Warring Factions Fight In Pan-American Road Meeting

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 17.—Following a deadlock of two hours, during which two strong factions of the Pan-American Road Congress waged a bitter battle of words the following compromise resolution was adopted yesterday.

"Resolved that the Pan-American Road Congress recommends to the congress of the United States, the advisability of investigating the necessity of building a hard surfaced highway along the Pacific Ocean side from Mexico to British Columbia and other national highways to be used as military and commercial highways."

The original resolution introduced by Samuel Hill, called for the investigation by congress of the necessity of a highway along the Pacific Ocean side alone. This was opposed because it gave the Pacific coast states the greater benefit.

Hill in advocating the resolution declared that the Pacific coast states are on the firing line and declared that the United States is the most unprepared of all nations with the exception of China against war. He further stated that any nation could invade the United States without material resistance on the Pacific coast side of the continent.

State Highway Commissioner Robert E. Stearns spoke of the yellow peril, declaring that it was preparing constantly and is just realizing its power.

Samuel Hill, president of the Pacific Highway association and son-in-law of James J. Hill, the railroad man, gave an illustrated lecture at the auditorium yesterday, covering the Columbia highway and other roads of the United States considered models of progress in highway construction.

Convict labor was an important subject of discussion at the convention of the road congress this morning. In a lengthy paper reviewing the convict labor policy of Colorado, J. E. Maloney, secretary-engineer of the Colorado State Highway association declared it unfair to work the prisoners without giving them some remuneration for their labor.

"It seems only fair and just," said Maloney, "that the prisoners should receive some remuneration for their labor, besides the reduction in their sentences, after they have proven themselves worthy of the trust reposed in them, and while we don't, at this time pay any per diem, still I am convinced that after a man has served say six months on the road and performed satisfactory service he should be given a certain per diem of say 25 cents. This sum could be held in reserve for him until the expiration of his sentence, or could be handed to those who might be dependent upon him. This would enable the prisoner to have a sum of money at the end of his term."

Hop Yard Fire Is Believed Work of Incendiary

(Eugene Guard.)

The theory that the destruction of three hop houses, owned by John M. Edmanson and located on his farm three-fourths of a mile east of Goshen, burned last night, is a part of the I. W. W. reign of terror on the Pacific coast, was strengthened today by a statement made by Ray Scoggie, in charge of the hop drier at Palmer Bros. yard near Springfield, to the effect that on Sunday night he observed a man crawling on hands and knees toward the Palmer Bros.' sheds in the darkness, with lighted match or small flash light. The fellow was close to some shingles and shavings near the building. He ran to his tent to get his gun, but before he could return the man sprang to his feet. Scoggie fired several shots at him in the darkness. Mrs. Scoggie also saw the man running, as her husband shot.

The hop houses on the Edmanson place burned between 7:30 and 8 o'clock last night, resulting in a loss estimated at $5,000, partially covered by insurance. In addition to the sheds a cooler and baler were destroyed together with probably 50 bales of hops. Fifteen cords of wood piled near the drier were also burned, together with tools.

Picking in the yards was completed yesterday morning and many of the pickers who had been camping in the yards had started for their homes. There had been no trouble of any kind between Mr. Edmanson and his employees. The last hops were being dried when the fire occurred.

Mayor Gill Testifies In Hearing Against Chief of Police Lang

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 16.—The testimony of Mayor Hiram C. Gill composed the most interesting part of the continued investigation before the city council, of Police Chief Lang, yesterday afternoon, on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Asked by Corporation Council Bradford to tell the council what explanation Lang had made of attending a wine party at Tate's cafe, and later accompanying a cabaret singer to her room, the mayor said:

"I talked it over with Lang the next day, I think it was. He did not mention the woman in the case at that time. I was satisfied Lang wasn't drunk. He casually mentioned that some members of the party were in a hilarious condition. The day after the charges were made, Lang came to me and told me the whole story and his reasons for accompanying the woman to her room. He said if it would embarrass me in any way he would resign. "I told him to fight it out if conditions were as he recited. I also said: 'I think you have made a damn fool of yourself.' But it was my opinion there was nothing particularly incriminating about his conduct. "My impression was that he went into the cafe to look after a couple of prominent citizens who got over loaded."

President Wilson Will Decide On Suffrage

Washington, Sept. 16.—President Wilson's formal stand on the woman suffrage question is expected to be registered September 28 when his home state, New Jersey, votes on the momentous question of whether women shall have the ballot.

All efforts to get him to take a stand for national suffrage have been unsatisfactory to the hosts of hangers of the yellow standard of equal rights. His position has been that as titular head of the democratic party he could not act until his party platform provided for such action.

Indianapolis Star: A national labor college will be established at Fort Scott, Kan., with Eugene V. Debs as president. We shall not venture an opinion on the probable importance of the institution until we hear who has been engaged to coach the eleven.

AUSTRIANS WAIVED OFFICIALLY BY CONSUL

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—Diplomatic statements, that Austria has waived its rights under the 1894 treaty with American industries; official withdrawal from Austria-Hungarian subjects; the death penalty for the allies printed today in Austria-Hungarian papers in Pennsylvania.

The Austrian consul admitted they came from his office on instructions from Vienna and from the base.

The warning was as follows: "The imperial and royal foreign office has empowered the imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian embassy that by this means they should inform all Austro-Hungarian subjects, also residents of Bosnia and Herzegovina, inasmuch as they are working in factories, manufacturing guns and supplies for the enemy, which conflicts with the meaning of section 327 of the Austro-Hungarian army laws, they become guilty as necessary before the fact of working against the army strength of their country. This provides a penalty from ten to twenty years imprisonment, and, where the circumstances warrant, provides the death penalty. In case subjects return to their country they make themselves liable to the most severe punishment of the law."

Consul Von Hauser said the warning came from the consulate Wednesday, when he whether Dunlop sent it before he was recalled for planning to cripple American plants.

HOT WAVE IN EAST

New York, Sept. 16.—The eastern states today were bathed in the greatest heat wave ever recorded on a September 16. At 2:30 this afternoon the thermometer registered 88, four degrees higher than the previous record in 1894.

Two deaths from heat were recorded this afternoon, making a half dozen in the past 24 hours.

Schools at Boston, Rochester and Albany were forced to close.

Oakland and Other Cities Face Strike on Car Lines

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 16.—Oakland and trans-bay cities face a strike of street car men employed by the Key Route. Whether there will be a general walk-out will be decided at a mass meeting to be held at 2:30 tomorrow morning in Oakland's auditorium.

Mayor Davis is said to have agreed to turn over the auditorium to the men.

The trouble has arisen over the alleged discharge from a Key Route ferry of two employees because they were union men. For several days the Oakland carmen's union has been acting. It was admitted at union headquarters today that the meeting had been called to discuss a walkout, but no details will be discussed until after the meeting.

It was intimated by street car employees that this crisis will be used to urge a higher wage scale. The present scale is 25 cents an hour for the first five years of service, when it becomes 40 cents. A 40 cent flat scale will be demanded, it is reported.

Key Route officers intimated that trouble was anticipated but would give no statement as to what the car company was doing to meet the issue.

Walter H. Smith, of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, will spend the week-end in Portland.

FERN RIDGE NOTES

FRUITLAND NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Fruitland, Ore., Sept. 17.—The Coleman family are picking hops in the Eola district.

Miss Dorothy Runner will attend Salem high school the coming winter.

Word received from Casper Anderson by friends here states that he would soon reach his former home in Wisconsin with the remains of Mrs. Anderson, who was killed in Salem two weeks ago when a street car collided with the vehicle in which the family were riding.

A. H. Runner is in Polk county superintending the picking of a prune crop on a ranch in which he has an interest.

Mrs. W. O. Witham and the boys Friday motored to a peach orchard on Kaiser bottom and brought some peaches for themselves and another family.

School begins Monday, September 14. W. H. Williams has filled his silo with a nice lot of corn silage.

L. Retenborg, of the Bethel district, has a new road car.

Wm. F. Kaplinger, our Fruitland road supervisor, is having his barn painted.

Mr. Bellamy has stored some hay preparatory to moving brick onto his farm now occupied by Mr. Levi Ottenheim.

I see the Capital Journal has another Fruitland correspondent. Good. Welcome brother (or sister) to the mystic circle of the riantum sanctorum. Now let us make Rome howl in the way of news.
