CAROL S. DIBBLE.

A unique event and one of general interest at this outdoor season is the appearance of the Ching Chinik group of camp fire girls at the Oregon theater this evening and tomorrow evening. The camp fire girls have not been organized such a great while in Salem, but their numbers have grown rapidly and their work has shown some interesting developments. The Ching Chinik camp is one of the first groups to appear before the public in Salem, and their program promises to be not only entertaining but distinctly significant for the purpose and character of the organization of camp fire girls as a whole. Various vaudeville numbers will be featured on the program, among which will be a solo by Miss Edna Ackerman, "Snowflake," a duet, "Aloha-Oe," by Miss Ackerman and Miss Gretchen Brown, a Spanish dance by Miss Alice McClellan, solo dance, "Valse in A-Flat," by Mrs. O. B. Gingrich, the guar-dian, a group dance, "Song Bird," and group chorus, "Song Bird." The girls will appear in native Indian costumes, decorated with bead work, symbolic of their camp, which they have made themselves. The Ching Chinik group has been engaged in other enterprises previous to this for the purpose of raising money for ceremonial robes, among which were a chicken pie supper and a food sale. The national headquarters of the organization are in New York, with which the numerous groups keep closely in touch. As camp fire girls there are three honor degrees, the Woodgatherers, the Fire-makers and the Torch-bearers, attainment to which is dependent on elective honors gained in two or more of the following crafts: Home, health, camp, hand, business, nature lore, patriotism. The camp fire girls' movement started soon after that of the Boy Scouts and is run on lines more or less parallel to that organization. Their aim is to develop outdoor life, resourcefulness and self-reliance among their members. The law of the camp fire girls is: "Seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be true, worthy, hold onto health, glorify work and be happy." There are now 130 camp fire girls in Salem, 11 of which comprise the Ching Chinik camp. These members are: Elizabeth Bayne, Edna Ackerman, Isabelle George, Amelia Babcock, Florence Shafer, Gretchen Brown, Anabelle Golden, Edlys Reynolds, Thelma Lawbaugh, Ferrol Lawbaugh, Alice McClellan and Mrs. O. B. Gingrich, guardian.

Miss Dorothea Clinton, of Portland, a niece of Fred S. Byron, is a house guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron on North Summer street. Miss Clinton, who is the daughter of Mrs. Howard Milton Clinton, of Portland, teaches Latin and Greek in the high schools of Portland. Miss Clinton passed the highest in preparatory college examination of any young woman west of the Mississippi river, entitling her to a scholarship at Bryn Mawr. Owing to the exacting demands of her work during the past year, Miss Clinton is not yielding to the social invitations of her many friends in Salem, but is taking a quiet rest at the Byron home. Miss Sadie Heath, one of the popular girls at the Sps, is spending her vacation motoring with friends in Washington. Among the recent Salem guests at the Oregon building mentioned by Anna Shannon Munroe were Miss Nell Thielson and Mrs. Belle Cooke, an old-time resident of Salem and past 80. Mrs. Cooke was one of the most pleased guests at the big Simon Benson reception. Mrs. Fred Hazard and daughter, who have been the guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hazard, the past month, have returned to their home in Scott's Mills. Dr. Elizabeth Matthews, who has been spending the summer at the home of her sister, Amanda Matthews, at Shaw, left today to resume her professional duties in New York City. Dr. Matthews has spent considerable time in Europe during the present war, with the Red Cross society, and has had some extremely interesting, also tragic, experiences. Mrs. O. F. Parry and children are enjoying an outing at Newport. A surprise party in honor of Miss May Christy was given at her home, 1363 North Seventeenth street, last night, by a number of her friends. The house was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. The evening was enjoyably passed with games, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those present were: Miss Maud Givens, Della Rawson, Marguerite Hebel, Rita Later, Clara Waldorf, Rosa Heine, Edna Waldorf, May Christy and Mr. Everett Baker, Paul Bales, Glen Powers, Dewey Probst, Carl Kroff, Vernon Mentzer, Sidney Powers, Hugo Christy and Mrs. Christy. The aid society of the Woman's Relief corps will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Pratt, 1330 North Commercial street. All members are cordially invited. Those who prefer to ride the entire distance can take a jitney which goes within a block of Mrs. Pratt's residence. Mrs. L. K. Page, who accompanied her house guest, Mrs. S. Nolle, of Idaho, from Iowa, as far as Portland, where they both visited Iowa friends, has returned to her home on North Cottage street. Mrs. Noll will stop in Kansas City on her return trip. Word has been received from Miss Agnes Bayne, one of the winners in the Meyers contest, that the trip down on the Great Northern was a most enjoyable one, and as far as their party was concerned, sickness was a minus quantity. Other members of the party were Miss Lora Richter and Miss Ruby Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Baker have returned from a two weeks' outing at Seal Rocks. Mr. and Mrs. Major Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. A. Magers, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dennison and daughter, Edna, leave tomorrow on a weeks' motor trip to the coast. Rev. and Mrs. F. T. Porter have returned from a delightful 10 days' motor trip to Crater Lake. Others in the party were Mr. and Mrs. A. Hansen, Mrs. Thomas Brank, Mrs. Alice Wenger and T. A. Ratcliff. The Ladies Aid of the First Methodist church held a general meeting of all the joint circles this afternoon in the church parlors. Though it was primarily a business meeting, Miss Lucille Barton contributed several vocal selections. Mrs. Benjamin Brick and daughter, Marie, left this morning for a week's visit at Tigard. Earl Strickland returned yesterday from a two days' visit at the Panama-Pacific exposition. P. A. Cowden, president of the Silverton Lumber company, and son, are in the city today. Mrs. Ella Watts, supreme instructor of Artisans, will go to Portland tomorrow on lodge business. Miss Ida Colby left yesterday for her home at Orville, after a visit in the city with the Misses Welen. Mrs. S. M. Kadicot and daughter, Genevieve, returned today from a two weeks' sojourn at the exposition. Rev. J. M. Freeman, pastor of Jason Lee Memorial church, returned yesterday from a visit in Portland. Miss Dorothy Clinton, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Fred S. Byron, returned today to her home in Portland. Thomas C. Wood, store keeper for the P. R. L. & P. Co., returned yesterday after a two weeks' absence in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. John Brophy, Miss Priscilla Fleming and Budd Welch left this morning for a week's visit at Lorraine, Oregon. Ronald Glover, private secretary to Congressman Bailey, has been quite ill since his return from Cascadia a few days ago. George E. Terwilliger and Mrs. Norma Leffingwell of the Cottage today undertaking parties, are in Portland today on business. Miss Vera Wiley returned to her home at Corvallis yesterday after a ten days' visit with her aunts, the Misses Bailey. The Misses Marguerite and Eva Fisher and Elsie and Etta White, left this evening for the Southern Pacific for San Francisco. Ralph and Helen Mercer will leave tomorrow for the exposition on the steamer Northern Pacific. They will be away about two weeks. Miss Bess Hutchison, sister of Mrs. J. O. Van Winkle, left this morning for Eugene, where she will visit until her school begins in this county. Miss Barbara Steiner returned yesterday from Neskovic, where she has been spending the summer at the family cottage. Doctor and Mrs. Steiner will return Saturday. Mrs. Leona E. Peterson leaves tomorrow for Seattle to visit her sister, Mrs. Merle Stith. Mrs. Stith is one of the directors of the supreme assembly of the United Artisans. G. W. Holson and family and W. H. Welch and family are spending the week at Crater lake. They are making the trip by auto, having left the city last Sunday morning. Rev. Robert S. Gill returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit at the exposition. While in California, he attended the session of the Synod of the Province of the Pacific, held at Oakland. Kit Carson, pioneer railroad man, now advance field representative of the Poodler Round-up, is in Salem today seeking to arouse interest in that annual exhibition. He would like to have the Cherrians attend in a body as they did two years ago, as well as many other residents of this section.

FORGING DARDANELLES BEGINS IN EARNEST

Terrific Attack By Land, Water and Air Mark Resumption of Allies Work

London, Aug. 25.—With the capture of 800 yards of Turkish trenches by the British, the sinking of five Turkish ships and an aerial bombardment of Constantinople, official reports today indicated terrific assaults from the land, sea and air by the allies in the Dardanelles. One Turkish transport anchored north of the Naragaz roads was sunk by a French aviator, while Athens dispatches reported the destruction of four Turkish sloops carrying troops to Gallipoli by a British submarine. While the British colonial and French troops were delivering determined attacks against the Turk land positions, two allied cruisers are declared to have entered the Dardanelles and bombarded the enemy land batteries. These assaults by the land forces resulted in the capture of one Turkish trench yesterday and was followed by the capture of 800 yards of trenches by other British troops. In the Kritinia and Ari Burnu region heavy fighting is in progress. Agency dispatches reported the bombardment of the Turkish coast by Russian frigates in which 41 persons were reported killed or wounded. While the Balkans were debating as to joining and marching on Constantinople and the allies were bursting forth with renewed activities, unofficial reports declared the Moslem capital was being thrown into a fever of excitement by the presence of the Russian fleet off the Bosphorus. The arrival of British reinforcements at Suvla bay on the Gallipoli peninsula was followed by strong infantry attacks and a renewal of the bombardment of Turkish forts on both sides of the straits by several units of the allied fleet. It is unnecessary to keep warships in Suvla bay to cover the advance of the British troops in that region. Constant gains are being made as additional Turkish trenches are taken under combined attacks of the artillery and field forces. The Australians have advanced to trenches beyond the cliffs, out of range of the warships, and British artillery has been landed to support them. The present attacks on the Dardanelles are regarded as of great diplomatic as well as military importance. Forcing of the straits and opening of the gateway to Constantinople is expected to have a great influence upon the Balkan states, and the center of diplomatic efforts. Assurance of participating in the capture of Constantinople and sharing in the spoils of the near east would mean the early entrance of the Balkans into the war on the side of the allies, it is believed. The continued victories of the Germans in Poland also makes it imperative that the allies be aided by her allies through supplies of munitions.

BUG TO FIGHT PESTS.

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 25.—Chilocorus bipunctatus is the name of a new bug received by the state horticultural commissioner today from Italy to be turned loose in orchards for the purpose of combating pests that are attacking olive, orange and other fruit trees. The bug is closely related to the California lady bug which has established a reputation as a pest-killer and is said to have a keener appetite for bad bugs than the California species. The state received a big shipment from Italy and its experiments will be watched with interest.

War Has Saved Wilson Says Ex-President Taft

San Francisco, Aug. 25.—That the war has saved President Wilson from the disapproval of the nation and has prevented a demonstration of the fallacy of the democratic tariff doctrine, was the emphatic statement today of former President William Howard Taft, who is in San Francisco for a week's visit at the exposition. "This war has prevented the normal and natural effect of the democratic tariff and has given a protection which that tariff would not have secured to American industries," he said. "In fact, the adverse effect to industries had already been felt before the war broke out." Speaking on preparedness for war, he said: "I am most heartily in favor of preparation for war. We should take immediate steps to safeguard the nation." Professor Taft presided today at the morning session of the conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches. Tonight he will address the California Red Cross association. Tomorrow he will speak at the Red Cross day ceremonies at the exposition. He will leave for Seattle September 2.

Land Grant Conference To Be Held September 1

Governor Withycombe has appointed three other members on the committee on procedure which will have general charge of the preliminary plans for the Oregon-California Land Grant Conference. These are: W. Lair Thompson, Lakeview, representing the legislature; C. C. Chapman, Portland, who was nominated by President C. C. Holt on behalf of the Portland Chamber of Commerce; and W. K. Newell, Gaston, who was nominated by J. N. Teal, chairman of the Conservation Commission. The four other representatives already selected are: A. C. Marsters, Roseburg; E. M. Wilkins, Eugene; W. E. Vawter, Medford; and Frank B. Dimick, Oregon City. Two members remain to be appointed. These are to be chosen by the State Grange and the State Federation of Labor. The governor has announced that he is calling a meeting of the committee, to be held at Salem, Wednesday, September 1.

An order confirming sale was issued today by Judge Busher in the matter of the guardianship of Alta Armstrong, a minor. It was stated that the interest of Alta Armstrong in three parcels of real estate consisting of 321 acres, 271 acres and 120 acres, respectively, had been sold by the guardian Lillian E. Bowen.

Lincoln Highway Tourists Arrive At Oakland Today

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 25.—Arriving at the Oakland city limits on scheduled time, there to be met by the city officials and several hundred motorists in their cars, H. C. Ostermann, councillor-at-large for the Lincoln Highway association, and his caravan of automobiles completed the transcontinental trip over the great 4000-mile highway at 10:30 a. m. today. The ovation received by the travelers as they drew up at the bridge over San Leandro creek, the dividing point between Oakland and the rest of the country, could be heard for blocks. Elsie Henderson, chief of the trans-continental exhibit, was present with the visitors welcome on behalf of the Panama-Pacific international exposition.

IN FLOOD DISTRICT

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 25.—Railroad communication with the flood-stricken city of Newport was restored today. The first trains to start for Newport carried food and supplies for the flood victims. There are 1,500 persons homeless in the city as a result of the high waters, reports here declare.

OREGON EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM APPROVED BY WORLD'S TEACHERS

The International Conference Draws Many Ideas From Oregon's Exhibit

This is the harvest time for all educational exhibits at the Palace of Education, since the National Education association has brought to the exposition ten thousand educators from all parts of the world. "The most important addresses of the association," says J. A. Churchill, superintendent of public instruction, in a report he forwarded to his office today for filing, "deal with the rural school problem." The newly elected president in his first address after his election devoted his entire time to the rural schools of the country. This has caused a large number of prominent educators to visit the Oregon exhibit as it is the only exhibit on the grounds dealing exclusively with the rural problem. Superintendent Churchill spent one day at the exhibit receiving visitors and explaining Oregon's school system. A large number of schoolmen and women from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries called. Prominent among them were: Professor B. H. Crocherson, state leader boys' and girls' clubs, and his assistant, R. M. Hagen, who brought the state prize winners in the boys' industrial clubs, to see what the boys and girls are doing in club work, and to meet their superintendent; R. D. Chadwick of the Gary, Indiana, schools; Dr. George W. Green, of Dowagiac, Mich.; George Seyler, head of the department of agriculture, Pullman, Wash.; W. L. C. Palmer, superintendent of schools, Independence, Mo.; T. Inaba, instructor in Japanese normal schools; Miss Chittenden, of Intai, China, who said of Oregon's exhibit: "This is the most gratifying thing I find in education today, the very work you are showing here. With all the exhibits I have seen, the work is touched lightly, but you are taking it up in earnest, as the details of your exhibit show." Others were: Superintendent W. W. Thomas, of Springfield, Missouri; Z. X. Snyder, president of State Teachers' college, Greeley, Colo.; Professor S. M. Hadden, of the same college; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. DeWolfe, of Nova Scotia, leaders in club work; C. T. Loran, instructor of schools, Durban, South Africa. Mr. Loran asked permission to return and make a complete study of Oregon's plan of conducting the boys' and girls' club work, as he considers this the most important problem in South Africa. E. D. Gamewell, of Shanghai, who has charge of all the schools in China, after examining the exhibit carefully, asked leave to send his secretary to copy all of the charts in the Oregon exhibit. He also requested copies of all publications of the state department on the rural schools. George Schultzbarg, county school superintendent of Monterey county, California, held his teachers' institute on that day. In speaking to his teachers he said: "I want all of you teachers to visit the Oregon exhibit to see what wonderful work that state is doing in her rural schools. Their standard school plan is just what we need in our county." Later, he brought his teachers in a body to visit the Oregon exhibit. Superintendent Churchill explained the plan thoroughly to the teachers, and it was voted by them to adopt Oregon's system for their county. This is the third county in California to take such action. "I am more than pleased," said Superintendent Churchill, "with the attitude of the California people. They have been most hospitable in their welcome to the Oregon teachers, and generous in their appreciation of the work we are doing in our schools."

GEORGE MONBERG HAPPY OVER SUDDEN WEALTH

Attendant At Los Angeles Skating Rink Receives Fortune of $250,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 25.—George Monberg is the happiest man in Los Angeles today. He's afraid he's going to wake up and hear the alarm clock ringing. Monberg was employed as attendant in the Los Angeles skating rink. There, for a small compensation, he assisted awkward skaters, helped folks strap on the rollers and discouraged turbulent spirits on the floor. It was undeniably a grind. Last evening a lawyer walked into the rink and handed Monberg a slip of paper. It was a notification that he had just fallen heir to $250,000 left him by his grandfather, Christiana Monberg, in Denmark. Monberg registered bewilderment, astonishment, joy, disbelief, suspicion, gloom, in rapid succession. The lawyer convinced him it was true and he reversed the gamut, registering gloom, suspicion, disbelief, joy, astonishment and bewilderment, as the legal man talked. Now he believes. What will he do with the money? Travel? Buy estates, automobiles, horses? Not much. Monberg looked around the Los Angeles roller skating rink. "I'll take my money," he cried, "and build the swiftest roller skating rink in the world."
