Attorney General Brown Says Property May Become Useful Later

That the 1915 session of the legislature passed conflicting laws, was brought out by an opinion given out by Attorney General Brown today relative to the time for county courts to settle road district boundary questions.

Dr. Stone's Drug Store. Deputy County Clerk U. G. Boyer and wife and daughter, Ruth, will leave tomorrow for San Francisco, where they expect to spend a week or two visiting the fair.

In an attempt to swim across the river, a stranger who is visiting in the city, was rescued by Arthur Wilson last evening. He was not only beyond the limits allowed for bathing and got into the swift current, but he went in just after a heavy meal, and the combination was almost too much for him.

Why experiment or keep on trying to find a good coffee? You can save time and much trouble by seeing our timing Wm. Gahler, 135 North Liberty.

Word was received today from Hal D. Patton, who is motoring with Z. J. Riggs to San Francisco on the coast route, that they had passed over some pretty dangerous roads on the mountain sides in Humboldt county, but now were safely through and expected soon to be passing through the redwood forests of the Coast range.

Average pears should be picked and delivered now. We can not take pears that are started to turn yellow. Persons delivering pears to us please take notice. Drager Fruit Co. Aug 17

David Korb, Earl, Robert and Harry Semster and John Marr returned to Salem last night after enjoying a few days at Nye Beach. The boys made the trip by auto and found the roads very good but had to make a few of the turns in the mountains on less than four wheels.

Although the beginning of the deer season will not open until next Sunday, the 15th, many local hunters are planning for the opening day. From all reports, deer are rather plentiful this year. Most of the hunting will be done in the southern part of the state in the Cow Creek canyon. The hunters are planning to go well back into the mountains.

Forty-two bushels of wheat to the acre is the average made by Tom Walker on his 50-acre tract. This is a notable measure. Mr. Walker lives four miles northwest of the city, between the Silverton and Patton roads and was in the city today having the sacks necessary for his 2,500 bushels of wheat. This is but one of the many reports coming in of wheat that threshes as high as 40 to 50 bushels an acre.

Greater Bros. Planning company today began the installation of the two drinking fountains which are to be put in at the Herveya, a certain in Willamette park for the use of the general public. Two more drinking fountains of the same type are to be installed in Marion square. The city council at a recent meeting authorized the installation of the drinking fountains which were badly needed.

The fortune telling gypsies are in town, dressed in the regulation Bohemian girl flashy costumes. The women are making the regulation fortune telling graft in many of the office building. The gypsy speak in the main old style, as follows: "What time is it, let me see your hand, you will live many many years, you have an enemy with dark hair and eyes, let me see your handkerchief, come over here, I have something to tell you where an eye can hear. And then after this performance, the shake dusts."

The fair grounds are already beginning to take on an appearance of activity, getting things in shape for the coming state fair. Forty acres of sub-soil will be laid this week on the auto and entrance to the new building. As soon as this sub-soil is laid, surfacing will begin. Workmen have just finished the new water tower, with a tank capable of holding 7,500 gallons of water, having a pressure of 100 pounds. This tank will furnish water

LEWIS ASKS BOARD TO SETTLE STATE ENGINEERING TANGLE

Says Divided Authority Will Not Work To Best Interests of State

Stating that the division of authority as to highway matters would ultimately demonstrate the efficiency of the office State Engineer John H. Lewis made a report to the Highway commission today asking that the issues between himself and Chief Deputy Cantine be settled.

Word received today from Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Fullerton, who took the ocean voyage to San Francisco, is to the effect that the party had a pleasant trip, and that the weather was ideal for sight seeing.

This evening J. L. Stockton will deliver an address in Portland at a meeting of the buyers, brought to Portland from all over the state by the special offerings of the wholesale houses for the annual buyers convention.

Gen. Reinohl, of the Reinohl grocery, on Capitol and Union streets, just received news of the sudden death of his sister, who resides in Saak, Canada. She was an only sister and a twin to Mr. Reinohl, but on account of the distance he will not be able to attend her funeral.

Ed Loose, who lives about four miles from town, just beyond the Wallace farm, was in the city yesterday and reports that the spraying has been of wonderful help to the hops and with the hot weather of the past week the vines are growing and taking on more of a normal look.

Walter Winslow, the attorney, yesterday received the first Studebaker four-cylinder car of the 1916 model. Prof. Merritt Davis, of the commercial department of the public schools, will be the first to receive the 1916 model of the Studebaker six-cylinder. It is expected to arrive within a few days.

All berths on the steamer Great Northern, sailing from Flavel Thursday, August 12, have been taken and several from this city who expected to sail on this date, were obliged to look for another date. Among those from here who will sail Thursday are Miss Marguerite Miles, J. Sherman and E. W. Strickland.

A four days' tennis tournament will be held in Salem, beginning September 1, under the auspices of the Salem Tennis association. It will be open to all players in the Willamette valley and will be played on the new asphalt courts on East Center street. Not only will there be a large entry from local players, but Portland, Eugene and Albany players will enter the contest. Special prizes will be made for the entertainment of the visitors as the attendance will be much larger than last year.

Arrangements are being made by several members of the Knights of Pythias to attend the annual exercises of the lodge to be held on Wizard island, in Crater lake, August 18. The department of the interior has issued a special order by which only members of the lodge are permitted to land on the island that day. Among those who will attend from this city are L. R. Stinson and wife, W. R. Gibson and wife, Wm. H. Dalrymple, Rev. E. T. Porter and wife, A. M. Hansen and wife, A. J. Radcliffe, E. W. Plans are going forward to make the first annual meeting of Indians day, to be held at the fair grounds next Sunday, a big event among the Hoosiers who live in Marion and Polk counties. The principal address will be made by Dr. N. M. McArthur, but short talks will be made by several of the Indians who have chosen Oregon for their home. Max Adams Rogers has consented to give several readings from the poems of J. Whitcomb Riley. The association now registers about 300 and with their families and friends, a big time is expected. J. J. Potts is president, Rev. E. T. Porter, secretary, and J. D. White, treasurer.

I. Greenbaum, of the firm of Rostein & Greenbaum, is home from an auto tour with his family to the Panama Pacific exposition. They were away exactly three weeks, seven of the days being taken in going to San Francisco, and six in returning. Mr. Greenbaum regards as the best part of his outing, the return trip on the coast road, where at different times, the coast was above the clouds. He says the road between Eugene and Heddling is the worst part of trip, and the paved roads south of Ashland, where there is but a seven per cent grade over the mountains, is the most picturesque. Mr. Greenbaum was in the Oregon building yesterday, and like other merchants who have been in the Oregon building, feels that the state is receiving more than its share of advertising through its displays and the social manner with which strangers are entertained.

GOVERNOR ON VACATION. Olympia, Wash., Aug. 10.—Governor Lister left the capital at noon today for California, where he will visit both before going east to attend the national conference of governors to be held in Boston August 24. He is to arrive at San Francisco on the Shasta limited at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday. Governor Lister's family is now in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Lister will return to Olympia about September 5. In the meantime Lieutenant Governor Hart will act as governor.

HOLBROOK BLINN AND ALICE BRADY IN 'THE BOSS'

The World Film corporation releases the five-part Wm. A. Brady play "The Boss," founded on the play by Edward Sheldon. This was a Brady production and a very successful one at that, and the confidence of the producers of the play is also felt by those responsible for the film. Holbrook Blinn repeats his impersonation of the Boss; and Alice Brady makes her second appearance in World film as his wife.

Michael Regan, "The Boss," is a well studied type—Irish by birth, and transplanted early in youth to the United States. Or he was of immediate Irish descent; it matters little which. The clear point is that Mickey, after the manner of his kind, rose to success by his wits, and at his zenith fell in love with a girl, who promised to be his wife in some way in order to save his life from prison. But the girl's people don't like Mickey; the girl herself does not see him; he has other enemies, civil and criminal, and they are arrayed against him and, then it becomes the contest of a lone, again apparently overwhelming odds. In the end, the "Boss" defeats his enemies and wins his wife.

Holbrook Blinn, admittedly the most powerful actor who ever appeared before the motion picture camera, finds in the part of Michael Regan, one thoroughly well suited to his robustness and style.

Alice Brady is the young wife, and she acquits herself with perfect skill and skill in a trying and sympathetic role. Oregon Wednesday and Thursday.

NEGRO FIGHTS CAPTORS

Marysville, Ore., Aug. 10.—Believing he was about to be lynched, Sam Robinson, alias Johnson, the negro who shot and killed Richard Lindsey on a ranch at Arbutus, Clatsop county, a week ago, fought desperately early today when he was removed from the county jail here and taken to the Clatsop county jail by Sheriff Stanton. District Attorney Alva Kind and deputies in automobiles shortly after midnight. He was bound in irons in the bottom of the machine and securely handcuffed. Up to a late hour this afternoon an eye witness in Clatsop county, who says the negro had been lodged in jail there, it being feared an attempt might be made to lynch Robinson should his presence become known.
