LOVE at first sight was awarded last night, says Sunday's Oregon Journal, "when the happy romance of Miss Carrie Lee Chamberlain, daughter of United States Senator and Mrs. George E. Chamberlain, and Miss Donald Wood, calculated in a simple wedding at the home of the bride's parents, 681 Tillamook street. It was about three months ago that Miss Chamberlain and Mr. Wood first met at a gathering of young people at the home of Senator and Mrs. Chamberlain. The little love god was a very busy personage on that occasion, and both of the young people knew they had been a target for his arrows. About a week ago announcement was made to the parents of the happy pair that a wedding should be held immediately. The lovers had decided that the wedding should be very simple, with only relatives present. Two seasons ago Miss Chamberlain made her debut in Washington society, where she was a popular member of the younger set. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock last night by the Rev. Henry Marcotte, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church. Mr. Wood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wood, 741 Wasco street. E. C. Wood is manager of the Kohler & Chase piano house by whom his son is also employed. The bridegroom came to Portland about 7 months ago from California. He is a graduate of St. Mary's college at Oakland. He is an all-star athlete and a member of the Phi Kappa Gamma fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home at the Parkhurst apartments.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Shefford took a morning trip to Roseburg this morning to return Edward Middleton to the city. Middleton was arrested in Roseburg this morning on a charge of larceny by false pretense in this city and it is probable that the charge of removing mortgaged property from the city will also be placed against him. Middleton is a horse trader and operated around this city about two months ago. It is said by the officers that he left a number of unpaid bills here and that he will be welcomed to our fair city by a number of creditors.

Ernest Underwood was bound over to the grand jury in justice court this morning under $250 bail on two charges of soliciting for a woman of ill fame and of selling liquor in prohibition territory. He was unable to furnish bail and was taken back to the county jail.

Constable E. E. Cooper returned from Dayton, Washington, with his men last night after having ruthlessly interrupted the honeymoon of Edlerwood and Miss Jackson of this city. Miss Jackson arrived in Dayton on the same train with the warrant for Underwood's arrest. The officers in that city spoiled the nuptials by arresting Underwood and Constable Cooper returned soon after. Miss Jackson came back to this city on the same train with the officer and his prisoner. Underwood characterized his arrest as an "outrage" and said that had the officers only notified him that he was wanted here would have taken the next train for Salem.

An order approving the final account in the estate of Eleanor M. Colony, deceased, was issued today by Judge Bushby in the probate court. Miss E. Colony, administratrix of the estate, was ordered discharged from further duties.

County Clerk Max Gishler went to Hubbard and Aurora today to receive papers and make copies that have been collected in that section. He will return to Salem this evening.

The grand jury is in session today to try up a number of indictments for the coming July term of court which convenes July 9 in Judge Kelly's department.

Judge Galloway of department No. 2 of the circuit court, went to Albany today to hold court in that city. A number of cases in equity are pending in that county.

A complaint has been filed in the circuit court by H. Bartel against the Waldo Hills Orchard company. The action is brought to recover $140 alleged due on a promissory note. The plaintiff seeks to recover judgment for $140.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES SELECT OFFICERS AFTER BUSY SESSION

Salem Man Chosen Delegate To National Convention—More Pay Favored

The Oregon State Letter Carriers' association and the United Association Postoffice Clerks, which met in this city Saturday, went on record by adopting resolutions urging that night work of postal employees be reduced to seven hours; that seniority of service govern in assigning employees to day work; that employees, after serving a certain length of time, be retired on pensions; that the Hamill bill now before congress be endorsed and that the compensations to money orders be abolished.

With about 175 delegates present, the business of the convention was taken up Saturday afternoon, at which time Secretary Lane gave a short address. Shortly after six o'clock, when the Portland delegation arrived, the carriers and clerks paraded the streets, led by the carriers and clerks of 25 pieces from the Portland office. Following an auto ride given to the visiting delegates, a banquet was served at the Marion to the delegates, the Salem carriers and clerks and their wives, about 200, attending.

The officers elected for the coming year are as follows:

For the Oregon Letter Carriers' association: President, J. L. Etchison, Oregon City; vice-president, G. W. Emery, Eugene; secretary-treasurer, Fred P. Holm, Portland; delegate to the National convention, C. D. Borchy, Salem. The retiring officers were: President, K. P. Loop, McMinnville; vice-president B. T. Kuebler, Salem; secretary-treasurer, Fred P. Holm, Portland.

Officers were elected by the Oregon branch of the National Association of Postoffice Clerks as follows: President, H. Yonke, Oregon City; vice-president, U. S. Rider, Salem; secretary, J. H. Butler, Portland, and delegate to the National convention, Walter Worrell, Albany.

The addresses of the evening followed the banquet. Rev. Jas. E. Elvin, toastmaster, stated that while the clerks and carriers had secured the passage of the eight hour law, raised the entrance salaries from $600 to $800, eliminated Sunday work, secured the compensation law by which the government pays an insurance of $5,000 in case of death after one year of service, that they now intend to fight for retirement allowances for superannuated letter carriers; full pay for letter collectors; improvement in sanitary conditions; and a court of their own to pass on the de-promotion of employees and finally to divorce the service from politics.

Mayor Harley O. White welcomed the delegates to the city, and August Beckstein in behalf of the Salem postal clerks and employees.

HOP GROWERS' ASSN. DIRECTORS' BOARD REFUSES 14 CENTS

Full Confidence Is Expressed In Executive Committee's Ability to Administer

After placing their stamp of approval upon the work of the executive committee up to date and reposing unbounded confidence in the committee's ability to cope with whatever situation may present itself in the future; electing two new members to fill vacancies on the board, and turning down a bona fide offer of 14 cents for 500 bales of 1915 hops the board of directors of the Oregon Hop Growers' association adjourned Saturday evening after a very busy session, subject to the call of President M. L. Jones, or the executive committee.

The refusal of 14 cents for 500 bales of this year's crop of hops is perhaps the most significant action of the board of directors as it is a strong testimonial of the association's belief based upon inside information that there is a much better future in store for the hop industry this season in spite of the decidedly bearish reports circulated, concerning the inactivity and indifference of the English and eastern buyers. It means, while not so given out for publication, that the association has decided to hold off from the market indefinitely so as to afford the membership the best possible price the market will yield.

Last week the association was able to secure a price of 13 1/2 cents for a block of approximately 50,000 pounds, or about 280 bales, for direct London shipment which was at that time 1 1/2 cents in advance of the regular market price quoted to growers outside of the association—many of the latter having sold for 11 and even 10 cents. Deals have been reported with the individual grower at 14 cents already and the association feels that if it does not secure a material advance of the regular "open market" quotations it is not serving the best interests of its membership. The 13 1/2-cent sale was virtually 2 cents per pound "velvet" for the association grower over and above the dealer's commission of 1-2 cent.

As stated in Saturday's Journal the association received unqualified assurance that its form of contract is in all respects legal and enforceable, reports placed in circulation to the contrary notwithstanding, from its legal counsel John H. McNary, of the law firm of McNary & McNary, and all doubts upon this score have been set at rest and the association will proceed upon its original basis of conducting business with perfect assurance that everything is well for the protection of the growers as well as the organization. No new plans were adopted or suggested regarding the future policy of the executive committee and the latter were given a free hand in dealing with the conduct of the association's affairs with an expression of confidence in their ability to succeed.

John Grant, former sheriff of Polk county for many years and one of the most substantial growers of that county, was elected a member of the board of directors to succeed Conrad Krebs, of Portland, retired, and J. H. Miley, of Astoria, who resigned on account of ill health and inability to serve the association to the best advantage.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and headache, and had a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSING, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
