PENNANT WINNER IS GREATLY IN DOUBT

Present Week May Be Most Important In National League Season

New York, Aug. 23.—This week will be, perhaps, the most important one of the season, baseballically speaking. A pennant winner may be made or broken in the next six days. A tail-end Cincinnati, for instance, can all but gain the leadership of the league, providing, of course, it wins all its games while the leaders are losing all of theirs. It's very improbable, of course, but it goes to show that the race in the National League is still anybody's old pennant.

The Braves broke back into the running Saturday by taking two games from the Pirates. Stalling's crew went from fifth place to third, but four games behind the preeminent Phillies.

The feat besides showing how close the game is, demonstrates that the old punch which carried the Boston club out in front last year is not entirely gone, despite the well-earned complete capitulation of one of the best pitching staffs the game ever saw.

Stalling picked up a new twirler, a Mr. Nehf, formerly of Rose Poly college, Saturday, and the youngster went through with colors flying. Rudolph also won. All Boston needs, ball players say, is a little decent pitching to place them in the running until the curtain falls.

It is a significant fact that practically all the players believe the race will ultimately simmer down and find the Braves battling for the pennant.

On straight Brooklyn generally is considered the most evenly balanced aggregation in the league. Wilbert Robinson's well known penchant for young pitchers has had its good result, and Colonel Ebbetts now has one of the best staffs, if not the best, in the Tanager loop.

Added to the tremendous hitting strength of the Dodgers, this makes the Brooklyn outfit a formidable foe.

Eastern betting men have practically quit—thrown up their hands in despair. A swing around the sporting hangouts today failed to reveal a single bookmaker willing to place his money on any one team at odds that would make it worth while to the ordinary chance-taker.

"I've closed my book," was the invariable answer.

"I'd just as soon bet you that the sun won't rise tomorrow as place a bet on any one team in the National League," said one, and his companions echoed his sentiments.

Joe Jackson's purchase by the White Sox is going to have a heavy bearing on the American league race unless all the signs fail. Chicago and Detroit both have strengthened their teams this week—Chicago by taking Jackson and the Tigers by acquiring Bill James, late of the Browns and an A-1 pitcher.

The Boston team was a 5 to 1 favorite to win until Chicago and Detroit both picked up stars, but better money today were drawn, if not flatly refusing to accept the wagers.

Comiskey's Method Unpopular. There is a lot of indignation in some cities of Ban Johnson's circuit, over the tactics of Comiskey, Lammie and Navin. The charge has been openly made by sport writers and fans that the magnates in Chicago, Boston and Detroit are trying to "buy" a pennant.

Comiskey has spent approximately $100,000 on his job this year exclusive of salaries and the players he has traded in. He paid $100,000 for Eddie Collins, $100,000 for Eddie Murphy, $200,000 for Joe Jackson and $150,000 for Nemo Leibold, besides several more thousands for minor leaguers.

Following his example, Lammie, of the Red Sox, bought Jack Barry for $10,000, and a few days ago Navin, of Detroit, picked in with $15,000 for Bill James. This has made magnates in less comfortable circumstances and unable to follow suit rather indignantly, some openly angry. The natural consequence is the race has settled down to the three clubs with ready cash apparently as much of a deciding factor as playing ability.

Of the three there is much to choose between baseball men have decided. All three are exceptionally strong and should go leading down the strength on comparative even terms. The names of the teams which will do battle the next week in October are still as much of a mystery as is who started the war.

Red Sox beat St. Louis all day, scores being 6-1, 5-3. Leonard scored 14 hits in the second game.

Newark feels beat Pittsburgh twice and regained first place. A home run in the first and triples in the second contest told the tale.

Angels had Seals hanging on the ropes most of the time, but Wolverton's men fought to extra innings in the post meridian.

In the morning Los Angeles profited by infield mistakes and capped, 5 to 1. Oakland and Vernon fought to a 1-1 draw in the morning out at Vernon. The game was called when time was up.

Oaks barely had time to eat and hurry down town to Washington Park, where they massacred the Tigers, 3 to 0. Vernon pulled a triple play in the morning, saving the Tigers' scalp after Oakland had made all preparations for salting it away.

Salem Loses to Yelobans By Score of 11 to 3

After disbanding for the season Saturday, the Senators called the Sunday game with McMinnville off, and then to help McMinnville out of the hole a pickup team was called together for the game. The Senatorial pickup team had slim picking with the McMinnville regulars, and finished on the small end of a 3 to 11 score.

A series of five games was to be played between the Senators and McMinnville, but now the McMinnville has won three of the games and the Senators are willing to admit that they stand little chance in an argument in their present condition, so it is likely that the Yelobans will stand the undisturbed champions of McMinnville and vicinity.

Craig pitched for the Salem team, but his support looked at critical times and after a listless and sultry afternoon's entertainment the scoreboard was found to contain one lonely try and a pair of ones. No one asked any questions, but the Salem boys said a pleasant time was had by all those present.

SOUTHPAW PAT CALLAHAN SOLD TO CINCINNATI

Portland, Ore., Aug. 23.—Southpaw Pat Callahan has been sold by the Spokane Northwestern league team to the Cincinnati Nationals, it became known today.

The sale was made apparently on the basis of immediate delivery as Pitcher Spook Harkness, who has been out of a job since released by Aberdeen several weeks ago, was hurriedly summoned to join the Indians.

Callahan tried out with the Portland Beavers at the beginning of the season but failed to make good. He has since developed wonderfully, it is said.

Heilmann is Sick

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—Harry Heilmann, star first sacker of the Seals, may be out of the game for the rest of the season, physicians said today. He has been troubled with dizzy spells, and while running for a train yesterday was so attacked.

Tommy Tennant Released

Portland, Ore., Aug. 23.—After helping to make Pacific Coast league history for six years, Tommy Tennant, the veteran first sacker, is seeking a new berth today. He was unconditionally released Sunday by Manager Blankenship of the Salt Lake team. Tommy accompanied the Bees south but not as a member of the team.

Activity of Policemen In the Turkish Capital

(By Henry Wood.)
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Constantinople (by courier to Belgrade and thence by mail), July 14.—More and more, as the existence of the empire becomes menaced more and more does the Turkish police department, the one and only department of government for which the Turk has ever shown a real genius, increase its activities. The Turks say they have a million and a quarter of men under arms. One would be tempted to believe they were referring to the number of policemen.

Recently complaint was made to Enver Pasha that there was too much surveillance of the Scorpion, the United States station ship now anchored in the Bosphorus at the foot of the American College for Girls.

"But it is the duty of the police to watch everything, to watch everybody," replied the 33-year-old minister of war. "Every 20 minutes of the day and night a patrol boat passes my home. I am watched like all the rest."

This sensation of being constantly under the eyes of the police produces on the part of the foreigner here a degree of caution. He never knows at what instant a change of word which he may utter may be overheard by a secret policeman and in consequence of which he may be charged with the utterance of treason.

Only a few days ago Colonel Leipsitz, the military attaché of the German embassy, was killed. He was a magnificent type of the German officer, over six feet tall, a gentleman both in appearance and in actuality, known and loved by everyone. The official announcement said that while changing from uniform to civilian dress in a little railway station, upon his return from the Dardanelles, his revolver had been accidentally discharged, the ball entering his forehead.

S. M. Taylor, of Arrora, called on his friend, J. S. Fisher, at the hospital Wednesday before starting for Surrey, North Dakota, to help harvest. From there he will return to his home in Belleville, Pa.

There was scarcely a foreigner in all Constantinople who did not see in this mysterious death the elimination at least in part of his convictions that sooner or later the Turks will turn on the German officers now stationed at Constantinople. But not a single person in all Constantinople once expressed this suspicion.

"They say it was accidental," is what everyone said to his most intimate friend, and to this remark silence alone followed. A word more uttered might have been overheard by a secret police and the individual hailed up for treason.

That the position of the Germans at Constantinople is becoming daily more delicate there can be no question. I know personally that even in the case of the death of Colonel Leipsitz the Turkish censor insisted that the official announcement as prepared by the German ambassador be submitted before being telegraphed to Berlin and that the original text was altered.

Many German officers after their day's work at the "Quartier General" change to civilian's dress before appearing on the streets in the evening. German and Austrian civilians are leaving the city. Part of those who left on the same train I did left cursing the country which had joined them in war. One German correspondent representing one of Germany's greatest papers—the Berliner Tageblatt—was expelled because he saw things as they actually were and not as the Turks wanted him to see them.

But there is every indication that the German soldiers, sailors and officers now in Turkey will stay to the end. Whatever the fate of Turkey may be there is every indication that not a man will hesitate to share it, and if the Turkish empire passes out of existence it is likely these men will pass with it.

Government Wants Operator For Wireless

If any young man wants a job as wireless operator, the government is willing to pay him $60 a month as a starter, the reward is $90 a month. An examination will be held at Seattle by the civil service commission, September 22, for wireless operators.

The examinations to be held by the same commission, on September 8, calls for a scientific assistant in poultry husbandry, with a salary of from $1,000 to $1,800. From the government's point of view, the man who knows a lot about chickens, is entitled to a larger salary than the man who risks his life as a wireless operator.

An assistant is wanted in poisonous plant investigation, made at from $1,200 to $1,500. Cheese makers who can pass the civil service examinations are assured of a fair living, as they start with a salary of $100 a month and later receive $120 a month. This same examination calls for a gardener, who is valued along with the wireless operator, $60 a month. An assistant in forest etymology will receive from $1,200 to $1,400 a year. Any young man who has ambitions to join the government service, or who would like to take a chance at the examinations, may receive information at the local office, or will be sent application blanks from the postmaster at Seattle.

INDEPENDENCE HOP CROP

The Monitor can find no evidence to change its opinion, stated last week, that the crop in the Independence district in the yards of experienced growers will be good and that in other parts of the state it will be poor.

Picking will commence the first week in September, and labor will be plentiful at 40 cents. Cleaner work will be insisted upon.

The market is at a standstill. A bet of $20 was made on the streets of Independence Saturday night that the price would be 20 cents before the first of the year. In this instance, the grower who bet that the price wouldn't be 20 cents will be very much pleased if he loses.—Independence Monitor.

CHILDREN ALL PRESENT

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Clodfelter, residing at the corner of Maple and Church streets, enjoyed a reunion with their children Sunday, the first time in 20 years. Those present besides the parents were: P. H. Clodfelter and wife, of Emporia, Kas.; S. O. Clodfelter and wife, of Wasco, Ore.; W. L. Clodfelter, wife and daughter, of Springfield, Ore.; S. S. Clodfelter, wife and daughter, of Salem; Mrs. Minnie Rose and two sons, of Portland.—Dallas Observer.

DRAGER BUYS CROP

Ed Weaver was attending to business matters in Biddle Monday, in conversation Mr. Weaver stated that he would have approximately 200,000 pounds of prunes this year. He recently disposed of his entire crop to the Drager Fruit company at 24 cents or drager run.—Biddle Tribune.

SOLOGISTS WILL GATHER TO DISCUSS THE EFFECTS OF GREAT WAR IN EUROPE ON ADVANCE OF THE HUMAN RACE

Top, Dr. D. A. Sargent, Hon. Chas. E. Townsend, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, Bottom, Prof. Irving Fisher, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, Dr. J. H. Kellogg, Governor Ferris.

Just what effect this European war will have on the advance toward human perfection through eugenics and eugenics was discussed at the National Conference on Race Betterment held recently at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Dr. David Starr Jordan is at the head of the executive committee and will be one of the speakers at the conference. Others who delivered addresses were Luther Burbank, Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale; Edgar L. Hewett, director of the United States bureau of ethnology; Dr. J. H. Kellogg, superintendent of the Battle Creek sanitarium; Dr. D. A. Sargent, director of Hemingway gymnasium at Harvard; Senator Charles E. Townsend, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, and Governor Ferris, of Michigan.

It is admitted by leading eugenists that the war abroad will delay the introduction of eugenics as a fundamental law. Some claim, however, that the war will bring a survival of the fittest which may after all rebound to the ultimate betterment of the race.

The first National Conference on Race Betterment, held at Battle Creek in 1914, was characterized by many sensational addresses, and it is anticipated that the San Francisco meeting will be equally as full of interest.

M. Slusher, Pendleton; F. S. Stanley, Portland; C. C. Chapman, Portland; O. Laurgaard, Portland; E. B. Williams, Powell Butte; J. B. Bell, Prineville; L. E. Smith, Redmond; Guy E. Dobson, Redmond; J. P. Duckett, Sisters; Jas. M. Kyle, Staunfield; John Bigby, Vale; W. W. Caviness, Vale.

AFTER SIX YEARS

Salem Testimony Remains Unshaken. Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Salem story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point will come straight home to many of us.

P. W. Brown, farmer, 1399 State St., Salem, says: "Three years of millwright work in a damp atmosphere disordered my kidneys. I often had lameness and soreness across an attack, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. They removed the backache and soreness, together with other symptoms of kidney trouble." (Statement given Jan. 31, 1906). After a lapse of more than six years, Mr. Brown said: "All I said recommending Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly endorsed them before, holds good. I use them occasionally when I have symptoms of kidney complaint and I never fail to get quick relief. Another of the family has also used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney weakness and has had the best of results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brown has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props. Buffalo, N. Y.
