W. H. Eggen, a prominent farmer of Hopedale, has just supplied the Oregon exhibit at the San Francisco fair with some pears and apples that were raised from trees 45 years old on his Mountain View farm. Trees of this advanced age which are still in good bearing condition are rare in this country and their product speaks for the longevity of fruit trees in this climate.
The board of control has decided that J. C. Cady, superintendent of the flax plant at the state pen, shall patronize the street car as a citizen when coming down town to his home. While the flax was being pulled in the fields Mr. Cady rode to the work in an automobile furnished by the state at a monthly cost of $105 but now that the flax pulling is over the board considers the auto an unnecessary luxury.
John A. Propp, 401 North Eighteenth street, returned yesterday from a month's visit in Minnesota with some of the optimistic feeling that is found in the central states. Besides looking after his 500 acre wheat farm in the Red River valley, he also had time to visit friends and relatives in various parts of the state and to note that there is no such thing as a business depression in that part of the country. From talks with various business men, the impression is general is that this feeling of prosperity is soon to strike the Pacific coast.
L. J. Chapin, county agriculturist, is putting in his time this week arranging for the fall and winter corn fair and agricultural institute to be held in several sections of the county. For Astoria, the date has definitely been decided on as November 5 and 6. The Silverton date has not as yet been decided. This year Silverton will hold its annual poultry show in connection with its agricultural institute and corn show.
A booth was secured yesterday at the fair grounds by County Agriculturist L. J. Chapin for the demonstration in canning. Several girls from Chemawa will make up one of the teams, and others will soon be chosen, in order that there will be a continuous demonstration in vegetables, fruits, meats and poultry at the state fair. Special attention will be given to the canning of poultry. The booth that was used last year has been selected for this year's demonstrations.

Lieutenant Colonel Goodiar Will Be Court Martialed

Washington, Sept. 10.—The war department this afternoon ordered Lieutenant Colonel L. L. Goodiar of the Judge Advocate general's office Pacific coast division court-martialed on the charges of conduct prejudicial to the service.

Goodiar is silent. San Francisco, Sept. 10.—Lieutenant Colonel Goodiar declined this afternoon to comment on news from Washington that he had been ordered court-martialed but he seemed surprised.

Goodiar is military circles here was to the effect that Goodiar expressed over serious injuries to his son, Captain Goodiar is an aviator fall at the San Diego station last fall, had aroused the antagonism of Captain in U.S.A., signed corps, in command at. The younger Goodiar, with both legs fractured, his spine hurt, and internally injured, was first cared for at the San Diego hospital, but later, through his father's influence it was said, was removed to the Letterman hospital at the Presidio here.

Exposition Takes In Almost Million Net

San Francisco, Sept. 10.—In its official statement issued today, Comptroller Rodney S. Durkee of the Panama-Pacific exposition states that the exposition has rolled up a net income of $914,905.13 since its opening on February 20 last. From August 9 to September 3, the sum of $449,122.23 was taken in from various sources while $416,108.62 of that amount was expended, leaving a profit of $33,013.61 for the last period alone. Durkee states that the exposition is free of all debt with the exception of approximately $50,000 in outstanding claims which will be paid off within the next few days. The net and gross income of the last period was greater than any other period in the exposition's history and does not include the receipts from Labor Day and Admission Day, two of the fair's biggest money making days.

Are You From Missouri?

If you buy groceries from a store which pays big rent you must pay a high price to that merchant for your goods so that he can pay his rent. High rent is one of the chief factors in the present high cost of living. You must help bear the burden imposed by the landlords on the merchant. Buying and selling for cash and having No Rent to pay, enables us to sell for less money than credit stores. If you are from Missouri give us the opportunity to Show You.
