Edward Sheldon, Author of "The Nigger," Talks About the Purpose of His Powerful Drama.

The morning after Edward Sheldon's play "The Nigger," had been produced at the New Theatre, New York City, by that playhouse's famous all star company, one of the critics said in a laudatory review of the drama:

"The greatest of all American plays has been written by a rosy-cheeked youngster just out of college; who was too badly frightened last night to make a speech in response to the thunderous demands from a delighted audience for a few words."

The phrase was happily descriptive. Mr. Sheldon is a "rosy-cheeked youngster," and has all the reticence and modesty that frequently accompanies great genius. Mr. Sheldon, for all his youthful appearance, has drunk deep at the fount of knowledge of human nature and as a result all his characters are as real as their originals; for Mr. Sheldon confesses that his brain children are all fashioned upon living models and are not the product of ink-pot and pen.

It is not surprising that Mr. Sheldon has turned out a master work in "The Nigger," which is pictured for William Fox, under the direction of Edgar Lewis and stars William Farnum. The subject matter of the play has been a matter of profound study with him. He delved deeply into the central situation of the very grand where the action of the drama takes place. The result is a play that is big and vibrant with the convincing realism of sincerity and truth. "The Nigger" deals with basic things. It touches the highest and the lowest strains in human nature. With masterly power Mr. Sheldon has created an epic on that vexed question "the colored problem."

A southerner himself, Mr. Sheldon speaks with authority on what he writes about. He knows whereof he is talking, something which his brother dramatists might emulate with profit to their product. Play writing is with Mr. Sheldon a leisurely process. He does not force his hand. He believes in inspiration and does not write till he gets it.

"From my earliest days," said Mr. Sheldon in a recent interview, "the negro problem was a familiar subject to me. I heard it discussed as a child from a hundred different angles and by all grades of men and women. All negroes are naturally primitive, but I do not agree that there was no solution to it. Naturally in this environment the topic struck deep roots in my mind. I had the play in mind in nebulous form long before I wrote it."

"Primarily, however, I did not intend it for a play with a purpose" as some of my kind critics have supposed. I penned it as a drama pure and simple. Of course in the action and characterization and in the telling of the story the negro problem crops up.

"As I have pointed out in the play the negro problem is in my belief due largely to bad whiskey. There is hardly one of the 'usual crimes' of the Southern negro, for which the penalty is usually lynching, that has not alcohol behind it as an underlying cause. Take liquor out of the south and the race problem would cease to be one. The negro is naturally primitive. Alcohol brings the worst in him to the surface. It makes him worse than the brutes."

"I wrote the play to draw attention to this fact, which appears to have been overlooked by zealous reformers. The man really responsible for such negro crime, which results in lynchings and riots, is the distiller. In Clifton Noyes in the play I have sketched one of these workaholes who fatten their pockets at the expense of the negro's soul."

"Noyes would have Morrow sacrifice his honor and veto a prohibition bill out of party loyalty. That is a sample of what these gentry will do to gain an end. Noyes is a composite character. He is not all bad; but he is all self. He will stop at nothing to gain his ends. The negro only interests him as a purchaser of stock, dairy and fruit ranch, for cash only. Jos. SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Motorboat race followers today claim that Chicago has the fastest motorboat in the world. The feat of the Disturber IV yesterday in traveling sixty-two miles an hour, over a half mile course, is the basis for this claim.

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—Speedy boats will compete here next month in the international motorboat races. The Pacific coast will be well represented and local motorboat men expect to have several of the vessels which competed in the national championships in the east.

New-Way Wonder for Corns, "Gets-It"

The Big Surprise for Corn Owners. It's Sure, Simple, Safe, Quick. Listen to the wee story of "Gets-It," the world's greatest corn remedy. It's a short story—only about two feet.—"Mary had a little 'Gets-It,' and corns upon her toes; and every time she put on 'Gets-It' the corn was sure to go." Mary, like thousands of others, used to be a heroine, suffering martyrdom, using painful bandages, irritating salves, sticky tape, toe-harnesses, blood-bringing razors and scissors! She says now there's no sense in it. Use "Gets-It," applied in 2 seconds. Easy, simple, new way—just painless common sense! Millions are doing it. Never fails. You can wear smaller shoes now. You don't have to limp around any more, or walk on the side of your shoes to try to get away from your corns! You know for sure before you use "Gets-It" that the corn or callus is going away. For corns, calluses, warts and bunions.

"Gets-It" is sold by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH.
New York, Sept. 14.—Two automobiles crashed head on along Polham Parkway early today.

The dead: Ida Brown, 22, chorus girl; Walter Delmar, 45, her escort.

The seriously injured: Dorothy Brown, sister of the dead girl; W. J. Greenfield, broker; C. A. Marshall, broker.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS

is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.

Shot and Killed On San Francisco Street

San Francisco, Sept. 14.—Abell Lorenza was shot and killed and Patrick O'Donnell, a passerby, was wounded by Trinidad Gonzalez in a crowd of pedestrians at a busy downtown corner yesterday. Gonzalez said he shot Lorenza because he feared the latter was "out to get him."

Gonzalez fired five shots. Four of them took effect in the body of Lorenza. The fifth hit O'Donnell in the right leg.

Lorenza was leaving a hotel when he faced Gonzalez. The men had been sailors on an Alaska fishing boat which recently reached port. "Bad blood" had existed on the trip, and they had fought many times.

Gonzalez told the police Lorenza reached for his hip pocket when he saw him. Gonzalez drew his gun first and fired. Three bullets pierced Lorenza's heart and a fourth the right forearm.

A panic ensued in the crowd on the streets as the shots rang out and the men fell. Gonzalez, in a break for liberty was caught by two policemen.

On Lorenza's body was a note addressed to Mrs. Laura Maga. It read: "I'm leaving you forever. God bless you."

No gun was found on Lorenza's body. The men are Filipinos.

In view of the note found on Lorenza's body, the police expressed the opinion that he was on the way to commit suicide when he was slain.

HAIR MADE CURLY IN SINGLE NIGHT

(Woman's Tribune.)

It has been discovered that the application of liquid silmerine actually makes straight hair curly and wavy in a single night! Also it acts as a perfectly harmless hair beautifier and dressing. It has the peculiar quality of drying in pretty waves, swirls and creases.

Straight, lanky hair and the cruel curling iron are no longer necessary. Any druggist of course can supply you with a few ounces of the liquid silmerine, enough to keep the hair curly for several weeks. It is neither sticky nor greasy, but very pleasant to use. Apply to the hair at bedtime with a clean tooth brush. In the morning your hair will be very beautiful and have a most natural curl and waviness.

BIG ATTRACTIONS IN LYCEUM COURSE

Course in General Is Much Stronger Than That Given Last Year

Many inquiries have come in about the attractions to be offered on Salem's lyceum course this coming season and no doubt the announcement of these entertainments will be well received by Salem's music lovers. Those who had the privilege of attending the lyceum course last season will know in a measure what to expect, while others will be obliged to depend largely on the reputations of the artists to appear.

Working upon the policy of building bigger and better, Mr. McCaddam has secured six of the strongest attractions on the road for Salem's course. The first entertainment will come in November when Madam Grace Hall-Ribbelduff, a coming American concert soloist, will appear with Alexander Vau Skibinsky, the Russian violinist. Arranged at various intervals throughout the season will be the Oxford Grand Opera quartet, the Schumann quintet which was on our chautauqua program this summer and is directed by the famous Carl Lampert, of the Thomas orchestra. Judge Geo. D. Allen, the great chautauqua lecturer, will give his lecture on "The Needs of the Hour." One of the finest attractions will be the Metropolitan Male quartet. The personnel of this company is made up of experienced grand opera singers and each one is an artist of the highest type. The last attraction will be Fredrick Warde, famous as a Shakespearean actor, who will lecture on and interpret some of Shakespeare's plays.

Tickets are to be sold to the entire course for $1 and a fee of 50 cents or $1 charged for the privilege of reserving the seat. This should assure these concerts of packed houses which is truly representative of Salem's best people.

GRAND JURY FOR MEDFORD.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 14.—For the first time in the history of the state, a federal grand jury will meet outside of Portland if the request of United States Attorney Reames is granted. Reames today asked the United States court to impel a jury to assemble in Medford October 5. The unusually large number of cases arising in southern Oregon is the reason for the move of the attorney to break a precedent of 56 years standing.

TO KEEP YOUR SKIN FREE FROM HAIRS

If you are willing to spend a few minutes time in your room using a delicate paste, you can easily banish any ugly, hairy growth without discomfort or injury. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is then spread over the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed. You will not be disappointed with this treatment, providing you get real delatone.
