SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT M. L. JONES WAS DEFRAUDED IN TRADE

Justice Harris Hands Down Decision in Famous Marion County Land Case

The supreme court reconvened this morning after a month's vacation and handed down four decisions including the case of M. L. Jones against George C. Sheffer and others, appealed from the decision of Judge William Gallogay, of this county, by the plaintiff. The decision of Justice Harris was a modification of the opinion rendered in the circuit court department No. 2 of Marion county.

This was a suit brought by M. L. Jones against George C. Sheffer and Belle M. Sheffer, his wife, E. J. Kitzel, the Swastika Farms company, J. H. Cummings, J. C. Wolfe and E. P. Lundy and after being tried in the circuit court before Judge Gallogay was appealed by Mr. Jones to the supreme court. It appears that Mr. Jones was the owner of two farms containing 745 and 500 acres respectively, in the Marion county, R. A. Proudfoot was the owner of the Peer hotel in Portland which was valued at $125,000 and was encumbered with a mortgage of $35,000. Mr. Jones traded his farm property for the hotel but through the agency of Sheffer, who claimed he had claims against Mr. Proudfoot. By reason of these claims the defendants agreed that one farm should be deeded to Mr. Sheffer and the other to Proudfoot.

According to Justice Harris' opinion the facts of the case were that after considerable trading and high finance to complicate the deal it transpired that Mr. Sheffer never had any claims against Proudfoot, and that Mr. Jones had swindled out of his farm of 500 acres. Judge Gallogay set aside the deed to Sheffer but awarded a judgment of $11,000 against Mr. Jones in favor of the Swastika Farms company by virtue of certain improvements that had been put on the land. Justice Harris' decision holds that the deed should remain cancelled as by the decision of the lower court but that the judgment shall be set aside also although Mr. Jones is held responsible for the debts against the hotel property. Attorney John H. McNary represented the appellant and C. A. Murphy appeared for the defendant.

The other decisions handed down were as follows: Grand Prize Hydrant Mines et al. appellants, vs. R. Boswell et al. appellants, from Josephine county, motion to dismiss appeal denied, opinion by Justice Benson.

Frank R. Overland vs. O. W. R. & N. company, appellant, appealed from Multnomah county, motion to dismiss appeal denied, opinion by Justice Benson. William R. Kelly vs. A. W. Weaver et al. appellants, appealed from Lane county, petition for rehearing denied, opinion by Chief Justice Moore. Eino Raiba, appellant, vs. Coos Bay Coal & Fuel company, appellant, from Coos county, petition for rehearing denied, opinion by Chief Justice Moore. Motions for rehearing were also denied in Williams vs. Pacific Surety company, Holmberg vs. Jacobs, Haynes vs. O. W. R. & N. company, and Dwight vs. Giesbich.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

A riot call was sent in yesterday afternoon from the top yard run by Don McCarthy of the Zoller Hop company north of this city and Sheriff Each and Deputies Needham and Bower went out to investigate. They found that about thirty of the pickers had become dissatisfied and demanded higher wages, claiming that they should be paid 50 cents per box for the hops and 10 cents for the hops that had been sent down. McCarthy was paying 10 cents per box and declined to pay more as he said that this was the standard price this year.

While no violence had been attempted it was said that the ring leaders of the strikers shut the gate leading to the yard and when some of the strikers attempted to go to the yard had called them seals and told them they would be beaten up. The ring leaders were interviewed by Sheriff Each and said they were willing to get out of the yard if permitted to go and they went. McCarthy was removing the household and camping effects of the remainder of the disgruntled pickers today.

JOHNSTON WINNER OF TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Californian Lost First Set But Won Three Others In Succession

Forrest Hills, La. Sept. 7.—W. M. Johnston, of San Francisco, this afternoon won the national tennis championship, defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin in the title round. Johnston won in three straight sets after losing the first set of the match to his fellow Californian. The two last sets taken by Johnston went to deuce and provided some of the fastest play that has been seen on the West Side Tennis club courts. Eighteen games were played in the last set before Johnston finally won out, taking with him the championship, which McLoughlin sought to regain. Scores by sets—1-6, 6-4, 7-5, 10-8.

Forrest Hills, La. Sept. 7.—Maurice McLoughlin won the first set in the title round for the national tennis championship here this afternoon from W. M. Johnston. The two Californians were given a great ovation as they took the court in their battle for the championship. McLoughlin started with a terrifically fast game, taking the first set 6-1. Johnston won the third set 7-5. Johnston did not show as well in the first set as in his match with Williams yesterday. He was outstayed and McLoughlin quickly smashed through and drew first blood. In the second set Johnston steadied. He played a marvelous game and by quick smashes and well placed returns quickly took the set without losing a game. With a score of 5-2 against him McLoughlin braced in the third set and by a remarkable recovery carried the set to deuce. Johnston carried the game to the "Comet," however, and took the next two games.

Johnston was coming in after McLoughlin's service and met his returns at the net in sensational style. The fourth set went to deuce and a sensational see-saw fight then developed. Johnston won 10-8.

Golfers Are Thrilled.

Del Monte, Cal. Sept. 7.—Heinrich Schmidt again furnished the big thrill in the match play for the state golf championship today, but two sensational up-sets also added to the excitement furnished by the second round.

Schmidt beat Jack Neville 1 up in 20 holes. Both played the most sensational golf ever witnessed on the Del Monte links, making a score of 69, three below par, for the 18 holes. The match was even up and the medal score tied at 69 when the players completed the 18th hole. The 19th was halved and Schmidt then took the twentieth.

The unexpected happened when Harry K. B. Davis and R. Y. Haynes were eliminated. Davis was beaten by M. P. Phillips, 1 up. Hayne fell before Conde Jones, 3 up and 2 to play. Phillips played a 71 to beat Davis, who scored a par 72.

Considerable work is being done by the Portland Railway, Light and Power company in the Fairmont Heights part of the city. This last work is being done in connection with the street improvements now under way. Improvements are also under way at the gas plant. A large water pump has been installed, which supplies the plant with condensing water, used in the manufacture of gas.

Sheriff Each returned from Stayton this afternoon with John Scott, who was taken to that city to be arraigned in the justice court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Scott waived the preliminary hearing, giving as his reason the fact that he wished to plead guilty in the circuit court and accept sentence. He was bound over to the grand jury by the justice of the peace at Stayton.

The Queen Esther society of the First Methodist church will hold their opening meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. B. L. Steeves, 316 North Church street.
