SENATORS HUMBLE CORVALLIS IN FAST GAME BY 9-3 SCORE

Turner's New Recruits and Wilson Are Too Much For O. A. C. Stars

"Too much Adams" wailed Corvallis yesterday when the Senatorial batters fell upon Spence's slants and pounded him out of the box and then nipped Siebert for six hits and won the game 9 to 3. The visitors were handed goose eggs for seven innings then "Sunday" Wilson, who was on the mound for the Senators let down and Corvallis bunched four hits and aided by a passed ball chased in three runs. Craig was on the sick list yesterday and Wilson filled the box in a creditable manner allowing seven widely scattered hits up to the eighth inning.

Hauser, the Chemawa backstop afflicted behind the big mit like a loggery and Adams, the new recruit at second, poked out three clean singles and a home run in four trips to the plate. Adams fielding and base running was a feature of the contest and he has won a warm spot in the affections of the Salem fans. The Senators started trouble in the first inning when Adams singled and scored on Jones' single. In the second West walked and Adams pounded the ball into the creek and completed the circuit.

In the fifth Berry, who played right field, got first on the catcher's error and scored when Adams contributed his usual single. Adams scored a moment later on Hauser's hit to short. Jones scored in the next inning on a hit of his own and one by Miller.

The Senators' three more in the seventh when Adams walked and Hauser was safe on the catcher's error. Humphreys sacrificed and Jones and Bell bunted in the two redskins. Bell scored on a passed ball. McAllen then went out as catcher for Corvallis and Howard took his place. The catching department was the one weak spot in the Corvallis line-up and errors of McAllen were responsible for several runs. Captain Siebert said that Hayes would catch in the games to be played here July 2 and 3. He will also bring the slim pitcher, Williams, that almost drubbed the Senators last time who with Spence and Siebert will make up the pitching staff for the week end Cherry fair series.

During the seven years between 1891 and 1897 he gained no less than 12 Scottish amateur championships (six for putting the weight and six for throwing the hammer), and represented Scotland against Ireland in the first four years of the annual contest, being the winner of the putting event in 1897. In 1895 and again in 1896 he established putting records for Scotland at Powdermill, Edinburgh, or 43 feet 1 inch and 43 feet 3 inches, respectively. He was connected with the Queen's Edinburgh for 20 years.
