PLAN TO GIVE EVERY SOLDIER IN WAR AN APPLE ON APPLE DAY

Salem Fruit Union Asked to Co-operate With National Apple Shippers

Every soldier in the trenches and hospitals in Europe will be given an apple in the near future, if plans now being worked out by a committee of the apple trade throughout the United States are successful, according to information received today at the Salem Fruit Union.

It is proposed to have a vessel take over a big cargo of apples to be distributed free under the auspices of the Red Cross, and efforts will be made to get President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing to have the several warring governments permit safe passage for portions of the big consignment to the various fronts and hospitals where the fruit can be placed in the hands of the Red Cross for distribution, especially among the sick and wounded.

Apple growers and dealers who are endeavoring to send over the big consignment have learned that many of the fighting men are suffering because of lack of fruit juices, giving rise to scurvy and other disorders. Returning surgeons who have seen service in the European hospitals are said to approve heartily the plan to provide more fruit juices not only among the wounded but also for the men in the trenches.

"We are working on this undertaking purely from humanitarian motives," said one of the committee who is a leading wholesale apple distributor today. "It's going to cost a lot of money for the fruit alone, and we shall call upon all the people engaged in the apple industry to contribute a portion of the expense. At first the trade did not take kindly to the plan, as it was feared that vessels could not be found to carry over the apples. Then the idea was conceived of chartering a ship which would take nothing but apples, and we believe that when the purpose is disclosed to foreign governments, none will oppose free passage of our ship, for it will go on a mission of charity."

"Last year they let several cargoes of toys and other similar articles go through to different countries, and I think these apples ought to be considered in the same light as other gifts which America has donated to the war-ridden countries."

A local apple man who has interested himself in the matter, and who has figured out how it can be done, says: "It is a big proposition and will require skillful handling, but it can be done. The value of the fruit alone would approximate about $300,000 aboard ship at New York, for apples are worth considerably more than a year ago. Of course, the expense of outfitting a vessel is a matter that has not been fully decided upon, but the fruit people have always been charitably disposed in cases like this, and they will help to find the means if assurances are given that the apples will reach proper hands. We understand that there are about 25,000,000 men actively engaged in the various armies and navies in the European war, and probably as many more indirectly involved. To give them all an American apple apiece would mean at least 50,000,000, and taking 500 apples to the barrel, which would be medium size fruit, we shall have to provide 100,000 barrels or 300,000 boxes, at the lowest estimate. At present the minimum market value of this fruit is 83 a barrel. I figure the whole undertaking would cost not less than $300,000, but when we stop to figure that every person in this country, no matter what his nationality may be could easily lend a hand in the undertaking it is not such a difficult proposition as one might suppose.

Apple men hope to have the European belligerents to agree upon a one day armistice when the apples are distributed, and it is planned to get everything in readiness for the vessel to sail on National Apple day, October 19, so that the consignment may reach the various fighting zones and hospitals the early part of November when Europe's scant-fruit supply will have been exhausted for this season.

FINES FOR BOATMAN.

Marshfield, Or., Sept. 21.—Inspector and Deputy Revenue Collector McGrath before leaving early today imposed fines aggregating $5,350 on local boatmen for violation of the law regulating the use of boats on inland waters. The list must be submitted to Washington, for approval, and some of the fines may be cut down.

If it's for sale, a Journal Want Ad will sell it.

FAIR GROUNDS BULLETIN

State Fair Grounds, Sunday, Sept. 19.—Weather: Clear, Pleasant.

Miss Pauline Spooner and Miss Mary Mason, Jefferson, are in camp until the close of the state fair. They are at home to their friends on the old time lot, No. 30, Looney avenue. They have as guests today Mrs. Cornell and daughter, Miss Ruby, of Saleo.

Mrs. E. T. Weathered, a member of the board, returned last night from the Gresham fair. She consulted with railroad and Chamber of Commerce officials relative to transportation day. She reports that the Elks will bring their band from Portland on Elks' day.

Mrs. E. E. Morgan, of Portland, arrived last evening, and is in camp at her cottage, No. 30 Downing avenue.

Bon Sutton, of Saleo, and Grant Flake, of the same place, pitched tents yesterday.

W. J. Entress, Saleo, put up tent yesterday at No. 33 Moody avenue.

Five racers and a colt arrived in from the Woodland farm, California, this morning, consigned to Trainer John B. Stetson. The animals are in the best of condition and no sign of lameness.

Geo. Wiibar, Saleo, pitched tent yesterday at No. 14 Wilkins. The big new well is supplying water to the campers.

The Oregon Patrons of Husbandry will have a tent on the main avenue, and will be in charge of Mrs. Vail.

The Tented City is growing daily, and the entire list of shady lots will soon be taken. There is an abundance of room, but the shady choice nooks are mostly engaged.

The cry of the newsboy is heard of mornings and the city is assuming metropolitan airs.

DANDRUFF HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Methodist Conference Meets At Roseburg Today

The sixty-third annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church of convened this morning at 9 o'clock at Roseburg, and continues in session until next Monday morning.

Richard J. Cooke, resident bishop in charge of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, will preside.

This conference will mark the close of six years of activity upon the part of Dr. James W. Moore, superintendent of the Salem district. According to the laws of the church, a superintendent cannot be reappointed at the close of a six year term.

The ministers attending the conference from this city are Rev. R. N. Avonson, of the First Methodist church; Rev. E. S. Hammond, of Kimball college; Rev. E. B. Lockhart, Rev. M. B. Parsonagian, Rev. Edw. Sherwood, of Kimball college; Rev. J. C. Spooner, of the Leslie M. E. church, and J. Mont calm Brown, of the Jason Lee Memorial. Lay delegates attending the lay electoral conference are A. A. Lee and Dr. B. L. Steeves. For lay delegate to attend the general conference of the church to be held next May at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Dr. B. L. Steeves has been favorably mentioned and will receive the support of the delegates from this city.
