JUDGE GALLOWAY IS BELIEVER IN RETURN OF PROSPEROUS TIMES Extends Time In Foreclosure Suit To Let Defendant Recover Losses

"I firmly believe that better conditions will prevail in a year from now, the war will close and with the coming flood of prosperity the defendant, John McHugh, will be enabled to recover his losses and save his farm," said Judge Galloway from the bench Saturday afternoon in handing down his decision in the foreclosure suit of P. E. Shafer against John McHugh and Kate McHugh, his wife. His honor accordingly tempered justice with humanity and extended the foreclosure date six months until January 1, 1916. The defendant will then be allowed a year from that date to redeem the land in question.

The committee in charge of the program for next Friday, the first day of fractive features of the Cherry Fair, will assemble at the capital grounds next Friday morning before ten o'clock. The parade will proceed west on Court to Cottage street, south on Cottage to State, and east on State street where the awards will be made, and from State returning to the Capitol grounds. This will be the only event of Friday morning and according to those in charge of this feature, at least 250 babies will be entered. With the exception of the general sweepstake prize, each entry can compete for but one award.

J. H. Lauterman, vice-president of the Cherrians, will assume charge of the organization during the Cherry Fair, as King Bing Kay is now in California. A special rate has been announced from Portland and from Cottage Grove of one and one-third fare for the Cherry Fair celebration. Tickets will be good returning until the following Tuesday, July 6.

York Watson forfeited $10 bail money today by not appearing in police court in answer to a charge of fighting with C. E. Tuel in the alley back of the armory. Tuel pleaded guilty and paid a $10 fine. Chester Frohman and Luther Hess, two young men of this city, were arrested late this afternoon by Officer Varney on a charge of stealing mineral water from the grocery store of Ward K. Richardson on North Front street.

Otto Klett, who was arrested last night on a charge of keeping his pool hall and billiard room at 479 State street open to sell soft drinks after midnight, appeared in police court today and took 24 hours to enter his plea.

The parent-teacher circle of the Lincoln school, will hold an important meeting Wednesday afternoon at the school building at three o'clock. The playground will be definitely discussed and other important matters attended to. A full attendance is urged.

Cards will be issued this evening by Secretary Arthur Wilson of the Cherrians, notifying the members just what part they will take in the celebration, and where they will meet. Committees will be appointed this evening, so that everything will be in readiness and each man assigned his duty.

At a meeting held this morning by the Cherry Fair officials, in conference with the city officials and the Y. W. C. A., it was decided to provide adequate rest rooms for children and ladies. Arrangements were made by which the women's clubs and the Y. W. C. A. will have entire charge of these rest rooms.

The Business Men's League of the Salem commercial club will hold a special meeting in the rooms of the commercial club this evening. This meeting is important as the by-laws of this department will be adopted and other matters of interest will come before the meeting.

Alice Davis, the young woman who was arrested here Friday night when she climbed off of the blind baggage in men's clothes, was taken back to Portland yesterday by Juvenile Officer Mrs. Jackson. The Davis woman was wanted in Portland for a felony. Her brother was released from jail yesterday morning.

E. H. Anderson, well known in this city, who has been living for the past few months at Newberg, fell a few days ago and sustained serious injury, breaking his leg in two places. He is reported to be dangerously ill today. Mr. Anderson is especially well known in Methodist circles, having been very active in the general church work, besides taking a special interest in the Sunday school.

The Cherry Fair committee is considering one more attraction, one that never fails to please, or at least attract, and that is a high wire, tight rope walker. While no definite arrangements have as yet been made, the man who will perform the act is here today and will confer with the committee. It is proposed to stretch the wire from the court house to the top of the Masonic building.

The Cherrians feel that they have one booster who appreciates the work being done by the organization, that being done by the organization, as they are in receipt of a substantial sum from Joseph H. Albert to apply on the band uniform account. This remembrance was appreciated by the Cherrians. While they have been boosting for the whole city, yet the Cherrians have always paid all their own expenses.

Fred S. Bynon today received a wire from George M. Hyland, managing secretary of the Oregon Commission, San Francisco, requesting Mr. Bynon to send twenty boxes of select cherries to arrive in San Francisco Thursday, July 1. These cherries are to be presented to the newspapers of the city, exposition officials and other prominent parties, who might aid in giving publicity to the Willamette valley.

According to instructions given them at the last meeting of the Cherrians, the council of nobles held a meeting and assessed every member of the Cherrians $3.50. This small assessment is remarkable from the fact that during the two years since the organization of the Cherrians, only one other assessment had been levied, one of $3.00. No dues are paid in the organization, and while the Cherrians have been active at all times in the interest of the city, it has cost the members, including this assessment, only $6.50.

The funeral of Mrs. Frank Meeker will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the residence at 1905 South Commercial street. Services will be conducted by the Rev. J. C. Spencer and interment will take place at the Old Fellows cemetery. Mrs. Meeker died at her home in this city, 1905 South Commercial street, Saturday, June 26, 1915, and is survived by her

Yesterday Great Day At Brooks-Fitz Revival

Yesterday was by far the greatest day in the history of the Brooks-Fitz revival. All the services were held in the tent at Seventeenth and Commercial streets. The Bible school had set its mark for attendance at 200 and the goal was reached. Three hundred is the record set for next Sunday. The evangelists visited the First Christian church Bible school at their opening services. Dr. Brooks spoke briefly and Prof. Fitz sang. "Strings and Nails" was the subject announced for a children's meeting in the afternoon. Prof. Fitz gave an illustrated talk on "Nails," and Dr. Brooks spoke on "Strings."

"What Will Be Your Defense in the Judgment?" was the theme last evening and Prof. Fitz sang "Open the Gates to the Temple." The tent would not hold the people who came to hear the gospel in sermon and song. Many stood throughout the entire service, others sat on the ground outside and still others were turned away. Two young people made the good confession, making 11 for the day.

"The First Gentle Conversions" will be the story tonight. Prof. Fitz will sing "Oh Love that Will Not Let Me Go," another of his great scriptural songs. Miss Coddington will also give a solo, "Be Strong and Do It," a new song just written by Dr. Brooks and Prof. Fitz, will be introduced for the first time tonight. The song answers the question "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" exactly as the question is answered in Acts of Apostles three times.

Several candidates will be baptized this evening at 7:30 in the beautiful stream which flows hard by the tent and some others Tuesday evening at 7 at the First Christian church. The revival will continue until next Sunday.

Church Street Grocer Is Knocked Down By Horse

While in the act of crossing Court street, at the intersection of High street Saturday afternoon, O. D. Selman, proprietor of the grocery store at 464 North Church street, was run into by a horse driven by a farmer, knocked down and his head struck the pavement with such force as to render him unconscious for some time thereafter. He stated afterward that he did not notice the horse approaching, as his attention was attracted by an automobile, and the driver of the horse said that he was conversing with a man who was riding with him and he did not notice Mr. Selman until after he was struck. Mr. Selman received a severe gash over his eye, which bled profusely, and was taken into the Opera House pharmacy where his wound was temporarily dressed after which he was taken home in a taxi. The farmer whose horse struck him called upon Mr. Selman later, expressed his sincere regret of the accident and offered to condone in any way in his power.

husband, Frank Meeker, and a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Arnez. The family came to this country in 1908 from Berlin Heights, Ohio. The complete program of the motorboat races to be held the second day of the Cherry Fair, Saturday, July 3, are announced as follows: 7:00 p. m., maneuvering; 7:15, formation of the parade; 7:35, No. 1, motorboat race, class I, fifteen horse power and over, two mile course; No. 2 motorboat race, class 2, over 8 and under 13 horse power, 1 mile course; No. 3, exhibition hydroplane; No. 3, log rolling; No. 3, free for all, bag and go sports; No. 6, aquaplane sports. The P. E. and E. band will play between races. In the bag and go race, the motorboats race down the course, and return at the firing of a gun. C. K. Dennison will exhibit his new hydroplane over a five mile course. This is the first time a hydroplane has been shown here and Mr. Dennison expects to bring it up to a speed of 35 miles an hour. The aquaplane sport is one brought from the Hawaiian islands and consists in riding on a board, towed by a fast motorboat. In the log rolling contest, four men stand on a log. The log rolls pretty fast, the last man on being declared the winner.
