O. S. P. TOSSERS WIN FROM SALEM 3 TO 1

Pitchers Battle Between Johnson and Mysterious Twirler Is a Hot One

A bunch of aspirants for the Salem baseball team for the coming season under Manager Humphries journeyed out to the O. S. P. Sunday afternoon for a practice game with their crack ball tossers and unexpectedly gave the spectators a good run for their money.

The game ended with the O. S. P. on the long end of a 3 to 1 score due to the fact that the visiting team were unable to connect with Johnson's big looks when hits meant runs. The Salem team has had no opportunity for batting practice so far this season on account of their park not yet being in condition.

The game turned out to be a pitchers battle between Johnson and a mysterious big leaver who showed up at the pen gate about the time for the game to start and wanted to get a little practice and it was no fault of his that the Salem boys lost. He pitched a fine game allowing only four scattered hits.

The mysterious one will no doubt pitch the opening game next Sunday against Albany if he can be induced to remain in town. At present he is trying to make arrangements to get on with Tacoma in the Northwestern league, having just returned from the Central league where he was unable to play on account of the extreme heat.

The Salem team will start practice tomorrow evening on the high school grounds after 5:30 p. m. and Captain Baker would like to see as many spectators for the team out as possible. The new grounds will be ready in a day or two, but the team needs batting practice.

The batteries were: Pen-Johnson and Turner, Salem-Bender and Baker.

Willamette Beats Chemawa Indians By 5 to 1 Score

By playing heady ball the Willamette baseball team scouted the Chemawa Redskins to the tune of 5 to 1, when the two nines met on the Willamette diamond Saturday afternoon. The game was fast and hard fought at every turn. A feature of the game was the work of Brown, the second baseman for the Chemawa team, who lined out three consecutive to right field, one of them crashing through a large plate glass window in Eaton Hall.

Willamette showed up in good form, each man playing consistent ball. Adams held down the twirler's position during the entire game, his opponents securing but four hits.

The lineups were:

Chemawa	Willamette
Summers	Rain
Hanson	Vickers
Adams	Gates
Adams	Adams
Booth	Booth
Jim	Donne
James	Shisher
Cottenweir	Flegel
Silms	Miller

McMinnville Tennis Cracks Down Willamette Experts

The Bishop brothers, of McMinnville college, won three straight sets when they matched rackets against Jewett and Smith, the regular tennis representatives of Willamette Saturday. Miss E. Scott, the coed representative of the same institution, was defeated by Miss M. Findley, the varsity representative. For the doubles the sets were 6-1, 6-1, and 6-3. In the second match the scores stood 6-1, 6-3 and 6-0. Miss Findley having the best of the three sets from the outset. Flegel, of Willamette, met L. Bishop in men's singles and was defeated in a spectacular game. The sets stood 6-0, 6-1 and 7-5.

Rosedale Wins Interesting Ball Game From Jefferson

The Rosedale baseball team won an interesting game at Jefferson Sunday when they defeated the Jefferson team by a score of 10 to 5. There was a fair-sized crowd in attendance and, barring a soft field, which made fielding slow, the game was exciting from start to finish. Soft grounds were responsible for the big score as, otherwise, the game was very close. Proek's batting and Haight's fielding helped Rosedale to win, while Turk steered of the initial sack for Jefferson. The batteries were: Rosedale—Proek and Gill; Jefferson—Doty and Doty.

Salem Shooters Score High In Portland

Mark Siddall and Orville Wilson, Salem's crack trap shooters, have returned home after taking part in the big handicap state shoot held in Portland last week. By breaking 93 out of 100 Wilson landed fourth place in the state shoot and Siddall tied for second high gun on the Honeyman Medal and won another bar from the Du Pont company by breaking 50 straight. Siddall won the Du Pont trophy in this city and added one bar by his shooting in Salem. On Monday Siddall broke 140 out of his string of 150 birds.

University of Oregon Wins Over Multnomah

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 2.—Oregon ran away with Saturday's dual track meet, scoring 93 points to Multnomah's 22.

Three hundred spectators, huddled up in overcoats, watched Floyd Payne clip 10 seconds from McClelland, the University of Washington runner, who is credited with the northwest collegiate record. Payne started with the mile, running a close fourth in the mile, and finishing the eight furlongs in 9:40 4-5. Payne's performance put him within bidding distance of the coast record held by Holgado of O. A. C. with 9:37 time.

Huggins Wins Mile.
 A surprise came in the mile, when Huggins crossed the tape 40 yards ahead of McClure, his old running partner. Better condition was an evident factor in the race.

Walter Muirhead monopolized the meet, individually taking 20 points. Fee was second with 14 points, Bellah and Philbrook tied for Multnomah, each scoring eight points.

True to Hayward's prediction Oregon captured all the first places excepting the discus and the pole vault, which Multnomah won easily. All in all, the meet was unexciting.

Salem Motorcycle Club Baseball Men Practice

Cliff Parker, captain of the Salem Motorcycle club baseball team trotted out 15 aspirants for his team yesterday afternoon to the high school grounds where they went through a stiff workout. Parker says his cohorts are showing up well for the first practice and that later in the season will be able to give a substantial argument to any amateur team in the country.

STRIKE LEADER FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

John R. Lawson Gets Life Sentence At Hard Labor For Death Of Guard

Trinidad, Colo., May 2.—John R. Lawson, Colorado labor leader and one of the most prominent figures in the recent Colorado strikes, was this afternoon found guilty of murder in the first degree. Lawson was spared a death sentence, but was given life imprisonment at hard labor.

Lawson was charged with the murder of John Nimo, a mine guard at Ludlow. The state did not claim that Lawson actually did the shooting, but indicted him as the leader of the miners at Ludlow where some of the bloodiest fighting during the entire labor war occurred. It was there that several women and children were killed in what has now become famous as the "Ludlow massacre."

"They may get me, boys; but they will not get the cause I stand for," was the statement of Lawson following the announcement of the jury's verdict.

Attorney Hawkins, for the defense, reserved all exceptions and may file a motion for a new trial within 30 days. Judge Hillyer was this afternoon considering whether to admit Lawson to bail or remand him to the custody of the sheriff pending an appeal.

LEWISTON SALUTES OPENING OF RIVER

Salute of Hundred Guns Ushers In Celebration of Auspicious Event

Lewiston, Idaho, May 2.—A salute of 100 guns at sunrise today ushered in Lewiston's celebration in honor of the completion of The Billo-Cello canal, in the Columbia river, which makes it possible for steamers to ply minister-nately from the Pacific ocean to this city and to Priest Rapids on the upper Columbia.

Thousands of visitors were in town, including the governors of the three northwest states, and a congressional delegation representing the United States government.

The celebration culminated in a parade showing the transition from the Indian days with its attendant hardships to the present day of development and prosperity.

This afternoon addresses were delivered by the governors of the three northwestern states, senator Cane, of Oregon, and Senator Borah, of Idaho, also spoke.

The flagship Undine arrived this morning from Portland bearing 100 distinguished visitors. It was the first steamer to ever make the passage from Portland to Lewiston.

Commercial Club Will Hold Important Meeting

The meeting this evening of the members of the Commercial club at the Marion hotel promises to dispose of matters that will have a far-reaching effect on the welfare of Salem.

It is to be a meeting not only of discussion but one of action, as two subjects of vital importance will be discussed. The first problem to be discussed, and the one which has much to do with the future of Salem, is: Will the various civic bodies of Salem re-organize and consolidate into one chamber of commerce, following the plan of Portland and other cities?

If this is decided in the affirmative, the next question to be brought before the club will be the employment of H. V. Chase, the man who brought over 10 organizations in Portland into one center body, and who has been successful in over 65 cities in his town development work. Letters and telegrams have been received from cities who have employed Mr. Chase, and the opinion is unanimous that his work had produced the desired results.

Just at present there is a general opinion among business men that something must be done, and now is the time to do it.

Eleven Men Awaiting Death In California

Sacramento, Cal., May 2.—The abolition of capital punishment having been voted down by the legislature, the state of California will proceed with the work of executing 11 men.

It was announced at the governor's office today that the executions will take place from now on as specified as the law permits. There will be no more reprieves. Pending the action of the legislature, it is said Governor Johnson granted reprieves giving the condemned men a last chance to escape the death penalty if it should be the will of the people to abolish capital punishment.

Two executions are slated for this month. Fernando Mampalito, who was reprieved to May 21, will be hanged at San Quentin on that date. Uag Sing, a Chinese murderer from San Joaquin county will be hanged at Folsom the same day.

In most other cases, appeals have been made to the supreme court and the dates of execution to be reset by the superior courts are uncertain.

Yard Gains Mean Much In Burrowing Tactics of Armies

the top of the German trench to dry. To the left and right of you there is the occasional crack of a Lebel, and about as often you hear the German replying. At the base of the brick wall, under the loophole you look through many fragments of brick have been snapped by hostile bullets. The line of battle as you follow it extends through brick cottages, across streets, over vacant lots, factories, stores, pretty homes, vegetable gardens and what not. Through the sides of one little cottage the soldiers are firing at loopholes in the wall of another only 25 feet away. Some times they use cannon at close range. Guns capable of hurling shells many miles bombard houses only the streets width away.

And all this time, subterranean warfare is being waged. From the cellar of cottages or factories the French are tunnelling toward the German lines, the Germans toward them. When the tunnel reaches the proper place, a heavy charge of dynamite is exploded, and a new slight gain is made. You see now the reason for these little yard gains boasted of in the official communiqués. At Vermeille, in that same region a gain of only a few yards determined the abandonment of the whole town by the Germans after 53 days of fighting and the digging of about four miles of tunnels.

Now you know about the situation near Arras. Watch the communique for what happens there.

Salem Man Killed By Engine In Portland

The funeral of Frank J. Welch, who was killed in Portland yesterday morning by a freight train, was held this afternoon from the family residence one-quarter mile east of the asylum. According to two eye witnesses to the accident, Mr. Welch was crossing some switch tracks in the United Railway yards at Twelfth and Overton streets, when he dozed in from in front of one engine only to fall in front of another switch engine coming in another direction. The tracks at this point are placed close together and many switch engines are running most of the time, making it dangerous for the most active person to cross the tracks at any time.

The young man is a son of Noah Welch, and was born and raised in Salem. He was 23 years of age and graduated from the Salem high school in 1911, afterwards attending the Oregon Agricultural college. He left this institution to enter the nursery-business with his brother and had been in business about two years in this city. He was unmarried and is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Welch, and Maurice Welch, a brother; Mrs. Roy Melson, Mrs. Charles Fuller and Misses May Welch, Alice Welch and Mildred Welch, all of this city.

Mrs. Carman Faces Second Trial On Murder Charge

Mineola, L. I., May 3.—Charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Binyon, who was shot down in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman at Freeport, Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, beautiful wife of the well-to-do physician, went on trial here today for the second time here charged with the murder of her husband. Fashionably dressed with gray showing through slightly tinged with her husband's hair, she came to the court with her husband's hat and unperjured, the accused woman took her place at her counsel's table with Dr. Carman. As the examination of witnesses progressed, Mrs. Carman frequently consulted a notebook which she carried.

As was the case when the first trial opened last fall, the Mineola courtroom was thronged today. The trial room was so packed that the court had to be removed to the courtroom unless some good reason for their presence could be shown. Scores of would-be spectators were thus turned away.
