Mixed gasoline means less kick and less mileage. The heavier vapor, being too "slow," burns without exploding.

Red Crown the Gasoline of Quality gives you the miles you pay for. It is a straight refinery gasoline—not a mixture. It atomizes easily—explodes quickly, completely.

"MAKE MINE A MALTED MILK"

One hundred and forty-one thousand, two hundred times a year this order is repeated by students of the University of Wisconsin to Madison dealers, says the Madison Daily Cardinal.

These figures are not the result of guess work, but are based on carefully compiled reports submitted by dealers in the University district.

Some idea of the vastness of the consumption of Horlick's Malted Milk by the students of this one University alone may be gained when it is considered that the straw used in seeding would, if placed end to end, cover a line thirteen miles long, while the total amount of Malted Milk would fill a reservoir of thirteen thousand gallons.

The investigation also developed the fact that the students do not order Malted Milk merely as a delicacy or a thirst quencher, but because they have discovered that it highly nourishing and sustaining qualities enable them to make a satisfying lunch on a "glass of Horlick's."

THE USE OF SOAP SPOILS THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary unsulfated coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get unsulfated coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

Followed by lemonade, All through the day parade; Life-saving auto. Great stunt! Beer to the right of them, Beer to the left of them, Lemonade sprinkler in front.

Give them a cheer or two, Paint the air black and blue, Give them a yell, good and loud, Hurrah! for the Cherrians, Hurrah! for the merry uns, Salem, sing out and be proud.

Ciricillo and His World Renowned Band Coming Back

LAST year the whole country was searched for a better band than had ever been brought to the western slope before. Ciricillo's Concert Band was selected, and the choice was promptly indorsed by the patrons of sixty Chautauques, all the cities in which Ciricillo appeared. An insistent demand arose for his return, and the result is that Ciricillo's Band, improved and enlarged, has been engaged for the 1915 season. This is the only attraction of thirty on the program of the last assembly which returns this year. The success of this band is hard to analyze, for it depends on so many superior characteristics. The greatest is the leader himself. He transmits his magnetic, forceful personality to his players to a degree that is rare, even among great band leaders. The work of this conductor is full of life and vitality. Every effect is a superlative. His diminuendos are light as the flutter of a bird's wing, though every instrument is sounded, and his crescendos are powerful and climactic. Whether playing popular or classic selections, the full power and melody are brought out so the listener catches the true spirit of the composer. All will be glad of another opportunity to hear Ciricillo's Band.

The Ellison-White Chautauqua Co. have organized one of the greatest amusement organizations in the world. Through their efforts the people of Salem and vicinity are permitted to see some of the most talented people and acts of the United States and Europe that otherwise would never be brought to Salem.

There were enough tickets sold last year in advance for this year's Chautauqua as a guarantee to Ellison-White Co. that the Chautauqua would be a success, thus showing that those attending last year were more than pleased with the entertainment.

There have been a great number of new attractions added for this year, and every act staged will be appreciated by all. Get a season ticket and see the first performance, as this year's Chautauqua will be good from the first raise of the curtain to the finale.
