Salem Well Supplied Though Other Willamette Points Suffer

The unprecedented rush in the lumber business which has started in the last few days has made itself felt in a car shortage which has taken the form of numerous complaints which have been filed at the office of the State Public Utilities commission in the last two days.

EAT A SQUARE MEAL AND NOT FEAR INDIGESTION

There are hundreds of people in Salem who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the Journal that Daniel J. Fry is selling Mio-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve.

Daniel J. Fry can tell you of many well known people in this city who this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

HAS REMARKABLE COLLECTION OF WAR PHOTOS TAKEN BY FRENCH SOLDIERS

Florence La Badie, co-star with William Morris in "Monsieur Lecoq," a four-act Mutual Masterpicture based on Emile Gaboriau's famous detective of fiction, is the possessor of 120 remarkable photographs taken by soldiers in the trenches in northern France.

During the past 24 hours, the river raised 3 of an inch, and is now at a gauge of 1.1 feet below low water mark. On this date last year the river was two feet higher. September of this year was just four inches short of the rainfall of one year ago, and for the first half of October, there has been only a half inch of rainfall, compared to 1.28 inches for the same time one year ago.

At the home coming rally celebrated last evening by the members of the First Christian church in the church parlors, it was announced that the ladies of the church had made a clear profit of $815 from the restaurant conducted by the united circles of the church at the state fair. This sum is about the amount made by the ladies one year ago. The home coming meeting was well attended, the evening's entertainment consisting of speeches, readings and several selections of music.

To arrange for the entertainment of the State Press Association of Oregon, which will meet here on the fifth and sixth of November, the tour and publicity department of the Commercial club, P. G. Deckenbach director, will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Commercial club. Acting with Mr. Deckenbach, on this committee are P. H. D. Carey, W. M. Hamilton, Robert S. Gill and Paul Wallace. To attend this state meeting, editors from all parts of the state will be present.

While driving east on State street yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock, in attempting to cross the street car track at Cottage and State streets, William McAllister, of Pratum, was struck by a west bound car, escaping fortunately, without injury. It seems that Mr. McAllister did not see the approaching car when he turned to the left to cross the track, and before the motorman could stop, the horse was struck, throwing Mr. McAllister out and badly smashing the buggy. The horse also escaped uninjured.

"UNMITIGATED LIES" SAYS DAVID CAPLAN

Prisoner Says Stories Are Circulated To Prejudice Public Against Him

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 15.—Branding reports that he was on the point of a breakdown as "unmitigated lies," David Caplan today denied the printed statements to the effect that he was about to confess. "I am not on the point of a breakdown, nor have I made, or even dreamed of making any confession. I want to brand the whole story as an unmitigated lie, designed to prejudice the public against the defendants now on trial in the Schmidt-Caplan case," said the alleged McNamara accomplice. "I appeal to the people not to give any credence to these detective stories. I have nothing to confess."

D. A. Malone, of the Modern Print shop, has taken over the Wexford, and just to introduce the new pictures to the public, a free show will be given this evening. It is Mr. Malone's intention to show only high grade films.

The Modern Woodmen of America will hold an open meeting at their hall tonight when the Hon. Frank R. Korns, chairman of the board of directors will deliver an address. All Woodmen and friends are requested to be present.

Michael Weidenreich of New York City is in Salem today. Mr. Weidenreich says he is of German descent, notwithstanding he was named Michael. He also says New York hasn't any weather like we have been having in the Willamette valley for the past two weeks.

An invitation has been extended by the local lodge of Elks to the McMinville lodge and its officers to put on the initiation work here on the evening of November 4. On that evening a large class will be initiated, and an invitation to attend will be extended to other lodges in the valley.

Mrs. J. C. Purdy, 960 Mill street, was in McMinville yesterday, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoberg, who are preparing to celebrate the 6th anniversary of their wedding on the 13th of next month. Mr. Hoberg settled in Salem in 1866 and was one of the builders of the original frame First Methodist church.

Georgia Shepard, the three year old son of Fred Shepard, living about seven miles south on the Turner road, was instantly killed yesterday morning when he fell from the seat of a wagon at his father's farm. The little boy was on the seat of the farm wagon and was thrown out when the horses suddenly started, straying on his head. The child's mother was in the city at the time of the accident.

HOT FIGHTING NEAR LOOS

Paris, Oct. 15.—A shattering bombardment marked last night's fighting before Loos and north of Souchez, today's official statement reported. Heavy ground attacks, too, were made south of Boisen Hache.

German gunners delivered a thundering cannonade between the Oise and Aisne, and throughout the Champagne, while the French replied sharply.

Considerable work is being done by the street department on the cross walks in various parts of the city and in filling of holes with gravel, especially in North Salem.
