CAROL S. DIEBEL.

Though all the "Days" of fair week promise to hold special attractions and characteristic features of much merit, there will be none, perhaps more conducive to genuine pleasure or of greater interest to both the Salem and out-of-town women at the fair than tomorrow which has been set aside as Woman's Day. The program for the afternoon which will begin at two o'clock will be followed by a reception given by the women of Salem to the out-of-town visitors at the fair. It is hoped by the committee in charge that as many people as possible will attend this function and consider themselves individual committees on entertainment for extending the Salem spirit of hospitality to the outside guests. There will be a community sing in the evening under the leadership of the Ladies' Double Quartet of Salem. The program for the afternoon is as follows: Music; address of welcome on behalf of the fair board Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered; address of welcome, Governor Withycombe; response, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, president Salem Women's club; vocal solo, Miss Alice Skiff; "Mothers and Education," Mrs. Arlene Peltz, president Oregon Congress of Mothers; ladies' double quartet; "Industrial Question as Pertains to Women," Miss Alice Joyce; "Junior Expositions," Dr. Anna Louise Strong of the Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C.; "Collaboration," Mrs. Clara H. Waldo.

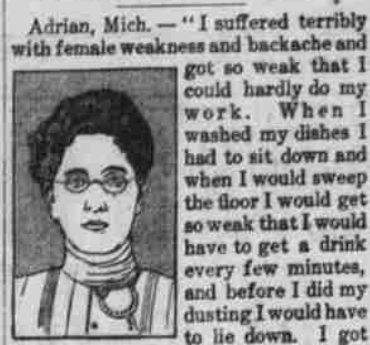

Miss Hazel Keeler, who has been visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Keeler at their home on South Commercial street, after having spent the summer in Portland as a worker in the Peniel Mission, left last night for Seattle to fill a vacancy in the same mission of that city. Miss Keeler who recently graduated from the Covington Park Training school near Los Angeles, California, is a former Salem girl, having attended the local high school, where her work in the art department won much commendation and her pleasing personality made her a social favorite.

Mrs. Seba Case Wall returned Friday evening from a five weeks tour of the middle west, where she visited relatives in St. Paul, and Fairbault, Minnesota.

The Endeavor society of the Central Congregational church gave an enjoyable surprise party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Guy Newgent on South 19th street, in honor of Miss Rowena Pearl Eyre, who is leaving for Pratum to assume the position of principal of the Pratum school. The evening passed merrily with various games and other diversions usually coincident with a surprise party, after which refreshments were served. The decorative motif of the dining room was yellow, attractively carried out with flowers and marine streamers, suspended from the ceiling to the four corners of the table. The table was prettily centered with a crystal vase of yellow asters. About fifty members of the Endeavor society and Sunday school classes were present, Miss Eyre being a very popular member of the society. Those assisting in the serving were: Miss Nettie Jones, Miss Violet Cory and Miss Ruby Welch.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief in Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Judge Galloway Writes of Trip to San Francisco

San Francisco, California, September 25, 1915.

To the editor: We left here at 6:30 a. m. the 14th instant, taking passage on the S. S. "Northern Pacific," at Flavel, leaving the pier at noon with 527 passengers, and reached this city at 3 p. m. next day, 720 miles in less than thirty-one hours traveling time. The sea that used to divide separate sections of our country now unites them; sure modern science has annihilated distance.

So much has been said and written of the great Panama-Pacific exposition being held here that it would be useless to attempt a further description, other than to state that as a commercial, scientific and art exhibit of the resources of the greater countries of the world nothing before has ever equaled it, and I feel justified in here stating without fear of successful contradiction that no unit of this great whole has attracted more attention than that of our own state. One even hears everywhere of the water front the announcement, "See the Oregon, the bulwark of the navy," and it seems everybody goes to see this battle-scarred warship. Likewise, the Oregon building, standing out in bold relief overlooking the Golden Gate, embraced within its unequalled and giant tree trunks of the "Webfoot" state, and its unequalled flagpole bearing aloft and above all in the invulnerable and varied exhibit in the Oregon building, which one must see to properly appreciate.

The arrangement and management of the Oregon exhibit is of the highest order, and to the credit of the commission I am informed that there will be no deficiency reported after the fair is over.

We have met many Salem people here. Mr. J. H. Albert is here with his family, and he is certainly one of the youngest old-timers on the grounds. C. F. Bishop is also a conspicuous figure in the Oregon building, with the finest exhibit of "Indian Blankets" in the world, and it is needless to say that the women have repeatedly voted him the handsomest man in this great city.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., has been in session here this week, and on Wednesday more than ten thousand Odd Fellows visited the fair. The parade reached from the Palace Hotel to the California Building on the grounds, nearly three miles in length. President Clark, of the state commission, invited the members of the lodge to visit the Oregon building and partake of Oregon loganberry juice, and he assured they drank as only Odd Fellows can.

Loganberry juice is served each day by two of the sweetest and loveliest of Oregon women, while Mr. Taylor, a Marion county man, who is a veritable talking machine as well as an encyclopedia of information, stands by to expatriate upon the wonderful industries of his beloved state, and, further, he is ably assisted.

We all feel proud of the Oregon exhibit and of those who are managing it, and I would advise all who possibly can to visit it. From what I can learn, October will be the best month to do so.

The accommodations are of the best, and a person can live here as cheaply as in Portland or Salem, both cities being noted for their hospitality to visitors and the traveling public.

Mrs. Galloway and I have had an excellent and instructive experience, and only regret that we did not drive down in our Ford.

WM. GALLOWAY.
