Prof. Wallace MacMurray begins his course of lectures this evening upon "The Literature of Today" by one upon the sub-topics "The Importance of American Theatre." This is a theme closely linked with our national progress, but upon which most people have thought but little. What is the character of American plays? Are they vitally related to our life? In view of the European war, what is the immediate future of the American Theatre. Prof. MacMurray by reason of his research work and careful study of present day plays will throw much light upon these questions.

Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, muddy, blotchy or rough, or if such condition has developed, to overcome it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep piling on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt, making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot more sensible to use ordinary mercurized wax, which literally absorbs a bad complexion. Apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring; next morning, in washing it off, you'll wash away fine, flour-like particles of the unsightly outside. Repeat for a week or two and you'll have an entirely new skin—soft, satiny, spotless and beautiful as a child's. One ounce of mercurized wax, procurable at any druggist's, is all you'll need.

If the skin was wrinkled or flabby, here's the best possible remedy: Mix 1-2 pint witch hazel and 1 ounce powdered salicylic acid and use as a face bath. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless.

As the game settled down more and more interest in the pitchers became strangely quiet.
