

LUSCIOUS SALEM CHERRY HELD SWAY

Shipment Reaches Willamette Booth--All Comers Are Given Sample

Oregon Building, Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, June 22--The luscious Salem cherry held sway at the Willamette booth in the Oregon building Sunday. A shipment sent for the regular weekly judging by the horticultural jurists was put in paper bags by Marjorie's representative at the Willamette booth, W. A. Taylor, and during Sunday afternoon all comers were given a sample of the magnificent cherries grown in the famous Willamette valley. And there were plenty of visitors, Sunday always brings one of the largest crowds of the week and by sending to San Francisco newspaper representatives a box or two of the finest, Mr. Taylor was able to secure for this occasion special mention that brought an unusual number to the Willamette valley booth. With Dr. Dunsmuir, of Polk county, and Mr. Warren, of Eugene, Marjorie's representative had all that he could do to stem the tide. The visitors not only took the cherries but much benedictine about the valley, and many remained to inquire and ask questions. The section has done its share in bringing publicity to Oregon and especially to the Willamette. Every opportunity of this sort is being taken advantage of and the building, largely one of the most popular on the grounds, is in increasing favor. It is especially pleasing that the representatives of the different sections of Oregon unite in making the special effort of the other sections as successful as possible. Laskoy, of the eastern Oregon booth, was particularly active with Mr. Taylor in Sunday's session and rendered valuable assistance.

The next big occasion at the Oregon building will be Oregon Cherry Day, July 1st. Elaborate preparation is being made and large quantities of Royal Annettes and Blings, etc., from the Willamette valley, The Dalles, Hood River and southern Oregon will be given away in the effort to make the state remembered pleasantly and as a real cherry state.

Many Prizes Awarded.

Grand prize for the "best, most complete, and most attractive" exhibit in horticulture, together with a score of gold and silver medals for individual exhibits in horticulture, grand prize for the "best general display of forage products," including all unthreshed grain, together with three medals of honor, 24 gold medals, 69 silver medals and 89 bronze medals for various products of the soil. How is that for one week's awards for Oregon? From the noise being made by the six or eight states in direct competition, the Oregon winners ought to be satisfactory to Oregonians. Oregon fruit is now officially recognized as the best and Oregon forage products will become as favorably known as the Oregon rose.

In the horticultural awards, the Willamette valley was given a gold medal on Italian plums. However, long before the jury announced its decision the public had decided that the Willamette plums were incomparably superior to any other to be tasted on the grounds.

When it came to processed fruits, the splendid display from the Rogue River valley--Medford, Ashland and Grants Pass--captured the gold medal and the admiration of every visitor to the exhibit. Douglas and Wasco counties and the Willamette valley were each given a silver medal for their fine displays of bottled fruits.

All of the awards in horticulture were made on the showing in the Palace of Horticulture alone, the magnificent displays in the Oregon building being excluded from competition. The winning Oregon exhibit, in charge of G. N. Ravlin, is a beauty, particularly delightful for its simplicity and the absence of the fussiness so common here. Each fruit section of the state contributed a full share to the big winning and is entitled to equal credit.

Oregonians on the exposition grounds are particularly pleased that the state captured the grand prize in forage crops. While Oregonians know that general farming represents the larger portion of the wealth of the state, and that the state is unexcelled in the production of superior forage and grains, the apple and pear booster, more active than the rest, has made Oregon known most largely as a premier horticultural state. The magnificent showing in the Palace of Horticulture has made a tremendous impression and in winning the grand prize has brought Oregon's larger share to the attention of the nation, which will now know that Oregon can raise hogs, feed dairy animals and beat the world in other things than fruit. This is particularly gratifying to G. E. Freytag, of Oregon City, who is director of agricultural exhibits.

"Bill" Hauley, Oregon's biggest rancher, who operates one little corner of over 200,000 acres in Harney county, was here a day or so ago and said the exposition has finally pleased Oregon where she ought to be among the farming states and he is as delighted with her success as any proud father could be of an only son.

The others indicted with O'Leary will be tried in October.

BLUES TRIM REDS IN FAST GAME AT PEN

Kellers' Cohorts Pull Off Full Nine Inning Game In 57 Minutes

On Sunday afternoon the famous Penitentiary Blue team engaged the equally famous Penitentiary Red team in the second game of the series for the Prison championship. The contest proved one of the most exciting and well balanced games of ball ever seen at the Penitentiary. After nine innings of real baseball, punctuated by thrilling plays both at the bat and in the field, the Blues were returned the victor by a score of 4 to 3.

The game was won in the ninth inning after two were out, when Tanager of the Blues received a base on balls, stole second and third and came home on a base hit by Chief Johnson.

This event the series between the two teams each having won one game. The features of the game were the home run hit by Hiram Johnson, the hitting of Woodward and Burke, the pitching of Johnson and Devitt and catching of Tanager.

There is no question but from these two teams the Penitentiary can pick a team that will hold its own against any amateur or semi-professional team in the State of Oregon. Today's game showed the Penitentiary ball players to have reached their very highest form and any team desiring to meet the Penitentiary on Saturday or Sunday afternoon should communicate with Patrol Officer Joseph E. Keller.

VOLUNTARY PAID FEES, THO ILLEGAL, NOT RECOVERABLE

Attorney General Holds Foreign Corporations Are Not Entitled To Refund

Attorney General Brown has given Corporation Commissioner Schuldnerman an opinion in which he holds that, inasmuch as foreign corporations paid their annual license fees voluntarily during the years 1903 to 1913, upon the graduated basis, according to amount of capitalization, paid such license fees voluntarily when they had means at hand, by appealing to courts, to avoid the same, such fees are not recoverable.

The graduated fee basis of license for foreign corporations, as provided by an act of the legislature of 1903, was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court in 1913. In the meantime, however, a considerable amount of fees, approximating between $75,000 and $100,000, was collected and now some of the foreign corporation attorneys are writing the corporation department demanding a refund. Corporation Commissioner Schuldnerman referred the matter to the attorney general who has found plenty of authority upon which to base his opinion holding that the fees are not recoverable and a refund will, therefore, be refused by the state.

How To Prevent Acid Stomachs And Food Fermentation

By a Stomach Specialist. As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, that which causes all the pain and difficulty, is excessive acid in the stomach, aggravated by food fermentation. Hyper-acidity irritates delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally, causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements--acid and wind. In all such cases--and they comprise over 90 per cent of all stomach difficulties--the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bisaturated magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stapper almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisaturated magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.--E. J. G.

BOTH SIDES GUILTY OF 'ATROCITIES' IS THE POPE'S OPINION

Paris, June 21--Pope Benedict is of the opinion that belligerent of both sides have been guilty of so-called "atrocities" in the war and is not inclined to put all the blame on the Germans, according to Louise Latapie, correspondent of La Liberte, who was granted an interview with his holiness. The correspondent told the pope that the French regarded his silence in regard to the alleged war crimes as strange.

"Then the people of France are unjust, or rather misinformed," Pope Benedict is quoted as having replied. "I blame you journalists for this. I first addressed a letter to the powers favoring a peaceful settlement; then I proposed a Christian truce and next endeavored to obtain an exchange of prisoners and secured appreciable results."

Asked for an expression on the sinking of the Lusitania by a submarine, the pope said: "I do not know of a more frightful misdeed. My heart is the heart of the father--it is heavy and torn. But do you believe the blockade which is drawn about Germany and Austria, condemning millions of innocent people to famine is war really inspired by human sentiments?"

Immigration Inspector Visits State Institutions

R. P. Bonham, of Portland, inspector of the United States immigration service, is in the city today. It is Mr. Bonham's business to look into and to attend to the deportation of aliens in the state institutions who are not legal citizens of this country. On account of the war, it has been difficult to return aliens to their own country within the war zone. If an incompetent alien has been brought to this country by an American vessel, he can be returned on the same ship. In fact, any vessel bringing such an alien, is obliged to return them to their own country. The immigration service, co-operating with the department of labor, is doing a great service in getting the jobless men and the job together. Recently, this service was instrumental in securing employment for 500 in the Hood River section during the strawberry season. Many of these workers are now on the farms in the Hood River valley.

CITY COUNCIL TO REGULATE JITNEYS AND AUTOS FOR HIRE

Otto Wilson Is New Alderman and Alderman Mills Is Acting Mayor

At the regular meeting of the council last night it was proposed to prepare an ordinance in this city regulating jitneys and cars for hire, and an ordinance was read which provides for pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers keeping a record of purchases. The jitney ordinance was proposed in a communication from Mayor Harley O. White, in which he stated that jitneys were operated without being controlled by any other than the ordinance regulating ordinary traffic while they were in the regular passenger carrying business. No bonds were required and in case of accidents there was nothing under which the owners could be held. The mayor suggested an indemnity bond of $2,000 for each car and a special bond from the owners of $1,000, and that the jitneys be compelled to keep to a regular schedule. Alderman Van Eschen suggested that autos for hire be included, and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee and city attorney to bring in an ordinance for first reading at the next meeting of the council.

In favor of the ordinance regulating pawnshops and second-hand stores Chief of Police Welch stated that the present ordinance was not drastic enough and that stolen goods could be purchased and the police had no record of the transaction. The ordinance read was patterned after the one in operation in Portland and the matter was referred to the ordinance committee to bring in an ordinance at the next regular meeting of the council.

Frank Ward, who tendered his resignation as alderman at the last meeting of the council, will be succeeded as alderman of the third ward by Otto Wilson. Mr. Wilson's election in council last night was unanimous, and he will be installed at the next regular meeting. The next meeting will be held July 6, which is Tuesday, as Monday, July 5, is a legal holiday.

W. H. Dalrymple received the contracts for paving Bellevue street from the east line of Commercial street to the west line of Liberty street, also for the paving of Liberty street from the north line of Oak street to the north line of Bellevue street. The pavement in both cases is to be a six-inch base of crushed gravel concrete with a bituminous wearing surface. There were three bidders for the work and that of Mr. Dalrymple was the lowest at both blocks. A petition was read for the improvement of Church street from the south line of D street to North Mill creek. The petition was referred to the street committee.

Bids of the Union Oil Co. and the Standard Oil Co. were opened on a card of oil for lining the streets. The bid of the Union Oil Co.'s bid at $1.01 per barrel of 42 gallons was accepted, and an order placed for a 300-barrel contract. The bid of B. D. Moores on behalf of the cherriers for the right to place cones on the streets of the city during the Cherry fair was granted. A petition was read from H. L. Steiner and about 160 others asking that a concrete bridge be built across North Mill creek on Center street from Twenty-fifth street to the Turner road, asking that this highway be fixed up and placed in repair, was read and referred to the street committee.

E. H. Sprangier sent in a communication from Portland through Ralph Watson, his attorney, stating that he was injured on the night of May 15 of this year by reason of a defective sidewalk on the east side of Liberty street, between Ferry and Hill streets. Mr. Sprangier sought damages as follows: For doctor's fees, $50; for medicine, $10; for loss to business, $150, and for physical anguish, $10,000, or a total of $10,210. The bill was not paid last night, but was referred to the city attorney.

The bill for costs in the case of H. D. Trover which was carried to the circuit court on a writ of review was given as $17.50. City Attorney Trindle stated that the city still had 90 days in which to file an appeal to the supreme court in case this case should be carried to the higher court.

"Is $17.50 all that it has cost so far?" asked Alderman Mills. He was told that if the case were closed now that this was all it would cost the city.

"Then let's forget it," was his motion, and it carried. The Trover case is officially "forgotten."

The report of the light committee was read giving the placing of the new lights and advising the removal of some which are already in place to other corners. J. D. Warring was present and objected on behalf of the property owners in this section to the removal of the light from Kearney and Commercial streets to Mission and Commercial, a block away. Alderman Maey spoke in defense of the action of the light committee and Mr. Warring asked that the removal of the light be deferred for a week in order that the property owners might take some action in regard to paying for the light themselves rather than to have it removed. Councilman Jones, Mills and Cook were named as a special committee to investigate the light matter.

Mrs. H. P. Suth and Ruth H. Denison notified the council that they would remonstrate against the paving of the Fairgrounds road. The matter of the bonds of Clyde O. Rice as city treasurer was referred to the finance committee.
