHT TO A CROSSING AS CAR Does Not Have To Stop To Avoid Accident If Use Judgment

"The fact that a person sees a street-car approaching does not alone and of itself spell negligence if an attempt is made to cross the track; but the quantum of care necessary is to be determined by the proximity and speed of the car plus the surrounding circumstances," says Justice Harris, of the supreme court, in an opinion in which the expression "reasonable and prudent care" which a person is supposed to exercise in order to avoid danger and in which the judgment for damages in the sum of $17,213.50, awarded Peter Macchi against the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, for personal injuries is affirmed. The case is appealed from Multnomah county and T. J. Cleaton was the trial judge.

Appeal was taken from the decree of the lower court principally upon the ground of contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff who was riding a motorcycle and attempted to cross the track of a South Portland street car, misjudged the speed of the street car and a collision occurred as a result of which Macchi was injured and brought suit for damages. Exception was taken to the court's instructions to the jury upon the question of whether or not the plaintiff exercised due care and prudence by not stopping his motorcycle when he saw the car approaching, and in passing upon the respective rights of the parties. Judge Harris further comments:

Right Not Exclusive. "The right of the defendant to use the street was not exclusive even if it be assumed that by reason of the traffic ordinance the car had the right of way as against the plaintiff. The driver of a vehicle can proceed at a higher speed to go over a street railway track in the face of an approaching car when he has reasonable ground for believing that he can pass in safety, if both he and these in charge of the car act with due regard to the rights of the others."

Newberg Wins Water Supply Suit. In an opinion written by Chief Justice Moore the supreme court affirmed the decree of Judge Webster Holmes of the circuit court for Yamhill county in the case of George P. Skelton, appellant, vs. the city of Newberg, in which it held that all proceedings incident to the condemnation of 17.8 acres of the plaintiff's land containing a valuable spring for the purpose of securing a municipal water supply, were regular and in conformity to the law, and that the award of $2,000 made by the appraisers of the property and the court is final and binding. Plaintiff Skelton contended that the land was worth $8,000 and set up irregularity of the proceedings as a basis for appeal from the judgment of the trial court.

Other cases decided by the supreme court today follows:

Oregon Lumber & Fuel company vs. May Garland Hall et al, appellants, appealed from Multnomah county, suit to foreclose a material man's lien, opinion by Justice McBride, Circuit Judge Hamilton's judgment for the plaintiff reversed.

Elizabeth Wiley vs. J. J. Whitney et al, appellants, appealed from Linn county, action for money, opinion modified, per curiam.

James E. Stacy vs. Old Channel Mining company et al, appellants, appealed from Josephine county, involving the right of a receiver to sell certain property of company, opinion by Justice Bean, judgment of Circuit Judge Hawkins for the plaintiff modified.

Petitions for rehearing were denied in Cody Lumber company vs. Couch and Brown vs. Farmers & Merchants National Bank.

Kate Baekman Chase, et al, appellants, vs. Robert B. Graham, et al, appellants, from Clackamas county; action to settle an estate; decision of Judge Campbell for defendants affirmed. Opinion by Justice Burnett.

THE MARKETS

The slight advance in the price of blue stem wheat in Portland has no effect on the local market as the only wheat for sale here is for feed, and this with oats is weak on the market today. The hog market is strong, pork on foot being quoted at $7.25 a hundred and dressed at 10 cents a pound. Veal is also strong, with top price at 19 cents. Steers are off half a cent. Oregon strawberries are now on the market, the first case coming from Dillard, California are now listed at $2.00 per crate.

Table of market prices for various commodities including Grains (Hay, Timothy, Clover, etc.), Butter, and Vegetables (Asparagus, Cabbage, etc.).

Table of market prices for various commodities including Fruits (Strawberries, Apples, etc.), Eggs and Poultry (Eggs, Hens, etc.), and Pork, Veal and Mutton.

Table of market prices for various commodities including Retail Price (Creamery butter, Flour, etc.) and Portland Markets (Wheat, Oats, etc.).

Portland, Ore., April 27.—Wheat—Club, $1.26; Bluestem, $1.32. Hogs—No. 1 white feed, $33.25. Prime steers, $7.25@7.75; fancy cows, $6.25; best calves, $7.75@8; spring lambs, $8@9.

Potatoes Are Higher. Portland, Ore., April 27.—Potato market has struck $2 a cental in a jobbing way—from wholesalers to retailer—in the front street market and is very firm for quality offerings at that price.

Even ordinary potatoes are selling today along the street at $1.75 and $1.85 a cental.

The only fear in the market at this time is the break which seems to be approaching in the San Francisco markets. While it is true that no shipments are being made from here to the south, a break in that market might force heavier supplies of eastern stuff on the northwest trade and thereby cause weakness.

While prices for potatoes are higher here, there is a very noticeable decrease in the movement. Wholesalers claim that since the last advance in the price they have not sold more than a third of the potatoes that were moved previously and in a like period. This is taken to indicate that the consuming public is peeling potatoes much more carefully and eliminating waste.

Hogs Up to $6.00. Hogs touched $6 today in the North Portland yards for some extra good stuff. One load at the start of the week at the higher price which was the better than the extreme of last week's advance. The quality of the load that brought the top was easily worth a nickel more than the general market for extreme quality, therefore the average price for real good stuff is not above $7.00 and $7.05.

There was a fair supply of hogs available for the trade at the opening of the market this morning. Total receipts over Sunday were 1027 head compared with 1044 last Monday and 2453 head this same day a year ago.

Grain Bags Going Up. Fears are expressed by the local trade regarding the deliveries of jute bags from India this season in time for the grain harvest. While some of the ships are now en route with bags for the Pacific coast, the trade is still dubious regarding delivery as many accidents have befallen cargoes on the season since the war started.

Naturally this has forced great strength in the grain-bag market here and leading importers are today asking 7 cents for No. 1 Calcutta for early delivery to growers.

With a very big crop of wheat promised in the Pacific northwest this season and with California prospects the best in many years, indications point to greater need of Calcutta bags this season than ever before, although engagements are already said to be quite heavy.

British Progress And Hold Terrific Drive Of Germans

(Continued from Page One.) near St. Julien and with the co-operation of the French made some progress. It was in this movement that the French recaptured Hetsas. The field marshal also stated that severe losses had been inflicted upon the enemy by the British artillery.

At other points of the front there is nothing to report, the war office statement declared. Allied aviators bombarded the railway stations at Tourcoing, Ronbaix, Ingelmunster, Staden, Mangelmarek, Thiel and Roulers. The destruction of Courtrai Junction was reported in a communication from the front last night.

Plot to Kill Turks. Salonika, April 27.—The discovery of a plot to kill all of the high Turkish and German officials in Constantinople and start a revolution against the war party is told in advices reaching here today from the Moslem capital.

There are declared to be evidences that the plot was widespread, and several attendants about the government offices are now under arrest and are being tortured in an attempt to force confessions from them.

Bomb Is Discovered. Only the eleventh hour discovery of a huge bomb with a clockwork attachment prevented the plot to blow up the officials directing the war from meeting with success. The bomb was concealed in the offices of the war ministry. The clockwork attachment was set to go off at a time when a meeting of the war council was scheduled. About the council table at the time would have been Enver Pasha, minister of war; General Von Der Goltz, the German commander in chief of the Turkish army, and Ambassador Von Sanders.

Ships Ordered to Port. Copenhagen, April 27.—All Scandinavian ships en route from England to Swedish ports on the Baltic were today ordered to make the nearest convenient harbor and remain there pending further orders.

Rumors were circulated here today that Germany intends to stop all traffic between Sweden and England. This is said the purpose responsible for the activity of the German fleet which has been reported sighted by many Scandinavian vessels.

Italy Sends Demands. Rome, April 27.—The German and Austrian ambassadors have sent joint copies of Italy's latest demands to Vienna, according to reports in diplomatic circles tonight. With the demands they are to have forwarded a statement that the Italian government demanded an immediate answer. The nature of the demands are not known.

Ambassadors Summoned Home. Rome, April 27.—The Italian ambassadors to Paris, Vienna, London and Berlin have been summoned to Rome for a conference with the premier and his cabinet, according to the Messagero today.

Late advices from Salonika declared that the allies have landed troops at various points on the Gulf of Saros, driving the Turks back, and establishing themselves for the general assault. The bombardment of the Dardanelles fortifications from the Anglo-French fleet continues both from the gulf and from inside the straits.

Former Chauffeur's Suit Dismissed By Court

New York, April 27.—The $250,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Max Kleist, former chauffeur, against Edward V. Breitling, his father-in-law, was thrown out of court yesterday. Judge Hough sustained the motion to dismiss the case by attorneys for Breitling on the ground of "lack of evidence."

Kleist eloped with Breitling's daughter. Afterward, he alleged, Breitling, who is reported to be a multi-millionaire, caused Mrs. Kleist to cease loving the plaintiff.

Kleist alleged that his rich father-in-law gave him a job carrying dynamite into a Mexican mine, where the slightest stumble probably would have scattered his anatomy over the subterranean landscape. He also claimed that his job required him to light the fuses on dynamite charges when the fuses were so short that he had to run at full speed to escape being blown to pieces.

Some of the sensational testimony involved Julia, the daughter, whose affections were the main issue in the trial. Kleist said that Julia, when she discovered that he did not smoke, told him he might as well learn, as she intended to smoke cigarettes.

This is the second time Kleist's suit against Breitling has been tried. The first hearing resulted in a mistrial.

Court House News

Complaint was filed in Justice Webster's court this morning by William Lebold and Joe Lebold, as the Lebold grocery company, against Mrs. A. N. and Lilly Bowen, for the recovery of money alleged to be due for goods sold and delivered. The first cause of action alleges that between April 7, 1914, and July 31, 1914, the defendants bought groceries in the sum of $103.75; the second cause alleges between June 13, 1914, and September 2, 1914, Charles D. Pritchard sold meats to the defendants in the sum of $26.85. It is stated that no part of the above sums have been paid and that judgment is asked of the court. Robert C. Wygant is appearing for the plaintiff.

County Judge William Bushey yesterday conferred an order for the sale of real property from Dora A. Harden, executrix of the estate of Martha A. Brown, to E. D. Alexander, of Stayton.

The final account of H. P. Minto, administrator of the estate of Samuel Hutchinson, was filed with the Marion county clerk yesterday afternoon. The heirs are Alexander Hutchinson, a brother; Mulford Hutchinson, a brother; Hannah Jane Marcher, a sister, all of whom are entitled to one-fifth of the estate; and the surviving children of Lucinda Dwiggin, deceased, a sister of Samuel Hutchinson, are Albert Dwiggin, Lillian May Tibbetts, Mary Miller, E. S. Dwiggin, and Inez Jane Dwiggin, each of whom is entitled to one-sixth share. Judge Bushey allowed the account.

Marriage licenses were issued this morning by the county clerk to James W. Tiddler, a logger of Haver, and Ida Belle Hexon, also of Haver; and Mowse M. Palmer, a laborer of McMinnville, and Myrtle Olsen, of East Independence.

A petition was filed with the county clerk in the matter of the estate of Benton P. Taylor, deceased, by Fred J. Dolbeer, of Pocatello, Idaho, for the payment of one-sixth interest in the estate, which amounts to $74.82. It is stated in the petition that he is the son and heir of Anna Dolbeer, who died in 1910, who was the heir of the decedent. He says that there was a surplus of $445.82 left over from the sale of real property and asked that George G. Bingham, attorney, pay to him the one-sixth due.

Testimony was taken today in the case of Charles Ranson against M. T. Moisan, an action for the collection of a promissory note and for the recovery of money alleged to be due for goods sold and delivered. The amount of the note is given as $341.57. The debt for goods owing the Miller-Speer Lumber company, $75.16, is alleged to have been paid by the plaintiff, while the goods sold and delivered amounted to $248.80. Judgment is asked of the court. The case will probably go to the jury this afternoon.
