NINETEEN ARE DEAD IN SOUTHERN STORM

Hurricane Claimed Thirteen Victims In Town of Louisiana

New Orleans, by wireless to Galveston, Texas, Oct. 1.—The known death list as the result of the New Orleans hurricane swelled today to 19, while property damage along the water front was estimated at millions. The Southern Pacific wharves and offices were swept away by the gale.

The full fury of the storm struck the town of Houma, and, in the absence of word from there, it is feared that there are tremendous casualties between that place and Morgan City.

Thirteen Are Dead. Biloxi, Miss., Oct. 1.—Thirteen persons perished in the West Indian hurricane at Rigoletta, La., including nine in one family, according to fishermen arriving here today in a storm torn craft.

Mrs. Myrtle Allen, aged 98, was killed and three children were seriously injured in the collapse of a home at Long Beach, Miss. No fatalities occurred here, though the storm swept out several hundred pigs and damaged others. Small schooners and launches were strewn in splinters along the beach and further inland.

The shell road along the coast was badly wrecked. The trolley line was damaged between here and Pass Christian.

The Louisville & Nashville railroad has resumed operations between Mobile and Pass Christian but not to New Orleans. A huge railroad bridge at Bay St. Louis is reported destroyed.

Gulfport reported heavy damage, including destruction of a resin ship and the sweeping out of great piles of lumber when piers were destroyed. Two vessels were beached there.

Jones. In fact, it's a sure thing. It all comes about this way. Jerome Jones, the present incumbent, has filed petition for reelection. Mr. Jones may or may not be re-elected, but whether he is or isn't, the fourth ward will be represented in the city council by Mr. Jones, as the opponent of Jerome Jones is Chas. H. Jones. All of which seems to indicate that when the electors in the fourth ward step up to the primaries on Monday, the first day of November, he or she, will have to determine clearly in their minds which is which, and whether they are voting for Charles H. or Jerome Jones.

This is the month of the annual rally days for the different Sunday schools. While as yet no definite date has been selected, several of the churches will hold their rally on the seventeenth of the month.

W. M. Hamilton, president of the Commercial club, announces that hereafter the meetings of the club will be held once a month on Wednesday evening, the second Wednesday of each month. This will bring the next official meeting on the evening of October 13. At these meetings, the important business matters of the club will be taken up and plans made for the following month.

Tomorrow is market day. The farmers who have been bringing in their produce will be here as usual, at the booths on Liberty and Ferry streets. Next Monday evening the petition asking for the right to establish the market elsewhere will be presented. The farmers favor three locations, that near the Barnes store, or on the north side of the Stockton or the Chicago store. The owners of these three stores are willing to bid the market, but the petition to the council does not state the exact location desired.

The funeral of William J. Ashby, who died in the city September 30, will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the parlors of Rigdon & Richardson. Services will be conducted by the Rev. H. E. Stover, of the First Congregational church, and interment will take place at the Mackay cemetery, in the Ashby lot. Surviving him are a widow, seven daughters and one son. Also three brothers and two sisters, J. B. Ashby and Mrs. Wm. Humphreys, of Salem; Grant Ashby, of Oregon City, and George Ashby and Mrs. Glover, of Colorado. William J. Ashby came of a distinguished ancestry, his grandfather was an officer in the English army. His father, Joseph Ashby, was born in Montreal and later moved to Carroll county, Illinois, and from there, crossed the plains in 1865, coming direct to Oregon, where he lived until the time of his death.

The Elks were certainly in evidence yesterday, with their purple badges and national head gear and the brilliantly uniformed band from the Portland lodge. Every available space was filled in the new auditorium last evening for the program given by the band and home musicians. Governor Withycombe delivered a short address of welcome. Tom Kay was master of ceremonies, and special announcer for the occasion. The numbers by the band were repeatedly encored, as well as the several selections by the Orpheus Male chorus, the Schubert serenade being most favorably received. Mrs. Warren, of McMinnville, was doubly encored, her vocal solos being thoroughly appreciated. The official Elk song, as sung at Los Angeles, was sung by Geo. C. L. Snyder, with an extra verse composed by Mr. Snyder, but in just for good measure. The immense crowd that heard the evening's exercises was well pleased, and generous in its manifestations of approval.

DR. NEWO NEWI NEW IS NOW UNDER ARREST

Self-Styled Archbishop of "New Thought" Will Be Prosecuted

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Dr. Newo Newi New, self-styled "archbishop" of the new thought church, teacher of new thought science, ad-seate of celibacy and believer in physical immortality, was arrested by federal officers at sunrise today in his apartments, charged with using the United States mails in a scheme to defraud.

Marie Tully Graham, found in his apartments when he was arrested, was served with a subpoena as a witness against him.

United States District Attorney John W. Preston, who brought the complaint after weeks of investigation, charges that Dr. New, whose real name is believed to be John Fair, has amassed thousands of dollars through the gullibility of women.

Dr. New has a booth at the exposition, where he sells copies of his book. Many have registered in his new thought university at $100 per course. Celibacy is advocated by Dr. New and his cult, but the complaint drawn against him charges that "in truth, he is doing those things which appeal only to the baser nature of mankind."

Among these things, the complaint recites "gormandizing, drinking alcoholic liquors to excess and using profane language."

Postal Inspector Madera, who has worked up most of the evidence against Dr. New, has letters written to persons in all parts of the country. Nearly all of them mention the receipt of $5, $10 or $100 as the correspondent bought the book, the abridged "course" or a "scholarship" in the new thought university.

The first information of the alleged fraudulent character of Dr. New's "church" was brought to the federal authorities by Mrs. M. L. Clark, who is said to come from Cincinnati, and who followed Dr. New from the middle west to the coast two years ago.

In the United States marshal's office today, Dr. New was read the formal complaint. "This is a frame-up against me, brothers," he said to a group of newspaper men. "I shall be able to answer everything against me."

Back to New's arrest is said to be the old story of a woman spurned. The Clark woman, it is claimed, was jilted by the "archbishop" and she is said to have left here a few months ago for New York, where she was scheduled to wed a wealthy new thought "follower." The marriage, however, fell through. It is said and when she returned here she found that the doctor had a new companion. Failing to win back the doctor's affection, she turned informant.

Among the charges against New was that he fraudulently pretended "that by a course of righteous conduct and dieting one may attain immortality in this world." To this end, said the complaint, New pretended he was 85 years old—a bright and shining example of his own doctrine—whereas "in truth he is not more than 45 years old."

Moreover, New, it is charged, professed ability to cure all diseases.

The doctor had been honored by the exposition with a bronze plaque and had a place in the Palace of Education.

New told federal officers today he numbers among his followers the Carrara of Busan, Madame Sarah Bernhardt, Princess George, of Greece, the countess of Warwick and other members of European royalty.

He was held in $1,000 bonds for hearing Monday and the Graham woman was detained as a witness.

HOTEL IS BURNED.

San Mateo, Cal., Oct. 1.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the rear of the Occidental hotel at Half Moon bay early today, causing damage estimated at $200,000.

Shortly after the fire was discovered the Francis Meent company store was robbed of $25 and the Bertalli saloon of $50.

The sheriff is endeavoring to establish some connection between the fire and the robberies.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR MEXICAN JOB

Governor Jose Maytorena Nourishes Ambition to Become President

Nogales, Ariz., Oct. 1.—Governor Jose Maytorena has quit Sonora. He is after the Mexican presidency.

This was learned here on good authority today. Maytorena came over the line last night, accompanied by his entire staff, ostensibly en route to the Pan-American conference. At present he is stopping at his wife's house here, closely guarded by American soldiers.

The Yaqui General Urbalejo is expected to make a bid for the governorship of Sonora, relinquished by Maytorena. Carlos Raudan, state treasurer, is governor pro tem.

It is believed here Maytorena will go direct to Washington for a conference with General Angeles with respect to a new movement. Inasmuch as Angeles has repeatedly declared himself innocent of presidential aspirations, it is expected here the new action will be done by Maytorena, president of Mexico and then make a bid for American recognition.

Maytorena is the only constitutional official who has held office during five years of revolution. He can't proceed to Washington until permission is received from the war department.

Casualty List Is Growing Larger Hourly

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 1.—Casualty returns from the terrific West Indian hurricane which swept New Orleans and vicinity are growing hourly.

It was estimated late this afternoon that the dead will number 80 and the injured 200. Forty three are reported to have drowned at Rigoletta and Lake Catherine. Below New Orleans the casualties were not as heavy as feared, as many escaped because of ample warning.

No word has come yet from Houma.

KING SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

Paris, Oct. 1.—Telegraphed congratulations which Poincare and General Joffre received from King George today removed any doubt that the present onslaught along the western front constitutes the beginning of a great drive.

The king mentioned the allies' successes "at the outset of our common offensive" and Poincare replied similarly, recalling British victories.
