TALK ACROSS OCEAN WITHOUT DIFFICULTY

Conversation Between New York and Paris and London Easy Matter

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—The problem of talking across the Atlantic has been solved. Before we finish our labors, a man in this city can talk to London or Paris as easily as he now talks to New York.

In this manner John J. Carty, chief engineer of the American Telephone and Telegraph company today discussed the successful experiment yesterday with what many regard as the most significant invention since the wireless telephony.

Conversation across the continent by means of the wireless telephone became a reality when President Theodore N. Vail and other officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company at New York talked with Carty at Mare Island by radio telephone. The voices at both sides of the continent were perfectly audible.

Vail spoke into an ordinary telephone at New York. His words were carried by wire to the government radio station at Arlington, Va. The words were transferred automatically to the radio tower, whence they traveled through space to this side of the continent. The message was received at Mare Island by radio telephone, and answered through ordinary transcontinental telephones.

According to officials of the company talking across the Atlantic to Europe and across the Pacific to Japan is now only a matter of installing the necessary apparatus.

The possibilities of the new invention appear limitless. Communication from vessel to vessel at sea, and from vessel to shore will be possible, it is believed. The navy department is closely watching developments and has been co-operating with the telephone company for several months.

Carty at Mare Island, Cal. These tests followed exhaustive tests that have been going on since spring.

The effect wireless telephony will have on the wireless telegraph business commercially officials said frankly they do not yet know, as the commercial angle has not yet entered into the discovery.

Telephony to Hawaii.
New York, Sept. 30.—Wireless telephony from the Atlantic seaboard to Hawaii, a distance of 4,600 miles, is an established fact, the American Telephone and Telegraph company announced today.

Speech sent from Washington last night was received by the small wireless antenna established by Lloyd Espenshied, the company engineer sent specially to Honolulu for the test. The message went 2,500 miles overland and the rest of the way to Hawaii over water.

The distance thus covered is greater than from New York to London and other important European points.

Officials said that wireless telephony between America and Europe is assured as soon as conditions abroad are settled. Talking to Europe will be easier than to San Francisco, as sound carries better over water than over land.

The Hawaiian conversation followed a few hours after President Vail had talked with Chief Engineer Carty.

Hayesville District Sunday School Convention
(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Rickey, Ore., Sept. 26.—The Hayesville district convention which held its quarterly session here today was well attended. While not so many as were present at the two great summer conventions, yet the crowd was not only large but appreciative.

Dr. Eppley conducted his round table in a manner both pleasing and helpful to all. The program printed in these columns was carried out in full. The day was showery but the large crowd took it good naturedly.

The close proximity of the state fair kept some away no doubt. But those who attended were amply repaid for the effort of reaching the hospitable little settlement of Rickey.

Pratum did herself proud. She secured both of the beautiful banners. The Menemites with their splendid attendance captured one. The Pratum Methodist Sunday school making a get-away with the other. Everybody was pleased, even the Sunday school who got nothing rejoiced with those who were successful and left that both of the winners earned their banners.

BIG COAL MERGER SAID TO BE PLANNED

Rockefeller's Visit to Colorado May Mean Important Business Deal

Denver, Colo., Sept. 30.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s, presence in Colorado at a time, when it is charged a big merger of Colorado coal companies is under way, led today to a report that he came to attach the merger to his other state interests.

Rockefeller, who is in conference with Colorado Fuel & Iron company officials, however, ridiculed the report and insisted he came to inspect living conditions and to otherwise study the situation in his mines personally.

to issue a statement to the public late today or tomorrow regarding its failure to prosecute Rockefeller or any of the operators in connection with the Ludlow strike riots.

According to Attorney Belcher the statement will make a last appeal to the authorities to administer "equal justice" instead of prosecuting only former strikers.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 30.—Preferring to make her own living, rather than stay in the luxurious home of her wealthy parents in Seattle, Wash., seventeen year old Hazel Hill came here three weeks ago.

Today a detective found her as she applied at the postoffice general delivery window for a letter in the name of "Peggy Clark."

When the detective told her her parents were frantic at her absence and she was convinced he identified her, the girl broke down and told him all about her venturesome trip. She disliked school she said, and wanted to get out to see some of the world outside of Seattle. She made her way here and changed her name. Here she obtained a room in the Y. W. C. A. and worked evenings in a dancing academy, after working hard all day at small wages in a department store.

RURAL CREDITS DISCUSSED

Sacramento, Cal., Sept. 30.—That a form of rural credits is absolutely necessary to check the ever increasing practice of leasing land to orientals in California, is one of the important points brought out at public hearings being conducted by the state rural credits commission which is to report to the state legislature following an investigation.

The commission was told how the practice is making it hard, under present conditions, for whites to cope with orientals, particularly the Japanese and both urged a form of rural credits to encourage whites to purchase and settle on lands.
