Clash With Raders.

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 17.—A clash between the Mexican raiders and the United States cavalrymen and rangers you don't mind how you spell skulls. Seartle, Wash., Aug. 17—The Crescent oil wells at Tenino, the best touted well in the recent oil flurry in southwestern Washington, has no oil. Official notice to this effect was sent to the stockholders today by Emery C. Williamson, secretary, who says that $46,000 has been sunk in an attempt to draw oil where there is no oil.

'This is the knockers' day," he says. 'Today, with contemptuous sneers, they may say, 'I told you so.' With the shiver of pessimism erceping to the very marrow of the bones, we have to admit it is their day and their time.'

Williamson, however, adds that he is convinced there are oil formations in the Tenino field, which be believes can be reached at a 3,000 foot level. The Crescent drillers went down 2,136 feet. He advises that the Seatter creek well of the Oregon and Washington corporation held with the benefits.
