STATE FAIR BULLETIN

State Fair Grounds, Sept. 23.—A busy day throughout the grounds. Concessions busy building for the coming busy week.

No dust and no mud during the coming state fair to annoy the guests. Five 400 square yards of new pavement eliminates the possibility of dust and mud.

Farm exhibits will be made by the following persons: D. M. Low, Asahel, Leonard Gilkey, Thomas, Chester Mackerson, Portland. Mr. F. M. Sherman, of Lebanon, sold his most excellent exhibit that he had prepared for competition in the personal farm exhibits, to the Linn county people who feel certain of carrying off the prize in the county exhibit.

The counties that will make special exhibits are Jackson, Polk, Lane, Marion, Clackamas, Multnomah, Tillamook, Gilliam, Union, Wallowa, Morrow, Clatsop, Umatilla, Washington, Linn, Columbia and Benton. A total of seventy-two of the largest ever exhibiting at the state fair. The largest previous number was last year when 11 counties entered. Those showing last year that will not come in this year are Baker and Malheur. Superintendent of the pavilion, Oscar E. Freytag, says that the large percentage of gain which is nearly two percent shows that there is a fair spirit abroad in the land, and that while thousands of Oregonians have gone to San Francisco and attended that fair, there are thousands who will attend the Oregon state fair for the first time. This spirit is shown in the hundreds of letters received by Secretary W. A. Jones and other members of the board. Mr. Freytag says that the public can judge as to the superiority of the 1915 state fair over that of former ones. He says that while there is the old saying "this is the best ever" the 1915 fair will prove it to those who have attended other fairs held in Oregon. The state is growing and the children who are recognized and made a part of this great school are taking unexpected interest in the same. With a girls' camp representing thirty-five counties and a boys' camp representing thirty-four the whole state is a unit in boosting a fair that is seventeen per cent better than a whole than any previous show given in the state fair history.

11 Year Old Boy Lost and Does Not Appear To Worry About It
Last night about 7 o'clock the Salem police picked up an 11-year-old boy at the depot where he had been loitering around all afternoon. The lad was brought to the station where he said his name was Leslie Smith but refused to tell the officers any other details, saying, "I'll talk to you tomorrow."
This morning he saw his father's name was John Smith and that he lived about a mile east of the asylum on the asylum road. He remembered no names of any neighbors, they had no phone, he said, and the officers could secure little information from him. He said he had been to the hop yards and that the family had resided in that part of the country for about a month. None of the residents along that road had ever heard of the family and the police appear to have caught a tartar.

Drifted Across Ocean In Small Fishing Boat
Prince Rupert, B. C., Sept. 23.—Caught in a gale while fishing off the Japanese coast, his small fishing schooner drifted across the Pacific ocean and finally went ashore on North Island, in Queen Charlotte sound. This was the story told to immigration officials here by Captain K. Tarajuka. For 27 days, he said, his party consisting of eight others besides himself lived on fish and game on the island. Then they succeeded in attracting a fishing vessel. The captain and one of his men were brought to Prince Rupert.

Bolivian Commissioner Will Wed Miss Hyland
San Francisco, Sept. 23.—Following the receipt of a cablegram from Bolivia sent by Luis O. Abelli, Bolivian commissioner to the Panama-Pacific exposition, the engagement of Miss Crystal Hyland and Abelli was announced today. Miss Hyland's father is George M. Hyland, one of the Oregon commissioners to the exposition.
The engagement of the young couple was rumored a month ago. Thereafter Abelli returned to Bolivia to gain the consent of his father to the match. The sister Abelli, a wealthy man, consented and Abelli at once sailed the news.

American Marines Kill Haitian Sniper
Washington, Sept. 23.—A column of fifty American marines and sailors was fired on by Haitians Tuesday, Admiral Caperton reported to the navy department today.
The Americans returned the fire and killed one ambushed Haitian. There were no American casualties.

SEVENTEEN COUNTIES Exhibiting at the OREGON STATE FAIR The greatest in the State's history.
Special Premium
The Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway company offers a china, metal-cased clock, value $50.00, to the county making the best exhibit of grains and grasses—the number and quality of varieties to be considered in making the award.

Burning of Sawmill Caused Heavy Loss
Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 23.—Estimated today of loss occasioned by the fire that destroyed the Lindstrom-Hansforth Lumber company's plant at Rainier, Wash., last night ranged from $140,000 to $150,000, partly insured. The sawmill, shingle mill and lumber sheds with $600,000 feet of lumber were burned. Men, women and children of Rainier turned out to fight the fire, forming bucket brigades, but their efforts were futile.
The origin of the fire is unknown.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER, JR. STILL IN COLORADO

Inspecting Properties and Asking Many Questions of Miners

Rouse, Colo., Sept. 23.—Colorado sun and wind combined today to blister John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s nose so badly that it peeled. On his trip about his coal mines, he was forced to stop for some cold cream, but he confessed ruefully to newspapermen and movie operators, with whom he paused to fraternize, that even cold cream couldn't touch Colorado sunburn.

Making a visit to Walsenburg, he passed the Aguilar colony, with its 26 abandoned tents.

Informed that these marked the site of a strike battle, he answered, "It is too bad to mar this beautiful country with warfare," but he dodged all further questions as to the strike or concerning national politics.

Rockefeller set the newspaper trail on a fast pace on his automobile trip over mountainous roads, sometimes going 40 miles an hour, while the reporters' car wheeled along behind and had frequent blowouts.

The oil king stood in the coal dust here and talked with T. A. Mitchell, a big negro, member of the miners grievance committee during the strike. He also talked to another negro who had met the elder Rockefeller years ago, and shook hands with a number of negro employees.

At each stop he inspected homes, talked with many mothers and their children, attended schools, inspected his properties and conferred with employees. Everywhere he asked questions.

GERMAN SUBMARINE LOSS IS PUT AT 67

Providence, R. I., Sept. 23.—The Providence Journal will say tomorrow: "The reason why the German government has consented to change its submarine methods is because more than 80 per cent of its submarines have been destroyed and its undersea warfare brought to complete failure within the past two months."
"The Journal is able to print the full and accurate story of the manner in which the British navy has accomplished this work."
Operations Cover Four Months.
"The operations under the present method have lasted over a period of four months and they would have been brought to a successful completion many weeks ago if the British naval authorities had realized that some of the mechanical contrivances made use of were not fit for the work."
"Sixty-seven German submarines, 27 of which are declared to have been of the newest and latest construction, have been sunk by the British navy since May 5."
"It can be said on positive authority that the full capacity of the German shipyards for undersea boats is not more than three a month, but that even if Germany were able to replace her submarines as fast as they had been destroyed, the most grave situation she faces in regard to this method of warfare is the actual destruction of the morale of the officers and crews of such vessels."

Danger Realized by Crews.
"It is declared that while the sailors who man German submarines are as brave and efficient as those of any nation in the world, the authorities have been unable to keep from them the facts with regard to the mysterious disappearance of dozens of submarines with their crews, and that this condition has brought about a practical panic among all men in this branch of the service, who not only believe that when they leave the protection of their own waters they are going to destruction, but who have not understood how that destruction was being brought about."
The operations which have resulted in the practical elimination of the German submarine navy have all centered about the fact that the periscope of a submarine, particularly when traveling in seas that are rough or choppy, has a greatly restricted range of vision.
"The netting which has been used by the British navy for the past two months has been made of galvanized material with a 10-foot mesh. This size has superseded both the nine-foot and the 12 foot mesh which preceded it and which were found to be impracticable for the purpose. This netting

A Galley o' Fun!

A LATE VACATION.
"Well, now, Mabel, we must map a route. How about the trip on the Lakes?"

"O, Henry, I couldn't take that trip! You know Florence took that trip and I have borrowed two of Florence's gowns. I don't want the people at the hotels recognizing Florence's gowns."

"We might go through the Thous and Islands."

"It wouldn't do. Henrietta went through the Thousand Islands, and I have all her shirtwaists and two of her hats."

"How about the Berkshires, Lenox, and all that? Pretty country, they say."

"I'd love to see it, but Genevieve spent a lot of time in the Berkshires and the evening wrap I borrowed from her is very conspicuous."

"Atlantic City, then, for a starter?"

"Horrors, no! Somebody would be sure to see me on the Boardwalk wearing Elizabeth's tan coat."

"Well, I guess we'll have to pass up the trip little girl. You have collected a nice outfit for yourself but we don't seem able to map a route that won't conflict with your clothes."

THE SPELL OF THE SUMMER
I'm really in an awful state.
All power of thought I lack,
Peculiar feelings agitate
My region cardiac.
I can't keep still a minute. In-
Terminently I blush.
My friends all say I'm getting thin.
I have another crush!

Much mandarin veils I daily pen,
As love-sick suitors do;
Her golden hair I sing, and then
Her eyes of shining blue.
A saner man, no doubt, would ca
My rimes inchoate mush.
I just can't help it—that is all;
I have another crush.

No Ministry Change.
London, Sept. 23.—Premier Asquith today formally denied in the house of commons rumors that important changes in the cabinet are contemplated.
"We do not propose to alter the composition of the ministry," he said.
has been cut into lengths of 170 feet with a depth of 27 feet. On top of this setting are lashed great blocks of wood."
