CAROL S. DEBELLA.

The contributors to the musical program at the state fair, consisting of the Ladies' State Fair Glee, the Business Men's Quartet and McElroy's band, have fulfilled all expectations and even delightedly surpassed them as has been demonstrated by the repeated encores responded to at the evening concerts in the new pavilion. In fact, the high quality of the music at the fair and the pleasure it has afforded the large audiences at the evening concerts, not to mention the numbers given in the afternoon at the races by the men's quartet and those by the ladies' glee in the auditorium at the new pavilion, have aroused much favorable comment among both the Salem and out of town fair visitors. This evening the two quartets will sing at the banquet of the State Press association at the old auditorium, following the regular concert in the new pavilion.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves have been entertaining as their guests during the state fair, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ashby, of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pinkston, of Upland, Oregon.

Delegates from the Corvallis Women's club to the State Federation of Clubs which meets in Salem October 25 to 28, were named at the regular club meeting Monday in that city, as follows: Mrs. Lewis Wilson, Mrs. S. Hartsock, Mrs. Minnie Lee, Mrs. W. McCready, Mrs. Dick Riger and Mrs. W. J. Kerr.

Miss Myrtle Albright, a student at Willamette university, spent the week end in Portland as the guest of Mrs. R. V. Jones, Jr.

The Mothers Class of the First Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Young at the Leonard hotel. Mrs. S. V. Clark assisted the hostess in entertaining. Following the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Swearingen, the guest of Mrs. E. W. Moreland, giving several readings, while Miss Jeanette Vandervoort gave a number of musical selections. The guests adjourned to the dining room for refreshments, which was richly decorated with purple asters for the occasion. About twenty-one guests enjoyed the afternoon.

Baldwin Doolittle, a decorator of interiors, at Portland, will give a talk tomorrow afternoon at the art room at the state fair on Home Decoration.

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Leona Gray to Clark Atkins, two former Salem high school students, in Spokane, on September 16. They are making their home in Spangle, Washington.

Mrs. J. J. Tingle of Gladstone, Oregon, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. T. W. Davies at her home, 923 D street, during fair week.

Mrs. S. A. Jones has arrived from Long Beach, California, to visit her many friends in the city. Mrs. Jones is a former well known resident of Salem, having resided in the capital city for 48 years previous to her departure for Long Beach three years ago. She will remain in Salem until the first of November, and on her return trip to California will visit at various points along the way.

Mrs. Adeline Smith and daughter, Miss Marian Smith, of Portland, are week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson, at their home on North Sumner street.

It would almost seem that there is a booth equipped for every passing fancy of the sightseer, wandering through the countless rows of exhibits, but none is more quick to awaken a languishing thirst for the instantly quenched than the "Loju" booth. Much thought has been put into this constantly flowing, refreshment stand lies, no doubt, in the tasty flavor of the cooling beverage itself, but a valuable asset to the excellence of Loju itself is the sparkling personality of the server, Mrs. Florence J. Chapman. It is not only the ready quip, and the winning smile, Mrs. Chapman gives free gratis with a sample glass of Loju, she also her enthusiasm for the article she is introducing to the public, at present "Loju." "Give your best bundle the best and you will receive the best" is Mrs. Chapman's improvised slogan. She also speaks individually and as a result, has made hundreds of other fair visitors feel so, also, that "Loju" is the official beverage of Oregon. Be that as it may, the Loju booth in the upper gallery of the new pavilion attracts crowds of samplers daily who are unanimous in their praise of "its being the best ever." A novel device by which visitors at the booth receive numbered slips of paper and on matching their numbers in the mass of humanity pouring through the buildings, may receive a free sample bottle of Loju, is proving another much favored feature. The Northwest Products company who handles "Loju" plans to cover the coast territory with advertising agents until the opening of the next loganberry season, a fact that augurs well for the loganberry raisers. The children are royally treated at the booth also, where candies flavored with "Loju" are handed out with an amazing rapidity. Mrs. Chapman is from Seattle and she is proving one of the individual factors that is making the fair a decided success by her good will, her personal influence and her interest in the state fair as a whole.

Portland Tennis Players To Finish Tournament In Salem Tomorrow

The Portland tennis players who were here last week for the tournament held at the courts at the Oregon state hospital will return tomorrow to finish their matches, that is, if the weather permits. It was decided last week to play off the remaining semi-finals and the finals in Portland but since the Portland players have taken advantage of the opportunity to visit the fair the matches will be played off here tomorrow beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The Portland players who will return to complete the tournament are James Shives, A. D. Wakeman, A. S. Prohman, M. Eastham, Brandt Wickcrsham, Miss Stella Fording and Mrs. W. Northrup.

recovered his money without trouble. This morning Mrs. Coney brought her troubles to Chief Burnett of the fair grounds police, who, with the assistance of Officers Cummins and Keller, rounded up one of the "queens" and the money was recovered.

Numerous complaints have come into police headquarters of thefts committed by the gypsy fortune tellers upon the grounds and although not sufficient evidence was forthcoming to warrant prosecution, in every instance the stolen money was recovered.

One old lady was robbed of $2 but Officer Cummins recovered the amount for her. In the case of Mrs. Coney and her friend, whose name she would not divulge, the theft is alleged to have been perpetrated while the gypsy was in the act of "blessing" their ready cash, poured loosely in the open palm of the victim while the gypsy passed her hand mysteriously over the cash and mumbled a few unintelligible words in the gypsy language.

Indian Exhibit Good.

For the first time in the history of the Oregon state fair this year there has been attempted a comprehensive exhibit showing the attainments of the various tribes of Oregon Indians. The Umatilla Siletz, Klamath and Warm Springs Indian reservations are represented by displays of the products of their own raising, including grains, vegetables and fruits. The exhibit consist of a series of booths, occupying the entire west end of the new pavilion, second floor, under the charge and management of Superintendent W. H. Freer, of the Klamath reservation.

One of the booths is devoted to a display made by the men of the two tribes—Klamath and Warm Springs. Others show the proficiency of the reservation women in needlework, blanchery and cooking. One booth is given over to an exhibition of forestry and irrigation, shown by maps, statistical charts and photographs. Other photos show the Indians at work in their fields sowing, reaping and harvesting their crops.

The entire display attracts great attention appraising the public of the advantages of their red brethren under the tutelage of the government—an advance gratifying in the highest degree.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uronic poisoning occurs, and the person dies and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "An-uric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. when you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion—without charge and absolutely free. This "An-uric" of Dr. Pierce's is 37 times more active than lithin, for it dissolves uric acid in the system, as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's An-uric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "An-uric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the ever-famous friend to ailing women.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's An-uric Kidney Tablets.—Adv.

THE BIRD'S SENTIMENTS. "The Turkey—Dear me! Although I've been told that bean-shooters' wounds are not necessarily fatal I can't help feeling a bit nervous!"

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

"Aw, tell ye what!" triumphantly declared the landlord of the Puxite tavern, "Hi Spry is the most public-spirited citizen in this community! He's just took full of local pride! Why, he went up to the city, week before last, and ever since he got back he has been bragging around that during his three days' stay there he was robbed of a reasonably good umbrella, was arrested and smartly clubbed by mistake for a confidence-man in disguise, had his pocket picked of seven dollars and eighty cents in cash, came pretty near being dragged by an adventures, lost his gripack in a fire, like to have choked to death in a Chinese restaurant while eating something he couldn't pronounce, got swindled by a ticket-speculator, had a run-in with a taxicab driver, and was run over by a chorus-girl's automobile; while he declares, as far as he can learn, that no citizen of our rival town of Torpidville ever went to the metropolis and cut an more flagger than just to fall down a coal-hold and get his nose skinned."

only ready to land troops at Salonika but are considering military occupation of Serbian Macedonia, bone of contention in the Balkan situation. If this step is taken, it would be for the purpose of protecting Serbian territory while negotiations between Serbia and Bulgaria continue. It would also be undertaken for its moral effect on the Balkan states.

As an offset to German financial influence in the Balkans, the allies are planning to loan to the states to meet the expenses of mobilization.

The allies are determined to checkmate every German move calculated to secure Bulgaria's aid.

In some quarters, it is not believed that the Austro-Germans plan to fight their way through to Constantinople. The 300,000 troops they have massed on the Serbian frontier are deemed inadequate for such a thrust. There is a strong belief among some authorities that this massing is merely a plan to terrorize the Balkan neutrals, so that they will submit to any scheme for the relief of Turkey which Germany may advise.

A Berlin wireless report Wednesday reported that the allies had landed troops near Salonika. London has not thus far confirmed the report.

THE BARTENDER'S DREAM. Cut went the light in Kelly's room, and like a path in the opaque gloom the cold steel shaft of an arc light gleamed, and this is a dream as Kelly dreamed:

Drifting alone on a bar straw raft, A violet set tossing his craft; And a far-flung spray of a posset (but was sending the seaweed that flavored of mint, Sending white bergs of lump-cracked ice That rattled the straws like the rattle of dice.

The sea did toss the frail straw bark, On an idle that loomed like a pink of dark; And lemons there were on a thousand trees, Sliced crosswise and ready to squeeze; And a fountain of seltzer spouted its spray On a bevy of nymphs disporting at play.

A ten pin crew came fling out, And panned the nymphs and the seltzer spout; And each held under his Yvette robe A cocktail cherry big as a globe; And they bowled away on a dozen bars, And used as pins the blackest of gars.

Br-r-r! and the clock said down, And Kelly sprang up with a stifled yawn, Dressed himself and hurried away To deal out "pinks" the rest of the day.
