CAROL S. DIBBLE.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Moores were happily surprised last evening by a number of their friends at their home on Leslie street, on the occasion of their nineteenth wedding anniversary. The visitors brought armfuls of beautiful flowers, including quantities of pink dahlias and gay red roses. Five hundred was played during the evening, the players circling four tables. As an appropriate tribute of the esteem in which they are held, a handsome thermos case for their car was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Moores. Mrs. G. E. Schaefer, Miss Calista Moore and Miss Helen Moore assisted in the serving. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. John Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Gillingham, Miss Calista Moore, and Miss Helen Moore.

Edwin Binney, Jr., and Donald Blanding, of Chicago, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Binney's sister, Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, left Monday on a mountain climbing trip to Bend, by way of the old Minto trail. Miss Mary Binney, a sister of Mrs. Putnam, left today for Bend, complimentary to Miss Binney. Mrs. Putnam gave an informal tea yesterday afternoon, at her home on Bellevue Ave., asking in a few friends to meet the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Roberts have leased their handsome suburban place on the Wallace road and will occupy it about November 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stockton and daughter, Miss Zoe Stockton, left today for San Francisco to attend the exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hickerson was the hostess at a dinner party at her home last night given in honor of Rev. L. N. B. Anderson, of the Columbia River Conference. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hickerson and E. Craven. A pleasant time was had by all those present.

H. F. Wickner, chief engineer of the construction company which built the Columbia River highway through Clatsop county, is in the city checking up the estimates for said work with the highway department. He is accompanied by his wife, who until her marriage was Miss Frances Dimick, of this city. Mrs. Wickner is renewing acquaintance with her many friends here.

Delegates to the state federation from the woman's civic welfare club in Portland, were elected at a meeting of the club today in that city. Miss Margaret E. S. Fife, of New York, a noted educator and social worker, gave an address before the club.

Last Sunday morning witnessed the first appearance of the new chorus choir which is being organized in the First Congregational church, under the supervision of Mrs. James Pinnell. For several years, there has been a strong sentiment favoring the organization of a chorus choir among the church members, and the recent efforts of Mrs. Pinnell along that line have met with the heartiest co-operation among the members of the congregation. The enrollment of the choir numbered fifteen last Sunday and it is expected to reach twenty this week. Ultimately it is hoped the choir will include at least twenty-five voices. With the encouragement and early success which the organization has encountered, it will no doubt form a vital and exceedingly popular feature of the church services. The choir is under the direction of William McGilchrist, Sr.

Mrs. F. X. Hofer is visiting her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Hofer, in Kellogg, Idaho. Mrs. Hofer will be gone several weeks.

Miss Emily Jeffries left Tuesday evening for Philadelphia, where she will spend the winter with Mrs. H. A. Garver, of that city. Mrs. Garver, before her marriage, was Miss Kitty Harvard, a former Salem girl.

Mrs. H. W. Bross is entertaining as guests, her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Keyes, of Spieldville, Missouri. Mr. and Mrs. Keyes are en route to the California expositions.

Mrs. Leo N. Childs was a delightful dinner hostess on Sunday in honor of a number of out of town guests, who motored in to Salem for the day. Palms placed throughout, transformed the dining room into a bower of greenery. Those who circled the table were: Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Yeakum, Miss Hallie Smith, and G. W. Bassel, of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gunderson, of Silverton, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo N. Childs.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Olinger have leased the Harold D. Roberts' place on the Wallace road, and will occupy it about November 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stockton and daughter, Miss Zoe Stockton, left today for San Francisco to attend the exposition.

DON'T USE CURLING IRON! HERE'S A BETTER METHOD
(Woman Beautiful.)
By no means use a heated iron. It makes the hair dry and dead looking, giving a most unkept appearance. After brushing the hair thoroughly, just dip a clean tooth brush in a saucer of plain liquid simerine and run it through the parts of the hair to be curled. Do this at bedtime and you will be quite surprised when you behold yourself in the mirror next morning. The hair will be beautifully wavy and curling and the effect will appear altogether natural.
You will have no trouble doing up your tresses in the style you desire and they will look and feel fluffy and comfortable. You need not hesitate to use pure liquid simerine, which you can procure at any druggist's, as it is perfectly harmless and will leave no greasy, gummy or sticky trace. A few ounces will last for months.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schelberg returned last evening from Portland, where they have been attending the state grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

Mrs. L. W. Metzger left this city for Portland today where she will spend a few days visiting friends.

COMMERCIAL CLUB BOOSTING FOR CHAPIN

President Hamilton Urges Farmers to Write County Judge Asking Retention

Under date of October 12th the following letter and correspondence has been sent out to many farmers and the Capital Journal prints it to give it the widest publicity:
Dear Sir: Please note the attached correspondence.
The Salem Commercial Club believes that this work should be continued, and is endeavoring to induce the County Court to make the necessary appropriation of $1200 for 1916.
I therefore request all those who are desirous of seeing this work continued, that they either write to the County Court or to me, or call on the County Commissioners in person and express that an agriculturist be provided for in ten other counties in the state. I will submit all such letters addressed to me, to the County Court with another appeal for the appropriation.
This must be done before the 1st of November as Mr. Chapin will probably leave Marion County at that time, unless he is assured that his services will be wanted for the balance of the year and next year.
If you believe that this work is desirable, please give these communications as much publicity as possible, and urge those interested in the matter to respond to this appeal at once.
Yours truly,
W. M. Hamilton, President.

Mr. W. M. Hamilton, President, Commercial Club, Salem, Oregon.

Dear Sir: Your recent favor regarding desirability of continuing cooperative farm demonstration work in Marion county. We are very sorry, indeed, that we felt it absolutely necessary to order the work discontinued. This was done on October 6. As you are doubtless aware, it has been much more difficult to finance this work in Marion county than in any of the other ten counties in the State where it is being carried on. Your difficulties during the last three months of last year, in raising a few hundred dollars to meet a deficit, made us decide to discontinue the work this year, before a large deficit was incurred.

The usual method of financing this work in the ten other counties of Oregon is for the county court to directly appropriate one-half the sum necessary for the year, the State providing an equal amount when certification of the appropriation is made to the office of the secretary of state. In Marion county, reluctance of the court to adequately provide for the work seems to be caused, more than anything else, by the belief that there are only a few of the rural population who are interested in it or who desire to take advantage of the services of the county agriculturist. Judging from the conditions in the other counties in Oregon, where the work is being carried on and the fact that there were on August 1, over 600 county agriculturists employed in the United States, we believe a substantial majority of the rural population of Marion county are interested in the continuance of this work. If it is to be continued, it will be absolutely necessary that immediate steps be taken to convince the county court of this fact. Provision should be made at this time not only to carry on the work to the end of this year but also to continue it during 1916.
We feel that Mr. Chapin has accomplished a great deal in your county, and we certainly hope financial arrangements may be speedily made in order that the work may be continued. Briefly reviewing some of his more important activities—we feel that his campaigns for more clover and corn have each resulted in the growing of several thousand acres more of each crop than has ever been grown before in your county, in one season. His well prepared plans for seven combined corn shows and farmers' institutes at seven different places in the county, this fall, have been enthusiastically received and we hope may be successfully carried out, even though deprived of his needed supervision. In organizing and planning for the drainage of 48,000 acres in the northwestern part of the county, we feel that he has started a piece of work that will be of incalculable value to the population of that section and of the whole county. We hope this project may be carried out, now that so much of the preliminary work has been done. Mr. Chapin has also given a tremendous amount of personal help to farmers in all parts of the county. The Potato Growers Association, organized under his direction, if continued, is bound to result in standardizing the seed potato crop. Other organizations organized as a result of his efforts will undoubtedly be of great value to the county, if encouraged and developed. In spite of things accomplished, we cannot feel that this work is scarcely begun and will result in great things for the agricultural development of the county if it can be continued.
Very truly yours,
M. O. Evans, Jr.,
Acting State Leader County Agent
Work U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Next Sunday will be observed as rally day by the local Salvation Army corps at their new barracks, 324 1/2 Court street. Lieutenant Colonel T. W. Scott, provincial officer from the headquarters at Seattle, will be heard during the day, and also Staff Captain J. Andrews, head of the social and industrial work of Portland. The services of the day will begin at 7 o'clock in the morning with an old fashioned knee drill, led by Captain Keise. Other services of the day will be conducted by the visiting officers. An invitation to attend these meetings is extended to everybody.

Light Regard For Martial Vows Shown In Cosmopolitan Stories, Followed

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 14.—Dr. Anna J. Knowlton, an osteopath and student of the occult, figuratively dropped a bomb into the trial of "Dr." Ralph M. DeBit and Dorothy Alden Gerber, the Yogis, when she testified as a witness for the defense in Judge Jury's court today.

On cross examination, Deputy Prosecutor Helms asked her:
"You have testified that you do not consider the conduct of DeBit and Mrs. Gerber licentious. Now do you not consider it licentious for an unmarried couple to occupy the same apartment together?"

There was a mild burst of applause from a throng of Yoga followers as Dr. Knowlton replied:
"I think there are cases of necessity when people of different sex must live together, and I think this can be done with propriety. It depends entirely upon the character of the people concerned."

She had previously stated that there was "never a cleaner gentleman than DeBit."

She was questioned as to whether she had known DeBit and Mrs. Gerber were not husband and wife, and informed the jury that she had been so informed by Mrs. Gerber herself, who was known as Madame Isona DeBit.

"I understood they were married until she told me differently," said Dr. Knowlton. "She confided in me by telling me of the awful experiences she had had with her husband, Dr. Gerber. She was in an awful state of health when she came to Seattle."

Mrs. Gerber herself recalled her reasons for letting it be understood she was Madame DeBit, and after she had given all her testimony sat at the side of DeBit almost in a state of collapse. Several times she whispered she thought she was fainting.

"I let people call me Isona DeBit," she said, "in order to conceal my identity and hide my husband. I suggested the change of name myself, as I knew it would be my greatest protection to take the name of DeBit."

"Mr. DeBit has been my only protector and true friend. I had lost everything but my child and I was afraid my husband would find me and take her from me."

GILLE—To Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Gille, at the Willamette Sanitarium, Thursday, October 14, 1915, a son.

Prof. James I. Matthews.
Prof. James I. Matthews, Willamette college, gave his annual chapel message of wisdom and concentrated thought to the students yesterday morning. His subject was entitled "The 32nd Chapter of Proverbs," and is worthy of being studied as much, if not more, than the thirty-one chapters in the Bible. They are bits of wisdom that deal with the affairs of everyday life, and they covered such a wide territory that some one was applicable to every individual in his audience.
His message was as follows:
"If you would not be caught, do not do it."
"If the Lord made you a blonde, why use brown talcum powder?

"To speak generously, to speak precisely, to speak purely, to speak discretely, to speak justly, to speak encouragingly, is a fine art, probably the finest, the loveliest, the grandest of all arts."
"A character is never an accident. I have something big and glad to tell you: One of my students is hungry for knowledge."
"It is not honorable to say, 'I am so busy,' when that is not the reason. I am not saying now that a man should never steal a kiss; but I do say that only a cad would boast of it afterwards."
"Two characters are too wonderful for me, you, there are three that arouse my admiration; the sophomore who respects the rights of a freshman, the freshman who can love a sophomore, and an upperclassman who delighteth not in a freshman-sophomore fight."
"Keep your fingers clean if you are a treasurer handling other peoples' money."
"It is my responsibility and yours to keep ourselves fit to associate with the other mother's precious sons and daughters."
"When you get your check from home, do not buy chocolates and cut glass the very first thing."
"Are you a lodger or guest in a private home? It is not honorable for you to tell outsiders what goes on there, to open bureaus, or pull out table drawers, or touch letters not intended for you is very dishonorable."
"The devil says, 'Only just once, God says 'Pleasure forevermore.'"
"When you are ready to ask way a person should be decent in the dark, send the question by anonymous letter."
"Are you away from home? Then it is your Christian duty to write mother a letter every Sunday afternoon, a long breezy one, telling her all about your studies, your games, your friends, your steady, and hearing sweet messages to father and brothers and sisters, and the family dog."
"Strange logic to slap little brother, or pull little sister's hair when you are vexed with yourself."
"Stop, and consider now. Suppose you keep on acting and talking as you are now. Will your dear mother be able to say next June that your table manners have improved, your language is more refined, your general conduct is better, and your character stronger and truer?"
"In putting off the old and putting on the new, as you must at college, cleave to what is good in the old and
