RUSSIAN FRONT BENDS BEFORE GERMAN LINE

Germans Claim Decisive Defeat Over Russian Invaders In Galicia

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, L. I., May 3.—The Austro-German forces everywhere pierced and crushed the entire Russian front in western Galicia with the heaviest losses to the enemy, an official statement declared here today.

The Russian line of defeat extended from the junction of the Vistula and Donajec rivers to a point close to the Hungarian frontier, the statement said. The Germans captured 1700 prisoners, together with many guns and quantities of supplies.

In the campaign against the Baltic provinces, the Germans are declared to be steadily advancing. South of Mitau the Russians are fleeing toward Riga while others have been driven across the Schupa river, it was stated.

On the western front no have captured the Fortin farm, southeast of St. Julien, the statement continued. The French yesterday delivered unsuccessful attacks against the summit of Hartmannsweilerkopf. A squad of German aircraft successfully bombarded the airship and railway stations at Epinal.

Court House News

Department No. 2 of the circuit court presided over by Judge William Galloway, was given over to motions and demurrers today, and no regular cases were heard in this department. Tomorrow the Heyner divorce case will occupy the time of the court. This case will be contested, as both sides have a few things to say about the matter.

A neighborhood squabble of several years' standing resulted in Peter Rasmussen, who lives on Howell Prairie, being brought to this city Saturday afternoon to be examined as to his sanity. It appears that Rasmussen, while not insane in many ways, has the fixed idea that a conspiracy exists to rob him of his farm. The situation is further complicated by a mistake in a deed to the place in which a narrow strip on one side is in controversy. Rasmussen appeared to be particularly set in his way and refused to listen to the officers who endeavored to set him right in the matter. He is now being held in the county jail for further examination. He has been in the asylum before and was discharged several years ago.

Tiring of a life of single blessedness at the age of 76 years and five months, Wesley Laney, a farmer of Woodburn, secured a license at the county clerk's office to wed Amanda Norton, who admitted to 65 years. The bride is also of Woodburn.

The questions for the Eighth grade examinations were being sent out today to 90 schools of this county from the office of County School Superintendent W. M. Smith. According to the report of the teachers, about 890 pupils will take the examination. Part of this number, however, is made up of Sixth and Seventh graders, who are taking the final examination in one or two subjects completed in these grades.

A decree awarding a judgment to J. E. Pettycrow against W. C. Rice, Ima Mae Rice and Thomas A. Williams has been handed down by Judge Galloway of department No. 2 of the circuit court of this county. The judgment is in the sum of $625 with interest and $100 additional as attorney's fees, with $25.75 as costs. An order foreclosing a mortgage on real property in connection with the case was also handed down.

The preliminary hearing of L. R. N. Pierce, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was scheduled for this morning in Justice Webster's court, but was postponed until this afternoon. Murray Koester is the complaining witness, and he alleges in his complaint that he ordered a suit of clothes and paid for them last November and that it has not been received yet.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE; IS IT REASONABLE?

"Come Now, Let Us Reason Together, Saith Jehovah."

Remarkable Growth of This Cult—Its Adherents—Their Realization of a Supernatural Power—An Outgrowth of Present Conditions—Are its Teachings Logical?—Perplexing Problems.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 23.—Pastor Russell's discourse here today was based upon the text, "Come now, let us reason together, saith Jehovah; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow."—Isaiah 1:18.

The sermon began with the statement that what a man believes is his own business, and not subject to public criticism; but that when a body of people associate themselves, publish their doctrines to the world and invite members, they lose the individual privilege, and their doctrines are open to public criticism. But doctrines alone may be criticized; and they should be honestly treated, not misinterpreted.

The Pastor then traced the remarkable growth of Christian Science. Its teachings appeal to a very intelligent class of people—a well-to-do class, of considerable mental independence. So far as he has conversed with Christian Scientists, he finds that physical healing seems more or less associated with their conversion to the cult. Either themselves or their friends have been healed. Their realization of the cure convinced them that there is a supernatural power outside of man, and aroused religious sentiment such as they had never before known.

Bewildered Christendom.

The reason for this is that nominal Christianity is merely a form of godliness, without power or conviction, which has spread to such an extent that the whole world is styled Christendom—Christ's Kingdom. Additionally, during the last fifty years a sincere class of Christians have been greatly perplexed because of the stupendous nonsense, intermingled with Truth, which was handed down to us from the Dark Ages. Under the increasing light, thinking people could not swallow some of the monstrous statements of the creeds as readily as did their forefathers; and each denomination has found it necessary to say little about its creed. Thus people are bewildered as to the differences between the various denominations; and many have concluded that the only difference is in forms, ceremonies, etc.

The doctrine that God had foreordained 999 out of every 1,000 to an eternity of torture in fire became too horrible to believe. The alternative doctrine, that God did not foreordain matters thus, but had not the wisdom or the power to avoid such a catastrophe for His creatures, became equally repugnant. Consequently preachers began to tell that the destiny of humanity was not literal fire, but gnawing of conscience, etc.—such preacher manufacturing a Hell of his own.

Under these conditions Christian Science was born. Three things especially favored it: (1) its acceptance of the Bible; (2) its rejection of everlasting torment; (3) its teaching of Divine healing. Mrs. Eddy, its acknowledged head, had a keen mind and considerable wisdom in its exercise. She held to the Bible, though she perverted its teachings. She laid stress on healing, and settled all doctrinal difficulties with the dictum that there is no evil, there is no sin, no death; that what have been so called are merely errors of the mind.

The very absurdity of some of these statements advertised them. At first people said, Absurd! Later they said, We will see how Christian Science explains death, sickness, pain, sin. Thus curiosity led them into the metaphysical labyrinth which Mrs. Eddy had constructed. Having no intelligent knowledge of the Bible, they were in condition to fall an easy prey to "Mother Eddy's" errors.

is Christian Science Logical?

The Pastor then discussed some problems which Christian Science presents to all logical minds. This cult declares that there is no death, and that whoever dies merely commits "mortal error." The fact that for six thousand years mankind have died is surely against this theory. If everybody commits "mortal error," everybody dies. Even "Mother Eddy" finally succumbed. The speaker wondered what solution Christian Science offers for this problem.

Again, if disease is error, if death is the greatest of errors, and if the escaping of "mortal error"—death—brings everlasting life, how do our Christian Science friends expect to get everlasting life, when at the last moment of their trial they make failure? The corollary would be hopeless death to all. In this conclusion the Bible agrees: "The wages of sin is death." Sin brings "mortal error"—death.

But the Bible logically points out God's provision in Christ for mankind's recovery out of this death condition by a resurrection from the dead. (1 Cor. 15:21, 22.) Those who deny that there is death must necessarily deny that Jesus died, and hence deny the Resurrection—Price given for the world's sins.
