A free lecture will be given at the Opera House the evening of October 28, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The speaker for this lecture will be Clarence C. Eaton, of Tacoma, member of the board of Lecturers of the Mother Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston.

The work of the Salem Social Service Center will be conducted the coming winter on much the same lines as formerly, was the decision of those who attended the meeting yesterday afternoon at the public library. The Social Center will co-operate as far as possible, with the commercial club. Contributions and donations will follow to a certain extent the plan worked out last winter. A meeting will be held in the auditorium of the public library on the evening of Friday, October 29, to elect officers for the coming year.

There is a general feeling among members of the commercial club that George E. Hardy, manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce will bring a message with him when he comes to the city tomorrow. For this reason, the dinner to be served at the Marion hotel at 6:15 o'clock will be largely attended. While Mr. Hardy's official position is that of secretary of the executive committee, he is really manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and in selecting him from the many applicants, the Portland business men undoubtedly had reason to feel that their new manager was a capable man, one of handling big propositions.

The student body of the Washington junior high school held their election yesterday, resulting in the selection of the following officers: President Philip Jaskowski; vice-president, Letha Driscoll; secretary, Robert O'Neill; treasurer, Earl Shafer. The committee to be appointed to take up the different work of the student body will be selected sometime this week. The student body of the three junior high schools will be organized on the same lines as those of standard high schools. For the first time in the history of the Salem schools, the seventh and eighth grades will be given an opportunity to interest themselves in school government and take a hand in managing their own activities, under the supervision, of course, of the principal of the schools.

BULGARIANS LOSE ARE "TREMENDOUS"

Allies Claim Bulgarians Repulsed But German Report Is Different

Paris, Oct. 19.—The allies have repulsed the Bulgarians trying to cut the Nish railroad, according to an Athens dispatch today. It was regarded as possible, though, that this message was filed earlier than the German statement claiming Vrania was captured. If it is really captured, as the Germans declare, the line is cut.

Athens spoke of staggering Bulgarian losses when the allies took Strumnitza, followed by a disorderly rout, in which the allies crossed the frontier near Dorian.

The Serbian national bank has rushed funds from Nish to Monastir which has been mentioned as the new capital for Serbia in event Nish falls.

Orders are expected dispatching a strong Anglo-French body of reinforcements, with perhaps some Italians, to the Balkans.

French Claim Gains

Paris, Oct. 19.—Gains for the French in the combat about Bois-en-hache were claimed today by the French official statement. Solidly installed positions there, it was stated, were wrested from the Teutons, while French infantry over night repulsed three grenade attacks.

Bomb and petard fusillades were reported at Lihons, east of the Navarin farm and elsewhere in the Champagne.

French artillery silenced a heavy bombardment of Eparges, the statement added. "Our aviators bombarded the Burlesoncourt aviation ground of the Germans Sunday and Monday nights and demolished hangars."

Fred E. Brietzke has resigned his position with the Salem Street Railway and will move on the farm six miles east of Woodburn.

The choir of the First Christian church will give a musical program tomorrow evening at the Oregon State Industrial school for girls.

Just 10 days after his death, the body of Mrs. R. H. Kyle was laid beside that of her husband, at the Mission Lee cemetery. Services were held this afternoon for Mrs. Kyle, the Rev. H. D. Tatman of the United Brethren church officiating.

Chief Deputy State Engineer Cantline returned today from a trip to Hood River, where he inspected some construction work on Columbia highway. Location Engineer Elliott has changed his headquarters from Rowena to Mosier to begin the survey from Mosier to Hood River. The survey will be financed by Wasco and Hood River counties.

Walter S. Gleason, recently elected grand keeper of records and seals of the grand lodge of Knights of Pythias of the state of Oregon, has taken offices in the U. S. National bank building. Tomorrow a meeting of the finance committee will be held in the city to purchase furniture and fittings for the office. H. A. Johnson of this city, is chairman of the committee.

Five Salem agents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company left this morning for Seattle to attend the convention of agents of the company for Oregon and Washington. Besides Dr. W. Carleton Smith, the local physicians of the company, those attending are Superintendent F. A. Laurendine, Guy M. Beauford, Virgil C. Rush, Nicholas L. Moffitt and Bernard W. Richey.

For the last three days empty freight cars have been shunted upon the side tracks in Oregon at the rate of 60 per day instead of 30 per day as in the past according to the Public Utilities commission. The car shortage that is reported in this state is rapidly being eliminated. Commissioner Frank J. Miller, now in San Francisco, reported today that the S. P. company charged the shortage on the coast to floods in Texas and the excessive local demand that has sprung up in the last few weeks.

Emmett G. Hall left for Portland this afternoon to take the final examinations for admittance into the marine corps of the United States navy. After 30 days at the recruiting station in Portland, he will be sent to San Francisco and later to join the Marine corps at Mare Island, where final training is given recruits before assignments of service. It is Mr. Hall's intention to eventually join the aviation service, but before this can be done, several months must be spent in the marine service at Mare Island, about 30 miles from San Francisco.

Following the example set by the movies, the price of flour and sugar has advanced and now sugar is 25 cents a hundred higher than it was yesterday. The eastern refineries set the price on sugar and when they announce an advance in the wholesale price, the retail moves up in proportion. Valley flour a sack has not advanced but as the price is already up on wheat, the chances are that within a few days all four will advance 10 to 15 cents a sack higher. A few weeks ago wheat was sold in the city at 70 cents a bushel. Now it is 85 cents, and flour is going up in proportion.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Judge Galloway today handed down a decree granting a divorce to Henry Hepper from Della Hepper who brought the action. In his findings of fact Judge Galloway states that the couple were married in this county July 2, 1913, and that no children have been born to the union. The decree continues with the statement that the court finds that the plaintiff wilfully abandoned her husband and is guilty of desertion and that the further charges made by her are not material to the case and the decree of divorce is granted to the defendant, Henry Hepper. The plaintiff was given the right to resume her former name of Della Smallwood. A stipulation was filed in which it was agreed that the plaintiff should accept $550 from the defendant in full settlement of all of her claims against the defendant and that Henry Hepper should retain all of his property free of any claims of the plaintiff. The plaintiff likewise retains all of her property held before the marriage. S. M. Endicott represented the plaintiff and Grant Corby appeared for the defendant.

J. H. Missler was today appointed by Judge Bushey as administrator of the estate of Adam Missler who died intestate in Turner, October '14, leaving personal property to the value of $5,700. The only heirs are J. H. Missler, a son residing at Stayton, and May Forrest, a daughter residing at Turner.

An answer was filed today in the circuit court today by the defendant in the case of E. M. Page against Ermengarde Carey, an action to collect money alleged due on a promissory note. The defendant admits that she signed a note for the sum alleged but states that it was for memorandum only and given to her father, Richard W. Carey. She asserts by way of a counter claim that she provided her father with a home at her home on East State street for four years and cared for him and boarded and lodged him for four years and that she has a valid claim of $900 for such services. The alleged promissory note calls for $567.81. Carey P. Martin is attorney for the defendant.

After filing a suit for divorce and receiving the promise of her spouse that he would be good in the future, Elsie A. Ward filed a supplemental complaint in the circuit court this morning indicating that she still wants a divorce from her husband, William L. Ward. She states in her supplemental complaint that after the summons was served upon her husband in the former suit that he came to her and said he would treat her with all due consideration in the future but that after three or four days he swore at her and struck her and that she was obliged to leave him again. She asks for the care and custody of their three year old son Delbert D. Ward. Turner & Turner represent the plaintiff.

Congressman W. C. Hawley will leave for Eugene this evening to be present tomorrow morning to take part in the Pledge Day exercises of the University, with Governor Withycombe and W. K. Newell, regent of the university. Tomorrow afternoon, Mr. Hawley will deliver an address before the department of commerce of the university on "Rural Credits." Before returning to Washington, he will speak Thursday at Corvallis, Friday at Newberg, Saturday at Hillsboro and Monday evening before the Six O'clock club at the First Methodist church. On the 28th of this month the congressman will leave for Washington. As a member of the rural credits committee of the house of representatives, he will meet with this committee during the month of November to properly prepare a bill on rural credits to be submitted to congress which convenes December 6.

WOMEN TOLD TO SIT ON THE BALLOT BOXES

Ideal Weather Brings Out Big Vote In New Jersey—Fraud Is Charged

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 19.—Due to the suffrage watchers, more gallantry was noted today than ever before in New Jersey elections. The women watchers had their orders from Mrs. Mina Van Winkle, head of the women's political union, as follows:

"Challenge every voter who looks suspicious. When he comes up with his hand bandaged and needs help in making the ballot, make him take off the bandage. They have concealed a multitude of votes in other elections. "And, when the voting is over, sit on the ballot boxes until the counting begins. No matter what happens sit on them."

Indications this afternoon were that the total vote will reach the average of a general election balloting. Ideal weather helped materially to bring out the rural vote on which the suffragists largely rely for victory.

Despite this, Mrs. Van Winkle, at Newark, charged wholesale frauds were perpetrated by repeaters who voted against the suffragists. Several watchers returned and reported their credentials rejected and they had been driven from the polls. It was charged, too, that the "antis" escorted voters to the booths, and openly electioneered before the booths. Senator Clapp of Minnesota, Miss Rosalie Jones, noted for leading the suffragist hike from New York to Washington and a small army of New York workers aided the watching.

Sheriff Esch Gets Up Early and Captures Man Wanted For Larceny

"The early morn catches the corn" was the opinion of William H. Porter this morning when he stalked the streets of Salem in the misty dawn only to encounter Sheriff Esch who was holding a warrant for Porter's arrest issued August 19 of this year. Porter was wanted on a charge of larceny alleged to have been committed at Donald and a warrant was issued for his arrest in the justice court at Woodburn. The warrant was sent to Sheriff Esch for service but Porter had departed for parts unknown before the arrest was made.

It was thought that the man would return to Woodburn and the case was held pending. This morning Sheriff Esch rolled out early to make a country trip and when he came down town he met Porter on the street. The sheriff expressed his pleasure at meeting Porter and insisted upon taking the man back home with him where Porter is now domiciled as a guest of the county.

Insane Patients Are Shipped To Europe

Superintendent R. E. Steiner has sent four of his patients back to their old homes across the Atlantic ocean today when the train comes through from San Francisco at 8 o'clock this evening. The patients are Ed Johansen, of Oslo; Olaf Forsberg, of Sweden; Amoratti, of Italy, and Arthur Balfour of England. These patients will be reported at government expense and the cost will be placed aboard the train in custody of Dr. D. H. Ross of the Oregon State Hospital staff. Dr. Ross will accompany them to New York where they will be placed in charge of the government agents. There is a large number of insane patients to be shipped at this time and the ones from San Francisco and Salem will be joined by others across the continent.
