CUPID

I've pictures of you upon my wall— Some of them large, some of them small— But pictures, you know, never tell all; I want to know how you enthrall!

Hearts and souls of maids and men, So they're never the same again; But always talking about when They're going to marry and live again.

You're a quiver of arrows at your side, Somewhere about you I am sure you hide, I've looked and looked, but never spied The mystic solution in which they are dyed.

That sets the hearts of lover's afire So they can say "nothing" and never tire, About such things none else would admire, And both of them rave o'er the notes of a "lyre."

Cease to talk music and mythical fables, Begin to talk sofas and dining-room tables; Talk of the things they will buy when able, Till it ends in a rival of ancient Babel.

Tell me, O Cupid, in all creation, Is there such a thing as vaccination, That will save a soul from inoculation With the poison that works such con- sternation? —H. E. M.

CELEBRATE AT HUBBARD.

The committee at work on the Fourth of July program has something in mind that will make the celebration this year approach an industrial parade, which will be as appropriate as anything that could be suggested. It is a big time that includes every member of the family and not one left out. There'll be band music and everybody likes to go to Wolfers' grove, so once are two good things to begin with. But a big feature of the day's doings is the parade, which forms at 10 o'clock to move at 10:30. The parade will form at the school house and traverse the principal streets of the town and march to the grove where everybody will enjoy their dinner in picnic style. At 1:30 the program will begin with band music and their singing and an oration by Mr. Frank McCall of Portland.

After the program comes the ball game, then the races in town, every one for a snack prize.—Enterprise.

SCHOOL ELECTION IS ON THIS AFTERNOON IN SALEM DISTRICT

Polls Open From Two Until Six O'Clock--Three Candidates In Field

The polls opened for the school district election in the different wards of the city at 2 o'clock this afternoon and remain open until 6 (six) this evening (the hour of closing was previously announced as 8 o'clock, but the general school election laws provide for 6 o'clock closing of polls). It is believed that a light vote will be polled as there is no particular issue involved, the three prominent candidates pitted against one another being all well qualified and fitted for the position of trust and honor, and the element of personal popularity and business standing will probably enter into the result very strongly.

The three candidates are Max O. Buren, who is a candidate for reelection and is standing upon his record for the past five years; Dr. H. C. Epley, who served one term as school director and his record is well known to the taxpayers, and Mrs. Z. A. Rosebraugh, taxpayer, former school teacher and mother of four children attending the grade schools, who has the endorsement of the woman's clubs and societies.

The vote will be canvassed by the Salem school board in annual meeting at the high school this evening and the result announced in tomorrow's paper.

The polling places are: Ward No. 1—Garfield school (basement); Ward No. 2, City council chamber, Ward No. 3—Wm. Brown & Co.'s office, Ward No. 4—Reese & Elgin garage, Ferry street, Ward No. 5—Grant school (basement), Ward No. 6—Holding's hall, East Center street, Ward No. 7—Lincoln school (basement).
