In order to better understand the arrangement of the three decks of the steamer Northern Pacific, and to find out how one of the finest passengers, J. W. Ritchie, local agent for the Oregon Electric, made a special trip to "Havel" in speaking of his visit to the boat Mr. Ritchie said: "The whole steamer reminded me of the finest hotel in Portland, furnished with all that wealth and artistic tastes could devise. The rest rooms, reading rooms and the dining room, twice the size of the dining room in the Marion hotel, has all the equipment of the noted New York restaurants. In fact, a trip on one of these boats is just like living the life of a millionaire for awhile."

Vicious Vandals Raid and Destroy Asylum Rose Hedge

Superintendent R. E. Lee Steiner reported this morning that, some time during the night, last night, some vandals, or set of vandals, made a raid upon the hedge of Caroline Testout roses along Twenty-fourth street in front of the insane asylum, stripped the bushes of every bloom and tore up and carried away a number of the bushes by the roots. Dr. Steiner says that it was the most vicious act of wanton destruction and ruin that he has encountered in his experience, and although no clue has as yet been obtained as to the identity of the perpetrators, a thorough investigation is being made, and if the guilty party or parties are caught they will be prosecuted to the limit.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

The application for bail for Clarence department No. 1 of the circuit court this morning before Judge Percy R. Kelly, who took the matter under advisement. Attorney John A. Carson, for the defendant, held that the abolition of capital punishment by the people at the last election changed the policy of the law. He said that since the punishment for first degree murder was the same as for second degree murder, there was, in reality, no first degree murder under the new statute, and even if there was it was the same as second degree murder, which was a bailable offense.

The second contention of attorneys for the defense brought out by Attorney Ross, of Silverton, was that according to the testimony of Mrs. Zimmerman the body of the murdered man was found at least 20 feet from the place where the two men first came together, showing that Bursell retreated this distance. This was held to indicate that Bursell acted in self-defense, which will be one of the contentions of the defense at the trial of Bursell.

Attorney Ringo argued that by the testimony showed the affair to be a cold-blooded murder in that Bursell is said to have fired without warning before any words passed between the two men. His main contention was that if the policy of the people had changed by the passage of the law it would be so stated in the law. The transcript of the evidence taken in justice court was turned over to Judge Kelly to aid him in making his decision.

A suit to collect a commission alleged to be due on a real estate transaction was filed yesterday in the circuit court by S. R. Tandy against A. C. Libby. It is alleged in the complaint that the plaintiff while in the real estate business in Jefferson with J. F. Helmshe sold 105.02 acres of land to the defendant to Abby C. Phillips and Charlotte Phillips. He claims a commission of $300 and asks judgment for this amount with the costs of the action. Attorney James G. Helzel is representing the plaintiff.

The Salem Title & Mercantile company has filed a suit in the circuit court against W. S. Mott to collect the sum of $145.76 alleged due on a promissory note. The sum of $50 is asked for attorney fees. An assigned claim on an alleged note for $200 to Kate Hart is also involved in the controversy and the sum of $50 is sought as attorney's fees in connection with this latter claim. Attorneys Smith & Shields represent the plaintiff.

An order was issued by Judge Bushey today declaring Agnes Burl Purdin and Nelson R. Jacobson to be in contempt of court in connection with an order of the judge dated January 4, 1915. They were given five days to comply with the order and in case they did not C. E. Yergen was ordered to pay to C. E. Christensen, administrator of the estate of Ellen Ramsey Van Wessenhove, deceased, the sum of $1250, which is the face value of a note now in possession of Agnes Burl Purdin and Mr. Jacobson and belonging to the above estate and signed by C. A. Yergen and payable to Agnes Burl Purdin.

Marriage licenses for the month of June brides have begun to filter out through the county clerk's office. Three were issued this morning: Frederic Burton Chase, a Woodburn druggist, and Catherine R. Becker, also of Woodburn; Edward F. Ainsworth, farmer, who gave his residence as 840 Trade street, Salem, and Mrs. J. C. Bourmier, of this city; Herman L. Harper, a farmer of Turner, and Alice Geneva Earl, a saleslady of this city, were the three couples.

County Clerk Max Gehhar went to Woodburn today to receive zopher and mole scalps. The law states that bounties shall be paid only upon scalps received personally by the county clerk, and as it is inconvenient for many of the people in the outlying district to come to this city the county clerk will make trips to other towns as the summer progresses. Mr. Gehhar will receive scalps in Silverton June 15.
