Great Speed Kings Will Race Saturday

New York, Sept. 30.—The greatest galaxy of speed kings ever gathered about one track will face the starter's gun here Saturday in the first 350-mile race for the Astor cup on the new Sheepshead Bay course. About thirty cars are scheduled to make the start, but it is probable there will be some eleventh hour withdrawals.

Hopes of an American made car carrying off the honors rested largely on the Stutz and Maxwell entries. There are four Stutz cars, two of them piloted by Earl Cooper and Gil Anderson, who finished first and second respectively in the recent Minneapolis race, and at Elgin they divided the two big road races between them. Eddie Rickenbacker in his Maxwell also is expected to make a bid for honors.

The Peugeot entries are considered the most dangerous—both of the cars and their drivers. There are five of them, each with a driver of international fame—Dario Resta, Bob Burman, Howdy Wilcox, Johnny Aitken and Ralph Mulford.

Barney Oldfield and his well known cigar will be seen at the wheel of a Delage, and Ralph DePalma, who won the five hundred mile race at Indianapolis last May, will pilot a Mercedes.

Besides the custody of the Astor cup, prizes aggregating $50,000 will go to the winners.

The big oval has been pronounced by the drivers working in practice spins as almost perfect. The track is constructed of wood, steel and concrete, and will accommodate nearly 200,000 persons. The course is two miles, with two straightaways and two banks.

Following is a list of the entries and their cars:

MAIER DEFENDS PORTLAND

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—Ed Maier, Vernon magnate who has led in the fight for an eight club league on the coast this year, today opposed the suggestion made by John Powers, Angel owner, that Portland be dropped from the organization.

"Such a move would weaken the league," said Maier today. "I would like to get Spokane and Seattle embraced in the circuit but not at the expense of Portland. The town has been a winner in times gone by and will be again."

Powers suggested Vancouver be given Portland's place in the Pacific Coast league if the war ends this winter.

GOLF CADDIES STRIKE

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—While there is truce today, it will not be until Friday afternoon that the caddies strike here will be definitely settled.

Fifty golfers carried their own clubs and caddies their own balls Wednesday afternoon on the municipal golf course on Beacon Hill. The caddies were on strike.

They are paid 20 cents a round of nine holes. The boys demanded that they be paid a flat rate of 20 cents an hour, as with many novices on the links, they are just as likely to be engaged two or three hours on nine holes.

The caddies will take up the matter with the park board Friday.

ST. LOUIS FANS EXCITED

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—St. Louis baseball fans were highly excited today over the possibility of a pennant finally floating over the city, with the local Federal league team standing an excellent chance of capturing the bunting.

The season only lasts four days more.

The race is so close, however, that Kansas City, Chicago, and Pittsburgh all have a chance to win. Only five points separate Pittsburgh, which is leading the league, and St. Louis, which is in the third place. The team leaders, Pittsburgh and Chicago are fighting each other.

WOULD DROP PORTLAND

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—The purported interview with John Powers, owner of the Angeles, in Los Angeles yesterday, in which he is said to have advocated dropping Portland from the Coast league, stirred up a hornets nest of interest here today.

Both President Baum and Henry Berry of the Seals described the purported interview as ridiculous, and declared they did not believe it came from Powers.

BURIAL OF HOOKER LAST ACT OF TRAGEDY THAT AROUSED STATE

Body Rests In Prison Graveyard To Mark End of Spectacular Career

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 30.—Today the body of Otto Hooker, the convict who killed Warden Harry Minto in a battle in the darkness Monday night, was borne out of the rear gate of the penitentiary to the grave yard at the back of the penitentiary grounds. A simple hearse bearing a number and the date, September 28, 1915 marks the last resting place of the 21 year old convict whose stormy career was brought to a close by a bullet from the rifle of Patrolman Long.

Four trustees carried the coffin and the body "went into its last resting place with few expressions of sorrow beyond the formal burial service of the penitentiary. The esteem in which Warden Minto was held by the convicts of the penitentiary served to quiet any except muffled comments from the fellow prisoners of Hooker.

The same grave yard holds the remains of Harry Tracy and other bad men who have made a wide reputation but none were so unwept and unmingled as Hooker. His record of other states shows him to have a long jail career and all admit he brought his sudden ending upon himself.

While his career as a desperado was a short one it aroused the country about Albany where Minto was killed and about Tolman. After the shooting of Warden Minto, Sheriff Bedine, of Linn county, where the tragedy occurred, showed himself to be incompetent to handle the situation and Sheriff Each of this county, was given entire charge of the man hunt. From the time the news of the shooting reached this city until Hooker was in the hospital, Sheriff Each was on the ground to place guards at every possible avenue of escape.

Sheriff Each, upon his return to this city, stated that he wished to complement the Portland officers especially upon their work throughout the chase and Officers Robert Phillips, George Yates, B. McShane and others worked without rest or sleep for the entire hunt. Officers Long, Christofferson, and Guard Talent were placed in the depot yards at Albany to be on the lookout for Hooker if he should attempt to enter a train. These officers were unfamiliar with the country but were at home in the railroad yards and their courage and vigilance was rewarded by the capture of the man wanted.

They brought Hooker down and ended one of the most disastrous but spectacular escapes ever made from the Oregon state pen.

Big Warships Will Continue Naval Reliance

Tokio, Sept. 30.—Big warships will continue in the future to be the chief weapons of naval warfare, despite the accomplishments of submarines as demonstrated in the European war, in the opinion of Admiral Kato, new minister of navy.

"The naval fighting of the future, as in the past," he said, "will be a struggle between steel and guns. There will be no change in the structure, shape and armament of warships, though of course, the strength of individual fighting vessels is likely to continue increasing. We may see a dreadnaught shortly with a displacement of 40,000 tons."

He declared that submarines and torpedo boats are only scouts, and their activities do not have as great a bearing upon the course of the war as the amateur critics believe.

The admiral desires that Japan have by 1920 a battle fleet of eight super-dreadnaught battleships and eight battle cruisers.

Portland Will Remain In Pacific Coast League

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—That there is no occasion for the present talk of expansion of the Pacific Coast league was the statement made today by President Baum, who gave it as his opinion that the matter will not even be considered at the November meeting of the board of directors.

"This long distance talk about expansion is to be laughed at," said Baum. "The suggestion that Seattle and Spokane or Tacoma be taken in is foolish, because the owners of the Northwestern league franchises in those cities will have something to say."

CHARLES CAHILL KILLED

Request Is Honored

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 30.—Anticipating receipt of President Wilson's request for delay of Joe Hillstrom's execution, Governor Spry today stated he would reprieve him. The length of the reprieve will be decided at a meeting of the board of pardons called for this afternoon.

Wilson's telegram had not reached Spry at 11:30 but Spry commented, "I will most certainly honor President Wilson's request if it is received."

IS YOUR STOMACH CLOGGED WITH WASTE?

Daniel J. Fry Guarantees to Return the Money if M-i-o-n-a Does Not Relieve You.

"It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when my customers come in afterward and tell me how much good it has done them," said Daniel J. Fry, the popular druggist to a Journal man, "and that is why I like to sell and recommend M-i-o-n-a, the dyspepsia remedy. The distribution of samples that I made created so much talk and so large a proportion of those who received a sample have bought a box of M-i-o-n-a that my clerks have been busy selling the medicine ever since. I have so much faith in this article that I am going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of M-i-o-n-a whom it does not help. That may seem rash but my customers have said so many good words in its favor that I do not expect to have many packages returned."

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, and who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at my store and take home a box of M-i-o-n-a and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and help his dyspepsia he can withdraw his money. I don't know but what we would be willing to pay him interest."

This shows great faith in the merit of M-i-o-n-a. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase of sales since Daniel J. Fry introduced it in Salem shows that it does all that it is claimed to do—relieves dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables those who use it to eat just what they want with no fear of trouble after.

in the German second line west of Tahure in the Champagne have been occupied by the French, said the official communique today. Other gains were noted west of the Navarin farm.

The Germans have heavily bombarded the ground gained by the French east of Schuech and southwest of Lens. This is believed to be preliminary to strong counter attacks at Hill 140.

South of Ripont, in the region of Hill 185, the French have improved their position by capturing a German support.

The communique admitted the French had relinquished part of their gains in the Champagne before a heavy fire against their flanks.

Squadrons of French aeroplanes have joined the attack, and are bombarding railways, supply stations and reserve columns.

German Defeat English.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 30.—German troops defeated both wings of the British army in a great battle yesterday and last night in the region from Loos to Ypres, today's official statement announced. At the same time, French gains at the Vimy heights and temporary French successes in the Champagne were admitted.

"North of Loos our counter attacks against the British proceed slowly," said the statement. "Severe fighting is progressing there. Southeast of Schuech the French penetrated two small sections of our lines."

"In the western Champagne, a French brigade broke through an outer trench. Reserves attacked them, captur-

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE OF GERMAN PRISONER

Wireless Operator Confined In North Borneo Head Hunters' Camp by British

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—"These terrible sightless eyes, day after day. And the drooping of armies of great tropic flies. And then more sightless eyes the next day—100 of them. It was terrible. There was no escape except death, and I wanted to live."

Thus did Thomas Nicholas, German wireless expert today tell of his experience as a British prisoner of war in a head hunters camp in the wilds of the British North Borneo.

He declared the British took him and two of his assistants prisoners, as the government feared their wireless installation work might be used by private interests. After being held temporarily at San Daken, they were taken to interior North Borneo, Nicholas said.

"There we were placed in a head hunters camp," he said. "A war was raging between two tribes of savages. Each morning I would walk to the terrible buzzing of tropic flies and through my window I could see 50 bodiless heads being smoked upon the head racks. The next day there would be more—and for eight months we white men had to look upon these sightless eyes."

Nicholas managed to get word at last to an American consul at Sandakan, and was released after proving he was a non-combatant.

"My two friends," he said, "may be mad by this time. They had military connections and could not get away."

German and Russian cannon about Dvinsk, marking the struggle for that strategic point, continues unabated.

The enemy's attacks have nearly all failed with gigantic losses, the papers said, but the allies still continue to fight. The German nation may confidently trust in a heroic resistance, despite the enemy's strongly organized efforts, the papers add.

"Northwest of Massiges, a strong French attack was repulsed, but we withdrew from Hill 191, north of Massiges."

Northwest of Friedrichstadt the Teutons made ineffectual attempts at two towns. Some advantage in the Dvinsk region was claimed by the Russians, but the battle progresses as furiously a sit has for days past.

North of Krewo and southeast of Osmianna, the Teutons succeeded in pushing back the Slavs, it was admitted, while at Ciartorsk, south of the Priepet marshes, the enemy drove them across the river Styg.

In the long struggle about Nowo Alexinie, the Teutons are threatening the Slav lines, but the latter have maintained their positions.
